FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 9, 1868

The Radical Jacobins!

Is free government, in this broad land of ours, to be sustniked for the present, and preserved for the future, or is it to go down, in durkness and dushonor, un der the baleful influences of that attrocieus Congressional Oligaichy which. with a rod of iron, at present rules the hour? Is the Union of our fathers to be restered, and the states of the South to resume their old relations to the Federal government, as free, equal and indepen dent states, or are they to remain, as at present, the mere puppets of Jacobia American citizens who love the liberty guaranteed to them by the Constitution, and hate tyranny in whatever form it is exercised; and, in weighing these ques tions in their minds, if the history of the past three years of radical nume rule is not sufficient to open their eyes to the appalling dangers by which they are en compassed, then, we fear, a sad and ter rible day for them is near at hand

When the last 'rebel" laid down his arms in submission to the authority of pass the sentence of condemnation upon the general government, how sincerely these unfaithful public servants, who tention were at an end, and that such with your interests and prosperity! judicious measures, would be instituted. Let the sentence then, to be proclaimed yet it is all i can do to live " by those in power as would cause the be uttered in tones of no doubtful or dreading of the part to be unbeard amid the more joyous and congenial servatives! Anotsk yourselves, and anunds made by the songs of a re united and happy people, content to I ve in of these mad Radical Jacobins, on ALL 14 you change your way of voting, and taxpeace with each other, and erjoy the Lost' blessings and benefits of a common gov ernment, under a Constitution replete with every rafe guard for the freedom happiness and protection of all - the humblest as well as the highest- which the Pustrious and revered framers could be produced to the United States.

But, alas! how have these heres been dashed to the ground! After the war these Congressional Jacobins, discard ing the wise, humane and efficientable means which a President, Ellering out, fold tama? Is there an American city deceive us working men, and I begin to craite principles, and that peace and means which a trestaint, intering onto the forthe public west, thought proper to 7 n North, South, Eist or West, fortight helieve it, for I know they don't tax prosperity which are certain to follow use for the jurpose of giving lix and or notice bein who does not sight lens corn mest. order to the south, assumed the right to and deep at the remetablishes of the desido in all things as they place, and by distance usurping the powers of the other branch in es of the government to themselves, and quine of divisions in the Democratic trampling the plannest guarantees of the photos.
