

The Democratic Watchman

BELLEFORTE, Pa. Friday Morning, January 14, 1870.

Horace Greeley in Bellefonte.

The renowned Philosopher of the New York Tribune Horace Greeley, having consented to deliver a lecture in Bellefonte...

On Tuesday evening, January 26, 1870, on the occasion on which he will make his appearance before a Centre county audience.

The fame of Horace Greeley is co-extensive with the English language, and though one of the most prolific authors of the age...

The tickets for Mr. Greeley's lecture are now printed, and will be sold at the bookstores and by agents throughout the county.

Tickets to all parts of the house 50 cents, Reserved seats 75 cents.

Let everybody come, W. H. H. BRAINERD, JOE W. FUREY.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

The Methodist Episcopal Church edifice at Spring Mills was dedicated to the service of God on Sunday, the 9th inst.

Tickets for Horace Greeley's lecture for sale at various places throughout the county, and in town at all the bookstores.

"OUT OF THE SHELL."—For the import of the above heading refer to column page under the head of "Epicurus."

Wednesday was a wet, gloomy, miserable day. It must be a light heart that can get through such a day without feeling some depression.

The Presbyterians of this place have been holding a series of meetings this week preparatory to the communion service on Sunday next.

"Look before you leap"—especially if it's across one of the mud holes or gutters, or obfusing through certain favores about town.

The editor of the Lock Haven Independent can tell a good horse from a bad one, if he wants to.

The Cummings House, Bellefonte, is kept by one of the best most accommodating, capacious and "knowing" landlords in the State.

The gender-bogged scribbler of the National is informed that the "missing editor" has returned, and he didn't come back with a "bungled eye" either.

Within the past few days we have received calls from quite a number of Lock Haven gentlemen, including John H. Orth, esq., of the Democrat, Justice Barclay, A. H. Mann, esq., and Chief of Police Fowler.

Our carrier forgot last week to return his thanks to his patrons for their very liberal supply of pocket money on New Year's day.

Rev. Mr. Jeffery, of Canton, Ohio, formerly pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, in this place, is at present paying a visit to his friends in Bellefonte.

We acknowledge the receipt and heartily return thanks to that most popular of lords, Martin Diles Esq., of the Centre House, in Milesburg, for a magnificent lot of Celery.

Among the good hotels in the county we may mention the Mansion House at March Creek under the proprietorship of Mr. Booth—not the Booth who "slewed" Lane, but one of the best landlords and one of the best looking men in the State.

These bundles are a fitting show for a man's devotion to his family. They are a good sign, and a sign of a man's care for his family.

—Should Woodring has four boards, two 2x4s and 2x6s, and two 4x4s, all of which he had for the amendment.

A Row Among the Radicals.

It is queer what a snapping and snapping and growling the hungry radical crows, who whom for office and howl for the nigger, will let up over a very hare-brain, when thrown among them.

On Monday last, between the hours of one and two o'clock, an affray took place between a couple of parties from Lock Haven, of both masculine and feminine gender, which comes well nigh resulting in serious loss.

From present appearances, Reynolds's hall is going to be crammed with people on the occasion of Horace Greeley's lecture Tuesday night, the 25th inst.

On Tuesday last, at Port Matilda a family by the name of Caldwell were poisoned, we understand, by partaking of the contents of a can of blackberries, which Mr. Caldwell had just opened.

Will they tell us?—We notice in the supplement sent out with this number of the Watchman, over the signatures of our friends Brainard and Furey, that the white-coated conductor of the New York Tribune, Horace Greeley, is complimented with the title of "statesman."

The Editorial Convention.—The President of the Editorial Association of Pennsylvania has issued a call for the assembling of the Association at Harrisburg, on Thursday, Jan 27, 1870, at 2 o'clock P. M.

On Wednesday last as we were returning from our dinner, just after we turned the corner at the diamond, a most gorgeously arrayed lassie—one of our borough belles—passed us, flirting her skirts as briskly as a horse does his tail in fly time.

Affray at the Bush House.

On Monday last, between the hours of one and two o'clock, an affray took place between a couple of parties from Lock Haven, of both masculine and feminine gender, which comes well nigh resulting in serious loss.

From present appearances, Reynolds's hall is going to be crammed with people on the occasion of Horace Greeley's lecture Tuesday night, the 25th inst.

On Tuesday last, at Port Matilda a family by the name of Caldwell were poisoned, we understand, by partaking of the contents of a can of blackberries, which Mr. Caldwell had just opened.

Will they tell us?—We notice in the supplement sent out with this number of the Watchman, over the signatures of our friends Brainard and Furey, that the white-coated conductor of the New York Tribune, Horace Greeley, is complimented with the title of "statesman."

The Editorial Convention.—The President of the Editorial Association of Pennsylvania has issued a call for the assembling of the Association at Harrisburg, on Thursday, Jan 27, 1870, at 2 o'clock P. M.

