

Ink Splings.

The editor of the Globe says that Huntingdon intends to bury its fossils. The Globe man had better get his coffin ready, then.

Tyrone has a new paper called the Blade. It will have to keep itself pretty sharp or somebody will get after with the W helstone.

A Radical member of the Illinois constitutional convention, has been sent to the lunatic asylum. Better send them all there.

They have a military company in Huntingdon, which has received 75 muskets. They'll shoot somebody up there yet, if they ain't careful.

They made an attempt to assassinate the Emperor Napoleon, in France, the other day. But it failed, as all such attempts ought to fail.

Traveler, of the Standard, gets off the following bad joke: Killing Indians in Iowa is considered justifiable homicide. Ain't you ashamed of yourself?

Jefferson Davis denies the story that Cameron told him that a negro would one day sit in his seat. Davis's simple denial would be sufficient to kill Cameron's oath.

The Philadelphia Press compares the darkeys with the Israelites, and affects to see the hand of God in the "Emancipation" and the "Exodus." What tomfoolery!

A Bible has been left in each of the committee rooms in the capital at Washington. Many of the members poked them up curiously, and asked, "What kind of a book's this?"

The best man in this country to take the census at the present time is BEN BITLER. He has a knack of taking things that any other man would scarcely acquire in a life time.

Over, of the Hollidaysburg Register, says he would rather ride in a procession of niggers than in one of white copperheads. And the white copperheads are willing that he shall do just as he wants to.

JOHN SMITH, of San Francisco—lucky cuss—sold a flock of sheep for $100 and afterwards was lucky enough to leave it all in a faro bank. What lucky chaps some fellows are, anyway!

About the only thing that GRANT'S administration has proved itself successful in, has been making "times so hard" that sheriff's sale notices are stuck up on every post over the entire country.

The Presbyterian church at Wrigbtville was struck by lightning not long since, and totally destroyed. It would take something harder than a stroke of lightning to make any impression on some of our Presbyterians here.

Spring bonnets are beginning to be a subject of discussion, among wives and daughters, and of considerable cussin' among husbands and fathers. As usual, however, the women will triumph and the men pay the millinery bills.

"Oh, isn't I happy Since I got me a wife? Tra la, la!"

There are $9,000,000 horses owned in the United States, and their estimated value amounts to something more than the national debt.—Exchange.

Now, let the horse owners, if they want to show their patriotism, sell their "animiles" and establish a sinking fund, for the payment of the national debt. This could be done as slick as goose grease. But will it? We guess it willnt.

Our Radical Representatives at Washington are complaining about the ventilation of their Hall. They say that it is continually full of foul air and bad odors. JOHN COVODE, in a speech the other day to prove the necessity of better ventilation, declared that: "Experiments which he had tried showed conclusively that the foul air in the House was immediately around his seat." Shouldn't wonder!

THOMAS A. SCOTT, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has decreed that hereafter two of that company's trains shall not stop at Lancaster. For this, he has got the Intelligencer in his wool, which declares that the councils of that city will at least force the railroad company to move their trains through the city according to law, anyway.

The reason why the Fifteenth Amendments couldn't have the Hall of the House of Representatives at Washington for their celebration the other day, was because a great number of lice were discovered enjoying themselves over the benches in the gallery. The nigs had been in the habit of sitting in the gallery to listen to the de-

Democratic Watchman

"STATE RIGHTS AND FEDERAL UNION"

VOL. 15. BELLEFONTE, PA., FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1870. NO. 18

bates of their Radical friends, and left these little crawling mementoes behind them to show that they had been present. When the members found this out they decided it wouldn't be healthy to give them the Hall.

The Presidency in 1872.

Already, we have Chief Justice Chase thrown in our teeth as the next Democratic Candidate for the Presidency. We thought we had done with this man. We thought after his failure at the last Democratic National Convention that his practical barque would not again mist our Democratic waters. But it seems we were mistaken, and it looks now as though this great disciple and apostle of negro equality is again to be brought before our people.

As far as we are concerned, we protest against having anything to do with Salmon P. Chase. We have nobler and better and younger men in our ranks to lead us on to victory and political regeneration, without stepping aside to pick up an old, white-haired, and brain softened, demagogue like him. We wonder what Democrats are thinking of that they can even entertain such a preposterous and destroying idea as that Chase may be the Democratic candidate for President in 1872.

Where is Pendleton and Hendricks and Vallandigham and Hoffman and Gov. English, that we should stoop to raise Mr. Chase to the Presidential chair. Our own Judge Woodward could lead us to a glorious victory. Why, then, should we lower our proud crests to the dictum of a played out leader in the Radical party?

