Can Keep a Hotel.

It is not every man who can keep a hotel In fact not one man in a hundred is fit by nature or education to fill so laborous and responsible a position. The old style of taverns of the years agone a man might keep and not hurt him much, providing there was nothing to do but entertain two persons a day, raise garden stuff, take care of a horse, keep a hot fire in the bar-room in winter or a cool sert in summer, with an occasional change of water in the rinsing tub, pan, pail or slop-dish.

Hotel-keeping is a science. It requires brain and knowledge of human nature. A man must know his business to keep a hotel successfully Folks ain't now as they used to be. They go quicker, travel faster, and don't stay so long.

Two thousand miles to-day is no more than twenty miles twenty years ago. Men act differently, think differently, feel differently, are different.

They are bolder, quicker, more reckless, more independent, and less caring for public opinion. They give and require more attention now than then.

They are travelers and stay at homes. There are men who want attention, expect to pay for it are entitled to it. If they do not find it at home, they do at a hotel, if it is well kept.

And the hotel.

It should be neat, clean, in order The best should always be given, and in abundance. Then people, like to stop there, and are in less mood to hasten away The table should neatly set—rooms clean, rooms in order with conveniences handy.

And the hotel keeper.

He should be a good-natured, social, well informed man of dignity, yet able to give and take a joke. He should know of human nature from contact therewith. He should be a good-hearted man, who can introduce himself to guests, and make old people and timid ones from the country somewhat unused to travel, to city and hotel ways, to feel perfectly at home

There are those who never stopped at at a hotel before—who do not understand just how to act—who are timid in asking for what they want, or for information. The genuine landlord will care for all such with extra attention

And he should be able to give information about roads, routes, best time to go and come, cost of going, &c And he should do this without grumbling—as if to do so was a pleasure And he should give more information, never less than asked for

And he should act as if those who were his guests were ladies and gentlemen, till he knows to the contrary Should greet them kindly, be not inquisitive, not yet distant, bold, haughty and stuck up, as if all he wanted was the money.

And he should be in the dining room before and at meal times. A word here and there—a little of this one and that one—a looking to see that all are well served, and the poor waited on with the rich And then he should speak and act as though his guests were his friends, and be interested in their happiness and comfort Such men know how to keep hotel Who of our landlord readers can fill the bill? We know many who can—a few cannot —Brick Pomeroy

How Amasa Lost the Bet.

Not a thousand miles from Jamaica Plains, L. I., lived Lem Seaver, Bob Emmons and Amasa May Lem was fond of shooting, could shoot well, and was rather proud of it It happened on a bright October day that he had been hunting the cover on the Newton side of the pond, and came out by the barn where Bob Emmons was at work After a little talk, Lem left his gun and fixings standing outside, and went into the barn after the cattle, and finally passed through to the cider mill, which stood just beyond, for a half day tramp in the woods makes a man dry, you'd better believe While he was gone, Bob, who was always at the bottom of all the deviltry done in the vicinity, dropped an extra charge of shot into each barrel of the gun, and stood by waiting for fun Presently Amasa came up the road with a new hat on The half formed plan that floated in the brain of Bob was instantly completed and put into action as follows:

Hailing Amasa, "come quick!" says he, "let's have some fun with Lem We'll draw out his shot and bet he can't hit your hat."

"Capital, good idea," replied Amasa "Lem thinks he can shoot, we'll open his eyes, hey?"

Bob carefully drew out all the shot he had just put in and put the gun back where he found it Then Lem came back, having sucked cider enough to make himself comfortable and prepared to go

"Hello, Lem," said Amasa, "what are you toting that shooting iron about for?"

"Oh! its a way I have," replied Lem, "sometimes I get a chance to shoot and then I most always hit"

"But you can't hit my hat, six rods," exclaimed Amasa; "bet an oyster supper for the boys to-night."

"Done," said Lem, "set it up"

Amasa put his hat on a post, and measured the six rods, almost bursting with suppressed laughter at the imaginary idea of Lem's looks when he would find that he couldn't hit the hat at six rods. Bob also chuckled at the prospect of the success of his plan, and Lem was pleased with the idea of winning the bet. He brought the gun up to his face to fire.

"Double your bet and give it both barrels!" says Amasa.

"Aye, aye!" replied Lem, and he let drive right and left in quick succession. Before the smoke cleared away Amasa jumped forward with a shout and laugh, to show Lem that he couldn't hit a hat in broad daylight. But—where was it?—Bits of fur here and there, and a miserable, dilapidated wreck of a hat, that looked as if all the woodcocks in Norfolk county had stuck their bills through it, was the sight to greet his eyes. The sudden instantaneous change of his countenance told

Medicines & Restoratives

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other.—Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken as required to change the diseased action of the system.—With such change those complaints disappear

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.—A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume
