The season of dog-days will soon be here. Get your muzzles ready. The season for putting up berries, &c., has arrived. We notice it is berry expensive. The snapping and cracking around town reminds us that Tuesday will be the "gellorious" fourth again. The Radical papers are but illy pleased with the nomination of STANTON and BEATH. This we can see with half an eye. If everybody would pay their debts, there would be more money in Bellefonte now. We're as poor as Job's turkey. The sun will be partially eclipsed on Sunday the 2d of July, and the Radical party totally on the second Tuesday of October. JEFFERSON DAVIS "accepts nothing" ULYSSES S. GRANT accepts everything. There is a big difference between the two men. Dr. BROWN, of the Republican, has been chosen a member of the Radical State Central Committee. Will the Dr. take the stump? Don't look for the WATCHMAN next week. It's 4th of July, and we don't propose to issue any. The boys and girls want a play spell. GEN. McCANDLESS, our distinguished candidate for State Auditor, is winning all hearts. Even the bitterest of the opposition can find nothing to say against him. Vice-President COLFAX is getting over his recent severe spell of sickness. We guess he'll be a little careful after this how he treats an empty stomach to cigar smoke. Dr. BROWN, of the Republican, formerly a Know-nothing, admits, in his last issue, that St. Peter was the first Pope and reigned 25 years. The Doctor is coming round. The Democracy are getting ready to prosecute a vigorous campaign. They are determined to win, and this is half the victory. So, Radicals, stand under, if you dont want to be crushed! The absorbing question in this county now appears to be whether we shall have a narrow or ordinary guage railroad through Pennsylvania. This question, like all others, seems to have two sides. GRANT and CAMERON compose the ticket that is to be—for the Radicals. One, the drunken receiver of presents; the other the robber of the poor Indians and the National treasury. What a delightful couple! One of our exchanges modestly hints that the lately married wife of one of our Senators—Gen. Ames—is at work on some smaller clothing than she has made since she dressed her dolls. We wonder what he means. The Meadville Republican gets off the following good one: In Petroleum Centre William H. Hart got the start of Mary Jane Baldwin in a love affair. The girl made a legal start, and started housekeeping with Mary Jane according to law. The next event in the State will be a little startling. Both parties colored! In spite of what the radicals call out "new departure," we are just where we stood last year—opposed to everything in the shape of nigger suffrage. So far as that is concerned, with all other Radical legislation of like character, we don't and never will "accept the situation." Our exchanges all over the State are squiring Centre county milk at SANSON, of the Indiana Democrat. Poor fellow—he not only missed the trout supper here, but fell into the creek up in Walkins Glen and spoiled all his nice Sunday clothes. Some fellows do have sick luck. The Chillicothe (Ohio) Tribune states that Gov. ALCORN of Mississippi, has appointed HIRAM R. REVELS, ex-United States Senator, President of the Alcorn University at Jackson, in that State. Isn't that a spectacle for white men to look at? A negro in the chair of a white man's college! But, perhaps, as it is called after ALCORN, it isn't so much of a white man's college, after all. A Radical paper commends Democratic Gov. HOFFMAN, of New York, for refusing to sign one hundred and forty bills passed by the late Democratic Legislature of that State. Nobody, however, can commend Radical Governor GEARY for doing the same thing to the same amount of bills passed by the Radical Legislature of this State. Which shows the difference between a Democratic and a Radical Governor.