We want no man who is not a Democrat, and who is not identified with the great principles of the party, to be our leader in 1872. We are disgusted with the temporizing and compromising policy of the men who have heretofore assumed to be our leaders, and shall hereafter refuse to follow them. We want energetic, vigorous, young men, not a set of old, worn out political fossils: With a man like Pendleton or Judge Woodward—men, who, to the most eminent ability and great statesmanship, add high moral character, there could be no doubt of our success in 1872. But put Chase upon us—burden us down with his black political record—his greenbacks and his darkeys—and we will see the bottom of the political ocean beyond all hope of reascension.

Gentlemen, no Salmon for us. We're fishing now for something more to our liking. The Democracy can't afford to nominate Mr. Chase. Such a nomination would be an abandonment of our principles, and the greatest calamity that could befall our party.

We have more confidence in the good sense of the Democracy than to suppose they will be guilty of this suicidal act. So let CHASE chase this nomination as he may, it will certainly elude his grasp.

"Give Poor Tray a Bone."

As hungry pack of hounds as ever stopped at a post, is now to be found in the mongrel party. Many of them think that because they have secured the negro vote, they will be enabled to do just as they see proper—can use him to assist in electing just whoever the negroes want, and then rob him as much as they desire, to fatten their office holders and feed darkeys. Believing this, there is scarcely a leader among them but is looking for some position into which he expects the niggers of the State and the white masses of his party to place him, and the consequence is that already some twenty aspirants have announced themselves as candidates for gubernatorial honors, notwithstanding the fact that party nominations for that position will not be made for over a year from this time. The ones who are licking their lips the most eagerly are Col. Lisha Davis, of Philadelphia, Gen. Selridge, of Northampton, late clerk of the House of Representatives, E. W. Ketchum, of Luzerne county, Howard Day, the tan colored African orator, Gen. Hartranft, of Montgomery county, at present Auditor General, Col. H. L. Calk, of Schuylkill, now in Congress, G. Dawson Coleman, of Lebanon, formerly State Senator, Samuel Todd, of Cumberland, an old politician, James H.

Campbell, formerly of Schuylkill, now of Philadelphia, late minister to Sweden, Wayne McVeigh, of Chester, son-in-law of Senator Cameron, John Cassa, of Bedford, Chairman of the Committee of the Whole in Congress and formerly of the Charleston Convention, Harry White, the Indiana Gas House, Horace Porter, one of Grant's Nose wipers; James L. Graham, the sanctified Senator from Allegheny, who deserted his pulpit, to play penny dog for darkeydom; George F. Lawrence, of Pittsburgh; E. Billingslet, Senator from Lancaster County, of daddy Worthington, of Chester County. Also Thomas E. Cochran, of York, at one time Auditor General, Francis Jordan, Geary's Secretary of the Common wealth, now of Dauphin, formerly of Bedford, D. J. Morrell, of Cambria, the pig metal poet of Congress, and Col. J. M. Campbell, of Cambria, now Surveyor General.

To this list might very appropriately be added the names of about two hundred and fifty thousand more—the entire mongrel party in the State—niggers black and white—as none of them were ever known to refuse any position no matter how small or degrading that they could get into, and live off the labor of others, without working themselves.

The McFarland Trial.

Justice, public sentiment and outraged virtue demand the acquittal of DANIEL McFARLAND, now on trial in New York for the murder of his wife's seducer and paramour. The evidence thus far produced shows that Mr. McFARLAND committed that act—for it was not a crime—under the impulse of a fit of temporary insanity, brought on by his great wrongs and the unutterable misery of his soul. He loved his wife devotedly. She was a very beautiful woman, and his heart-strings had twined around her until she had become the idol of his imagination and the joy and solace of his life. When RICHARDSON, then, crept into his household, like the dastardly thief and libertine that he was, and stole Mrs. McFARLAND's affections, rifling her virtue and making a cuckold of her husband, what wonder that McFARLAND should lose his senses and go about seeking the life of the wretch who had turned his once peaceful and happy home into an earthly hell! But not only did RICHARDSON seduce the wife—he stole one of the children, and thus rendered the unhappy man still more miserable. Under this accumulation of dishonor, misfortune and misery, McFARLAND became possessed of but one idea, and that was to take the life of the infamous scoundrel who thus dared to invade the sanctity of his fireside and rifle it of its dearest treasures. He accomplished his purpose. He shot and killed RICHARDSON, and for this is now on trial for his life.

