THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

-A Bunday-school teacher's association is about being formed in this place.

The great cave at Alexandria has elicited much comment among our exchanges.

--- Rend the Auditors' report of the county finance, which will be found in another column. -Mr. J. B. Leathers, 6f Mt. Engle, lost, not only his meat, but his smoke house, too, a few nights ago; by fire.

---For a good, square, clean, delicloud meal, go to Hosterman, of the Cummings House. He knows how to get them up.

-We notice that the sign of Howthe store of our friend Harry Forster. Take it down, Major, and put up the new shing 🙌

-Horace Greeley never said a truer thing than when he told "McCracken that if he would keep out the editorials he would have a chance to get something good in his paper

-Our young friend, Frank Mulien, left here on Wednesday afternoon last for Charleston, Kanawha co , W. Va , where he proposes going into business. We trust he may be abundantly success. ful-

-Winter came again on Monday night last in the form of a heavy fall of snow. This will gladden the hearts of the now, so as to give us plenty of ice, and I without first having "drink'd deep

A series of railroad meetings were this week held throughout Pennsvalley. "Gander Legs attended them all, with his documents done up in a black bottle. We may expect a luminous report next week.

-Our friend, Mr John Swope, of Milesburg, killed # 15-months old calf the otherday, which weighed 547 pounds. The dressed meat weighed 446 pound-, and the hide 101 pounds. This is one of the largest veals that has ever been slaughtered in this part of the country. Can anybody beat it?

-The remaining child of Mr and Mrs. Bond Valentine, of whom we spoke last week, being very low with malignant scarlet fever, died on the same day with its brother. Both the little innocents were buried on Saturday last. Much sympathy is felt in the community for the hereaved and now childless father and mother.

-A chap living in this neighbor. hood had his picture taken the other day, but refused to pay for it. The artist, however, brought him to terms by threatening to lengthen the cars and exhibit it as the likness of a genuine ass. The money was immediately forthcom-

-Major Forster, who recently pur chased the merchantile establishment of Mr. Gilliland, in Bush's Arcade, has sold a two thirds interest to Messrs. Joseph Devling, esq., of this place, and John Wilson, of Spring Mills. We wish the new firm great success, and hope all the partners may find it a pay-

FRABFUL ACCIDENT - MRS. FIRM AND HER INFANT RUN OVER BY THE CARS -Just as wear going to press, we learn that the night train on the Bald Eagle valley road, as it was coming to this place at 9 o'clock last night, ran over Mrs. S. Fish and her infant; between Central City and Linn & McGoy's Works. Our informant could give no particulars, other than that the mother and child, were under the bridge at the —Beliefonte, Hollidaysburg, Ebensburg, and Hantingdon, all claim to have the champion checker player, in their respective villages— Pass your best one this way. Clarton don't throw up the sponge—Clarion Denucrat

We threw down the glove some weeks ago, when we invited the Ebensburg man to meet ex-sheriff Lingle, of this place. We now repeat the challenge, and dare any rash or impetuous individual from Hollidaysburg, Ebensburg, Huntingdon, or Clarion to try a game with cur champion. What say you, gentlemen, to a match game? Are you in carnett or only blowing?

A MATCH STICK MANUFACTORY .-- A new branch of industry has aprung up at Gilliland town, in Snowshoe, this county, This consists of a match stick manufactory, where are made the sticks. or splints from which matches are prepared. The business is carried on by Hurxthal & Co., who already employ about 80 persons, mostly females. They make thirty-five thousand of these sticks or splints per minute, and use six thousand feet of lumber per day. After they get fairly started, we are informed they expect to ship three, carloads of sticks per week. Here is a business that looks as though sive, and we sincerely trustit will abunin its inauguration.

A VALENTINE-We (the associate editor) beg leave to acknowledge the up in colors, of a man in a high state of inebriety, trying to hold up a lamp post. with his but jamined over his eyes, his hair, and an aspect of general and altogether complete demoralization. Underneath this interesting portrait is printed the following stanza of unapproachable poetry, the sublime beauty of which we appreciate It is beautifully headed,

SOT. "Base young man, of a base extreme,"
Try temperamee, the only "go between"
It to that you can't recoincit your mind,
We then in you a drunken sot will find
Drunkard away, drunk deep, go drain the pot
With such a Valentine shan t be my lot."

