THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

LATE.—the twenty-fourth of May, and not one fourth of the corn planted in this section.

—A correspondent writing from Philipsburg, says "times has been dull in this place during the past week—as we have had but two fights and one riot during that whole time."

RELIGIOUS.—The third Sermon of the series to Young Men, will be delivered in the M E. Church, Sunday evening next, May 26th 1867 Subject—The Youth Procrastinating

ACCIDENT.—A Frenchman named Joseph Bush, was run over between Osceola and Powelton on Monday last, by the freight train, on the T. & P. R. R., and so badly injured that he died that night. It seems that he was sitting on the track smoking, and did not observe the train, until it was too late to make his escape

INFORMATION WANTED.—Can any of the borough fathers, any of the borough's sons, any of the borough's daughters, or any of the borough's relations, friends, acquaintances or any one else, tell the taxpayers of the borough, how much the borough debt is? Any information on this subject will be thankfully received, by those, who are compelled to furnish "greenbacks" for the borough to spend

GLASS WORKS.—We understand that it is the determination of the projectors, to erect Glass works at this place, just as soon as it can be done The Committee appointed to visit the Pittsburg works have reported favorably, and we believe all the preliminaries are arranged, for the earliest possible completion of the buildings, furnace &c It is said they will give employment to about sixty hands, when rightly under way.

A CHANCE FOR SOMEBODY.—The Normal Academy of Music at Meadville, has awarded to ree Scholarships, to Centre county and placed them in the hands of county Superintendent Magee, by whom they will be handed over to one lady and one gentleman by the 1st of June We do not know what the conditions or qualifications are, but all applicants must be provided with a certificate of good moral character, by some clergyman in the county.

GOOD POETRY.—We point with much pride to the original poem on the outside of this issue We believe that it has seldom been excelled, and promise a rich treat for all who will give it a perusal "Virginia's" productions, which we have published from week to week, have all been fine, and we have felt proud that she has chosen the WATCHMAN as the medium of their publication; but we regard this as much the finest she has yet written, and therefore call attention particularly to it.

A NUISANCE.—We notice that the rickety old car, that was first attached to the freight train on the B. E. V R. R, to make an accommodation line, is still continued as a passenger car, notwithstanding the fact, that it is unfit for any one to ride in It has no ventilation, the seats are jammed up so that a lady can scarcely sit in them at all, and it has been recently painted, which causes a most disagreeable and hurtful odor. Many people travel entirely by this train, and if full fare is charged them, they ought to have a decent car to ride in.

COCOANUT CHIGNON.—A new form of the utile cum dulce has very lately been adopted which we have no doubt, will suit admirably the ladies of this section, it consists of a cocoanut fastened to the region of the cerebellum by ribbons It is a beautiful arrangement, the nut itself being covered with a natural growth of brown hair, which makes artificial covering unnecessary, the size is exactly right for those who moderately obey the ruling passion, and by having a little door in the nut, brushes, combs, scent bottles, and other little necessities of the toilet can be conveniently carried.

JUST RIGHT.—Our mongrel neighbor down town, is calling lustily for the "reconstruction" of the Arch, across Allegany street, on the north side of the diamond, that was built to represent the Union of the States In our humble opinion that arch is "just right." It represents exactly, what it was intended to represent. It is in the same condition that the Federal Union is under disunion administration. It is torn, ragged, broken, and disjointed,—half the States are gone, the rest look dirty, helpless and forsaken—the eagle that surmounts, has its wing broken and its tail pulled out, and all together it is the fairest representation, of what it was intended to represent, that can be made. Let it alone just as it is, for it is just right.

COMPOSITION.—The following specimen, just as it comes from the pen of the young writer, we give, for the benefit of youthful beginners, who have a literary turn of mind, and for the "essay" writers about Bellefonte, in particular. It will be observed, that the subject is an entirely new one—the Oxen:

"Oxen is a very slow animil, they are good to take ground up i wood drather have horses if they didnt have kolick, which they say is wind colleckid in a bunch, which makes it dangerser for to keep horses than an ox. If there was no horses the people wood have to wheel thare wood on wheelbarow. it wood take them two or three days to wheel a cord a mile. Cows is useful too, i have herd som say that if they had to be either or an ox they would be a cow But i think when it comn to have their tits pulled of a mornin they would wish they wasnt, for oxen dont generally have to raise calves If i had to be enny i would rather be a heffur. but if i coodent be a heffur. and had to be both i wood be an ox. JAMES FARMER, JR.

