The County Convention.

As will be noticed by the call for the county convention, the representation from the different townships in the county will be the same as in the coming convention as it was in the last.

Departure of Mr. Pendleton.

Taking his life in his hand, and trusting to Providence, that gallant Democrat and most noble man, GEORGE H. PENDLETON, has ventured across the stormy water.

Political zoology is a study which the present administration has forced upon the country. A "chair" in Grant's College has lately been endowed with a No 5 hat and No 11 bogans.

BUTTERN'S history as a warrior in the late unpleasantness fully justifies the opinion, that when allusion is made to him, it should not be done in general terms.

A Radical with his Eyes Open.

There is once in a while that we get a little truth from a radical paper, and when we do get it, how plainly it proves that what Democracy had all along asserted about the leaders, managers and office holders of the Mongrel party, is as true as the Gospel.

There is something in what is called the true Republican movement in Allegheny county, that demands our most serious thought and action. It will not do to give it the cold shoulder.

—The mighty war that has burst upon Europe like a clap of thunder, may, possibly yet involve the United States in its murky gloom.

—Congress adjourned last Friday, after a long and iniquitous session of eight months. Time that may be considered all wasted, so far as that body is concerned, for we cannot point to a single good thing it has done for the country.

—It is said that the total receipts of the United States, from all sources, from its inception, March 4, 1796, to the present time, aggregate $11,402,000,000.

That sum is equal to about $2,000 for every minute of time that has come and gone upon earth, since God first spoke the magic words.

—The mighty war that has burst upon Europe like a clap of thunder, may, possibly yet involve the United States in its murky gloom. It all depends upon our rulers at Washington.

Stabbed in the House of His Friends.

Evidently, BILLY ARMSTRONG is fast losing strength in his party. The prospect of his renomination is not flattering.

In regard to Congress there is no doubt. Five counties are to be pleased and conciliated with more than one aspirant in each.

—Radicalism has an organ in this place—the Republican. It has for its editor W. W. BROWN, who is constantly harping about the county finances and county taxes.

—We notice that the Witson men, headed by the Treasury robber, BILLY BROWN, who has given up all hope of nominating his candidate.

—Old Bayley Peyton asserted, long ago, that Washington city was so morally corrupt, that the American eagle had to hold his nose when soaring over it.

—It is objected that base ball has voted the national game "PIZZOUI" (faroo) was, and we fear still is, King.

—According to Judge McCANDLESS'S recent decision at Williamsport, a farmer cannot, under the revenue laws, carry his produce to market without first taking out a license.

—BROWN, we understand is already trying to set up "the Press" to make himself a mongrel candidate for County Treasurer in 1871.

—The Legislature of Massachusetts has voted a separate prison for the confinement of women.

—A loil murderer condemned before judgment. Crisman, who murdered gallant Zollicoffer, has gone crazy from remorse for his cowardice.

Brick Pomoroy's Opinion of Belle-fonte.

We surrender a large portion of our space this week to the following letter from BRICK POMORAY, to his paper, giving his opinion of our place and people, and referring to us generally in highly complimentary terms.

Now, Mr. Pomoroy comes to town, the worse abused man in the country. He also is the editor of one of the most able and influential papers of his party.

Bellefonte and the Beautiful Therapeutic and Attractive Summer Resort.

A beautiful morning, a most excellent hotel, with superior accommodations, fine rooming, attentive waiters, an attractive table.

And instead of resting as we should like, instead of indulging in a regular old-time play, the care of the sunburn follows us wherever we go, and there is ever before us that person of work without doing nothing can be accomplished.

Belleville, by rail, two hundred miles distant from Philadelphia. To reach here from the city of Brotherly Love, one must come by the Pennsylvania Central to Erie.

Should we wish to visit New York from here, we can go to Philadelphia, and from there through New Jersey, or we can go to Florida and from there by the popular and well-managed Erie with its clean, roomy cars and excellent time-table regulations.

There are three newspapers, which seem to us an unusual number for town of the size and yet they are well supported, they are being a continuing proof that this is a vital community.

with once in a while a somewhat extensive establishment, showing that families have been raised, where men have lived for years and years, ending but little for the going on of the outer world, content to live in the enjoyment of health, and the accumulation of that property which is the basis of so many of the well-to-do families of the Keystone State.

The city raises for its support upon the agricultural people, a few lumbermen, and iron manufacturers here to be found. The establishment for the manufacture of iron is owned by Valentines & Co., employees at four hundred men.

The northern part of this county, especially the heavy pine timber region, has several extensive lumbering establishments, which have a large amount of capital and a large number of men are employed.

Most of the farms in this county are on the water, and have a system of drains, which the soil and who had their best crops raised.

The sportsmen in proper season are abundant of amusement in this section. Just now the trout season is about closing.

Philadelphia is the great market for the section. The grain raised in this section is sent to that city, where the market is very fair.
