> READING ALOUD IN THE FAMILY. Books and periodicals would be an gels in every household. They are urns to bring us the golden fruits of thought and experience from other lands. As the fruits of the earth's soil are most enjoyed around the family boarde, so should those that mature on mental and moral boughs be gathered around by the entire household. No home exercise could be more appropri ate and pleasing than for one member to read aloud for the benefit of all. An to read aroun for the benefit of all. All author's ideas are energized by the con-fidence and love of the tender family affections, and every heart is open to the truth like the unfolding rose to re-ceive the gathering dews. The ties of love between the parents and children, brochers, and sizers, are thus commenced brothers and gisters, are thus cemented yet more and more, and varied charms and pleasures constantly open through this medium to make home a paradise. b If parents would introduce this exer cise in their families, they would soon cise in their families, they would soon ca see the levity and giddiness that make the up the conversation of too many circles giving away to refinement and chaste dignity. Read to your children and en courage them to read to you, instead of reading your papers in silence and then laying them away.
