

The Democratic Watchman.

Billingsisms--Billings Closes out his Light Ware.

If you want to buy repentance at the highest market price, invest in tile boots.

I had rather be a receiver of stolen goods than the keeper of other folks' secrets.

After awl the philosophy I can kram up, I sometimes get disgusted with life.

It is a curious fact that with the world full of pleasure, our principal enjoyment is in hope.

There is wun mortification (that I can remember now) in being rich, and that is you are flattered before you face and abused behind it.

I have always considered abstract dogs a good thing, but I could never appreciate the utter necessity of keeping a woodcock dog in a thickly settled city exclusively on porter house steak.

I am loudly in favor of new things, but I am opposed to enny man, even wun of our colored associates, thinkin he has discovered a new truth jest because he has, for the first time in his life, stumbled onto an old wun.

I should be ashamed of myself to say a harsh word against the noble animal--the boss; but I haven't been able to see that it is best to let the breed of mankind run out just for the sake of getting a boss that can trot in 2-10.

I have noticed that those persons who have the keenest sense of misery, have the brightest visions of joy; but there is sum folks whom even molasses kandy won't make happy nor even muskeeters worry.

I don't think there is enny more excuse for keepin a Shanghai rooster than there is in keepin a boss that you've got tew buck up to a second story window tew put the crupper on.

It is astonishing how very small they were their pantlines in Broadway; but the pantlines are plenty big enuff for the leg.

When I see an old miser in midst of his wealth, I knowin him jest about as happy as a fly who has fall into a quart bowl of molasses and kant get out.

When the day breaks the assets are light.

"Not the season for coons."

A correspondent of the Louisville Journal, hailing from Texas, presents the following quibe inimitable apologue;

I have a neighbor who has a big dog. He is a strong dog, an active dog, but oh, what a mean dog! He sucks all the eggs on the place, eats the young chickens, gets into the cellar and laps up all the milk and licks up all the butter, snaps at the children, and is a pest in general.

The good wife wants him killed, but the husband objects on account of one quality.--He is a good coon dog.

The wife says there is no coons in the country; besides, it isn't the season for coons. Let the Radicals make the application. The big dog of the Presidency should be something more than a mere coon dog.

So far as the personality of Grant is an element in the struggle of the parties, this coon story hits the case exactly.--Grant is pushed for the Presidency for no other reason than that he has been a successful general and that is precisely what, in the present juncture, the country does not need.

In fact we want everything but that in the man who is to be the next President--financial ability; knowledge of Constitution and law--statesmanship, in a word; but ability to disburse blood and treasure in the field of battle, is not in requisition, thank heaven! at the present time. Now is it not the truth that Grant, his own claims and those of his friends being fairly judged, is not notably the possessor of the qualities needed. He is the successful general--the stubborn, tenacious, taciturn soldier. Granted.--But "there are no coons in the country; besides, it isn't the season for coons!"

His Speech.--Grant made the following speech on being visited by the committee appointed to inform him of his nomination:

"You'd scarce expect one of my age, to speak in public on the stage; and if I should do so, I should be sure to be the talk of the town with Ben Butler's eye, and the laughing stock of the whole country."

From the office of the great General Grant. For me to try to convince the people of my fitness for the office of President, is like trying to convince the people of my fitness for the office of President. I will not try to convince the people of my fitness for the office of President. I will not try to convince the people of my fitness for the office of President.

Anna Dickinson on Gen' Grant.

The gentle Anna is one of the ablest and most popular orators in the pay of the Radical party.

She has done much service for her employers in times past. Just now she appears to be stamping it in behalf of those Radicals who do not favor the nomination of Gen. Grant.

Anna spoke at Elmira, N. Y., a few evenings since, and took occasion to hit the man who does not talk some severe blows. She warned and threatened in her loving way. She said:

The Radical party cannot live upon the memory of its good deeds. Your works in the past won't save you.

You Radicals shirk the popular necessity of putting the black race forward. You want to cover up the negro with Grant.

Unless you give the Northern negro the ballot you won't get the support of the negro South.

It is not sufficient that Grant was a soldier, McClellan was a soldier--Fitz John Porter was a soldier. It is not sufficient to write against any man's name--soldier.

