

State News.

The Carrol News Press, has been reorganized in new type and enlarged. The Democrat and Columbia of Bloomsburg have been united. John Millberger was killed accidentally in a coal bank at Leeburg. A new and very handsome journal has been established at Philadelphia, entitled The Patriot. During 1860, there were 39 murders in Philadelphia—eleven more than the previous year. There is a haunted house in Stark county, and there are many foot and footless agitated about it. A greatly increased freight business is being done by the P. C. and B. L. Railway this season. The Brookville Herald says its own is to have a new Court House for $27,743, the "one-track having been let." The Bedford Gazette says Cameron and the Central govern Pennsylvania; and the Bedford Gazette is not far wrong. The negroes of Pittsburg are putting on airs. They demand to have their children admitted to the white schools. The Scranton Republican gives an account of the fall of Peter Squixas from a gin-pole, forty feet. Death ensued, of course. The Sunbury Democrat says that the number of persons subject to military duty in Northernland county, is 4,060. We learn from the Tunkhannoch Democrat that a portion of the new railroad bridge at that place was lately swept away by ice and flood. James H. Longene, for twenty-four years past engineer at the United States mint, in Philadelphia, died last week, aged seventy-five years. The Uniontown Gemma of Liberty says, that there was a landslide on the P. C. & B. L. railroad on Monday, which resulted in wrecking a freight train. A freight train ran off the track on the Pennsylvania Central a short distance from the Horse Shoe Bend, Allegheny mountains, last Monday night. No lives lost. Augustus E. Armstrong, for six years a clerk in the Surveyor General's Office, Harrisburg, died in that city a few days ago. He was a resident of Chambersburg. Methodist revivals have been reinstated in various quarters. At Hammondsville and New Sunnyside, twenty-two "sinners" were overhauled by the "grace of God." The election of John Scott, as Senator from Pennsylvania, is the principal subject of discussion in all circles. It was unexpected to the Republicans out of the Legislature. They have a new Court House at Lock Haven. Our neighbors of the Democrat ought to get some poor man to sue 'em for libel in order to inaugurate the new building. The Clearfield Journal says: "A man, whose name we did not ascertain, was killed by a tree falling on him whilst engaged in chopping the woods near Utopia in this county." The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided that the seller is bound to make a deed, as a deed without stamps is worthless, the seller is bound to furnish them. Wm Ford, of Mansfield, Pa., was severely injured, recently, by thrusting a heated poker into an old barrel shell, which was used as a door weight, thereby causing it to explode. The New Castle Gazette and Democrat is out heavy for Gov. for Governor. Good men, but the Wagoner believes the statesman-warrior, Gen. McCandless, to be the man for the hour. The Montrose Democrat says the engine blows up at that place on Monday week, killing the engineer and wounding his assistant. It was the third engine destroyed in a day. The last rail on the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad, from Albany to Huntington was laid Dec. 30, 1864. The road was to be opened for through business on the 12th of January. The Clearfield Republican says that the old county jail in that place will hold only about six persons. It lately had two too many, and it took it in disgust, but privately and "be knowing" only to themselves. At the election on the Pan Handle railroad, John Allen, of Pittsburg, Rev. J. C. Archer, of Clearfield, Pa., and two others of other States, were killed, and a number wounded. The car was thrown over an embankment sixty feet. The Daily Intelligencer records the death of a little daughter of Fred Wilhelm, by burning her clothes having taken fire. Why parents are not more cautious of their children on this regard is wonderful, so many similar accidents occurring. Another accident on the Pennsylvania Central, occurred last Friday at Stony Water station, by one train running into another, by failure of the flagman signalling the second train while the first was waiting. A brakeman named Lawson Squires, was killed. A Pennsylvania exchange contains two remarkable announcements. The one is addressed "to the friends of Jones," the other "to the friends of Geary." This embraces the masses of both parties. The Democrat generally relying around the standard of the first, while the Republicans take to Geary, Grant, and the other "friends of the Devil." Spring four days since of the Pennsylvania Legislative prates, about $200,000 was appropriated from the treasury, to pay their delinquent expenses. There are 400 Republican Senators, and they have appropriated money to of losers in all parts of the State, stretching over $700 a piece. Long live the Pirates of Pennsylvania! The Hollidaysburg Standard, one of the best Democratic papers in the State, says "Better papers than the Bellefonte Wacamas, political, and otherwise, don't vegetate anywhere." And still elsewhere, "All S. Kieroff, assistant editor of the Bellefonte Wacamas, proposes to show Brick Pomeroy up in book form. We are afraid the game isn't worth the candle." The Franklin Spectator says: "The present and prospective condition of the oil market is favorable to producers. It is not likely that prices will again get down to a point unremunerative to the owners of small wells." A new well was opened on Charley's run, which is yielding 75 barrels per day. There is some excitement at Pithole, and the wells are all doing well, and picking up lively, some paying as high as $20 per day. The Philadelphia Age has cut our acquaintance, for the reason, we presume, that we failed to publish a lengthy prospectus setting forth its transcendent merits. All right—if the Age can stand it, we guess we can.—Hollidaysburg Standard, Our fix. We've stood it for a year. We couldn't think of publishing a page, or even a column, prospectus, at such a high price as the privilege of an exchange. It is too much money for the space occupied. In the poker-players would say out west: "We hold the Age"—loof.