Now, we submit that we never were a base young man," except once we telt | per very much abased when a "base" ball struck us a "base" blow in the stomach and prostrated us upon our "extreme base in the basest kind of a way. Afell. Gilliand & Co., still remains over ter that we did indeed resolve to "try temperance -in base balling, at leastfor we considered that one of the most 'intemperate" actions a base ball was ever known to commit And we recollect expressing ourself passionately at the time, in not very "temperate" language, to the effect that we had much rather the ballhad made a "go between of it and passed under us, instead of right directly into our provision holder, for we couldn't "reconcile our mind to being up-SOT in that reeling, staggering kind of style

But to return We think the last two

Drunkard away, drink deep, go drain the pot, With such a Valentine shan t be my lot, were meant for "McGricken," of the Na. lumbermen Let us have a heavy freeze | twondl, as he was never known to "away" then old Boreas will have done his dus and "drained the pot," and we do not wonder that the sender of this elevated effusion and fine engraving (which cera misdirection; should refuse to make her things his n or his things her'n - It | some ridicatious mistake) has reached us, through the medium of this Valentine.

> --- The farmers of Marsh Creek in this county have organized a "Farmers Club. This is a move in the right direction, and we hope to hear of them being formed in every township of the county. There is scarcely any class of tradesmen or business mon but have their organizations, designed 'expressly to advance the interests of the business they follow, and why the farmers should not, is more than we can understand. In these "good" radical times, when wheat is worth 90 cents in greengacks, or about 68 cents in gold, and every thing else, except butter and eggs, that the farmer has to sell, is as ruinously cheap-while his taxes and every thing he has to buy are outrageously dear, it is doubly important for the men who raise our bread and furnish our beef, who, in fact, furnish the very life of the country, to take some steps towards self-protection. Can any one tell us why iron masters, and the wealthy men of the country, who own furnaces and forges, should be protected by tariffs, and the farmer protected by nothing? Can any one tell us why the merchant should dictate the price of his sugar, tea, coffee, calico and muslins, and the farmer be prevented dictating the price of his season. Time all taken up till June, when 1 wheat, rye, corn or oats? Can any one | go to California, &c , &c tell us why every one who has anything to sell should put his own price upon it and the farmer alone have prices for his produce dictated by others? Such is the case, and it is to remedy this-to nut farmers on the same footing with other business and working men that the Farmers' Club is formed. Let this movement go on-let it become general, and honest, hard working-over-taxed men, who till the soil and furnish the wealth of the country, will reap advantages from it, for beyond their most tanguine gation, for the purpose of forming a conx nectations.

-In the Bishop street Blowhard of to be from Unionville, in which the senior editor of that sweet scented journal is highly culogized, as the only man in the county who has ever done, or ever attempted to do, anything for the mechanics and laboring men of the county. When we remember the record of the individual referred to-the manever entrusted to him by the mechanics and laboring men of the county-that of Treasurer-how he left the office, with thirteen thousand dollars of the money earned and paid into the Treasury by the "mechanics and laboring men." sticking to his fingers and in the pockets of his friends a defaulter to that amount, the letter seems to us much more like bitter frong, than the flattery it was evidently intended for. BRICK POMEROY .- The following letter from Mr. Pomeroy, in answer to one that we addressed to him requesting his presence here as a lecturer, was received on Saturday last, and will be read with regret, as our citizens generally, and especially the Democracy, are anxious to see and hear "Brick. Hon J. A. Peters, member of Congress from the 4th Maine district, has been solourning in town during the past week at the Bush House. Mr.: Peters is here, we understand, as the administrator of the Dwynell estate, from which, we believe he is the recipient of the handsome legacy of thirty-five thousand dollars. Like all Radical Congressmen, Mr. Peters hasn't much to say in defence of Radical infamy, and rather A chap from Huntingdon the tries to evade questions looking to some explanation of the extraordinary course is about all we could get out of him.

SCARLET FEVER. -In view of the fact that scarlet fever has made its appearance here, the following remedy should be cut out and be preserved in every family. Speaking of this disease, the

Philadelphia Day says;
It is a dangerous disorder when not taken properly in hand. It begins with laugder and loss of appetite, followed to avoid.
