THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUTY.

——Tube Paints at Green's.

——Ladie and Misses merino underwear at Kate Reed & Co's

——A female physician is now lecturing in Philipsburg

——"The poor," says the Republican, "are generally virtuous." But it doesn't hold good in Brown's case.

——Mr. R. C. Wartel, of Philipsburg, has taken out letters patent on a salty oil can, just invented by him.

——The Episcopal congregation are now worshiping in the basement of their new church edifice. Rev. Allen, of Philadelphia, is the Rector.

——Rev. D. V. Jenkin did not preach in the Presbyterian church last Sunday, being detained at home by rheumatism. He will be present the coming Sabbath.

——H. O. Kline and J. M. Zimmerman have left this place and located in Bedford, where they propose to cultivate their tobacco and the insurance business.

——Violin Strings at Green's.

——Our people and family have returned to the [illegible] and are now located at Pine Grove. We welcome them back to good old Democratic Centre.

——The population of Centre county, according to the census of 1870, is 31,291, an increase since 1860 of 7,354—a larger increase than is shown by any county in the central part of the State.

——We learn that our friend, D. F. Fortney, Esq., is now lying ill with typhoid fever, at the Sheriff's residence, in this place. We trust, however, that the attack is not a serious one, and that he will soon be out again.

——Congress Water at Green's.

——Our good Republican friend, Mr. James Dunlap, of Pine Grove, was in our sanctum yesterday. Mr. Dunlap looks well, notwithstanding his prospective residence on the headwaters of Salt River.

——We notice that our talented young friend, D. L. Krebs, Esq., formerly of this county, but now practicing at the Clearfield bar, is acting as foreman of the U. S. Grand Jury, now sitting in Pittsburg.

——Furniture Polish at Green's.

——O. A. Harvey, Esq., chairman of the Radical county committee of Clinton county, was in Lockhaven with Brown, of the Republican, the other day. Poor fellows—they could not bail they have to visit, in order to condole with one another.

——The Clearfield Fair consisted of a calf, a goose and a pumpkin. We are told that it rained on and the first night that the goose swam off, the calf broke loose and eat up the pumpkin, and a thief prowling around, stole the calf. And that ended the Fair.

——Cyrus L. Gordon, Esq., of this place, has removed to Clearfield, which he intends to make a clear field for him to practice law in. If that old town continues to receive a few more of our enterprising and active Bellefonters, it will begin to wake up after while.

——We believe we have thus far omitted to tender our editorial congratulations to our friend Norman Hoover, Esq., who has recently arrived in town with a new wife. We trust his matrimonial voyage may be a prosperous one, and that the present clear sky of his hopes may be forever unclouded.

——In noting the attractions at Foster & Devling's store, in our last issue, we inadvertently omitted to mention our sprightly little friend, Birney McClain, about as lively and wide-awake a little clerk as can be found anywhere east of sundown. Birney is smart, active and obliging, and a general favorite with everybody.

ANOTHER RAIL ROAD INTO OUR COUNTY.—We have it from good authority that as soon as the lower end of the L. C. & S. C. railroad is completed that the Huntingdon & Broad Top road will make a connection with it, from Huntingdon, at the easiest and most accessible point, in order to reach the New York market with their Broad Top coal.

——Levi A. Miller's grocery and provision store, on Allegany street, was so crowded with customers on Saturday night last that officers Fannon and Wolf thought there was a row going on, and shoved themselves into the crowd in order to stop the muss. But they soon came out again, satisfied to let the row go on.

——The Tyrone Herald says that a Bellefonte lady amused herself in church the other Sunday counting the different styles of doing up the hair, and found fifty-one. Query: Who was she, and did she find a better sermon in the bignets than in the pulpit? We know that lady dont go to our church, because there the ladies wouldn't think of such a thing. Of course, they wouldn't.

AURORA BOREALIS.—For several nights past the aurora borealis or northern lights have been very and unusually brilliant, with a beautiful belt of crimson extending across the sky from east to west, directly across the milky way. So very extraordinary has been the display, that alarm has been excited in some quarters, and we have frequently heard sage remarks to the effect that the end of the world must be approaching. But don't let anybody be frightened. The aurora borealis has been seen from immemorial time, and we have never read or heard of any harm coming from it. The ancients it is true, used to consider the blood-red appearance of the sky a sign of war and pestilence, but in this later day we have got rid of such foolish superstitions.

