DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR GOVERNOR, ASA PACKER, OF CARBON COUNTY.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE, CYRUS L. PERSHING, OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

- 1. That the federal government is limited in power to the grants contained in the Federal Constitution; that the exercise of doubtful constitutional powers is dangerous to the stability of the government and the safety of the people, and the democratic party will never consent that the State of Pennsylvania shall surrender her great right of local self-government.
2. That the attempted ratification of the proposed fifteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution by the radical members of the legislature and their refusal to submit the same to a vote of the people, was a deliberate breach of their official duty and an outrage upon every citizen of the State, and the resolution making such ratification should be promptly repealed and the amendment submitted to the people at the polls for acceptance or rejection.
3. That the democratic party of Pennsylvania is opposed to conferring upon the negro the right to vote, and we emphatically deny that there is any right or power in Congress or elsewhere to impose negro suffrage upon the people of this State in opposition to their will.
4. That reform in the administration of the federal and State governments, and in the management of their financial affairs is imperatively demanded, and the democratic party will support any measure for such reform.
5. That the movement now being made for the amelioration of the condition of the laboring man has our most cordial cooperation.
6. That the restoration of the republican Congress, outside of the Constitution, the disregard of the majority therein of the will of the people and safety of the ballot box, in the exclusion from their seats in Congress of republican representatives lawfully elected, the establishment of military governments in States in the Union and the overthrow of all civil governments therein, are acts of tyranny and usurpation that tend directly to the destruction of all republican government and the creation of the worst forms of despotism.
7. That our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to the front must be gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.
8. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-born citizens at home and abroad, the assertion of American nationality which shall command the respect of foreign powers and furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights.
9. That the present internal revenue and taxing systems of the general government are grossly unjust, and means ought at once to be adopted to cause a modification thereof.
COURT CONVENTION.—The Democratic voters of the several boroughs and townships in Centre county, will meet at the usual places of holding elections in their respective districts, on the afternoon of Saturday, August 7th, 1869, and elect delegates to represent said boroughs and townships in a County Convention to be held at the Democratic Club Room, in Bellefonte, on Tuesday, August 10th, at 2 o'clock, P. A general attendance is desired, as business of importance will be submitted to the Committee for their action. Wm. M. Metcher, Chairman. EASTON, July 21, 1869.

Geary's Secret. The individual who now occupies the gubernatorial chair of this State is a member of a number of secret societies. Among others, he has recently become connected with the order of "Red Men," which makes him a kind of a cross between the Injun and the Nigger, as his connexion with the black race is well known to everybody.

But Geary is not only secret in the matter of societies. He is a sly old dog in more ways than one. He does "hush" sometimes in a quiet way and has "secrets" that are not known to everybody. One of these, however, unhappily for him, has leaked out. And that is his conspiring with the relatives of STEPHEN GIRARD to recover from the city of Philadelphia the money bequeathed by Mr. GIRARD for the purpose of establishing a college for orphan children, and which now supports and educates five hundred orphans at Girard college. The relatives of Mr. GIRARD, chafing over the fact that so much money, which might have belonged to them, is yearly going into the treasury of the college, in accordance with the great philanthropist's wish, entered into an agreement with Gov. GEARY, the stipulations of which were that he should engineer a bill through the Legislature, setting aside the will of Mr. GIRARD and securing the property to the relatives, for which he was to have a quid pro quo in the shape of a very liberal bonus. GEARY, to his shame be it said, has been trying to "work up" this thing for some time, but, happily for the orphan children of the State, has not yet succeeded. The plan will, of course, now fall through, because the handwriting is on the wall which declares that GEARY has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Consequently, his power to do evil will be taken from him.

Now, mark the difference. While JOHN W. GEARY endeavored to rob the orphans of Pennsylvania of the endowment bequeathed them by good old STEPHEN GIRARD, ASA PACKER gave five hundred thousand dollars and sixty acres of land for the establishment of a somewhat similar institution in the Lehigh Valley, at Bethlehem. Here we have the grand difference between the two men. One seems to be a natural thief and robber; the other a liberal, christian gentleman.

