

BY P. GRAY MEER. JOE W. FUREY, Associate Editor. Terms, $2 per Annum, in Advance.

BELLEFONTE, PA. Friday Morning, December 3, 1869.

The horse attached to Miller's butcher wagon took fright the other day and ran away, heading his course down High street and up along the creek towards the gymnasium. It is said that the rapidity of the animal's movements caused a few of the slow-coach pedestrians along the street to execute some gymnastics they had never thought of before.

Mr. W. H. POORMAN of Marion township, blacksmith, and one boy manufactured last week thirty-two horse shoes, complete, in exactly one hour. This is about the smartest horse shoe making we have ever heard of, and beats the work of the two Buffalo Run blacksmiths, who made thirty horse shoes in an hour and a half. Mr. POORMAN says he don't believe he and his boy can be beaten.

SALE—G. M. KEPLER, Esq., of Ferguson twp., will sell on the 15th inst. his entire stock of farming implements, live stock, &c. Mr. Kepler understands intend going back to the "old regions," where, we hope, he will speedily realize a handsome fortune. His sale will be without any reserve, and will undoubtedly prove a splendid chance for bargains.

Luts, an employe at the glass works in this place, says he has knowledge of a dog in New Jersey that has lived for five years on glass and burnt clay. We don't know how dogs live in New Jersey, because that is outside of the United States, but it is a Bilkante dog or dogess were to undertake that kind of thing, he or she would be a cold corpse in less than a fortnight. But then they have a curious way of doing things in New Jersey.

We wonder why the post office is always locked now during the changing of the mail? Can't our genial and good natured friend, the postmaster, work to advantage in the presence of the plebeian, or is there something peculiar in the atmosphere of a Bellefonte crowd? Other towns are not so exclusive. Who wants to wait in the rain or the cold outside, if they happen to go there a trifle too soon? Why, oh why?

PERSONAL—A. B. Henderson, of the Independent, at Lock Haven, called on us last evening. Fred Kurtz, of the Centre Hall Reporter, also gave us a beam from his friendly face. Levi Swoyer, of the Heister, and Judge Wilson peeped at us regularly through the door. Come again, gentlemen.

LOCK HAVEN, TERMS—Was there ever a finer town than Lock Haven, of the Mountain House? We don't think so. It is one of the pleasantest, wholesomest, and healthiest towns in the world. And the knowledge of the best, cleanest, most beautiful town in the State. It is the place to stop in Lock Haven, and our friends will please be there in mind when they go there. The Mountain is a first-class house, and after the contemplation of nature is past, it will be among the best hotels in this part of the State.

Mr. C. S. Egel of Philadelphia, whose advertisement may be found in the Watchman, has probably one of the largest and finest stores and warehouses established in the county. He keeps all the different varieties of coal and peat, and all kinds of hardware and housekeeping articles that would delight the eye of the happiest, glib wife. In the land, he manufactures, orders, and repairs with the best of skill. A visit to Philadelphia would be incomplete without a visit to Egel's splendid store.

That jolly fellow and good merchant, Mr. Abraham Sumner, at his store on High street, has an elegant lot of dry goods, and a delicious assortment of groceries. Mr. Sumner is a man of his business penetration, and the consequence is he knows where to buy goods the cheapest. It follows, of course, that he is able to sell them cheap, which business men, like him, always like to do, in order to please their customers. His goods are always of the best character, but some of the flimsy stuff that are so generally obtained elsewhere. Go and see them.

We call attention to the card of Mr. Levi Miller, in another place. Mr. Miller has purchased Mr. Butt's interest in the grocery store, late the property of Mr. Runkle, and proposes to carry on the grocery business in a style never heretofore equaled in Bellefonte.

It will be glad to see all his old friends and many new ones. As Mr. M. is a polite gentleman and an enterprising business man, he is bound to succeed.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat requires immediate attention, as neglect often results in an incurable Lung Disease. Brown's Bronchitis Tonic will most invariably give instant relief. For Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Consumption and Throat Diseases, they have a soothing effect. Singers and public speakers use them to clear and strengthen the voice, owing to the good reputation and popularity of the Tonic, many worthless and cheap imitations are offered, which are good for nothing. Be sure to obtain the true Brown's Bronchitis Tonic.

