CHAPTER I.

A wild storm was raging upon the Mediterranean Sea...

She had on board two seamen, and two passengers.

These passengers were Englishmen, who had secured passage on the Thetis to Palermo...

While the Captain and his assistants were attending to their duties...

Then, the more striking of the two, was approached in the evening...

It was Jasper Lowder, Guy Tressilian's hired travelling companion...

The meeting and connection of the two had a touch of romance...

On the evening of the very day after this decision...

Without allowing him to speak, they forced him to defend himself...

This stranger who came so opportunely to Guy's assistance...

Without allowing him to speak, they forced him to defend himself...

Without allowing him to speak, they forced him to defend himself...

Without allowing him to speak, they forced him to defend himself...

Without allowing him to speak, they forced him to defend himself...

Without allowing him to speak, they forced him to defend himself...

"No, I have no ties," he said loudly.

"And you will go home with me?" "What will your father say to my coming?" demanded Lowder.

A sudden lurch of the vessel, a wave sweeping over the deck, interrupted the sentence.

"You wrong my father," said Tressilian, his blue eyes kindling...

"He doesn't seem very affectionate," remarked Lowder.

"You know, or can guess, the reason, Jasper," he said...

"Yes," assented Lowder.

"Yes," My father formed a project to have me marry Blanche...