The "Outrage" Business. Radical newspapers have made a deal of fuss over what they call the outrages committed by the Southern people upon the persons of the innocent and lamb like carpet baggers. Among other States in which these carryings-on are said to be particularly rampant, is the State of Alabama, where all sorts of terrible things are said to be committed weekly and even daily. Well, Congress, at its last sitting, appointed what it termed a "Southern Outrage Committee," whose business it was to investigate these so-called outrages and make as much capital out of them for the Radical party as it could. On the 23d instant, this committee had before it Hon. RICHARD BUSTEED, United States District Judge of Alabama, who was appointed to his present position by President LINCOLN. Judge BUSTEED is a New York Radical and has all along been a very strong party man. Out of him the committee got the following testimony: In reply to the question by the Chairman he said he had been told confidentially a year and a half ago, by a citizen of Huntsville, Ala., that there was a Ku Klux organization in the Northern part of the State. His informant did not tell him its object, nor did he know from any other source. He believed now that there was such an organization in that State. Having been asked whether there was any danger to person and property, he replied that those were as safe as in any other part of the Union. Since the administration of Governor Lindsay and the retirement of Gov. Wm. H. Smith, public quiet and tranquility were essentially preserved. As to the character of persons holding subordinate official positions, under the State Constitution, he said it was generally notorious, both as to intelligence and honesty. He had been in the State since 1865, having previously been appointed Judge by President Lincoln. There had been no obstruction to the administration of the affairs of his office, or to the law of the land, except in the case of the Republican Auditor of the State, who disobeyed the injunction of the Court, for which he was fined and imprisoned. The greatest respect was paid to the authority of lawyers, senators and jurors and all other parties. With regard to the feelings of the people toward the general government he thought it was to be obeyed, by the law, and that they were, although there was a deep seated conviction that they were not equal and impartial. There was other testimony showing that the people of Alabama render full obedience to the law, and that there is in that State ample security to life and property, with continuous improvements in all public and private relations. Such is the testimony of JUDGE BUSTEED, then whom a more ardent Radical does not live. But, devoted to his party as he is, he is too honorable to lie to please his party leaders. He will not say that Alabama is under a reign of Ku Klux terrorism, because such is not the case, and he knows it. And he further states that since 1865, when he first assumed the duties of his Judgeship, there has been but one instance of where his administration of his office or the laws of the country was obstructed, and that was in the case of the Republican Auditor of the State who disobeyed the injunction of the court, for which he was fined and imprisoned. This does not look as if the people of Alabama are opposing the laws or inciting insurrection and strife against the government, or the people going to live among them from the north. But we have still further evidence of the peaceable disposition of the people of Alabama in the following extract from the Daily State Journal, the organ of the Republican party in that State. The Journal says: We have lived in this State for more than a quarter of a century and have never felt in a quarter of a century or property on account of political opinions. We are sincere in our Republicanism, and we feel safe because we are our people, and honestly believe that we are pursuing a course that will redound to their peace, happiness and prosperity. Those men who call themselves Republicans and who are continually trying to get into office by stirring up discord and strife, and poisoning the minds of voters in secret dens at midnight, where honest men and sincere Republicans are plotting against, simply because they are honest and sincere and have social standing in the community, may feel unsafe. We in do not do such things upon the whole people of this State. Radical, vituperous Ku-Klux officers seekers of every party are doing us more harm as a people than all the liels ever written. We believe that every honest man is safe in Alabama, no matter what his political opinions are. Such is the testimony from the highest Radical sources in regard to this "outrage" business. As Judge BUSTEED and the State Journal say it is in Alabama, so is it in every State in the South. Gov. SCOTT, of South Carolina, says every thing is quiet in that State, and he actually went to Washington to protest against the sending of any troops there by the government. In fact, there has never been anything in the "outrage" cry anyway. It has all existed in the fertile imaginations of the Radical leaders in the Washington, whose sole idea was to make political capital by holding up whole Southern people as a vast community of rebels. Thanks to the good sense of the country, however, this thing is rapidly playing out, and the horrible tales of blood and rapine, sent up by paid pumps and spies in the interest of Radicalism, are no longer believed. As for the "Southern Outrage Committee," it will have but a slender report to make to his employers, unless it can get somebody else before it less conscientious than DICK BUSTEED or the editor of the State Journal. The Radical party is welcome to all the capital it can construct out of the sworn and written testimony of those two men. Cameron for Vice President. It seems to be generally conceded that GRANT is to be renominated for President in 1872 by the Radicals. In fact, they do not mention any other man. ULYSSES appears to have a clear track, and we haven't the least doubt but that he will be entered for the race by the Radical managers. Really, the Vice Presidency seems to be creating more interest among our Radical friends than the Presidency. Having made up their minds that GRANT is to be their candidate for the latter office, they have dropped that matter, and are now looking anxiously about them for a Vice Presidential candidate. This they are likely soon to discover in the person of SIMON CAMERON, who is thrusting himself forward with the intention of getting put on for the second office in the