GEARY'S connexion with the shameless attempt to defraud Girard college of its endowment, is too well established to be denied. He and his friends have made desperate attempts to keep the transaction from the light of day, but the Bible injunction "Be sure your sin will find you out," has been most forcibly verified in this scheme of our Governor to enrich himself at the expense of our State orphans. Is such a man fit to be Governor? We pause for a reply.

Greeley on Geary

The New York Tribune, edited by HORACE GREELEY, is universally accepted as supreme Radical authority. We therefore cite him before the people, to testify as to what manner of man is JOHN W. GEARY, Radical candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. We ask our Radical friends to weigh well the opinion of their oracle, and confess our entire concurrence in the same. Now, Mr GREELEY, will you be so kind as to step upon the witness stand and give us your unbiased and candid opinion of the man whom your party are at present asking the people to support? Listen:

"Governor Geary is either a very dignified man or a very pompous one—perhaps a little of both. He is a profound egotist, and talks about what he is and intends to be in a somewhat ostentatious manner. Governor Geary is a very determined man without the capacity to determine on any systematic course. He has an iron will without a purpose, his only aim being to carry through the measures of a corrupt faction, and that is under instructions. He is usually a politician and the miserable tool of a miserable faction."

We give the philosopher of the Tribune credit for entire honesty in this opinion, inasmuch as it was given several years ago. That it was a correct one, subsequent events have proved beyond all question. Geary is, indeed, a mere compound of vanity and egotism, and, most emphatically, the "miserable tool of a miserable faction." So patient has this become, during the three years of his governorship, that his own party endeavored to prevent his re-nomination, which has been to them the most nauseous dose they have ever attempted to swallow. GREELEY'S opinion of him in 1866 is most appropriate. True of him now, for years have not in the least improved his morals. He is a notoriously corrupt man, and besides being an incompetent and brainless ass, is puffed up with a peacock pride that renders him disgustingly ridiculous in the eyes of all sensible men. His party are now being whipped up to his support, but, notwithstanding the frequency with which the lash is applied, are constantly shying off and drawing back to the great confusion of the whole organization. The Democracy will have but little trouble to consign this "model governor" to this shade of oblivion.

Packer as a "Rebel."

Radical newspapers were never so "hard up" for something to say against a political opponent as they now are to find charges against Mr. PACKER. His life has been so pure, and his record so spotless, that they can get hold of nothing to his disadvantage. They cannot even howl "copperhead" at him, because he did his full part in equipping and putting into the field soldiers for the defence of the Government. Here is a little incident, in the life of ASA PACKER, from the Carbon Democrat, which the Radical papers have never yet published, and which they don't like to have put at them:

On Sunday afternoon, June 28, 1863, a spontaneous, enthusiastic and large gathering of the people of Mauch Chunk was held in the Court House at that place. A fierce, bloody, bitter, uncertain conflict was raging at Gettysburg, from which came hourly dispatches telling tales of horror and of the butchery of noble men. The gathering we speak of was very naturally converted into a war meeting, and patriotic and tender and tearful speeches were made by many citizens of the place. Every soul seemed full of the agony of suspense, trembling lest the sun should go down upon a defeated Federal Army, and the cause of the Union be irretrievably lost. Urgent appeals were made to the young men to go to the aid of their fellows, and help in the nation's extremity. The morning and the meridian of that day were dark and forbidding. From the Capital to the extremity of telegraphic communication, one dread, terrible fear seized hold of the people lest the great battle of the war should result against us. At the meeting in question, amid all the efforts of burning eloquence and the tears of sympathetic and patriotic women—not a man moved! At length there arose in the audience a man of mature years with gray head, and a bearing as of one of Nature's own noblemen—a man who never made speeches. All eyes were bent upon him, and amid perfect silence he said: "Every man, now in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Rail Road Company, who will volunteer for his country in this her hour of pressing need, shall receive his regular monthly pay, and retain his position until his return, as if he were present and working each day." These words were most wonderful. Over a hundred men volunteered at once, and in a few hours were fully equipped & speeding over the Lehigh-Valley Rail Road to the scene of war. Need we say, that man was ASA PACKER.

