French and American Manners.

One of an American party in Paris whose circle had been invaded by death at a Parisian hotel, writes:

"No other experience would have so warmed my heart to the French people as did that ten days of sorrow," giving as a reason therefor, that every one at the hotel, from chambermaid to hostess, were attentive, sympathetic, and ready to help.

What guest in America could have an experience that would draw from him like thanks to the host and servants of one of our large city hotels?

And the same letter in speaking of the funeral procession composed only of a carriage or two—the deceased and her companions being total strangers in Paris, says; "As our simple procession passed through the crowded and fashionable boulevards, the Broadway of Paris, every hat was raised in deferential salutation, from the poorest peasant in his veiled blouse to that of the wealthiest gentleman, sauntering for pleasure or hastening to his business."

What a contrast with American manners! Here we see horses and carriages dash past funeral processions, and even break through the processions itself between the hearse and the carriage of mourners, and the person who should halt with raised hat as a procession passed would be starred at as a curiosity. In this connection we may repeat an incident occurring on Broadway, as its most densely crowded point just below the Astor. It was a number of years since the Prince de Joinville, son of Louis Phillippe, then King of France, visited this country, and made his mysterious trip up the lakes, and had his remarkable interview with the late Rev. Eleazer Williams at Green Bay. The Prince came over in the Belle Poole, a beautiful miniature frigate, and at the time we refer to, this vessel was lying in New York. One day there passed along the crowded walk, down Broadway past the Astor, and St. Paul's Church, a poor man and woman, the former carrying under his arm a tiny coffin with their dead baby, they strangers and friendless, seeking Christian burial, for their child.

The rude surge of Broadway rendered it almost dangerous to attempt to thread that crowd in safety to their precious burden. Just as the two had passed St. Paul's there came up Broadway the entire crew of the French frigatet two by two, in their holiday dress, and jaunty hats with long streamers, chattering and jabbering, as French sailors only can, but the instant the leading man espied that baby coffin he called a halt, and every man facing in, lifted his hat, and stood in silence while that humble couple, with their cheap pine coffin, covered with a mother's only shawl for a pall, were passing. There was a lesson for American gentlemen, but one our people, with all their pretended respect for the dead, will never learn.

Symptoms of Old Maidism.

A Scotch paper thus details them:

When a woman begins to drink her tea without sugar—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to read love stories abed—that's a symptom.

When a woman gives a sigh on hearing of a wedding—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to say that she's refused many an offer—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to say what a dreadful set of creatures men are, and that she wouldn't be bothered with one of them for the world—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to change her shoes every time she comes into the house after a walk—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to have a little dog trotting after her—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to have a cat at her elbow at meal times, and gives it sweetened milk—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to be ashamed to take off her bonnet in a gentleman's company because she's got no cap on—that's a symptom.

When a woman sees babies crying, and says that she wouldn't be troubled with them—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to say that a servant lass has no business as a sweetheart—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to go to bed with her stockings and a flannel nightcap on—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to rub her fingers over the chairs and tables to see if they are dusky—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to refuse to tell her age—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins to find fault with her looking-glass, and say it doesn't show the features right—that's a symptom.

When a woman begins talking about cold drafts, and stops up all the crevices in the doors and windows—that's a symptom.

DON'T YOU LOVE HIM, FATHER?—One Sabbath evening, the father of two little children had placed one on each knee, to ask them what they had heard in the infant school that day. He was not a professor of religion, although he had a pious wife. The little children began to tell him in their own way, of the beautiful home in Heaven that Jesus had left because of His love to them. Looking full in her father's face, a little girl said, "Jesus must have loved us very much to do that; don't you love him for it, father?" Then they went on describing the trials and sufferings of our Saviour, and she again asked the question. "Don't you love Him for that, father?" and when they spoke of His death on the cross, the little one asked the third time, "Now don't you love Him, father?" The father had to put the children down and go out of the room to hide his emotion. He confessed to the writer afterward, that he felt more under the artless questioning of his little children, than he ever felt under the most powerful preaching in his life. He soon afterward united with the church.