Union. It is rather a bold move on SIMON'S part, too, for never before has he ventured to place himself where he would stand the chance of a rejection by the people. All CAMERON'S points have been made through the State Legislature, when his gold opened to him the gates of preferment and placed him higher up on the list of than better men, who, for the lack of his means, were forced to be content with humbler positions. CAMERON, all through his political life, seems to have had a consciousness that he could not succeed before the people; hence he has never dared to present his name for any popular office. That he does it now, is remarkable, and shows that his vaulting ambition has never yet been satisfied. We are of the opinion that CAMERON will be GRANT'S right bower in the coming Presidential campaign. CURTIN and GEARY may both work as much as they please to prevent this, but we do not think their efforts will accomplish anything. We guess it is a "set up" job, GRANT having been persuaded into believing that it is necessary to have CAMERON on the ticket in order to carry Pennsylvania for the Radicals. We might tell him, parenthetically, that it will be like putting a millstone around his own neck, but it don't matter to us. If the Radical party can carry GRANT through it will be wonderful, but if they can carry him through with the dead weight of SIMON CAMERON clinging to him, we shall begin to look for a return to the days of miracles. "Catching at Straws." The Harrisburg Telegraph, more particularly than any other radical paper, we see keeps up a constant clatter about "dissension in the Democratic ranks." It has named the WATCHMAN very often among the "dissensionists." We suppose it is. Our dissatisfaction as well as the dissatisfaction of every other Democratic journal it has mentioned, is not with the ticket, but with the "ninth resolution." We do not propose electing resolutions. We intend electing the ticket named by the convention that tried foolishly to commit the party, as a party, to a doctrine it cannot and will not endorse. If the astute editor of the Telegraph can tell us what the Auditor and Surveyor General, have to do with resolutions about the fourteenth and fifteenth so called amendments, we will have some idea why it could be necessary, in one who opposes the ninth resolution, to oppose the ticket. We are for McCANDLESS and COOPER because they are Democrats and will make honest, efficient officers—we are "fernest" the ninth resolution, because it is a piece of political trickery and folly that Democrats cannot endorse, and has nothing to do with either the Auditor or Surveyor General's office. If the only hope the Harrisburg Telegraph and Radicalism generally has of the success of its ticket, is in the imagined division of the Democratic party about the ninth resolution, they can Wait, watch and hope. Look, long, and wonder. Till Stanton and Beath And Cameron their chief, Are dead, d—d and gone under, before they will see a fight in the Democratic ranks That will defeat that party, and secure to mongrelized radicalism another lease of the offices it has so unworthily filled. Have They Nothing New? The old stuff over again! As the fellow said who had lived on liver for three hundred and forty days out of the three hundred and sixty-five, 'tis rather good for an occasional meal, but devilish hard livin' when you take it the year round! So it is with Radical newspaper arguments. The first time we heard them in the campaign of 1861, they did, for want of something better. When that political fight closed we expected something new would be originated by the next fall, but it came, and with it the regular campaign, and with the regular campaign, the same old hash-dish that had been served up weekly the year before. And since that we have had the same stuff, week after week, through every campaign, just as regular as radical papers were issued, and now at the beginning of another one, we see nothing offered but the musty old slops that have been diaped up weekly since '61—"rebel," "copperhead," "sympathizer," "treason,"—and on through the entire catalogue of names and epithets, that have been the only stock in trade of men who have no reasons to give, why their party should be retained in place and power, and have no hope of success, only through the hates and prejudices of others just as senseless as themselves. In the name of all that is decent, have radical papers and speakers nothing else to offer to the people? Should a man vote for STANTON and BEATH, because their particular advocates and admirers call every body who don't agree with them? "rebels," "sympathizers," "copperheads," &c. ? What other reason has any radical paper given why they should be supported? The simple fact that the entire stock in trade of radical politicians, for the past ten years, has been a chronic diarrhea of epithets and names, is proof positive that they can give no reason, produce no argument, why any one should support the nominations of their party. Can they say the government is administered better than when democrats were in power? No! Can they say that taxes to keep up their administration are less than under democratic rule? No! Can they say the country is now more peaceful, prosperous and happy than before they became the administrators of public affairs? No! Can they say they have not stolen from the people millions upon millions of dollars paid in as taxes? No! Can they say they have not disgraced the white race of this country, by forcing them to an equality at the polls, with barbarous, ignorant and depraved negroes? No! Can they say they have not disgraced, demoralized and debauched the entire Government by their infamous legislation, their corrupt practices and their disgraceful teachings? No! Look the matter squarely, fairly in the face, honest, intelligent voter, and tell us what reason you have for voting for a party that has stolen more in ten years than the entire expenses of the government for the fifty preceding years? What reason you have for voting for a party that forces negro suffrage, negro jurors and negro equality in every way it could upon you, in opposition to your wishes and in opposition to the known desire of the masses of the people? Radical papers are just now howling very loudly about what they imagine is a "split" in the Democratic party. They have never heard, perhaps, of the "split stick," that is fixed on purpose to catch "gudgeons," or in their dreamy imaginations they wouldn't see much to blather about. "Splits" are bad things to get your political fingers in, gentlemen. The weather is cool and pleasant.

