

The Newspaper Publishers.

The following decision by Judge Sherman, of the United States district court, at Cleveland, Ohio, is very important to both publishers and advertisers.

United States vs W. K. Brown. The following decision by the court has special interest for newspaper publishers.

This is a motion for a new trial, on which the court is asked to review the evidence on which a verdict was rendered against the defendant at the present term.

It cannot be very flattering either to Secretary Boutwell or to American pride to be told that the French five per cent loan was almost immediately taken up by European capitalists.

Circumstantial Evidence.

A remarkable case, showing the danger of trusting implicitly to circumstantial evidence, has recently been completed in Toledo.

The main points in the evidence on which he was convicted were the apparent correspondence of the shot in the body of the dead man with that in the shot belonging to Harrington.

It was further proven that Sharp was dejected when he arrived in Toledo, and that Harrington was doing his best to aid him in procuring employment.

The thief's exploit. There is a tale among the Hindus that a thief, having been detected and condemned to die, happily lit upon an expedient which gave him hope for life.

But he added, 'this must be put into the ground by a hand that has never been stained by a dishonest act. My hand is not clean, therefore I pass it to your majesty.'

It is not to be very flattering either to Secretary Boutwell or to American pride to be told that the French five per cent loan was almost immediately taken up by European capitalists.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION IN NEW YORK.

The Steamboat Westfield Blown to Atoms.

EIGHT HUNDRED PERSONS ON BOARD.

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN HURLED IN THE AIR.

The Scene Baffles Description.

New York, July 30.—One of the most horrible explosions that ever happened in this vicinity occurred this afternoon at Staten Island Ferry.

When the explosion took place, the front of the boiler was suddenly blown out and dashed forward, by the force of the explosion, into the bow of the steamer, thirty feet distant.

One ambulance held a number of young children, whose disfigured little faces and closed eyes presented a pitiable and touching sight.

Many of the persons thrown into the water by the explosion saved their lives by clinging to the piles till help arrived, when they were taken off in boats.

The surgeons at the various hospitals assembled all their available force for the occasion. At the Park hospital, the first intimation received of the explosion was the arrival of a carriage at 2 P. M.

Beds in the wards were soon full, and afterwards beds were improvised by placing straw and blankets on the floor. To add to the horror in the hospital, inflammation in many cases set in shortly after their arrival.

A reeking stench comes up from the Radical flesh-pots. Ever and anon some angry fellow who fails to get his share of the leaves and fishes, sits up the unsavory mess and so offends the olfactory of the public.

An explosion of petroleum at Rheims, France, on Monday last, caused the death of fifty persons and the destruction of many buildings.
