

Ink-Bills.
Peaches and Democrats are plenty this fall.

Louis Napoleon is sick. Should he die, the French people will be sicker.

GRANT, it seems, flaked up in Elk county on Sunday. What will the preachers say to this?

Gen. RAWLINS, the only honest man in GRANT'S cabinet, is dead. His associations hastened his decease.

One of our Radical exchanged urges its party to "work." That however, is out of their line—they would rather steal.

A Radical paper talks about "a voice from the grave." After the second Tuesday of October, his voice will be altogether sepulchral in its tones.

GRANT said "Let us have peace." But CANBY says "Let us prevent the constitutionally elected members of the Virginia Legislature from taking their seats."

" 'Tis not the whole of life to live, nor all of death to die," will be found true of the Radical thieves and plunderers after their party is dead and damned.

It will be a glad day for the country when the Radical party is shattered forever. In the language of O'Callaghan's prayer, "may the devil fly away with them all!"

We know of several Radical papers that are in danger of suspension for want of patronage. And we know of as many Radical editors who are equally in danger of being suspended by the neck.

JAY COOK, Chief Robber of the National treasury, is entertaining a lot of preachers at his home on Lake Erie. It seems that stolen money is as effective when tried on the preachers as on anybody else.

A Radical paper at Chambersburg expresses its "Public Opinion" that the Democrats intend to "do their work without much noise." They always do. It is only the braggadocio that makes a bluster.

FORNEY calls GRANT'S trips about the country "tours to become acquainted with the wants and wishes of the people." Grant himself calls them "pleasure trips." For once the cigar man has told the truth.

There has been another terrible Ku Klux outrage at New Orleans. A "trooly loil" man has mysteriously disappeared—with some funds belonging to some of the "cullud population." Awful Ku Klux!

STOKES still holds on to his expressed opinion that the Radical party in Tennessee has "gone to hell." That, however, need not sever his connection with it, as the separation between them is only temporary.

The TWITCHELL matter, we are told, has raised a "stink." We are glad it has, and hope it may smell so in the nostrils of high Heaven as to bring down merited vengeance upon the betrayer of the people—JOHN W. GEARY.

GEARY was only prevented from dancing over REYNOLDS' grave at Gettysburg by a summons to attend the laying of the corner stone of the insane asylum at Danville. He would make a fit inmate for an insane asylum himself.

A Radical editor in town, who couldn't get over the TWITCHELL matter, told us the other day that we were the most reckless editors in the State. This may be his opinion, but we are not reckless enough to believe anything in his paper.

Says a Radical sheet: "Gov. GEARY came into power when a proper administration of the Government required superior qualities of statesmanship." We guess that's so, but we didn't get those "superior qualities" when we got GEARY.

GEARY is trying the temperance dodge. He professes to be a strong temperance man, and in favor of a prohibitory law, while he is at the same time trying to curry favor with the distillers and liquor sellers. He is the most contradictory, the most curious, the most reckless and the most exaggerated candidate that ever ran for foe.

While the President was out of Washington enjoying himself at a fashionable watering place, his War Secretary, the brave RAWLINS, lay an quiescing in mortal sickness at the Capital. He called for GRANT—his friend—but GRANT wasn't there. He was driving his horses and pulling cigars at Galatoga. How sad! And now GRANT expresses his sorrow. Poor RAWLINS!

"STATE RIGHTS AND FEDERAL UNION."
VOL 14. BELLEFONTE, PA., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1869. NO. 36.

Once More:

We have so often warned the people of the dangers to be apprehended from Radical rule, and they have so often refused to regard the warning, that we have at last become disgusted with their obstinacy and discharged by their heedlessness.

But once more we urge upon ourselves the duty to counsel the people against Radicalism. They have seen how it works—they have felt its effects. They have seen their liberties taken from them and trampled under foot, and they have felt the iron clutch of tyranny about their throats.

In view of all this, and in view of all the long years of sorrow and anguish and death and want and ruin, we warn them to be wise while yet there is time. Turn from the support of that party, which has desolated the country and brought woe upon the people, to the assistance of that party which has been the savior of the Government and our institutions in their days of trouble and trial.

The infamous course of Governor GEARY in pardoning GEORGE H. TWITCHELL for money, as exposed in the letter of our Montana correspondent last week, is exciting universal comment throughout the country. We trust it will be the means of opening the eyes of the people to the insanity of the man, and the perfect disregard he has for morality, law or religion.

Attorney General HOAR has delivered an opinion in the matter of the Virginia Legislature, whom Gen. CANBY proposes to keep out of their seats by the imposition of the test oath. He makes, in this opinion, the astonishing assertion that while the Legislature of Virginia may ratify the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, it is, at the same time, incompetent, by reason of its non-recognition by Congress, to perform any State function!

Some people and some editors, Radicals, of course, profess to discredit the TWITCHELL story about GEARY. Had the HENRY VAUGHAN matter not been so conclusively proved on him, there might be some room for doubt. But if he would set in the way he did toward a poor friendless girl, for the sake of shielding her violator—a man in high social position in the Radical party—from the scorn of the public, what might not be expected of him where only a man was concerned and where his pocket-book reaped a fat benefit from the transaction? Undoubtedly, GEORGE H. TWITCHELL, instead of being a mouldering corpse beneath the clods of earth, is a friendless, homeless wanderer in the wilds of Montana. He was pardoned for money!

