

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUTY.

Chromoskins from 60 to 30 etc. at Green's.

Rev. W. T. Wyke absent this week attending the sessions of the Harrisburg Synod in that city.

There is talk of a pleasant Democratic jubilee, over the joyful result of the late election, soon. Particulars will be announced in due season.

Oliver Logan lectured in Tipton on Wednesday evening last. Brought in the machine just there.

The trees of the forest are beginning to fall. The approach of winter is felt. Joseph say they are now of many colors.

J. G. Latimer of Pleasant Gap, will publish a public sale, on Tuesday, November 15, 1876, on his farm in Benning township, a lot of stock and farming implements. The particulars, see bill.

Topical towels at Green's Drug Store.

On the seat chairs of any other kind, if desired, can be repaired in the best manner. G. E. Brown & Co., Williamstown, manufactures all kinds of furniture and stoves.

Robt. A. D. G. G. Works on jobbing and repair work.

John Smith, formerly the general manager of the Brockerhoff House, has just purchased a fine lot of household goods, and is now receiving orders for the same.

Rev. D. M. Walt expects to preach on Friday or Saturday, on the subject of prayer.

The face of the assuming editor of the Register, since the election, is not so bright as Dr. Donne says, to cut out of a church. Poor Brown's indignation is enough to promise Armistead a radical majority in Centre county. What politicians some men are!

Rev. D. X. Junkin, the uncle of Samuel Jackson, and who it will be remembered, preached the seminal and primary sermon of the pastorate of Rev. Dr. DeLain in the Presbyterian church here in 1875, will preach here again on Sunday next.

With all his liberality and general benevolence, Brown could find it in his heart to say anything in an editorial article against Gen. Lee's death. See in regard to it if it be possible to communicate the article on the subject out of that article, and down show the Harrisburg Telegraph. He didn't like to do that, but he had to do the duty of his office.

Miss Olive Logan lectured, on the subject of prayer, at Rev. Dr. DeLain's church, on Tuesday night. The audience was large and select, and the lecture of the most entertaining and edifying character. Miss Logan's subject was 'The Bright Side,' reculating the duty of always looking at the bright side of things. It was full of humor, and kept the audience in an almost constant grin. 'Olive is a good talker - fluent, graceful and often eloquent. The possession of a fine form and rather handsome face, her raptures in preaching, and her courage, ease and self-possessed. Her lecture gave general satisfaction.

The Millburg string band furnished excellent music for the occasion, and won high encomiums upon their skill on their first success.

Tuesday was a terrible day for dust. The wind blew 'great guns,' wafting clouds of sandy particles, hither and thither. Nothing could keep it out of our houses and offices. It would enter through crevices in doors and windows, and tables, desks and chairs were covered with it. What a great thing is dust! And what a great quantity there is of it in the world. All things are dusty, and just at this time of year everything is pretty dusty. Man is but dust, and soon we shall all be resolved into our original element. Possibly, many and many a year hence, our dust - the sport of the winds of future ages - may be dusted around these streets and byways, dusting the eyes of our successors. Who knows? But maybe this is too dusty a subject. And so we'll 'get up and dust' into something else.

Our thanks are due Isaac Buffington, Esq., of Milesburg, for the present of a very large and excellent corn broom, of the make that took the premium at our late county fair. Mr. Buffington makes the best brooms in this part of the country. We have verified, by trying our new present, the old adage that 'a new broom sweeps clean.'

FUNERAL OF FRANK WILSON - The funeral obsequies of Frank Wilson, whose death at Lewisburg we announced in our last issue, took place at the residence of his brother, William P. Wilson, Esq., in this place, and at the cemetery, on Sunday afternoon last. The day being a most beautiful one, the attendance was very large, and the obsequies were solemn and impressive.

Rev. W. T. Wyke, of the Presbyterian church, conducted the exercises, standing in the doorway and speaking so that the people outside as well as those in the house could hear. The solemn occasion was opened by the singing of the following hymn:

My time is in Thy hand. My God, I wash them there. My life as friends in soul I leave entirely to Thy hand.
