BUILD YOUR SHEDS-PROVIDE YOU TOUR Stock.—Cold weather and beating storms are upon u. Winter with its bluster and old, its suow, its elect and ice, its freezing winds and biting frosts will seen be here. Are our farmers and stock owners ready for it Money spent in preparing warm shelter and plenty of food for horses, cows, calves, and all stock, is always a good investment, saying nothing about the human-ity of the thing. No man is able to own a horse, ox, or calf, who is not able to protect and animals against the severity of the winter Sheep particularly demand the utmost care. Here in Bellefonts, and in fact in all the villinges of the county. it is the habit of some to turn their cows upon the streets and let them glarve or steal a living This is not only a nuisance but a sin Throughout the county many farmers provide no shelter at all for the stock, and the consequence is, in the spring they turn out to pasture a lot of half starved, half dead cattle or sheep, that it requires the entire Summer to recruft. Every person who owns cows or oxen, calves, colts or horses, is in duty bound either to take care of them, or to self, them to those who will take core of them. Every farmer in the State who owns stock owes it to himself to see that they are well fed, well wattered and protected. Persons in towns like this who allow stock to go, for days and days together, suffering for food and water, ought to go to juil and be served likewise. It is criminal in people to thus treat helpless animals who help to give them food and raiment. That man who works oxen and horses all summer, and when winter comes, turns them out to starve and freeze under the cold winter's blasts, is a wretch compared to whom horses, oxen and cows, are in the highest degree respectable. that die under two years of age, die frech die ease caused from teething. I state this, methors and nurses, that you may exercise a greate degree of care over your little ones during thi time. It is a well-astablished fact it at a great majority of those who die in the prime of life contrarted the disease in childbood, which through the negligence of mother or nurse haraliewed to pursue its course unchesked, and which anight have been arrested in its earlier stages by very simple means. It is for this purpose we offer you this valuable regardy, and in hands of any one, and ware to relieve in almost every case. Upon one other point we wish to give you some valuable information, and which if observed will save you much trouble and many an anxi us sleepless night. It is FOUND that sleep is "Nature's sweet Restorer," and in is a fact beyond contradiction that an easy, quiet and natural sleep at regular intervals, and especially at night, is absolutely necessary to beath. It is during repose that the system strengthens and fortides itself against the exhaustive influence of waking hours. Infants and children request wice the sleep of of an adult, and unless they obtain it by some means they are irritable and restless, the system is more espositive to cold or other sacting causes, more exposed to the ravages of disease, and easily pföstrated thereby. For producing a quiet, natural and refreshing alsep, one from which the child will awake, (soling refreshed and gleeful. Many of the articles pat i market).