Another horrible murder was committed in Philadelphia on Thursday night. The parties, James Dempsey and Joseph Donahue, both residing in the house, had some hard words in the early part of the morning, but had retired to their respective rooms without coming to blows. About ten o'clock Dempsey went up stairs to the platform leading to Donahue's door and recommenced the quarrel by abusing the other in very offensive language. While he was thus engaged, Donahue sprang from his room armed with a knife, and seizing Dempsey plunged the weapon into his neck, and drawing it around the throat nearly severed the head from the body. Hanging remains to have watermarks for the bloody-minded. Every day such scenes occur in the great cities, and even beyond them. A man by the name of Samuel Lady, had his left ear bitten off by a horse at a lime kiln near Chambersburg last week. He was undoubtedly a "loaf" man, and had the family ear of the Radical ages of Bellefonte. The Chambersburg Spirit says Mrs. Lady was engaged in feeding one of his horses, preparatory to starting for home, when another suddenly darted at him and seized his ear and bit it off instantly. The ear was not afterward found, although search was made for it. Dr. Sweeney was sent for and gave speedy attention to the injured man. If the ear had been found and kept warm, the doctor would have ventured upon the attempt to replace it. Our readers, says the the Clarion Democrat, will remember an educated Burmese, named Mong Shaw Loo, who lectured in this place about three years ago. He returned to Burmah about a year ago, was married, went to Mandalay, the capital, and was invited to the palace by the King. The King was so much pleased with him, that he offered the appointment of royal physician, which he will accept besides a physician, Shaw Loo is an ordained Baptist minister, and no doubt will accomplish much good among his countrymen. The Sunbury Gazette contains the following outrageous article: "New York Democrat, please copy. That fearless and unflinching paper, the Democratic Watchman, published at Bellefonte, Pa., comes to us in an entire new dress, and makes a splendid appearance. Its able editor, P. Gray Meek, deserves success, and we should judge, from looking at his paper, that he is receiving it. Mr. Meek is assisted in the editorial department of the Watchman by Alf N. Kieroff, a vigorous, bold and able writer. The West Chester Jeffersonian records that James Weir, a young lad aged about 13, was sent to Media jail, a few days ago, for killing John Thomas, aged 10. The lads were engaged in Patterson Mills, Chester, and had a quarrel. On going home Thomas made an attack on Weir, and struck him, and a scuffle ensued in which Weir drew a knife and stabbed Thomas, from which wound he shortly died. The Huntingdon Monitor gives an account of the elopement of a farmer of that county with a "lone widder" leaving his large family behind with the father of the widow overtook them at breakfast the next morning. They fled, but a warrant overhauled them on the train, and they are now passing their flight honeymoon in "the Jug." In the edition of the Pennsylvania General railroad, by which Squires was killed, the commission was so great as to divert the cars in such manner as to make it difficult for the engine of each train to pull the trailing apart. The Greensburg Argus, says it was the consequence of gross carelessness. The Harrisburg State Guard records the death of David Hutchinson, after a long and painful illness. Also, the fatal injury, by explosion of a coal oil lamp, of Miss Kate Rupert, a young lady about 19 years of age. Both were greatly respected, and are mourned by a host of friends in Harrisburg. The Huntingdon Globe says Mrs. Isaac Cornelius, of Cass township, this county, presented her husband with a Christmas gift in the shape of three bouncing babies. A contemporary remarks, "It is well enough, perhaps, for Mr. C. that Christmas comes but once a year." The Lebanon Gazette says: A Bill has been introduced into the Legislature providing for a general law in the State for holding all the elections in the fall, and dispensing with the spring elections. The desire seems to be pretty general for the passage of such a law. The Lancaster Express gives an account of the bedside of Wm. E. Rank, by voluntary hanging. He leaves a family. What a happy world this, when many are so anxious to leave it that they will not wait for nature to punctuate their lives with it! A ghost, supposed to be the devil or one of his minions, has been seen in Snyder county. It resembles a dog, stands on its hind legs, spits fire, and has ears that reach to the ground. Of course, somebody was scared. The Pittsburg Post publishes a number roll of Pennsylvania traitors to the Democracy, who have fallen so low as to be leaders of the Jacobin party. The list embraces the owners of several millions of stolen property. The greatest outrage contemplated by the