TED. -From the tone of the Washing-ton despatches, we are inclined to be heve that the Radicals will refuse to admit the newly elected Senator from North Carolina, Mr. Vance was a staunch Union man up to the time his state seceded, and then, like nearly all the best men of the South, he stood by the action of his native State He is a man of honor and the strictest integ-If the Radicals refuse to .admit nts. him, the Legislature will speedily re-turn some one who has had his disa-bilities removed. This discrimination against the best and purest men of the South, on account of their participa tiion in the rebellion, can not be kept up much fonger. The feeling which sustained it at the close of the war has hed out among the people of the North, and they are comparatively few who would not now gladly see a gener al amnesty proclaimed. A refusal to admit Senator Vance to his seat will only embilier the feelings of North Carolina without being productive of the slightest compensatory benefit.
