THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

-To-morrow, Saturday, is decoration day.

----- The fruit and grain crops throughent the county, both promises a rich Aarvest.

---- A good one horse spring wagon can be purchased cheap by calling at this office.

Bush House will be full of Summer boarders the present season.

-Quite a number of trees on the hills around town, show the marks of Eghtning, already, this Spring.

-Farmers and Millers will find it to their interest to read the business no4 tice this week of Sager & Irvin.

-----The wet weather for the past few days has been favorable at least to one sort of occupation-juvenile bakers in the mud-pie business.

-A beautiful shade tree in front of the residence of T. R. Reynolds, Esq., was broken down by the storm on Monday evening sonte has had twenty-three new comers Most of them came in the night, and without any clothes on.

-----W. S. McFeaters, formerly of this place, is said to be serving a term for grand larceny.

-A kind of a strike at the Glass about the 1st of September.

---- The borough dads, on Monday night last, elected Michael Runkle street commissioner and Cyrus Strikland superidtendent of water works,

----One of our dairymen, we wont say which, apologized the other mornmg for the quality of his milk by saying his cows got caught in the rain

-There are now ten Lodges of Good Templars, fully organized, armed and equipped for the campaign against ripgizzard and red-eye, in this county

----- A very serious rumor prevails in sown to the effect that Sheriff Woodring is about to throw away his old straw hat and purchase a new one. We hope it is true.

---Mrs. Hess, wife of Mr. Wm. Mess of Unionville, while stepping off ber portico one day last week, slipped and fell, breaking both bongs in her ankle.

-The senatorial fight for mongrel nomination, in this county has narrowed down to Barlow and Wilson, and to us it looks very much as if Barlow had the inside track.

----- There is a man over in Pennsvalley named Feidler or Fidler, who has a talking crow- It will ask a man how he is or tell him to go to the devil with all the sang frond imaginable.

-A reduction in the wages of the hooring men about the iron works, in this county, has recently been made. Another evidence of mongrel good times

-Farmers down along Nittany Walley tell us the grain crop in that sec-

-We think the physical infirmity of a little fellow in town, who has arrived at manhood's years without its bodily developments, should exempt him from the torments and tensings of a certain class of persons, both young and old, who seem to think it a sign of smartness to plague and worry him We have often pitied the poor little fellow to an extent, that made us feel like, slapping his tormentors over He has neither the physical nor mental ability to defend himself, and his poor httle life is made wretched by the worrying and torment to which ho is daily subjected to by people who ought to have better sense. Of course they will say ---- Indications now are, that the they don't mean anything by it-they do it thoughtlessly. We don't doubt it, but it is just when brought into contract with such cases as this, that they ought to think the * most seriously. Becanse God has seen fit to deny to some the same mental of physical capacity that He has bestowed on others, is no reason why their lives should be a burden to them by the tensing, tormenting or contumely of their fellows. On the contrary such adeprivations should entitle them to the kindest treatment and the most discriminating charity - We hope these few lines may be taken in all kindness and now fail deheeded upon the eves of any one who so far forgets his dignity or manhood as to indulge in > the thoughtless and silly pastime to which we have alluded. fares are not lined with trees. Nothing we think, adds so much to the pictur esque appearance of a town as long growth Every builder of a house and Works, in this place, stopped operations trees before his residence, and, as time hast week, and will not be resumed until rolls on, Bellefonte would gradually begin to assume the aspect of a city emboweled in the midst of a cool, green grove. What more delightful, on a heated summer day, than to pass along streets refreshed by cooling shadows and green leaves, among which the birds twit and flutter, and the breeze whisperin soft, soothing zephyr? Portions of our streets are well shaded and ornamented now, and the pleasure one feels In passing through them, makes him wish that the same taste prevailed all over the borough. Let us have trees ---trees in abundance. With the art of man, let us associate the still more beautifricreations of nature, and the result will be increased happiness to all and a higher appreciation of the Divine beneficence that has given us such a grand beautiful world to live in. ic friend, James McNitt, has taken sole charge of the extensive warehouse of vicinity George Blymyer & Sons, at Milroy. Mr McNitt is known to many of our farmers as one of the most obliging, gentlemanly business men, South of the Seven Mountains, and the firm for which he is operating, has long been known as one of the oldest and most responsible firms in this section of the State. If fair dealing, liberal prices and prompt pay will build up and maintain a business, at any point, the public can rest assured that Mr. McNitt, acting for the Messrs Blymyer, will succeed at Milroy. Centre county farmers who go over the mountains to find a market for their grain and produce, will always receive the highest prices in cash, be treated courteously and dealt with fairly, by different townships and boroughs of the Mr McNitt The Milroy markets, cor-Son will not be more than half a crop, rected weekly by him, will be found, on account of the fly, severe winter, and regularly, among the market reports of the WATCHMAN. ----GONE -Our gentlemanly, obliging. If any of our friends in the Quaker city see him, we would commend him to their kind care and considerate keeping. He is away from home--among strangers-out in "the cold and beggarly elements of the world." and we carnestly entreat them to "lead him not into temptation," though his "spirit is willing," for his flesh is weak He was accompanied by Brainerd of the National-a paper that "once Thom a time" flourished in this city, but is now "no more-no, not a bit. ----- Two young follows, both stoutly built, and both a trifle inebriated, indulged in fisticuffs in front of Sussman's store on Monday last. They went about John Shafler, Michael Shuitz, it as awkwardly as they could, but gave each other some pretty severe blows, much to the amusement of a crowd of lookers-on. After the fight was over. a young fellow tried to take one of the parties home, but he didn't seem to But a little while and these old to want to go, and fooled around until officer Felty nabbed him and marched him up street. The demise of the National does not, nowever, end the fight in the radical ranks. It changes the ground a little and gives Brown and Hutchison the temporary advantage-that is, the advantage of being looked upon as the the leaders of their party in the county. and if the individuals, whom they now boast of triumphing over, can be little themselves enough to fall into ranks, and bbey orders from Bill Brown, it may, to a certain extent, end the battle We hardly think it will.