In March, 1782, the aurora borealis, wavy and brilliant, overspread the whole heavens. In the Shetland islands, these streamers of light, are called the "merry dancers," from their tremulous, wavy motion. They assume all shapes and a variety of colors, from a pale red or yellow to a deep red or blood color, and in the northern latitudes serve to illuminate the earth and cheer the gloom of the long winter nights. What folly, then, to be alarmed by them. In these parts of the earth where the year is half day and half night, what a blessing to have these brilliant lights as a substitute for the long absent rays of the sun.

GONE AT LAST.—Our genial friend, A. Boyd Henderson, Esq., late editor of the respectable Intelligencer, at Lock Haven, was married on Tuesday last at 2 o'clock p. m., to Miss Josephine Myers, daughter of Proctor Myers, Esq., of that place. Both the editors of the WATCHMAN beg to acknowledge the reception of a "card" to the wedding and to express their regrets at not being able to attend the joyful occasion. But we nevertheless tender to the happy couple our sincere congratulations, and wish them all the happiness in the world. Our friend Boyd has secured a beautiful and accomplished wife, and the lady a talented, generous and thoughtful husband. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride, according to the rites of the Episcopal church, by Rev. Mr. Shinn.

We are informed that not the least among the attractions of the festive occasion were the stylish "get-ups" of several of the groomsmen, among whom were our friends Thad. P. Stephens, Prof. Hastings and John Love, Esq. It is stated that they went through the ceremony with great elan, and that, after the bride and groom, they were the admired of all observers. Swallow-tail coats, starchy vests and the most killing of neckties, to say nothing of their unapproachable countenances and distingue airs. We always said those fellows could keep up the credit of our town.

——Use Green's Worm Expeller.

FIRE.—The mill property of John Whitcomb, known as the Little Bear saw mill, near the New York coal mine, about two and a half miles from this place was burned on Tuesday evening. A fire had been built under the boilers for the purpose of putting in some repairs, on the early part of the day, but had been raked out and it was thought extinguished. In the middle of the night a family residing near were awakened by the flames and gave the alarm, but the fire had gained too much headway to be subdued, and the mill burned to the ground. By the fortunate circumstance of a favorable wind the lumber pile near the mill, escaped, though a pile of slabs was consumed so close to some of the lumber as to scorch it. The loss is estimated $6,000, insurance for $3,500.—Philipsburg Journal.

——Brainerd alias "McCracken" alias "Ganderlegs," was in town on Tuesday, en route for Boyd Henderson's wedding. He was dressed in a bran new suit of clothes, high silk hat and moustache. Looked better than we ever saw him. Feels happy, and says they cleared $65 off Olive Logan's lectur in Tyrone. Considering the disastrous result of the election, he is in extraordinary spirits, and thinks that the late earthquake was caused by the hasty exit of Radicalism and the in-rushing of pure Democracy. Shouldn't wonder.

RUNAWAY.—On Tuesday, the team of J. F. Steiner ran away, smashing his buggy into fragments. He had driven out to the site of his new mill and hitched the horses to a tree. While he was a little distance away a limb was blown from a tree which struck them, frightening them to such a degree that the spirited animals broke loose, running the entire way home. No injury was done the horses.—Philipsburg Journal.

——The lecture committee of the Young Men's Christian Association have not yet announced their next lecturer, but will do so in due time. We will just take this opportunity of saying to that committee that we doubt very much their success with Mr. Parton and Dr. Lord, or even with "Josh Billings." Wendell Phillips and Anna Dickinson will draw, but, outside of literary circles, the others are scarcely well enough known to make them a trump card. However, we hope we may be mistaken, as we would like to see full houses on each occasion.

——Our friend William P. Wilson, Esq., late Radical candidate for State Senator, must be credited with considerable personal popularity in his own town, judging by the majority he received. One hundred and twenty-six of a plurality when his regular party majority is not over fifty, speaks well for him, and is quite a contrast to the vote which his associate on the ticket, Walker Woods, received at his home. Although defeated, we feel like saying candidly that Mr. Wilson's defeat must be attributed rather to the principles he advocates and the bad company he has been keeping, than to any dislike or ill-feeling of the people toward him personally. Those Radical papers, therefore, which try to lay the blame of their discomfiture on our popular fellow-townsman, are guilty of the meanest injustice and most contemptible conduct. A good man has been sacrificed through the utter disgust of the people for the platform upon which he was compelled to stand, and now they attempt to put the blame upon him. Oh, shameless ingratitude!