A "Confounded" Error.

The Louisville Express says: "In our notice, on Saturday, of the antecedents of ASA PACKER, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania, we confounded him with ex-Governor Wm. F. PACKER. It was a confounded error. ASA PACKER never was in Congress, but Wm. F. PACKER was, and ASA PACKER has not been Governor but he will be."

The Evansville Courier, an Indiana paper, in endeavoring to correct the above falls into another error. It says:

The Express makes confusion worse confounded. The truth is ex-Governor Wm. F. PACKER never was in Congress but ASA PACKER has served several years in Congress, and now proposes to be Governor. The two PACKERS are brothers.

The mistake of the Courier is in stating that "the two PACKERS are brothers." They are not brothers, nor are they related in any way, that we know of. They may, however, be connected in some manner by the ties of consanguinity.

Cold Comfort.

The Huntingdon Globe of June 30, 1869, in speaking of the nomination of JOHN W. GEARY, the Radical candidate for Governor, used very dubious language. The Globe is not enthusiastic in his support, but sustains him because he is the party nominee, and there is no choice but between him and the candidate of the Democracy. GEARY'S nomination is looked upon very coldly by his party, and he creates less enthusiasm than any man that ever ran for the governorship. The following are the sentiments of the Globe:

We place at our most head the ticket nominated by the Union Republican State Convention with that of Philadelphia last week—a synopsis of the proceedings of which we give in to-day's Globe. At no time was there any concentrated opposition to General Geary's re-nomination, and in the absence of any strong opposition to the governor was re-nominated, the first ballot by an almost unanimous vote Judge Williams was nominated by an unanimous vote. That there was, and may continue to be, men in the Republican party opposed to General Geary's re-election, it would be useless to deny—but he is the party nominee and there is no choice but between him and whoever may be nominated by the Democratic party. If the Republican party succeeds in carrying the State next fall it will be only after hard work by the influential men of that party in every district. The Republican Party men must not remain ignorant of their duty.

A Mess of P's.

Our editorial friend of the Fulton Democrat gets off the following piece of alliteration, which would seem to indicate that he is fond of P's! There are some kinds of garden "cass" that may not be healthful this time of year, but the sort of P's here furnished are exceedingly wholesome.

THE P's—Packer and Pershing are Popular with the People. They were Put up for the Position for which they were Presented, Purely because they Please the People. Persons will Perhaps hence Perceive a Profound Purpose upon a Part of the old Party of Principles to Put an end to the Pilfering and Plunder, by Radical Patriots, from the Public Purse, and to Place Practical Political Purity above Pretended Patriotism. With the Prosperous Prospect ahead, and the Plentiful Portents Pointing all one way, it requires no Prophet to Predict the Election of Packer and Pershing at the Polls.

The French Cable.

The following messages between the Emperor NAPOLEON and President GRANT passed over the new French Cable, on the 28th ultimo.

PARIS, 8 4/5 A. M.—L'Empereur des Français au Président des Etats Unis d'Amerique, a Washington. Je suis bien aise de inaugurer la nouvelle ligne telegraphique qui relie la France et l'Amerique, en vous envoyant l'expression de mes vœux pour vous et pour la prosperite des Etats Unis.

NAPOLEON. DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—To Count Fovonny, French Charge d'Affaires, Rovers House, Boston. Herewith, I send you, as requested, the President's reply to the Message of the Emperor.

J. C. B. DAVIS. The President of the United States to the Emperor of the French: "I cordially reciprocate your good wishes, and trust that the liberal policy of the United States, pursuant to which this cable has been laid, may result in many such means of communication, especially between this country and its earliest ally and friend."

