

Savings of Old Age.

No one denies that it is wise to make provision for old age, but we are not at all agreed as to the kind of provision it is best to lay in. Certainly we shall want a little money, for a decrepit old man is, indeed, a sorry sight; yes, save money by all means. But an old man needs just that particular kind of strength which young men are most apt to waste. Many a foolish young fellow will throw away on a holiday a certain amount of nervous energy which he will never feel the want of until he is 70, and then how much he will want it! It is curious, but true, that a bottle of champagne at twenty will intensify the rheumatism at three score. It is a fact that over-tasking the eyes at fourteen may necessitate the aid of spectacles at the age of forty instead of sixty. We advise our young readers to be saving of health for their old age, for the maximum health good in regard to health as to money—'Waste not, want not.' 'It is the greatest mistake to suppose that violation of the laws of health can escape its penalty. Nature forgives no sin, no error; she lets off the offender for fifty years sometimes, but she catches him at last, and inflicts the punishment just when, just where, and just how he feels it most. Save up for old age, but save knowledge; save the recollection of good and noble deeds, innocent pleasures, and pure thoughts; save friends; save love. Save rich stores of that kind of wealth which time cannot diminish nor death take away.

Why Jewesses are Beautiful

Chateaubriand gives a fanciful but an agreeable reason for the fact that Jewish women are so much handsomer than the men of their nation. He says Jewesses have escaped the curse which alights upon their fathers, husbands and sons. Not a Jewess was to be seen among the crowd of priests and rabble who insulted the Son of God, scourged him, crowned him with thorns, or subjected him to infamy and the agony of the cross. The women of Judaea believed in the Savior, and assisted and soothed him under affliction. A woman of Bethany poured on his head precious ointment, which she kept in a vase of alabaster. The sinner anointed his feet with perfumed oil and wiped them with her hair. Christ on his part extended mercy to the Jewesses. He raised from the dead the son of the widow of Nain and Martha's brother Lazarus. He cured Simon's mother-in-law, and the woman who touched the hem of his garment. To the Samaritan woman he was a spring of living water, and a compassionate judge to the woman in adultery. The daughters of Jerusalem wept over him, the holy woman accompanied him to Calvary, brought him balm and spices, and, weeping, sought him in the sepulchre. "Woman, why weepest thou?" His first appearance after the resurrection was to Mary Magdalene. He said to her, "Mary." At the sound of His voice Mary Magdalene's eyes were opened, and she answered, "Master." The reflection of some beautiful ray must have rested on the brow of the Jewess.

A DISCOURAGED CHILD.—A few days since there were several persons in a house where there was a young child some two or three days old—among them a black eyed boy of four summers. When the grandmother soon after came in with the baby in her arms, he was much pleased with it, kissed it and evinced every symptom of delight; asked his aunt where she got it, and was told she bought it of Dr. Adams; then asked how much she paid for it. She told him ten dollars. He then stood by her lap, on which the child was lying asleep, his eyes beaming with intense satisfaction. The babe soon awoke and squallied vociferously. Instantly his countenance fell; and with utter disgust pictured on his beautiful face, he turned around and said, "Aunt, if I was you, I'd take it back to Dr. Adams, and get my ten dollars again!"

The late John Allen known as the 'Wickedest Man in New York,' left an estate valued at $30,000.

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA,
$5000 WILL BE PAID
To any person producing any medicine able to show how many living, permanent cures as Dr. FITZ'S VERMILION RHEUMATISM REMEDY, and a further reward of $100 for any one of Neuralgia or Rheumatism it will cure. This Rheumatic Symplic was used inwardly only, pleasant to the taste, and guaranteed free from injurious drugs. It is not a Quack Medicine, but the scientific prescription of J. W. P. FITZ, M. D., Professor of Toxicology and Chemistry, graduate of the celebrated University of Pennsylvania, A. D. 1843, whose entire professional life has been devoted especially to this disease, and his practice conducted strictly thereto. This preparation is believed, conscientiously, under solemn oath, to be the only positive, reliable, infallible specific ever discovered. As an evidence of confidence in its wonderful merit, a legal and correct contract will be forwarded without charge, to any suffering sufferer by letter a description of affliction, the contract setting forth the number of bottles warranted to cure, and in case of failure, amount paid for the medicine cheerfully refunded. This fair and generous offer securely protects sufferers from quick impositions and useless expensiveness of money. Medical advice, with certificates from prominent Physicians, Clergymen etc., who have been cured after all other treatments failed, sent by letter, gratis. Afflicted parties invited to write to the proprietor, at his principal office, 26 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. Dr. FITZ'S RHEUMATISM SYMPPLIC IS SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. 16-16-17