Ninety deer have been brought to Tyrone, from different points of the Clearfield railroad, since the hunting season opened, to say nothing of those that have been brought in from other directions.

Hiram Yung, Esq., of the York True Democrat, proposes issuing a daily, commencing on the first Monday in January.

Business Notices.

PHILADELPHIA, December 2, 1869. Dear Sir—You say that some of your neighbors are enquiring how we can afford to sell our stock at such prices as we advertise. They say, you tell me, "Would it not make them bankrupt to sell out four hundred thousand dollars' worth of clothing, and make no profit on it?" I am glad the people take so much interest in us and our "Sale," and I cheerfully reply to their query. In these times, most men consider that they are "making money" if they manage to hold their own. That is not our case, however. Even by this Sale, not directly, but indirectly, we expect to make something. In the first place, our sales thus far this season have been so great that though we are underbid all our competitors, we have made money enough to give us a handsome margin, even though we should make nothing by the sale, either directly or indirectly. But if we repeat the experience of last Winter, we will find this sale the means of attracting and attaching to our house many new customers, who, for ever after give us their regular trade. There's profit in that. Then again, it puts us in possession of a large amount of ready cash, which gives us infinite advantages in our business, and on which we can well afford to pay a discount rather than wait for it to come in more slowly in the regular way. Moreover, it gives us a good deal for next season, leaving us unencumbered with old stock. As our friends need not fear that we will do ourselves any harm, and they may be sure that we will do them good if they will give us a chance at the present time.

JOHN WANAMAKER, (Wanamaker & Brown), Oak Hall, Sixth and Market Streets. In another column of this issue will be found a letter referred to by us from our friend, Mr. Wanamaker, of the celebrated clothing firm of Wanamaker & Brown. We take the liberty of publishing it, and very gladly speak the word he desires us to in reference to his great sale. It is an ill-timed thing that loses no one any good; they say, and here is another illustration of the old proverb. If hard times have made business dull this Fall they have in turn made us this opportunity of getting a good sale of clothes, at least at such a price as we can command. We know many a good fellow who has been putting himself off without an overcoat this winter, or a much needed pair of pants, or vest, because he thought he couldn't afford it. All such will now go right for Wanamaker's and lay in a stock for the next few years. We infer that the sale is intended to be sharp and quick, but the chance is one of those that men "jump at," and so we need not say a word to our readers about being in good time. Trust a good Centre county man for securing a good bargain when he has a chance. Many of us still have pleasant memories of the sale last fall, and if this is to be like that, it's "poshies and cream" to us, whatever it may be to Wanamaker & Brown. Anyhow, they have our best wishes.

A Word of Advice—Parents desirous of securing to their sons the best facilities for acquiring a thorough practical business education are advised to send for circulars of the Iron City College, which can be obtained on application to the Principals, Small & Cowley, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The King of Bavaria, kindly permitted by J. C. A. to have a copy taken of Bouché's celebrated collection of Victoria, which belongs to the Bavarian crown and stands at the entrance of the Royal Palace at Munich. The Doctor had it cast in bronze, and has presented it to the "Iron City College," as it stands in the Park and symbolizes the triumph of both freedom and medicine. Her manufactures are the pride of Bavaria, and foremost among them Bavaria's manufactures make her name fully remembered by the unnumbered multitude who are cured by them of afflicting and often dangerous diseases.—Boston Journal.

All persons who desire to benefit by personal appearance should not neglect that not used so generally, the hair has become thin, gray, or entirely fallen off. Moore's Hair & Scalp Shampoo is the best remedy for such a case. It restores the hair to its original color, makes the scalp gray and restores it to its original color, makes the scalp gray and restores it to its original color, makes the scalp gray and restores it to its original color.