We are no advocates of personal vengeance, but what man, under like circumstances, would have done less than McFARLAND did? Let every one ask himself this question, and let his own answer plead poor McFARLAND'S cause. A set of scoundrels are now at work to sacrifice him in order to shield their own guilt. HORACE GREENLY, BEZUEHER, COLFAY, FROTHINGHAM, SINCLAIR and others, all lent the sanction of their approval to RICHARDSON'S nefarious purpose, and it is now necessary to hang McFARLAND in order to vindicate themselves. For this purpose they have furnished the money to secure able counsel to assist the prosecution and bring the most disreputable witnesses into court to testify against McFARLAND. But it will all fail. Public sentiment is overwhelmingly in the prisoner's favor, and we believe he will be acquitted. Brilliant, eloquent and able lawyers are conducting the defence, and justice and virtue lending their aid on the same side. We believe it would be a dangerous piece of business to attempt to hang McFARLAND in New York city, in case a verdict of guilty should be rendered against him. But we do not think it will come to that. Even should it do so, the executive clemency of Gov. HOFFMAN would intervene to save Mr. McFARLAND from death for simply vindicating his own honor and striking a blow in defence of the purity of the domestic hearthstone.

The Tribune and the Darkeys.

We call the attention of the negroes to the following extract from an editorial in the New York Tribune:

"The rights now conferred have been wrested from unwilling prejudices. Their exercise will be jealously watched, and our newly enfranchised fellow citizens must remember that neither constitutions or good will can permanently secure freedom to those who neglect to make themselves worthy of it."

That is, the Tribune means to say: "Niggers, remember the party that gave you the privilege of voting. Always exercise that privilege in that party's favor. Be sure you don't vote any other way; else in spite of all we have done for you—in spite of the fact that we have incorporated your right to vote into the Constitution in spite of the fact that the ballot is now in your hands, we will take the ballot from you and once more render you to a state of slavery. Remember, now, you are to have no opinions on any political subject save those we put into your mouths, and if you ever dare to vote the Democratic ticket or any ticket that we don't approve of, neither constitutions nor amendments can prevent us from undoing all we have hitherto done and putting you into even a worse position than you were before the war. You are not to exercise your own judgment in any case, but are to vote with us, for us, and for those for whom we tell you to vote."

That is the meaning of the above extract, and that is the freedom which the Radicals have conferred upon the negro. He is the mere tool or creature of the Radical party, and is not to be allowed to set up his own political household. In case he dare to think and act for himself, then he is to be shorn of his political privileges and re-rendered to a state of servitude. This is the condition the darkey now occupies, and it is the condition he will continue to occupy. Any intelligent negro can see this for himself. Fred Douglas has already seen it. Hence his speech in Philadelphia, on the 26th instant, in which he counseled, very sensibly, the negroes not to be controlled in their suffrages, but to cast their votes for whomsoever they pleased. The Radical party is determined to rule or ruin, and it will not hesitate to destroy out of its own elements if it cannot rule it. Its last desperate hope is the darkey vote. If it loses this or part of it, its power is gone. Hence its attempts to intimidate and frighten the negroes into swearing eternal allegiance to its commands.

The Right Kind of Talk.

Some months since, a few policy Democrats, headed by JOE O'BRYEN ESQ., JOHN CAMPBELL, and a couple of others, who for the pot-sherds of political preferment would be daub themselves with mongrelism, attempted to drag the Democratic party of Philadelphia into the negro suffrage camp. They got control of the Democratic headquarters of that city, as well as control of its organization, and under the old Democratic banner was trying to rally a party of negro-suffragists in opposition to the party that has forced this disgrace and crime upon the country. They went it high for a short time. They run it strong for about three weeks, at the end of which time the honest, untrifled, unpurchased Democracy of that city had become disgusted with their disgraceful and cowardly plans, that they deserted them in a body, and about six weeks after Mr. O'BRYEN'S first brochure, his negro-suffrage doctrines, at the corner of South and Arch, the furniture, fixtures and everything belonging to the organization, which O'BRYEN and his party had got control of, was sold at public sale, and the rooms closed.

But the Democracy of the city—not to be sold nor to be dismayed, because a few debauched men, whom they had lent to honor and respect, would have betrayed and debased them, immediately organized again, stronger, purer, more determined than before, and sent forth to the world the following communication of principles, as the basis of their organization:

The City Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Philadelphia, representing its principles and protecting its interests, and defending both as expediencies require, deem it to be a solemn duty at this time, on behalf of the Democracy, to declare:

I. That the Constitution of the United States was ordained by the Fathers of American freedom to be the basis of the system of representative democratic government, by which the sovereignty of the States could only be maintained, the Federal government established, and the Union of the States preserved.

