

Democratic Watchman

TERMS—$2 per year when paid in advance...

Answers to Correspondents. W. W. W.—You will find the poem on the outside of today's Watchman...

Answers to Correspondents. Far West.—Your Watchman is so heartily poor that we have thrown your communication aside without reading it.

Answers to Correspondents. I. H. Meyer.—We have received your "poem," and shall write you our opinion of it.

Answers to Correspondents. O. W. S.—It is something we know nothing about. If you want the position you will have to secure it yourself.

Answers to Correspondents. S. R.—We will send your bills to yourself.

Answers to Correspondents. Cousins.—The average weight of cotton bales in different countries are American 475 lb., East India 387 lb., Egypt 313 lb., Brazil 182 lb., West Indies 175 lb.

Answers to Correspondents. Farmer.—According to the latest Census, there are 825,230 individuals in the North and East, 728,127 in the West, and 769,230 in the South, making in all 2,362,587, who are engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Answers to Correspondents. Thinks About Town and County.—Go and see the "Hidden Hand" tonight.

Answers to Correspondents. To-day, Friday, is the time for holding general township elections.

Answers to Correspondents. Meeting.—Saturday afternoon at the Court House, "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Answers to Correspondents. Gov. Curtis.—The papers report that Ex-Gov. Curtis, "our Andy," has concluded to return to Bellefonte, and make it his permanent residence.

Answers to Correspondents. Another.—Court adjourned on last Saturday to meet again in three weeks, to finish up the business it was unable to get through with during the regular session of two weeks.

Answers to Correspondents. How C. R. Foster, of Philipsburg, this county, is now, with his family, stopping at Augusta, Georgia, for the benefit of his health. He will please accept our thanks for late copies of Southern papers.

Answers to Correspondents. Nor to be Built.—The large Wollen factory that we have heard so much about, which was to be erected at this place during the coming summer, we are sorry to learn, will not be put up. The reason we do not know.

Answers to Correspondents. Can't be His Own.—The Good Book says "thou shalt be thyself." Any one coming to Bellefonte will find that citizens cannot be "strangers," for their ways have been just as soft and sleepy for the past week as they could well be made.

Answers to Correspondents. Might as Well.—Some of the hatches about Bellefonte, who are not engaged in any particular business, might make themselves useful by establishing a nursery on their own account. They could find plenty of good lands to go into partnership with.

Answers to Correspondents. A Closing is Very Much Needed at the alley between the residence of Mr. M. T. Milliken and that lately occupied by Dr. J. B. Mitchell. In soft weather the water is often six inches in depth, making it impossible for pedestrians to pass without wet feet.

Answers to Correspondents. Thanks.—We were the recipient on Tuesday of a fine lot of good, sweet, butter as it has ever fallen to our good luck. The fair donor, a democratic lady of Buffalo Run, will please accept our sincere thanks for her kind and generous remembrance of the printer.

Answers to Correspondents. Arrive of Short Crops.—Owing to the fact that most of the grain fields, especially here, our farmers in this section are fearful of short crops the coming harvest, in consequence of the grain being frozen about if such should be the case, we may have for several months to come, the failure of last harvest, has been seriously felt, and if we should have two short harvests in succession, especially when wheat and prices are so exorbitant, there is scarcely any picturing the results.

Answers to Correspondents. The Theatre.—House's theatrical company has been performing in this place during the past week to crowded houses and well pleased audiences. It has far more than fulfilled the expectations of our people, and has given many general impressions that are more than expected.

Answers to Correspondents. Small Salaries Paid to Ministers.—The low salaries paid to ministers is a subject which is engaging the attention of our contemporaries. It is a fact, as stated by one of them, that in the majority of cases, a third rate lawyer can make double what ministers get, and a good dry goods clerk is paid as much, and all the learned professions bring ample reward to men of ability, but the ministers must preach, and pray, and exhort, and comfort, and visit, and be effracted and thumped from post to pillar, and all in meekness and patience, without adequate means to provide the actual necessities for his household. It is a shame upon the community and a reproach upon Christianity, that ministers are not adequately compensated.

Answers to Correspondents. Quarreling.—If anything in the world will make a man feel badly, except pinching his fingers in the crack of a door, it is unquestionably a quarrel. No man ever fails to think less of himself after it than before. It degrades him in the eyes of others, and what is worse, blunts his sensibilities on the other hand, and increases the power of passions irritability on the other. The truth is, the more peaceably and quietly we get on, the better for our neighbors. In nine cases out of ten, the better excuse, if a man cheats you, goes to deal with him; if he is abusive, quit; if he is unbecomingly quarrelsome, take care to live so that nobody will believe him. No matter who he is, or how he misuses you, the wisest way is to let him alone; for there is nothing better than this cool, calm, and quiet way of dealing with the wrongs we meet with.

The Centre and Mifflin Railroad

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Below we publish in full the proceedings of the Railroad meeting, held in the Court House, at this place, on Thursday evening last. It will be seen that our people are taking hold of the enterprise, in a manner, calculated to insure confidence in its final success.

Philadelphia Markets

Reported weekly for the Watchman by Koons, Newman & Co., Commission Merchants and Wholesale Fish, Cheese and Provision Dealers, 114 North Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Table listing various commodities and their prices, including Flour, Meal, and other goods.

New York Markets

Reported weekly for the Watchman by Parson, Fitzgerald & Tracy, Produce Commission Merchants, 110 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Table listing various commodities and their prices, including Flour, Meal, and other goods.

Business Notices

The greatest wisdom of speech is to know when and where to speak. But the greatest wisdom of all is shown by those who go to Patton's to get one of his American Watchdogs.

The right man in the right place is a husband at home in the evening, or at Harper & Bro., buying his wife a fine dress, at the low rates they are now selling at.

The content as long as your mouth is full and your pocket is empty—remember the proverb—'Don't eat your neighbor's turkey.'—Always get your goods at the lowest rates.

Which you would pay a little attention to what I am saying, sir, would an unrate lawyer at an exorbitant price. Well, I am paying as little as I can, and you will be glad to pay very little for your groceries and notions, if you call at Burnside's.

Married.—On the 31st ult., by Dr. J. C. Koons, at Lancaster, Pa., Samuel J. Runkle, of Snow Shoe, to Miss Lydia A. Runkle, of Spring Mt., Centre county, Pa.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

Philadelphia Markets

Reported weekly for the Watchman by Koons, Newman & Co., Commission Merchants and Wholesale Fish, Cheese and Provision Dealers, 114 North Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Table listing various commodities and their prices, including Flour, Meal, and other goods.

New York Markets

Reported weekly for the Watchman by Parson, Fitzgerald & Tracy, Produce Commission Merchants, 110 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Table listing various commodities and their prices, including Flour, Meal, and other goods.

Business Notices

The greatest wisdom of speech is to know when and where to speak. But the greatest wisdom of all is shown by those who go to Patton's to get one of his American Watchdogs.

The right man in the right place is a husband at home in the evening, or at Harper & Bro., buying his wife a fine dress, at the low rates they are now selling at.

The content as long as your mouth is full and your pocket is empty—remember the proverb—'Don't eat your neighbor's turkey.'—Always get your goods at the lowest rates.

Which you would pay a little attention to what I am saying, sir, would an unrate lawyer at an exorbitant price. Well, I am paying as little as I can, and you will be glad to pay very little for your groceries and notions, if you call at Burnside's.

Married.—On the 31st ult., by Dr. J. C. Koons, at Lancaster, Pa., Samuel J. Runkle, of Snow Shoe, to Miss Lydia A. Runkle, of Spring Mt., Centre county, Pa.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and death never chill the present or darken the future. This consideration can lighten grief, and the world has provided for the bereaving of all the good he inflicts. Let us trust in Him, and hope for reunion in Heaven.

Deaths.—On the 1st ult., at the residence of Mrs. H. W. Brown, in the 1st ward, Charles S. Logan, aged 15 years and 1 month.

The old grave has closed forever over the earth that was once a pure being as the earth ever held. Her sweet face will meet us now only in dreams, her bright eyes beam upon us only from the spirit land. Sadly will we cheerful voice and merry laugh be missed through the community, and a long time most elapse before the world will heal. Always pleasant always carrying joy wherever she went, circles which knew her will fill the position her death has left vacant. A general favorite from her infancy, possessed of a mind as supple as her soul, she has often manifested that hers could so long detain her from home—she was one of the names which the world reads upon grave stones, while she who wore it for a little while has gone to a realm more congenial than ours. Convinced the light-heartedness and simplicity of a girl with the modesty and decorum of a woman, she was a true companion for the old as well as a young, and will be mourned as deeply by us as by the other.

The stricken family has our heartfelt sympathy for their great loss. The blow has fallen heavily, and the wound is deep; but, it was visited by a Hand which can heal all wounds, and doubtless the society of a happy home has been exchanged by her young mother for the society of angels. Time only can heal the bleeding hearts of that family circle; but the bright star of hope beams through the clouds of affliction, and points us to the great family where God is the father and companion of all, and where expectation and