A DELICATE SITUATION.—We really did commiserate the position of our intelligent, good-looking and modest friend, Dr. Hayes, when the Fair managers placed him, with several handsome young ladies, on that committee. Just think what an embarrassing situation for a modest young bachelor to be invited to examine the embroidery and needle-work on ladies night-dresses, chemisettes, and skirts! And then to have those dear, wicked, delightful, bright-eyed confreres of his, closely watching him all the time. Goodness me—it must have been more trying to his nerves than cutting off a leg. We should have expired in a cold sweat. But we learn that the Doctor acted with great courage, and went through the trying ordeal creditably. Which proves that some things can be done as well as others.

——We had the pleasure of greeting our former friend and townsman, Mr. E. A. Wasser, now of Girard, Kansas, to our sanctum on Wednesday last. Mr. Wasser is at present one of the proprietors and editors of the Girard Press, a well edited and influential Democratic paper out in prairie-land. He is now visiting his friends in this county, and will remain about a month. Mr. Wasser is looking finely, being apparently in robust health. No doubt his strict temperance principles, together with the bracing atmosphere of the west and his devotion to Democracy have conduced largely to his general healthful appearance.

WHO CAN "BEET" THIS?—Our fellow townsman, Mr. Edward Brown, took from his garden the other day three enormous beets, the largest of which weighed 8½ pounds, the next largest 7½ pounds and the third 6 pounds. This, too, when he thought his beet crop was a failure, and was under the impression that they had exhausted all their vitality in tops. We believe these are the largest beets we have ever heard of. Had Mr. Brown had them at the Fair he would certainly have taken the premium.

——We are sorry to see our active young Democratic friend, William Galbraith, going about with his left arm in a sling, caused by having it caught in some machinery at the planing mill. We must caution him to be more careful, hereafter, as it is the interest of the community that such stirring and wide-awake young men as him, should live as long as they can.

SAM SHARPLEY'S SILVER SHOW, a model exhibition of magic and the wonderful performances of trained birds and cats, will open at Reynolds's Opera House, in this place, to-night, and continue to-morrow and Monday evenings. Of this exhibition the Ithaca Leader says:

> Logrenia and Mr. Sharpley have gone. Their highly successful entertainments of three nights closed last evening. Logrenia, as a Conjuror has no superior in the world. The exhibition of marvelous tricks, the astonishing wonder of the trained birds and mice, are features worth double the price of admission to witness. In short, their exhibition gave the best of satisfaction, aside from the beautiful presents which each person obtained. It is the only gift entertainment we ever saw conducted upon a fair and impartial principle, and we recommend the entertainment and endorse the gentlemen in charge, for promptness and honor manifested in their dealings with the public.

——The Republican is the most incomprehensible of papers. In an item this week, in speaking of the locking of a child in a closet by one of our teachers and who was left there after school was dismissed, through forgetfulness, that remarkable journal says:

> The day were away and the school was dismissed. A paper boy heard the cries of a child and upon examination found the litti girl locked in the closet, nearly dead from fright, where she had been forgotten by her teacher.

Now, what under the sun does the Republican mean when it says that the cries of the child were heard by a "paper boy?" We have endeavored in vain to cipher out this mystery of language. In all the range of our experience we have never heard of such a thing as a paper boy, unless it was in the nursery when the scissors were used to manufacture images for the amusement of children. Unless the days of miracles have returned, and life and motion have been breathed into things inanimate, we cannot understand this. Will our contemporary explain?

——We are glad to know that our active and enterprising friend, Mr. Wm. Kinsloe, the indefatigable insurance agent, has been appointed special agent of the Travelers Life and Accident Insurance Company of Hartford, Connecticut, which will involve his absence from home a considerable portion of the time. We congratulate our friend on his good luck, and at the same time assure the company that they could not have selected a more competent or reliable person for the responsible position of special agent. They may be certain that their work will be well and completely done.

——We haven't got done with the high hat business yet. They make their appearance very cautiously, on account of the modesty and bashfulness of the owners. Our young friends, Howard Lingle and Const. Brew are sporting them now. Andy Cook has been wearing his for some time, and Simon Wolf and Mr. Shore Gordon are also venturing to brave the world with the new head gear. Well, well, gentlemen, we are glad to see you so happy, and hope you may always have money enough to keep yourselves in good hats.

——In a notice of Olive Logan's lecture, the following sentence occurs in this week's Republican:

> The subject was handled in a most finished manner and presented to the audience in such a be as to convey an instruction and pleasure and won it a more better rewarded with a literature treat the lecturer received applause. There is no doubt that he does never returned for more Democratic sentiments that every thing had been [illegible] and [illegible] for the night and adjourned from the lecture hall in the evening of the 18th inst.