Blood-Sucking Radicals. A negro on the Gibraltar plantation, aided by a woman, seized a little boy, cut his body and drank his blood, then cut off his upper lip, which they roasted and ate. They did these barbarous acts, indifferent to the child's cries, which were finally heard by a man in the neighborhood who rescued the boy. The little fellow retained his senses and lived long enough, notwithstanding the entrance protruded, to give the particulars of how he was treated.—Exchange. All of which happened on that desolate island of San Domingo, which GRANT was so anxious to annex to the United States. Those blood sucking, lip-devouring people, are the individuals of whom the present Chief Magistrate of the Union desires to make voters and the social and political equals of the free white citizens of this Government. Are they not an enviable set and would they not have been a most desirable connection? Thank goodness and the independence of some of GRANT'S own party, we have not been associated with those wretches yet. But for this happy escape, we are not at all indebted to the President. Had he all he could to bring them into our social and political family, and that they are not now sitting at our hearthstones is owing to the brave opposition of the Democracy, and the disgust of some comparatively honest Radicals with the measure. Had GRANT succeeded in his design, we might about this time have had those blood-sucking and lip-eating scoundrels handling the ballot and electing Radical whipper-snappers to office, and sending delegates to the next Radical convention to renominate their master to the Presidency. Fortunately, we have thus far been able to keep separate and apart. But nobody knows just how long this will be the case. Grant may let the San Domingo scheme rest now until after his re-election, if such a calamity is to be permitted to befall us. But just as sure as he again attains to power, he will re-ignite the matter and strain every nerve to get those cursed niggers into the Union as Radical voters. The people will, therefore, see how necessary it is this Radical party should be beaten this fall in Pennsylvania and throughout the Union in '72. If we can wax them this fall in this State, we lay a sure foundation for a grand triumph in the Presidential contest. Let the people think of this and determine to put their feet upon a party that embrace in its designs such an abominable and disgusting scheme as the enfranchisement of the cannibal Negroes of San Domingo. Let mothers who have little children—whose blood these wretches would suck and whose lips they would roast and eat if they could get the chance—say whether they are fit to be made citizens of a great country like this, and urge their husbands to abandon a party that contemplates such horrible associations. Who Will It Be? That the Democracy will find a suitable candidate for President in due time, there is not the least doubt. Brains are not so scarce in the Democratic ranks as to make this an uncertainty. Our Radical friends, who are so anxious to know who our candidate will be, can take to themselves the assurance that it will not be one of their old, played out statesmen. We have men that are both able and available, and when the proper time arrives, one of these will be put in nomination with all due harmony. And then we shall immediately proceed to elect him. We have made up our minds to this, and intend to carry out the entire programme. As the initiatory step to this, we shall elect McCANDLESS and COOPER this fall, and thus bring Pennsylvania up standing and ready to take the central position in the Vanguard of the Democratic host. Under these gallant leaders, we shall this fall thoroughly reconnoiter the enemy's position and win the first battle of the grand contest. Then, flushed with victory and with our ranks firmly organized and well supported by the Democracy of the other States, we shall move upon the false positions assumed by the Radical party and carry them at the point of Principal and Right, in the presidential struggle. We tell you, gentlemen Radicals, that you must get ready for the biggest, the greatest, the most overwhelming defeat that your party has ever experienced. We intend to whip you fairly and honorably—something that you never did with us. Our candidate will be forthcoming whenever he is wanted, but it is