

THEY FEAR OF THE FUTURE.—The reason why the Senate refused to repeal the Civil Tenure-of-office act, beside the fact that they were afraid, was the fear that Grant might want to remove some of them to make room for relatives of the "imperial family" in prospect by marriage and the course of nature.—There is no telling how numerous the Emperor's family may become in the next thirty or forty years.

The New Collector of New York is the very man for the place, according to the tendency of Radicalism. He has stolen money, in sums of from $5 to $25,000, and the New York Standard says he is a well-known and popular thief, who as a matter of relief to the people, ought to be employed by the government where he can steal as much as he wants at once.

State News.—The people of Danville are tickled with the appropriation of $100,000 for their lunatic asylum.

The country is troubled with high-way robbers in the vicinity of McConnellburg, Frankfort.

Frank Spaul of Chambersburg was shot and killed by John Harmon, while hunting on Monday of last week—cause whisky.

Mrs. Harper, of Manassas, recently hanged upon the "equality of races," to a distinguished audience in Lewisburg.

The consolidation of the East Pennsylvania railroad with the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, is under contemplation.

The Bedford post-office seems to have been too important for one person to hold, and consequently accordingly peddled it out to two.

James Bonney of Columbia county was turned to death one day last week, by his collar taking fire while undressing for bed.

Dr. Joseph McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian church at West Newton, Westmoreland county, died on Sunday morning last.

The Hamilton Democrat is just now engaged in showing up the record of the radical representatives from that district. It is not of the best, you can bet your hat on that.

Dr. F. Smith, President of the Reading R. R. Co. has retired from that position on account of ill health, and is succeeded by Frank W. Cowan of Philadelphia.