BATCHELORS.—We publish the following, not because we agree with the writer, or have any sympathy for the man whose lack of "back bone" would induce him, to attempt to place the responsibility, of his own "miserable condition, upon the fair sex, but that both sides may have a hearing:

P. G MEEK, Esq., DEAR SIR:—This pitible part of creation, you have made, it would seem a part and parcel of your Editorial duties, to berate soundly for not doing as you have done, i e taken a wife.—Now this may be all very well in your eyes, who went off in your youth without counting the consequences. But to one of your humble correspondent, who waited to more mature years, his experience is at least worth something Although I have waited since you made the onslaught on the poor batchelors last winter—even to give their numerical strength as well as some other not flattering rubs—trusting that some of them would show at least some defence in their own behalf but alas, they have pocketed, I fear, the taunt to increase their woes. Their not defending themselves against your attacks may be ascribed to the same reason that they have never spliced—bashfulness; for it is notorious that this is a failing in them Having made a long voyage myself in their craft, I fully understand every rope in them ship; but at last having safely landed in the harbor of matrimony, can now look back over the dangerous past, the unknown coasts, the dangerous icebergs, the sharks and other huge monsters that have to be circumnavigated in the voyage to wedded life. I cannot refrain from at least saying something in behalf of old shipmates, by way of palliation. Although in many cases they are censurable, lacking nerve or rather say backbone; but if they are, notwithstanding they are always cool calculators, and when they do think of "doubling" (marrying) it always occurs to them whether by doing so, that they would take only a wife. or whether they should marry a whole family This is a financia matter, and must be well understood before a bond is given or the noose brought home taut. But antiquated femeninnes, I cannot call them old maids, as you saw fit to de—are the salt of society, but salt, many "loose it savor." Notwithstanding all this, they are gregarious, and when, as the darky said about black-snakes, "wherever you find two there is one if not more," hence, when a bashful batchelor does take it into his head to try and be corrageous, and ventures out on an exploring expedition and summons courage enough to ask "Molly" to accompany him to the play, a walk, a drive or any other place, in the hope that he may in his bashfulness, have a chance when thus alone with her, to talk of matters matrimonial, two to one "Molly" will look up (bashfully of course) but archly in his face and imploringly ask whether "sister Susey, may not accompany them" Gallantry on his part forbids a nay Then "Susey" would be odd without "Jane" and "Jane" will not go without "Mary" and so on to the whole flock, be it great or small, is hung to his rear guard Again it may chance that "Molly" is not the eldest of the family and it would not be prudent to let her walk alone with a man, least she may possibly take some undue advantage of her more venerable sister; hence the necessity of that piece of antiquated humanity, having his other arm Thus circumstanced what can a poor unsophisticated, bashful man do? It he says or gets leave to say anything it must be common place about the weather, floods, last railroad disaster, &c. Not one word dare he venture about his own state of single and miserable existance least the elder one should think he was addressing himself to her especially Thus an earnest intention on his part is treated. He is out shepherded—gives up in despair for that time, and it may be for all time to come, as he sees no chance for ever making an attack in detail And again, should he ever, by strategy, succeed, ten chances to one he would be a victim, for if he and his chosen one deserved to be alone, would not their dear and loving ever cautious sisters be afraid to leave them out of sight, and must therefore go to the play with them, stay with, yea, watch over them, in short, live with them It requires nerve to undertake such a job As for myself the case was different There was no sisters, but instead thereof, a most afflicted lot of cousins. To my old association I would say, that when you have found one in a flock that seems rivited to your mind, make it known to her without delay She will not tell the rest—of course not. (No sister ever was known to do such a thing) And then after making known your intention to her—if the rest will not give you an opportunity to do the courting, get a sufficient number of your batchelor friends, and make a joint attack, and man them all Thus will you take away the stigma that is attempted to be laid to your charge by the WATCHMAN'S editorials As my advice is gratious, a word to the more venerable of the maidens, for of course to them in their teens it will not apply. I say be of good cheer, for a cording to Mr. WATCHMAN, there is a man apiece for you Then brush up, but be careful never to be in a hurry way Next year, is leap year and you are privileged, if these bashful, shy pates, calculating batchelors do not propose, to do it yourselves. But be careful not to have a whole tribe after one, least he escape to the mountains of solitude and become a confirmed batchelor In self defence again let me admonish you, be careful, I saw one the other day darning his socks, poor fellow, salt would hardly save him now, for he is down in the last stagees of the fatal malady But as for me and mine, we are for UNION.

—A splendid place to buy splendid goods of every description at low prices, is at Pifer's new store, in Brockerhoff's Row.