present Legislature is a Metropolitan police for Philadelphia. These Metropolitan police armies are outrages and disastrous failures whenever attempted. The Gettysburg Compiler says it has seen a letter from Fort Bayard announcing that a young man of Gettysburg, a soldier in the regular army, had been murdered by a negro. They had a mad dog chase in Penn township, near Greensburg, lately. The dog made things lively for a time, and the Argus believes there are numbers more getting mad fast. It is rumored that the people of Cambria county are about to be agitated on the question of the removal of the county seat from Klenburg to Johnstown. John Kates, an M. D., is in jail at Easton on the charge of desertion preferred by his wife, who was a Miss Bryfogle, of Washington, before she became Mrs. Kates. The Allentown Democrat says that over $20,000 are paid out by the different iron establishments in that vicinity, every month, for wages. The Clarion Democrat says, two youths were lately attacked in that county by a ferocious catamount, which they succeeded in killing. The corn crop of Pennsylvania for 1864 is estimated at 31,425,000 bushels; being an increase of 1,110,000 bushels over the crop of 1863. James Boylan was committed to the jail of Bucks county, on Friday last, on the charge, on the oath of Mary E. Ward, of Rep., &c. The editor of the Doylestown Democrat offers for sale to the lowest bidder sixteen slow subscribers to his paper. An exchange says the negroes on the Delaware line lately had a high old time and made "Home howl." On last Friday week General Lovell H. Rousseau a gallant soldier of the Union, died in New Orleans. He was commander of the Department of Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas.

Prospectus of the Bellefonte "Democratic Watchman" for 1865. With a record of thirteen years of unquestioned service in the cause of Democracy, for Cassian supremacy, for strict observance of Constitutional obligations, for State Rights, for Free Trade, and for Liberal Government, the BELLEFONTE enters upon its fourteenth volume with renewed vigor, with more life, and hope, and determination, than at any other period of its history. When in the past many other Democratic journals bent to the storm of fanaticism and bigotry, it battled on regardless of everything but duty. When many of the friends of State Rights cringed beneath the tornado of armed Federalism and Tory usurpation, it was true to the Democracy of Jefferson. When thousands of the leading advocates of Free Trade surrendered to the domination and exactions of the New England Tariff robbers and plunderers of the people, it held aloft the banner of justice. When Abolitionism, and its kindred train of infamies, invaded the rights of property and the popular institutions of sovereign States, it fought the good fight of the States and People. The BELLEFONTE WATCHMAN has never sought for fame by courting infamy, nor for rewards not worthily earned. Its record is before its host of readers and friends in all quarters, and upon that record it enters the new year, seeking to advance to the FRONT RANK of State and National Journalism, that it may be enabled to battle on for the cause of Justice, Equality, Right and Democracy, with an earnest desire to aid in the restoration of stricken Liberty throughout the Confederacy. To accomplish the purpose in view, we point to its proud and well-known record of the past thirteen years, asking for it the kind offices and good will of BRAVE, BOLD, UNCONQUERED DEMOCRATS. In all parts of the country, toward building up for it a commensurate and useful circulation. Now is the hour for safe and bold counsels and careful preparations. Never before was there such need for organization and harmony and unanimity among the friends of Liberty and Democracy. If Democrats fail to hold firmly to the cause for which they have sacrificed so much, then Liberty is lost to them and their children, and the Despotism and Tyranny of Federalism is secure forever, and a monarchical government permanently succeeds the wise, liberal, plain and unostentatious system which the patriot fathers reared for unworthy sons. It is needless to say to the readers and friends of the Democratic Watchman, that it will continue TO STRIKE AT DESPOTISM, MONOPOLY, AND WRONG, and to defend and uphold the Constitution and the people against their enemies—to war against all manner of robber Tariffs, and other frauds upon consumers; to uphold free trade and the rights of the many, to oppose the building up of all species of monopolies, and to do its duty fearless and fully in all things. The BELLEFONTE WATCHMAN will each week contain more strong and stirring original matter than any other journal in Pennsylvania, and will aim to be worthy of support by Democrats in ALL THE STATES. Friends desiring to raise clubs should write to the terms, etc. Single subscriptions, $2 per year in advance. Address, P. GRAY MECK, Bellefonte, Pa.