"U. S. GRANT." The United States is now in communication with Europe by two lines of telegraph, a most wonderful triumph of this most wonderful age. Let us hope that while the lightning has thus united us in thought, we may also be united in heart and that strife and bloodshed may cease among the nations.

Judge Packer—Kind Words from Radical Sources.

The following complimentary notices of Judge Packer are entirely compiled from Radical sources. They are the involuntary tributes of admiration which the nobleness of our candidate exacts from friend and foe.

(From the Philadelphia City Item.)

"Doubtless the Democrats, in view of the demoralized condition of the Republicans—a demoralization certain to ensue upon the re-nomination of Geary will put forward their best man—Judge Packer, perhaps—a sagacious, resolute, common sense Pennsylvanian, whose popularity will carry Philadelphia county by a majority of at least ten thousand."

(From the Scranton Register.)

The Scranton Evening Register, which has heretofore not dabbled in politics, has come out for Packer for Governor.—Bethlehem Times. Yes: we have "come out for Packer." We had resolved to stand aloof from politics until we could find a candidate worthy the support of the entire people of this Commonwealth. In Hon. ASA PACKER, we have discovered an honest man, and the People's candidate.

(From the Pittsburg Commercial.)

"The Democratic candidate for Governor is a gentleman of irrefragable private character, in whom his attached friends feel an honest pride. He has amassed great wealth by successful business ventures, and in the disbursement of it to educational and benevolent purposes has manifested the utmost liberality. Mr. Packer, as a man, therefore, will receive none but kind words from us during the canvass, and we see no present reason for indulging in severe criticism."

(John W. Forno at Bethlehem, Nov. 23, 1869.)

"Here is a character and career for youth and manhood to study: Here is a lesson to the one to move on in the path of improvement, and a stimulant to the other never to despair in the darkest hour of disaster and misfortune. We pick out ASA PACKER as the miner picks out a piece of coal to show the value of the precious deposit from which it is taken; we pick him out to show what can be done by personal honesty, industry, and kindness to men; by courage in the midst of bad luck; by confidence in the midst of gloomy prophecy; by modesty in prosperity; and by princely generosity when fortune comes with both hands full to realize a just ambition."

—MR. GALBRAITH, of Erie, having declined the chairmanship of the State Central Committee, WILLIAM MITCHELL, Esq., of Easton, has been appointed to that position. Mr. MITCHELL has issued a call for a meeting of the Committee at Altoona, on Tuesday, the 10th instant, which will be found in another place.

THE STATE CAMPAIGN.—Governor Packer's Letter of Acceptance.

The following is the model letter of Judge PACKER, accepting the Democratic nomination for Governor:

To Hon. C. R. Buckalew, Lewis C. Casady and R. E. Monaghan, Esqs., Committee.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30, 1869.

GENTLEMEN: At the first convenient moment I reply to your communication, informing me of my nomination by the Democratic State Convention of the 14th instant, for the office of Governor of Pennsylvania, and I desire to make due acknowledgments for this high evidence of the esteem and friendship of my fellow-citizens, and to say that I accept the nomination tendered me. Having, at the solicitation of my friends (though with unfeigned reluctance), been induced to permit the use of my name for the nomination, my acceptance becomes a matter of course, if not a duty; but I announce it with a deep sense of the responsibility assumed. My reliance in accepting the position of a candidate, and in agreeing to perform Executive service for the people, is not alone upon my own strength or good intentions, but mainly upon popular indulgence and generous support, and upon that Superintending Providence which can bless the labors of public men.