Another ridiculous jumble of words. Are the Republican fellows all drunk, or what the deuce is the matter?

Madame Foy's Self-opperating Corsets at Kate Reed & Co's.

——If the individual who appropriated the pearl ear drops on exhibition at the Fair to his or her own use, will call at this office, he or she can have the neck lace and pin belonging to the set.

THE STRAY LAW.—As many people are ignorant of the law relative to "estrays," we herewith publish it for their benefit. Farmers and others will do well to cut this out and paste it somewhere that it will be handy for reference.

> Whenever a stray beast is found trespassing on the premises of any one it is the duty of the party to give notice to the owner thereof under the penalty of $5, if he can be found, and within four days deliver to the Town Clerk a full description of the kind, color, or any natural or artificial marks, such stray or strays, together with fees, which are for a horse 50 cents; cattle 25 cents, and each sheep 6 cents. If the owner does not appear within ten days after such stray shall be taken up, and settle all damages and costs, it shall be the duty of the party to take up the same, to cause the said stray or strays to be advertised for three weeks in at least one newspaper, (which costs 2,50). And, if the owner shall not have appeared within six days after such advertisement, and settle all reasonable costs and the person taking up the said stray shall make application to a Justice of the Peace, in said township, who is required to issue his warrant to the constable whose duty it shall be to sell the same at public sale, first giving ten day notice of such sale, by at least three printed handbills. And after he shall have sold the same, he shall make return of the proceeds to the said Justice, who shall, after paying all reasonable damages and costs of keeping as aforesaid, pay over the surplus, if any there be, to the County Treasurer, but if the owner shall appear within one year after such sale and prove his property to such stray, the said Justice shall certify the same to the said Treasurer, who shall pay the owner such surplus, but if the owner shall not apply within the time aforesaid he shall thereafter be debarred from recovering, and the money may be applied to county purposes.

Rail Road Matters.

Last week we warned the people of Harris township that their foolish local light and sectional jealousies, would certainly defeat the building of the L. C. & S. C. road. Since our last week's issue, we have been informed by the contractor of this place, that the route through McBride's Gap would be let inside of six weeks. If this information be correct, Harris township can bid adieu to its railroad prospects. It had an opportunity of having the through road, and also the terminus of the Bellefonte branch, but the McBride's Gap route, ends both. If it be too late now to secure either, the selfishness of the few men who aspire to the leadership of that township, can console itself reflecting over what might have been. We are sorry that they have acted as they have—sorry, because we believe the people of that township have been misled and wrongly represented—we believe they would any day raise the amount required of them, were it not for the evil counsel of a few interested individuals, who want the road at their doors, or don't want it at all. We are sorry because the folly and mulish selfishness of the few in Harris, will cheat the people of Ferguson and the upper end of Potter out of the road entirely, after they have done all that the success of the enterprise required of them.

LONG BRANCH estimates its visitors this summer at 200,000. Atlanta City and Cape May at 150,000, and Saratoga and Newport at 100,000.

EARTHQUAKE.

The United States Shaken--From Canada to Florida--The Oscillations Distinctly Felt--The Waves Pass Eastward--A Railroad Settles Ten Feet--Trifling Damage Resultant.

Special Dispatch to the Post.

NEW CASTLE, PA., October 20.

Quite a distinct shock of an earthquake was felt in this city at 11 o'clock to day. The shock lasted three or four minutes, and the effect was to sicken many persons with a dizziness. In the second and third stories of the building, the force of the motion was the greatest. In some instances the occupants deserted them in fright. W. S. B.

CONNEAUTAVILLE, October 20.—At eleven o'clock this morning, we felt two distinct shocks like that of an earthquake, of from two to five minutes duration. Many persons ran into the streets in fear that the buildings were falling, and some were quite sick from the effect, but no damage was done to the building.

TROY, N. Y., October 20.—An earthquake shock was felt here at 11.45, A. M. The Southwest school house was severely shaken, causing a panic among the scholars.

The shock was felt at Albany, Hudson, Sandy Hill, Cambridge, Warrensburg, Saratoga, Syracuse, Warsaw and Auburn. At Saratoga some buildings were much damaged.

ST. CATHARINE, Florida, October 20.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt here at 11 o'clock, to day.

BOSTON, October 20.—An earthquake was felt at 11.26 causing a precipitate vacation of locations, and all placing and cracking pictures of walls.