A CHANCE FOR CAPITALISTS.—Messrs, Sample and McGonigal, offer their splendid properties, at Pine Grove, and Baileyville for sale See adv

OUR SPORTSMEN should recollect that Mr. Dechner has opened a Gun Shop in one of the rooms of Bush's building, where guns, pistols, ammunition, &c, can be had, at all times, and where repairing will be done in the best manner and at low rates Mr Dechner, is an experienced workman, comes well recommended, and we can heartily commend him to the favor of those wishing anything in his line.

THE EVIDENCE.—Dr J. W. Hadly, is in daily receipt of letters testifying to his successful treatment. They show the good that follow his treatement better than any words he can use. Kindred diseases that baffle the most skillful, are permanently cured by him, persons doubting this statement, are invited to call at his rooms and get the proof. Therefore the afflicted will not forget that he closes his labors in Howard June 1st, all are invited.

—Now that Summer is about making its annual visit with its rounds of fruits &c., we feel it to be our duty to caution the public to beware of that demon "Cholera." Every family should have some sure preventative within reach, and we know of none so sure and safe as "Green's Vegitable Pain Killer," it acts like magic in all cases of Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c. No family should be without it—sold by Druggists and merchants everywhere, and by F. P. Green, Druggist, sole Proprietor and Manufacturer—Bellefonte Pa

TO OUR MERCHANTS.—Our young friend Mr. E. W. Miller, representative of the firm of Young, Moore & Co., 429 Market Street Philadelphia, reached this place this morning, with the intention of calling upon some of our Merchants, with samples of goods. Mr. Miller represents one of the largest, as well as one of the most reliable houses in Philadelphia. Their goods,—white goods and notions—are imported direct, by themselves, thereby enabling them to sell at lower rates, than the firms that are compelled to allow importers profits, and add their own besides Mr. Miller himself is obliging, careful and honorable, and our friends, who may favor him with their orders, can rely upon having them promptly filled, with the style of goods they desire.

DR. J. W. HADLEY, the great Magnetic Physician will remain at Knolls Hotel, in the village of Howard, Centre county, until June 1st, Healing the Sick and Afflicted without the use of Medicine or Surgical Instruments. The Dr. has and does still continue to astonish the citizens of this and other counties by his wonderful cures his treatment is gentle and pleasant. His wonderful healing balm gives immediate relief in most all cases, its power is Magical, its effects immediate, and it never fails to eradicate every symptom of the disease.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is a soothing expectorant, prepared to meet the urgent need of a safe and reliable cure for diseases of the throat and lungs. A trial of many years has established the fact, that it is more efficacious in pulmonary affections, than any other remedy. Its efficacy has now become so generally known, that it is justly regarded in many countries as a medicine of indispensable necessity. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where medical science has reached its highest perfection, it is prescribed in domestic practice, and constantly used in the armies, in hospitals and other public institutions, where it is regarded by the attending physicians as the most speedy and agreeable remedy that can be employed. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found where well known cases of diseased lungs, which had baffled the efforts of the most skilful and experienced doctors, have been permanently cured by it. These results are the most convincing proofs of the superior curative properties of this preparation, and to them the authors point with peculiar satisfaction. While it is most powerful against confirmed diseases, it is extremely gentle as a medicine in infancy and youth, being quite harmless to even the youngest, when administered judiciously.

This health-restorer accomplishes even more by prevention than cure. If taken in season, it heals all irritations of the throat and lungs whether arising from colds or coughs, or from other causes, and thus prevent that long train of painful and incurable diseases, which would arise from the neglect of them. Hence, no family should be without it. Influenza, Croup, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Pleurisy, Incipient Consumption, and other affections of the breathing organs, give way before this pre-eminent combination of medical virtues

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayers, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere 12-15-2m

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

GOLDEN PERIODICAL PILLS FOR FEMALLS.

In Correcting Irregularities, Removing Instructions of the Monthly Terms from Whatever Cause and Always Successful as a Preventative.

It is now over thirty years since the above celebrated Pills were discovered by Dr. Duponco of Paris, during which time they have been extensively and successfully used in most of the public institutions—as well as in private practice—of both hemispheres with unparalled success in every case, and it is only at the urgent request of the thousands of Ladies who have used them that he is induced to make the Pills public for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent an increase of family where health will not permit it. Females peculiarly situated or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these pills while in that condition as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health otherwise the Pills are recommended.

ONE BOX IS SUFFICIENT.

Full and explicite directions accompany each box. Price $1 per box, six boxes $5. Sold by one Druggist in every town, village, city and hamlet throughout the world. Sold in Bellefonte, Pa., by F. P. Green (druggist) Sole agent for Bellefonte. Ladies! By sending him $1 to the Bellefonte Post Office can have the Pills sent (confidentially) by mail to any part of the country, free of Postage.