II. That the Democratic party was created to proclaim and defend this system of government, and for more than half a century this great party gave the blessings of constitutional government to the people of the United States, from Maine to Texas, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

III. That the strength of the Democracy became its weakness, and by an unfortunate division in this national party, the enemies of the Constitution (a minority of the people) gained the political power in the Federal government, who, when thus enabled to rule, began to scheme to establish themselves as the government, in defiance of the Constitution of the United States.

IV. That from 1860 to the present hour the enemies of the Constitution, in the Federal Congress and in the State Legislatures have devised plans from time to time which, by frauds the most flagrant, crimes the most wicked, force the most brutal, violence the most wanton, and all in utter and open violation of the Constitution of the United States, have subverted the dearest rights of the people, destroyed the inalienable rights of the citizen and are now maintaining power, thus gained, by the force of arms.

V. That dreading the retributive justice which though slow is sure, and which is preparing itself to overwhelm them, the enemies of the Constitution of the United States have undertaken to justify their acts of fraud, and revolution, and violence, by a pretended amendment to this Constitution by which they hope to gain exemption from the effects of the sober second thought of an outraged people.

VI. That the Democratic party, relying on the power of the people, which misdirected by error, will certainly be led at last by truth, does now proclaim that these so called amendments to the Constitution are unconstitutional, void, and of no effect, because they are not amendments to the Constitution as that instrument permits, but are merely Congressional usurpations, consummated by fraud, force, revolution and violence, in open defiance of the letter and spirit of the supreme law of the land; because they never were submitted to the States, or adopted by the States which the Constitution recognized as sovereign and independent governments, but were forced upon a subjugated people by military despotism, and can never be maintained as the acts of separate and sovereign States, and therefore are not and cannot be proclaimed as the supreme law, which only can be ordained as the Constitution provides—it must be ordained, by States de jure and de facto represented in the Federal government on the basis of separate sovereignty and equality.

VII. That on behalf of the Democratic party of the city of Philadelphia the City Executive Committee hereby protests against the frauds, violence, usurpations, and revolutionary acts of Congress in forcing its usurpations, under the name of the so-called amendments of the Constitution, on the people of the United States.

VIII. That the Committee hereby protest against the acts of Congress whereby the Federal judiciary has been corrupted, overawed, and subjugated to obey the direction of this legislative branch of the Government, the better to enable it to destroy the Constitution of the fathers of the Republic and establish a despotism in its place.

IX. That the Committee proclaims its abhorrence of the fraud, force and violence by which Congress is usurping all the powers of the Government; and it deplores the weakness, folly and incompetence of him who now occupies the Executive mansion, where Washington watched over the first experiment of constitutional government; where Jefferson proclaimed the true principles by which it could be successfully administered, and where Jackson protected both the Constitution and the Union of the States—a Union the Constitution only could create—by his patriotism and firmness.

X. That as the enemies of the Constitution, having failed to "restore the Union, re-establish the Government, and give the people peace," now decline that they are unequal to the task, and seek to bring to their aid an aid which the Democratic party do not court, a race, which is only to be, in fact, the instrument by which the enemies of the Constitution can maintain power at the sacrifice of the constitutional government established by the fathers, the Democratic party ask the governing or white race in the United States to save itself from the debasement of being ruled by the negro, and thus forced to live under a system of government which Poland, Greece, Ireland and Cuba would reject.

The delicate operation of transfusion of blood has just been successfully performed in Chicago. The patient was a young lady almost hopelessly affected with consumption. Thirty six ounces of blood were taken from a sister and two brothers and injected into her veins, and she is now recovering.

Spawls from the Keystone.