On Wednesday last as we were returning from our dinner, just after we turned the corner at the diamond, a most gorgeously arrayed lassie—one of our borough belles—passed us, flirting her skirts as briskly as a horse does his tail in fly time.

On Wednesday last as we were returning from our dinner, just after we turned the corner at the diamond, a most gorgeously arrayed lassie—one of our borough belles—passed us, flirting her skirts as briskly as a horse does his tail in fly time.

The following from the Lock Haven Independent.

BELLEFORTE is noted for its brave men. We are informed by an eye witness, that during the late rebellion, when Bellefonte was taken by the rebels, an account of which was given in yesterday's Watchman, a soldier on our side...

According to Henderson's own paper, he was on the ground himself. Why did not he interfere. Or did the valiant editor consider desertion the better part of valor?

As a "pilot," Col. Moore, of the house of Moore, Lager & Co., 428 Market street, Philadelphia, is probably one ahead.

It had been suggested to us that the old clothes of families, hanging away in their garrets, might be put to charitable use in the way of warming the thinly clad persons who are so numerous on our streets.

Mr. Editor.—In your paper of last week the so-called Centre County Teachers Institute, which was in session at Howard during the holidays, received quite a puff; or at least the Professors, Ministers, Editors and some of the teachers who were in attendance thereat.

THE EDITORIAL CONVENTION.—The President of the Editorial Association of Pennsylvania has issued a call for the assembling of the Association at Harrisburg, on Thursday, Jan 27, 1870, at 2 o'clock P. M.

On Wednesday last as we were returning from our dinner, just after we turned the corner at the diamond, a most gorgeously arrayed lassie—one of our borough belles—passed us, flirting her skirts as briskly as a horse does his tail in fly time.

Ex-Sheriff Conley slaughtered a hog last week, that weighed 403 pounds.

Live farmers always raise big hogs, as is evidence in the case of the father of our friend "McCracken," of the National.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.—At a meeting of Lodge No. 158, I. O. O. F., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Great Author of Liberty has been called to rest by the death of our dear brother, Thomas Watson, who was a member of this Lodge, and whose death we deeply deplore...

On the 16th of June 1866 Mr. Holt was elected a ruling elder in the Moshannon Church, in which office he remained faithful till the day of his death.

A Pleasant Surprise.—In old times, it was the custom for pupils, on the approach of the holidays, to "thank" their teacher, until he professed to "thank" them to a Christmas gift.

On last Friday, (24th), the students of the boarding Academy, surprised the Principal, G. W. Lehler, in a manner very agreeable to him and to them.

THE EDITORIAL CONVENTION.—The President of the Editorial Association of Pennsylvania has issued a call for the assembling of the Association at Harrisburg, on Thursday, Jan 27, 1870, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Business Notices.

—Businessman pays the market price in cash for cloverseed—not next week, nor when you come again, but as soon as your wagon is unloaded.

—The Lander.—"Oak Hill is always spoken of as the 'Largest Clothing House' in Philadelphia. In fact, there is not in the State, nor anywhere in the country, unless it be in New York City, a clothing establishment that can compare in size with Wansmaker & Brown's.

MARRIED. GOTTLE—A. H. TRUMB.—On the 10th inst., at the parsonage of the Presbytery of the North, Mr. W. M. Gottle and Miss M. J. Trumb, both of Pleasant top, Pa.

On the morning of January 4th inst., near Philadelphia, Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of John Kimpf, aged 71 years, died at 11 o'clock.

The following are the quotations up to 6 o'clock Thursday evening, when our paper went to press.

Milroy Markets. Corrected weekly by GEORGE WALTER & SON. White Wheat, per bushel $1.00, Red Wheat, per bushel 1.00, Corn, per bushel 50, Oats, per bushel 45, Barley, per bushel 40, Buckwheat, per bushel 40, Cloverseed, per bushel 6.50, Potatoes, per bushel 50, Eggs, per dozen 30, Butter, per pound 18, Bacon, per pound 25, Ham, per pound 25, Lard, per pound 18, Ground plaster, per ton 16.00.

Philadelphia Markets. The following are the quotations up to 11 o'clock (yearly) Thursday.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE TIMBERLAND AND SAW MILL.—In pursuance of an order of the Court of Common Pleas of the county of Lancaster in Equity, the undersigned Receiver will sell at Public Sale, on WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9th, A. D., 1870, at the FALLON HOUSE in the Borough of Lock Haven, in the State of Pennsylvania, the following described real estate, to-wit: The property of the Huston Dale Lumber Company, to-wit: A tract of land situate in Huston township, Centre county, in the State of Pennsylvania, containing 800 ACRES, MORE OR LESS, with a LARGE SAW MILL, two-story dwelling house and other improvements thereon erected.