Late Publications.

BALLOU'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE.—We are in receipt of this marvellously cheap and handsome magazine for December. Its tables of contents is varied and charming, embracing the usual fine variety of serials, sketches, stories, poems and attractive engravings. The publishers announce in the prospectus for the coming year, a serial story for adults, by the popular magazine writer, Jane Franklin Fitts, and a juvenile serial by the young peoples favorite, Horatio Alger, Jr. The price of this periodical is a marvel to everybody—a hundred pages first-class illustrated magazine for fifteen cents, or $1.50 per year, is indeed wonderfully cheap. Elliott, Thomes & Talbot, Publishers, Boston, Mass.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—The December number is on our table in advance. It is a splendid number, with two steel engravings, a mammoth fashion plate a colored pattern in Berlin work, and nearly fifty wood cuts. We do not wonder at the enormous circulation of "Peterson,"—said to be the largest in the world—for it really gives more for the money than any other.—Every lady ought to subscribe for it. Its mammoth colored fashion plates are always the latest and prettiest. Its stories are the best published anywhere. In 1870, in addition to its usual quantity of short stories, five original copyright novelets will be given, among them "The Prisoner of the Bastile," by Ann S. Stephens, "The Secret of Bartram's Holme," by Jane C. Austin, "How it Ended," by Frank Lee Benedict, &c., &c. About 1,000 pages of reading matter will be given to 1870, 12 mammoth colored fashions and 14 superb steel engraving. The magazine will be greatly improved. The terms, however, will remain TWO DOLLARS a year to single subscribers. To clubs it is cheaper still, viz: four copies for $6,00, with a large engraving, (24 by 30 inches by 16), "Our Father Who Art in Heaven" as a premium to the person getting up a club, or eight copies for $12.00, with both an extra copy of the magazine and the engraving, as premiums. We can speak, from personal knowledge, of the beauty of this engraving. Now is the time to get up clubs for 1870.

Specimens of the magazine cost nothing.

Col. Moseby Interviewed.

The Philadelphia Post's reporter having called on Col. JOHN MOSEBY, thus describes his interview with him

Col. MOSEBY said:

Having the precedent of Marion before him, he felt that if a body of bold, fearless cavalrymen could be gathered together, an immense amount of annoyance could be given the Union force, at a comparatively little risk. For this purpose his troop was organized, and from the commencement acted in consort with the immediate command of General Robert E. Lee. The principal object in view was the neutralizing of the Federal posts.

"I calculate," said the Colonel, "that with my average force of about three hundred men—and it never exceeded that—I neutralized the operations of at least fifty thousand men on the Federal side; and the reason for this is plain. The Federal Generals were compelled to guard the whole line of the Potomac and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. I therefore had before me an unbroken line of some hundred miles in extent and I could set my finger upon any particular point, dash down upon it before my intentions were even dreamed of, accomplish my purpose and ride away."

HIS OPINION OF GENERAL M'CLELLAN.

"Who do you consider to have been the ablest General on the Federal side?"

"General McClellan, by all odds. I think he is the only man on the Federal side that could have organized the army as it was. I further think that he is the only military man of any brains you had."

OF GENERAL GRANT.

"Grant had of course more success in the field in the latter part of the war, but Grant only came in to reap the benefits of McClellan's previous efforts. At the same time I do not wish to disparage General Grant, for he has many abilities; but if Grant had commanded during the first year of the war, we would have gained our independence. Grant's policy of attacking would have been a blessing to us, for we lost more by inaction than we would have lost in battle. After the first Manassas, the army took a sort of "dry rot," and we lost more men by camp disease than we would have by fighting."

JEFF DAVIS.

"What is your individual opinion of Jeff Davis?"

"I think history will record him as one of the greatest men of the time. Every lost cause, you know, must have a scape goat, must take all the blame without any of the credit. I do not known any man in the confederate States that could have conducted the war with the success he did.

SHERIDAN.

"What is your opinion of Sheridan?"

"I don't think he is a man of any ability at all. I never did think so. I'll tell you why. At Winchester, Sheridan had a much greater force than Early had men altogether. This the official records show. The battle was fought in a fur, open field from noon till dusk. Early, of course, was defeated, but he made a well ordered retreat with the loss of but three guns. Now, any man of ordinary ability ought to have captured every man that Early had with him. He had it in his power, if he had followed it up, to have ended the war in two weeks. Early could not have made another stand, and Lynchburg could have been taken, and thus the Confederacy cut in two with Petersburg. Now, what do you think of Sheridan's failure?"

"That he would have had to look after half his army of 50,000 men to guard his communications from me, when all the men I had at the time was about two or three hundred. Such was his explanation before the Committee on the Conduct of the War."

The November Elections.---Splendid Democratic Gains.

As the log electric wire carries the correct returns of the November elections come to hand, democrats are fairly bewildered with the best of news—both unexpected and in some places far beyond expectation.

NEW YORK.—The majority for Nelson, Democratic candidate for secretary of state in New York, over Siegel the radical competitor, will be over upon 20,000. Siegel was supported by the German element and the cities and large towns, and consequently ran several thousand ahead of his ticket.

The senate stands 18 democrats to 14 radicals.

The house of representatives, according to the latest returns, will stand democrats 68, radicals 60.

As both branches of the new legislature contained radical majorities last year, the completeness as well as the significance of this triumph cannot fail to be appreciated by the ablest campaign speech.

NEW JERSEY.—Only a few districts remain to hear from, however, owing to the disorganization caused in our ranks by the labor branches.

MASSACHUSETTS.—Even in this old anti-democratic stronghold (Federalism, if not born, was bred) Massachusetts democrats have gained largely. Of course they elected their state officers, but the fact that the democrats more than doubled their strength at the polls and in the popular branch of the legislature, as compared with last years, is exceedingly encouraging. The anti prohibitionists have the majority in the legislature, and the working men stock received about fifteen thousand votes.

MARYLAND has swept radicalism clean out of the State, not a solitary voice to represent the great administration party of the country will be heard within her halls of legislation.

WEST VIRGINIA.—Notwithstanding that three fourths of the voting population of this State are disfranchised throughout by registry law, test oaths, etc., and denied the right of suffrage, radicalism has been badly defeated, the democrats and conservatives of "let up republican" having a large majority in the legislature. Indeed it is not altogether clear that the democrats have not a clear majority, within themselves, as several of those elected as "let up" republicans are reported to have since declared themselves downright democrats out and out.

ILLINOIS only elected members to a convention to revise the state constitution. Its political complexion is not yet clearly ascertained. The Missouri Republican insists that the democrats will have a majority of one. Grant's majority was some 57,000.

WISCONSIN.—Gov. Fairchild was re elected by from five to six thousand. The legislature shows large democratic gains. Grant's majority was 24,147.

MINNESOTA is a good deal in the fog as yet. It would seem almost impossible that the democrats could hope for success in a state which gave Grant 15,470 majority but one year ago, yet the vote is very close, and the majority for the radicals can scarcely reach two thousand, and they may possibly be defeated.

Such, democrats, is the political prospect as presented by these elections. If they are not sufficient to encourage the most desponding democrat we are at a loss to know what would.—Patriot.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind as these excellent remedies for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years and among most of the civilized nations of the earth, in higher and larger measure from time to time as they become known, have the virtues of Cherry Pectoral been proved. Whole communities have been freed from epidemic complaints of the throat and lungs. As a protection against sudden attacks of croup it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled have been completely cured, and the public restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE, for Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified as gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or, traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders an Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world. Price, $1.00 per Bottle.