COE'S COUGH BALSAM!

This long tried and popular Remedy is again called to the attention of the public. As often as the year rolls around, the proprietors annually make their bow to the people, and remind them that amongst the many things required for the health, comfort and sustenance of the family through the long and tedious months of winter, Coe's Cough Balsam should not be forgotten. For years it has been a household medicine—and mothers anxious for the safety of their children, and all who suffer for any disease of the throat, chest and lungs, cannot afford to do without it. In addition to the ordinary for once so long in the market, we now furnish our mammoth family size bottles, which will, in common with the other sizes, be found at all Drug Stores.

FOR CROUP,

The Balsam will be found invaluable, and may always be relied upon in the most extreme cases.

WHOOPING COUGH.

The testimony of all who have used it for this terrible disease during the last ten years, is, that it invariably relieves and cures it.

SORE THROAT

Keep your throat wet with the Balsam—taking little and often—and you will very soon find relief.

HARD COLDS AND COUGHS.

Yield at once to a steady use of this great remedy. It will succeed in giving relief where all other remedies have failed

SORENESS OF THE THROAT, CHEST AND LUNGS.

Do not delay procuring and immediately taking Coe's Cough Balsam, when troubled with any of the above named difficulties. They are all premonitory symptoms of Consumption, and if not arrested, will sooner or later sweep you away into the valley of shadows from which none can ever return.

IN CONSUMPTION.

Many a care-worn sufferer has found relief and to-day rejoices that her life has been made easy and prolonged by the use of Coe's Cough Balsam

IN SHORT,

The people know the article, and it needs no comment from us It is for sale by every Druggist and Dealer in Medicines in the United States.

DANFORTH'S PETROLEUM FLUID!

NON-EXPLOSIVE!

SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN!

SAFE UNDER ALL CIRCUMSTANCES!

THE NEW LIGHT,

THE PETROLEUM FLUID.

Manufactured by J. J. Palmer, under Letters Patent, supplies a necessity, as well as a household convenience. It has been in use more than a year, and is growing in favor wherever used. It makes the neatest, and in every respect the best light. No offensive odor, no smoke, no grease to soil garments, no danger from explosion in lamps; does not injure weak eyes, gives a softer light than Kerosene, can be burned in any lamp with the trifling expense of changing burners.

IT IS CHEAPER THAN ANY LIGHT EXCEPT DAYLIGHT.

All who use it will endorse what we say.

Our patrons put our Fluid to various uses, and they give us marvelous accounts of its efficacy in cleaning tin, floors, clothes, removing grease or mildew, in relieving rheumatism and curing burns, etc.

The small Patent Brass Lamp, packed with cotton, is popular "run about light," and is a neat and convenient thing for a traveler to take in the pocket.

This Fluid requires no more caution in its use than kerosene. We advise no one to fill a lamp while burning; if any of it spilled, a flame should not be brought near it, for though it will not explode, we do recommend it as good to burn. If in case of carelessness or accident it should be set on fire, smother it with a cloth or hat. If a lamp does not work well, having on it our Burners, there must be a defect in the burner, and it should be soldered.

The wick does not require frequent cutting. When charred the blaze flickers, and then the coal may be removed by rubbing or cutting. Chimneys seldom need washing. There never was a portable light that required so little work to keep it in order.

It does not increase the rate of Insurance where used or stored.

Is not considered dangerous by the Chicago Board of Underwriters.

Received the first Premium at the Stark and Tuscarawra county, (O.) Fairs, last Fall.

Firemen can control a fire, but they cannot an explosion, therefore the Fluid is preferable on this account.

IT CANNOT BE EXPLODED!

$100 offered to any person who will produce a legitimate explosion of its vapors.

In use by over 10,000 families, 1,500 of which are in Cleveland and the vicinity, all of whom recommend it cheerfully.

Medicines & Restoratives.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them While adapted to mild forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE, for Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed, all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Those afflicted with chronic, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, a fresh application of this remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co, Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass, and sold all round the world. Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, FORRESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.—A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm anted mere-