better for GRANT'S peace of mind that he should not be known just yet. When he does make his appearance, your little martinet of a President will find him a great, intellectual, towering genius, whose hand will wrench from him and hold the helm of State, as firmly and as wisely as ever it was held in the glorious days of ANDREW JACKSON. Look out for him, Radicals—he's a-coming. Information Wanted. One of the duties of the Democratic party as stated in the address of the Democratic State Central Committee, is "to maintain unimpaired the reserved rights of the States." Will the distinguished author of that address have the kindness to inform the public how the reserved rights of the States are to be maintained if we accept as a completed and binding fact, so called amendments to the Federal Constitution, that disregard and outrage every principle of State sovereignty? Will he inform us how the reserved "rights of the States are to be maintained," if we recognize the doctrine that so fearfully violates them as a "dead issue," and the discussion of which should "deprecatd"? If the dogmas of the fifteenth amendment are part of the Federal Constitution, binding as the balance of that instrument, and to be recognized and regarded as "part of the bond," will he please tell us what reserved rights the States have left to maintain? Why can't Congressman BOWEN be allowed to go to prison, like any other criminal? A strong effort is being made to have him pardoned by the President, in spite of the fact of a fair conviction and a letter to GRANT from the Mayor of New York showing that his divorce from his first wife was a fraudulent one and that BOWEN knew it. We notice that it is one thing to be a Radical Congressional bigamist and another to be only a private bigamist on a small scale. In the latter case the penitentiary doors would shut a fellow in without ceremony. In the former, even after the law has pronounced a man guilty, it is a debatable question whether or not he ought to be punished. Tariff and Shoes.—A protest by the shoe manufacturers of the United States against exhorbitant tariffs, a copy of which is now before us, foot up the entire duties, as levied on the articles used in the manufacture of boots and shoes, in this country, at eighteen millions of dollars, out of which the government derives but three millions five hundred thousand dollars. The balance, fourteen millions five hundred thousand, goes into the pockets of the manufacturers of leather, lasting, pegs, &c. That is the way tariff "protects American industry." The man who wears shoes pays it—the man who makes the leather and lasting pockets it. Beautiful system, ain't it? Oh, protection! Oh, humbug! The Democracy of the country have some reason to congratulate themselves upon the final selection of JAMES A. WESTON to be Governor of New Hampshire. The vote was a very close one; so close, indeed, that we were apprehensive that the Radicals would count the Democratic candidate out, as they did in Connecticut. Happily, however, the Legislature of New Hampshire was Democratic, and the choice of the people has been sustained. Thus the eternal principles of Democracy have once more triumphed in the old Granite State. The Evening Telegraph, yesterday, reviewed the career of Mr. Simon Cameron by saying among other things "that Mr. Cameron's administration of the War Department was so notoriously corrupt, that Mr. Lincoln was compelled to send him to Russia to get rid of him and his ring of lawning cormorants. It records that in almost every battle our armies were badly armed, clothed, fed and organized, during his stay in the War Office, and that during the same time, the secrets of that office were sold to the Rebels openly; that its shameless traffic in contracts and shoulder straps, was a disgrace to the nation, and that Mr. Lincoln is alleged to have said that "while the United States government is strong enough to carry on the rebellion and to whip the Rebels, it is too weak to carry Mr. Cameron." This outbreak is due to the fact that Cameron is maneuvering for the vice-Presidency, and the Radical party thinks it has enough of bad nominations to carry.—Age. Drinking large draughts of rain water, with plenty of "wrigglers" in it, is the latest cure for consumption. Hamburg numbers thirteen lodges of Freemasons, with about twenty-one hundred members.
