fipsburg (James McDonald) was called to the s'and and testified that he did not vote there, but voted in Clear-field counding. ty, where he cast a Republican ticket, He produced his certificate of naturalisation and his honorable discharge as a coldier. He jestified, also, that five others of the men named by O'Meara as faving veted at Philippeburg on fraudufent papers were not there on election day, but had left the work. He swore, further, that O'Mearn's character for truth was bad, and that he would not Bolieve him on oath. .

Besides this conclusive testimony against the main witness relied upon by Robinson, eleven citizens of good character. from Eik, Clearfield and Centre Countios, have sworn that O'Meara's charactar for truth is bad, and that they would got believe him on oath Among these witnesses is an ex-member of the Legistature and an eoting justice of the peace . Added to this, full proof has been furaished of the circumstances under which the men upon the railrod were removed from one part of the line to the other. and, so far from it being for, fraudulent purposes, it is shown to have been for the purpose of prosecuting the work at the only time when it could be done It is also in proof that before the election O'Mears was in consultation with Republican leaders to sell them the Irish vote under his control..... These are a few of the leading facts shown on the part of the sitting member. and we venture the assertion that the character of the case made by the coniustant wil. 16 so effectually blackened by this and her testimony that he will be heartily . . GRANT AS AN EQUESTRIAN -The faib. er of General Grant, who is attempting the life of his son in the New York Led ger, gives the following anecdore illus trative of the equestrian powers of the General when a boy :

Once, when he was a boy, a show same along, in which there was a min chievous pony, trained to go round the ring like lightning, and was expected to throw any boy that altempted to ride him "Will any boy come forward and ride this pony !' shouted the ring master Ulysses stepped forward and mounted the pony They performance began. Round and round andround the ring went the neny, faster and faster, making the greatest effort to dismount the rider. But Ulyrsen sat as stendy as if he had grown to pony's back. Presently, out came a larger monkey and sprang up behind Ulysses. The people sat up a great shout of laughter, and on the pony ran, but it all produced no effect bn : the rider. Then the ringmaster made the monkey jump up on to Ulysses's shoulders, standing with his feet on his shou:ders, and with hands holding on to his bair. At this there was another and still louder shout, but not a muscle
