Proceedings of the Democratic State Editorial Convention.

Pursuant to resolution adopted at the Altoona meeting, and agreeably to call of the President, the Democratic Editorial Association of Pennsylvania convened its first regular annual meeting at the Bush House Assembly Rooms, Bellefonte, Tuesday, June 13, 1871, at 10.30 A. M. MORNING BESSION.

The President, Mr. Jacob Ziegler, of the Butler Herald, called the convention to, order and introduced the businces of the meeting with the following remarks :

About a year ago a meeting of the Democratic editors of the State was held at Altoona, at which time I was elected President and Mr. P. Gray Meek, of the Bellefonte WATCHMAN, Secretary, but no constitution was adopted until'a later meeting, held at Harrisburg, when the following articles were agreed upon :

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 1. This organization shall be known The DEMOCRATIC EDITORIAL ABSOCIATION OF as The DEMOCRATIO EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION OF Prevalutable ARTICLE 11 Its object shall be to secure unity of action in the promotion of Democrat-be prioriphen, the furtherance of the informet-othe hemeeratic party, and the cultivation of fraternal feeling among the members of the taxes action of Internal feeling among the members of the two-existion Arrive III The officers shall consist of a Pre-soluti, Vice-President, Recretary, Corre-porting Sourchry, Trassurer, and Executive formatice of three, who shall serve one year, or and their successors shall be elected, their duties shall be those usually perturbing to that their successors shall be one regular meture the successful on each year, on the mean Tue-shall be those usually perturbing and by the Association from time to time, age and meetings to be called by the Presi-dent by and with the compone of the Execu-te of muttees. Astrix V Nine members shall constitute

The object of the Association was declared to be to create a more fraternal feeling among the Democratic edi tors of the State, and to agree upon some concert of action in regard to the elections; and I would suggest as a first step, that each of the gentlemen present sign the constitution, and thus identify himself with the Association.

A motion was made by Mr. Dieffenbach, that all the Democratic editors of the State be considered members of the Association.

Considerable discussion ensuing.Mr. W. P. Furey, offered the following amendment, which was accepted by Mr Dieffenbach and unanimously adopted by the Association, viz :

Records of the resolution, the i Readed. That all editors of Democratic new spapers, who shall notify the Secretary previous to the next annual meeting, of their endorsement of the constitution and objects of this association, and pledge themselves to attend its annual meetings, shall be deemed members de facto

It was agreed that such editors as signify their willingness to become members be requested to authorize the secretary to sign their names to the constitution.

AFTERNOON SESSION,