California.

The news from California shows that the Democracy have carried the State by an overwhelming majority. The Radicals are routed horses, foot and dragoons, and the Legislature is three-fourths Democratic. This is all the better when it is remembered that the question at issue was negro suffrage, just as it will be in Pennsylvania this fall.

Now, with the glorious example of California before our eyes, let us make for ourselves in Pennsylvania as true a record as the Pacific Democracy have made for themselves. Let us put the mark of our condemnation upon JOHN W. GEARY, the Judas Iscariot who betrayed his trust by his contemptible message to our Legislature recommending it to pass the 15th amendment.

The True Issue.

Let it be wrong in the ears of the people that NEGRO SUFFRAGE is the question at issue this fall. Last winter the Radical members of the Legislature, disregarding their promises to their constituents that this thing should not be forced upon the people without their consent, ratified an amendment to the United States Constitution which gives the negro the right to vote not only in Pennsylvania but all over the Union.

Coming!

Remember!
The second Tuesday of October
Is not far distant!
On that day depends much
Of WEAL OR WOE
To this State!

The Columbia Spy, a Radical paper at Columbia, Lancaster county, has "died the death." It found Radicalism didn't pay, or, rather, it found that it didn't pay those of its supporters who attempted to be honest. It has probably spread itself, a corpse in this decaying land, in witness of the death of the entire Radical party!

Death of Gen. Rawlins.

Gen. JOHN A. RAWLINS, Secretary of War, who has been sick for some time, died in Washington, on the 3d instant. This news will be received by the country generally with regret, for General RAWLINS was not a man to inspire political enmity, being rather an amiable gentleman, and a man who mixed but little in partizan politics.

Decidedly, Gen. RAWLINS was the best man in GRANT'S cabinet. He may not have been the ablest or the most learned, but he was the one in whom the country had the greatest confidence as an honest man, and it will feel for him a deeper regret than it would have done for any other member of that body of presidential counselors. He was the man, too, of all men, whom GRANT professed to love. They were brought up together in Galena, and all through the war were associated together.

Grant's Relatives.

The following is how GRANT disposed of his relatives. It will be perceived that their fate has been far happier than that of the "ten little in boys."
Ten Grant relations on the office-whine. One got a Marshalship, then there were nine. Nine Grant relations on an office walk. Another got a Custom House there were eight.

The Erie Observer says that the position of Governor Geary upon the Temperance question is just at present very much like that of that orator out West, who found himself in a similar ticklish position.

Philadelphia Sunday Mercury

muds its appearance this week in a brazen new dress of handsome faced type. The Mercury is a good paper, and does up the doings of the world and the week in a spicy manner that renders it a general favorite. Its political articles are, as a general thing, able and well considered, and it does a good work for the Democracy of the Quaker city.

The Democracy of Elk and Cameron counties are in a jumble over some of their local nominations, and have actually gone so far as to establish two newspapers—one at Ridgeway and the other at Emporium. It seems that the Gazette at St. Mary's—the Democratic organ—was not satisfied with JOHN G. HALL, Esq., the nominee of Elk for the Legislature, and, through the influence of Dr. EARLY, is now supporting the latter gentleman for Representative.

In Cameron county the trouble seems to be about the Sheriff. The Independent, the Democratic organ, charged Mr. WHEELER with securing his nomination by unfair means, and refused to have anything to do with him. This caused the establishment of another paper at Emporium by Mr. NEWTON, and, of course, the same bad feeling prevails in Cameron as in Elk.

Now this is all wrong. Democratic organs ought to give their support to Democratic nominees, and trust to the people to correct all abuses of public trust. We don't know anything about Mr. WHEELER, but we do know that Mr. HALL is a most estimable young man and would make a highly creditable representative. But the Democracy can never succeed if there be a division in their councils, and we shall not be surprised to hear that the whole Democratic ticket in those two counties is defeated, just though the ill advised and censurable course of the men who have inaugurated such silly proceedings.

From all parts of the State we have the cheering intelligence that the Democratic watch-dogs are barking brightly. The earnest men of the party are wide awake, and working with a vigor that will insure success.

If ASA PACKER has not filled the noisy trumpet of fame, these are the trophies which he has won in the battle of life. He has given employment to the idle, homes to the houseless, bread to the hungry, and clothing to the naked.

A very sad accident occurred at Millville on last Thursday, the 26th ult. Mr. Charles Hoar, an aged citizen of that place, after eating a hearty breakfast, went to his shop, to pursue his usual routine.

On Saturday morning last a young man named David, son of Alexander Fraser, while engaged in threshing at Alexander Rob's, in Rostraver, Washington county, was caught in the tumbling shaft of the machine and drawn down feet first.

A lady residing in Philadelphia, whose health was much impaired, was advised by her physician to journey to Germantown, with the idea that a change would probably prove beneficial.

On the morning of the 2nd inst., the gentleman of whom the foregoing is spoken, happened to be on his way to the depot to receive the stage intended for the city.

The Erie Observer says that the position of Governor Geary upon the Temperance question is just at present very much like that of that orator out West, who found himself in a similar ticklish position.