If I shall be placed, by the votes of the people, in the gubernatorial chair, I shall endeavor to meet the expectations of friends, and of all who have at heart the true interests of our great Commonwealth. To this end I shall labor to secure those objects in which we feel a common interest and concern, among which are—the preservation of the State credit; the reduction of the expenses of the State government, to their lowest practicable point, thereby lessening the burdens and taxation of the people; the encouragement of a liberal system of improvements for intercourse and trade, in order that production may be increased, labor more simply rewarded, and general prosperity secured; the judicious execution of the laws (involving a cautious and sparing use of the power to pardon offenders), so that good faith shall be kept among the people, and crime be repressed; the promotion of the education of our youth by a general system of organized schools, and by special institutions of learning, so that knowledge and virtue shall become more and more the solid foundations of our free political system; and, lastly, the restoration of purity and character to our government by the putting down and preventing of special and corrupt legislation, and of all improper uses or management of the public funds. To these general objects, however, should be added, a careful attention by government to the interests of labor. Having earned my bread by the labor of my hands during many years I may add, the happiest years of my life, and owing whatever I possess (under the Providence of God) to patient and honest toil, I can never be unmindful of the interests of those with whom my entire life has been associated.

Inasmuch as my pursuits and training have not qualified me for speech making, or for solicitation of votes, it will not be expected that I shall undertake the performance of active duties in the canvass about to begin. But my life, conduct and character are before my fellow-citizens for their examination, and they will afford them better means of judging of my fitness as a candidate for popular support, than anything that I could now say.

I am, gentlemen very respectfully yours. ASA PACKER.

Judge PERSHING has sent the following letter accepting the nomination for Judge of the Supreme Court.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22, 1869.

To Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, Lewis C. Casady, Esq., and R. E. Monaghan, Esq., Committee:..

GENTLEMEN: Your note of the 21st inst., has been received, informing me of my nomination as the Democratic candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court by the State Convention. This distinguished honor is the most valued as it has been conferred without solicitation. I accept the nomination, and should the action of the Convention be ratified by the people, shall endeavor to discharge the responsible duties of the position with impartiality and fidelity. [Signed] CYRUS L. PERSHING.

The Imperial Ball.

The World gives the following notice of the dance of Ulysses the First:

We'll we have the first ball of the Empire. Not, to be sure, at the Hotel de Ville in New York, but at the Hotel de Stetson in Long Branch; which will do for beginning. The Democratic skies of honest old New Jersey would not make courtiers of themselves, and so wept bitterly over the performance. But what care those for the tears of Heaven whom no tears of humanity have ever touched? "On with the dance." The President danced—"His Excellency" just now; "His Majesty" by and by, it all goes right. The President's wife danced. The General of the Army danced. The daughter of the General of the Army danced. An aide-de-camp danced. The wife of an aide-de-camp danced. Mrs. Borie, wife of the nephew by marriage of the Duke of Sotomavor, danced. Borie did not dance. Either Borie hadn't his sea legs on, and so couldn't dance on the sea shore, or had his sea legs on, and so couldn't dance on land. Be this as it may Borie danced not. His blue blood may have purpled with delight to the lascivious pleadings of a lute, but he capered not—nimbly nor yet otherwise.

Concerning the Presidential capering, the style and merit thereof, there are no conflicting statements. Our own correspondent, whose eyes are photographic lenses, and whose soul is a washed silver plate, pure and spotless, records the melancholy fact that the President "moved awkwardly" that he "stalked through it awkwardly." With the kindly consideration for all human frailties, which always marks the World, he suggests, however, that the President did as well as he possibly could, and that his Excellency "felt how utterly unfit he was to lift his heels." Let us gracefully add that, as he has had little experience in taking to his heels, it is not surprising this should be the case. The Times being accepalous and waiting events, discreetly keeps silence both on the fact and on the form of the Presidential dancing. The Herald of course had not heard of the ball when it went to press yesterday. The Tribune tries to take the edge off its irrepressible contempt of the President's Terpsichorean efforts by mixing him up adroitly with the General of the Army, and both of them with the Lieutenant General. See the artfulness of Horace Greeley—too good a dancer himself not to know good dancing from bad when he sees it, but too cunning a servitor of power and party to save his scornful thought with signy words. "General Grant," says this ancient and wilycourtier, "under the impression that it was a plain quadrille, became slightly confused, and General Sherman also seemed bewildered; but it was just fun for little Phil Sheridan, who all through the dance went it with the vim and hurrah of the genuine cavalryman."