- Altoona has been enjoying a few public fires recently.
- Ebensburg has commenced the building of her new jail.
- Reading has thirteen building associations. They must pay.
- A new time table went into effect on the Penna. Railroad on Monday.
- There are two hundred and sixty-six John Smiths in Philadelphia.
- The Lehigh Valley Furnace, at Copley, uses thirty car loads of coal per day.
- Patrick McCan caught a lion near Tyrone the other day that was 14 1/2 inches long.
- The editor of the Erie Commonwealth was assaulted on the 3d instant for publishing abusive articles.
- A man named Barnhart from Warren county, had his pockets picked to the tune of 1,000 at Corry, a few days ago.
- In this State for the next five years, there will be a fine of twenty-five dollars for shooting a partridge.
- Connelly's Dramatic Troupe "busted" at Youngstown. This is the troupe that "wouldn't give a damn for printers ink."
- The session of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania for the Middle District commences in Harrisburg on Monday next.
- The number of pounds of maple sugar manufactured in Springhill township, Washington county, Pa., is estimated at 32,000.
- The Philadelphia Price of Monday says "for the first time within living memory there is not a gambling house publicly open" in that city.
- John McKenna fell over a high embankment at Lily's Station, P. R. R., on Sunday week, and was so badly hurt that he did not die the same day.
- A Pennsylvania editor has an axe which was used to commit murder with, and says that delinquent subscribers had better pay up without axing.
- The Democrats of Bedford county, after trying the Crawford county system for one year in convention, by vote of 20 to 4, have returned to the delegate system.
- A man named Robert H. Burnside committed suicide in Erie last week. Cause, failing to make a favorable impression on a female whom he loved. Laudnum did the work.
- The second annual horse fair of the Lancaster County Agricultural Park Association, will be held on the 12th and 13th of June next. Premiums are offered to the amount of $3,000.
- Miller M. Thomas of Plum township, Mercer county, was killed while plowing, the other day, by his plow bounding from a rock on which it struck, and striking him in the bowels.
- Mr. Patterson, of Delaware sp. Mercer county, has a Durham bull, 23 months old, which weighs 1,215 pounds. He also has two steers, three years old, which weighed 2,365, $100 bid for $165.55.
- The children at the Orphans' Home at Womelsdorf, Berks county, received about 2,400 Easter eggs as presents from the Reformed churches at Lebanon, Reading, Schuylkill Haven, and other places.
- George, a little son of Wm. J. Bates, of Erie, aged about eighteen months, was left alone for a few minutes, one day last week, and in some manner fell head foremost into a tub of water, and was drowned.
- Within the past two months Mr. Gorsuch, of Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, has lost two daughters, one son and his wife by typhoid fever, and at last accounts Mr. G. and two other sons were down with the disease.
- The Age says: One Major Calhoun, of this city, takes occasion at all meetings of negroes and radicals to state that he once belonged to the Democratic party. We suppose it is upon the same principle which makes a cyprian boast she had a virtuous mother.
- The Sunbury Democrat of last week says: Potatoes are a drug in the market, and hard to sell at 35 cents per bushel, here. Several ark loads from York State landed here this week, and the owners were somewhat disappointed at the strange market and low prices.
- The Gettysburg Compiler has the following: "Mr. Wm. Anthony, niece, of Hanover, last week slaughtered a steer which weighed on the hoof twenty-six hundred and fifty pounds. This fine animal was fed by Mr. Samuel G. Hoenninger, of the vicinity of Moshersstown.
- There is a law of the State requiring all owners of unpatented lands to have the same patented before the first of June. After that time they will be sold to satisfy the liens now entered against them in the Prothonotary's office by the Attorney General of the Commonwealth.
- The Greensburg (In) Press says that a gay Greensburger, when he goes to see his girl, a little west of that town, carries his fine boots under his arm until he reaches the gate, when he dons his stogias and marches into her presence as fresh and clean as a new blown pumpkin blossom.
- The Philadelphia Day of the 27th ult., says that yesterday afternoon the roof of the coal shed in Bopplier's coal yard, at the southwest corner of Broad and Race, fell, with about 150 men and boys, who had gathered upon it to see the procession. Strange to say, not a single person received an injury.
- A lady in North East, Erie county visited the cemetery in that place one day last week, accompanied by her little boy. After some time he was missed, and upon search being made, his body was found in a small stream that flows by the grounds. He is supposed to have fallen down the hill into the water and was drowned.
- The Altoona Park Association contemplate having a race on the 4th of July, for $1,100 premiums—first premium, $50 for horses in harness, $100 to first and $50 to second horse; second, $100 for paces in harness, divided as above; third, $50, free for all horses in harness, $500 to first and $150 to second; fourth running race, $150, $100 to first horse and $50 to second.
- On the 22d instant, Henry Michael, of Jackson township, aged about 13 years, was committed to prison by Justice Strickler, charged on oath of H. B. Longdorf with having, between the 1st and 8th of the present month, broken into the Sunday School room at Herndon, and stolen the penny collection, amounting to about $6. Young Michael was assisted by another boy, who gave bail for his appearance at court.—Sunbury Democrat.
- INCREASE OF RAFTS.—Two thousand two hundred timber rafts have been put in the Susquehanna and its tributaries this season, against eighteen hundred last season. Computing each raft at twelve hundred dollars (which is about their average worth), the aggregate value of the whole number is two million six hundred and forty thousand dollars. From this some idea can be formed of the immense forests in the northern part of the State and the extent of the lumber trade.