The shock was felt at Burlington, Montpelier, Provid[illegible], Portland, Bangor, Lewistown, Bost[illegible], Montreal, Sackville and a large number of other places in New England and Canada. No serious damage was done any where.

CINCINNATI, October 20.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Walnut Hills, within the city limits, about half past ten o'clock this morning. The students at Lane Seminary noticed it very perceptibly in their domitories.

TIFFANY'S, October 20.—The shock of an earthquake was very perceptibly felt here at 11.45 A. M. Several brick buildings were shaken and the occupants ran out in the streets in great alarm. It lasted but a few seconds.

PORTLAND, ME., October 20.—Three hundred feet of the bed of the Ogdensburg Railroad at [illegible] Otter Creek, in Standish, sixteen miles from here, settled ten feet to-day at the time of the earthquake.

NEW YORK, October 20.—The earthquake this morning passed harmlessly, though several school buildings and tenement houses were suddenly vacated and the higher towers and spires in the lower part of the city were made to vibrate perceptibly. Professor Hough, of the Dudley Observatory at Albany, thus describes the event:

The shock of an earthquake was felt at 11.45 A. M., October 20th, and lasted about one minute. Walls of buildings had a very marked vibration, opened doors were made to vibrate, objects hanging on walls were put in oscillation, and even tables and chairs on ground floors had a sensible tremor. At the time of the shock a rumbling noise was heard, clock pendulums swinging north and south, were made to vibrate east and west, showing that the earthquake passed in an eastward direction. Since 9 A. M. of yesterday, the barometer has been falling rapidly. Total fall amounting to seventenths of an inch. During the shock the mercury in registering the barometer was in a violent state of agitation.

Signed, G. W. HOUGH,
Dudley Observatory.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., October 20.—This city was visited by a severe shock of earthquake at a quarter past eleven o'clock this morning. All the inhabitants rushed terror stricken into the streets and the excitements was intense. Much confusion prevails and it is impossible to ascertain whether any serious damage is done.

CLEVELAND, October 20.—A very perceptible shock of an earthquake was felt here this morning at about eleven o'clock, lasting fifteen or twenty seconds. The National Bank building, Atwater block and other large buildings were swayed to and fro, causing persons occupying upper stories to flock into the streets. The greatest consternation prevailed. The shock was plainly felt in Meadville, Pennsylvania.

MONTREAL, October 20.—At a quarter past eleven o'clock this morning a severe shock of an earthquake was felt here. Buildings rocked to and fro, and everybody rushed into the streets in alarm.

NEW YORK, October 20.—A shock of earthquake was distinctly felt in this city this morning.

DETROIT, Michigan, October 20.—A shock of an earthquake was very perceptible in this city about eleven o'clock this morning. Reports from various parts of the State would indicate that the wave was very generally felt throughout the State.

CINCINNATI, October 20.—The latest telegraphic indicates that the shock of the earthquake was greater in some parts of the city than first reported. In one large factory the operatives at first thought the foundations were giving way, and caught hold of objects to steady themselves as the building swayed to and fro. At one of the largest foundries, the men thought their tools were coming towards them, but soon discovered that it was the building in motion. There was considerable alarm, but work was not long suspended.

——"John," said a poverty stricken man to his son, "I've made my will to-day." "Ah! you were liberal to me, no doubt." "Yes, John, I've come down handsome. I've willed you the whole State of Virginia—to make a living in, with the privilege of going elsewhere, if you can do better."

TAKING stock—A smart child of our acquaintance says that his ma ought to be quoted in all the city articles. Being pressed to explain, he stated that she was considerably above Par(r).

——When Mr. Dawes left Washington for New Hampshire, General Grant said: "Tell the people for me, that every cent, which the most careful scrutiny can preserve, shall be saved in Governmental expenditure.—Colfax.

And ever since that promise was made, the President has been engaged in laborious and careful scrutiny at Long Branch, and everywhere else but at Washington.

PARIS, notwithstanding the pressure of a belligerent army, still maintains its reputation as the "gay capital." There never were so many balls at this time, and engagements are frequent.

MARY KRUMPASITZKY, of Jeffersonville, Ill., has been divorced from Herman Krumpasitzy, and finds it best to resume her maiden name, Pronymtanatowski.

A correspondent (unmarried) suggests that Solomon's wisdom was due to the fact that he had seven hundred wives, whom he consulted on all occasions.

Hon. James R. Kelley has just been elected United States Senator from Oregon. Mr. Kelley, twenty-two years ago, was a resident of Mifflin county.