By nominating Grant you show yourselves cowards and poltroons. Grant is no standard bearer when principles are to be fought for.

You want Grant without a platform for the sake of expediency and winning the next election.

I wouldn't have a personal quarrel with Gen. Grant. I dare to say what a great many are thinking.

"I don't want Grant for President." "Speech is silver, silence is golden;" Grant's silence is leaden.

He must speak before he gets the election. You can't hurrah for Grant and win on that issue.

Shame, shame on those Republicans who say: "I believe the black man should vote in Louisiana, but under no circumstances here in Elmira."

Disintegration stares the Radicals in the face because they are ashamed to come out boldly and openly for negro suffrage.

Don't hide you principles, if you have got any, behind the smoke of any man's cigar.

Nothing has happened.

Some years ago, a farmer living in a village bordering on Massachusetts State, furnished one of his three sons with a sum of money, and told him to go to the Far West and remain two years, at the end of which time he should return to Lancaster, stop at Schofield's Hotel, and one of them would be there to meet him.

The young man started on his travels, and at the end of the specified time he returned. It should be premised that telegraphs were not then in existence, the postal system was not so perfect as it is to-day, and literary attainments were not so general, hence no communication took place between the parties.

He returned how ever, as we said. His brother was there to meet him, and they proceeded homeward in a gig. The wanderer after relating some of his adventures, inquired whether anything had happened since he left home.

"No not a single thing," said the other, "everything is just the same as when you left--except the old cow died."

"Indeed," said the wanderer, "and is the old cow dead? What killed him?"

"Why he eat too much meat when the four wagon horses died."

"Good gracious," are the four wagon horses dead--what killed them?"

"Well, you see, when the house and barn were burned down, they over did themselves in hauling the water."

"Good gracious? are the house and barn burned down--how did it happen?"

"Well, you see, when daddy died they carried lights about, and were careless."

"Good gracious! in daddy--what was the matter with him?"

"Well, you see, when our Sal ran and got married, against daddy's wishes, he pined away and died."

"Good gracious! so nothing has happened since I've been away?"

"No, everything is just the same!"--

BILLINGS AND THE BEE.--The Bumble Bee is one of nature's secrets. They probably have a destiny few fall, and are probably necessary, if a fellow only knew how.

They live apart from the rest of mankind, in little circles, numbering about 75 or 80 souls.

They are borne about haying time, and are different from any bee I know of; they are the biggest, when just born. They resemble some man in this respect.

Their principle business is making poor honey, but they don't make any to sell. Boys often rob them out of a whole summer's work, but there is one thing about a bumble bee that boys always watch dreading close, and that is their help.

I had rather not have awl the bumble bee, honey there is between here and the city of Jerusalem, than tew have a bumble bee hit me with his helm when he comes round sudden.

They are different from other war vessels; the helm steers minds the bumble bee.

Hooiland's Bitters.

HOOILAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, AND HOOILAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOILAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a Preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOILAND'S GERMAN TONIC. Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Sarsaparilla, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use HOOILAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use HOOILAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, &c., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disregard for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Flustering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Harried or Difficult Breathing, Flustering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dizziness, Deficiency of Sight, Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, Stiffness of the Neck, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginations of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possess true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies--

HOOILAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, AND HOOILAND'S GERMAN TONIC. PREPARED BY DR. C. M. JACKSON, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhoea, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach or Intestines.

DEBILITY. Resulting from any Cause whatever: prostration of the system, induced by Severe labor, hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c. There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE. And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this Bitters or Tonic, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE. It is a well-established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the Bitters, or the Tonic, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN. Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of marasmus, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietors, which will allow of the publication of but a few. These, it will be observed, are men of note, and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS. Hon. Geo. W. Woodward, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes: Philadelphia, March 16, 1867. "I find Hooiland's German Bitters a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly, Geo. W. Woodward."

Hon. James Thompson, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, April 26, 1868. "I consider Hooiland's German Bitters a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion, or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect James Thompson."

From Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D. D. Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia. "Hooiland's German Remedies are counterfeited. See that the signature of C. M. JACKSON is on the wrapper of each bottle. All others are counterfeit. Principal office and Manufactory at the German Medicine Store, No. 831 ARCH Street, Philadelphia, Pa. CHAS. E. M.
