WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES!

It would be an exceedingly hard matter to tell where all the taxes that are stolen from the people go to, but a few of the pockets into which they go are newed in the pants of the follow ing loil radicals

Gen. Horace Porter, of the Presdeat a staff, receives two salarum, one as Brigadier General in the army, and one as Private Secretary to the Prest dent-both from the Government,

Gen. DENT, the President's brother it law, receives two salaries, one as Briga dier General in the arms, and one as Chief Usher at the White House. He uncollected taxes. This is wonderfully exdraws both from the Government

FRED GRANT, Son of the President, in tenant of Cavalry from the Government, and one as Civil Engineer from the Pacific Railroad Company.

Gen. Bancock, Aid de Camp to the President, is now receiving two salaries, one as Colonel in the army and anoth er as GRANT & Real Estate Agent in San Domingo, for which he is paid commission and mileage by the Govern

These are but a few of the radical tax stealers.

When the thirty six mills of tax the tax cursed citizens of Bellefonte pay go to perhaps the radical council or the editorof the Republican knows. We dont.

BROWN AS A FINANCIER.

The 'Exhorbitant' Six Mill Tax Again. The Treasurer vs. Dr. Brown.

The following letter from Mr. Wolf, the county Treasurer, effectually disposes of all Dr. Brown's charges against the commissioners and collectors in regaidto the county finances. The only eason why Brown keeps this thing up, is because he is stranded on a lee shore, with both wind and tide against him, The ullows of destruction are roaring all around him, threatening every straw at which he grasps to save him self from sinking beneath the waves all right and proper, and the "default- triumph. ing collectors" are not defaulting collectors at all. Mr. Wolf conclusively proves this, and vindicates every asser tion contained in his former letter.

As for pulling the wool over the eyes of the people, which the Republican charges is attempted to be done by Mr. Work and the editor of this paper, no man ever tried harder to do that than Dr. Brows. In fact, his whole life has been devoted to this one object. But the people would'nt be gulled by him, and his disastrous tailure has coured his temper, and made him suspicious of the motive of others. He has attemped to 'roar like a hon, but Eas only succeeded in braying like a jackass. But here is Treasurer Woll's letter Sless & Fiditors of the Watchman The financial editor of the Republican is agum, in his stereotyped language, growling shoul the county taxes. He is charitable enough to believe me to have signed a paper which I had not read, &c Everybody will no doubt, evince an equal degree of charity to ward him in believing him to be the author of everything pfirporting to flow from his dia mond (?) pen, for nobody but Brown could garble such an "exhorbitant" amount of falsehoods and vagaries, coupled with bad grain mar and werse orthography, in the same time and space he does. In fact, he boasted to a certain democrat the other day that when it came down to plain lying he could beat any man in the examty. His materients about the Innances substantiate this assertion and, in this one particular, we give him credit for speaking the truth. The fact is Brown never ould figure up the county accounts properly Nine years ago, when Treasurer of the county be sunk into such a deep mire of mextricable onfusion that he has not been able to rid himself to thus day. In his flighty imagination he "sees visions and dreams dreams". He chains a large creditable him from the county Aut perther the auditors, commissioners, hor to the same light, and in his misery he eries out, Im murdered! The Republican party has butchered me. Brown would better go about his business, instead of attempting to malign and abuse the character of true and honost men, and in the language of the chair man of the Republican Convention last week so perimently addressed to han, whenever the people want him to oversess the hunners of the county. They will send for him,"

The great financial is sorely troubled about the commissions and exonerations silowed collecting. In the first place he growle at no item in the ac liters' report of $82,70, reprsenting combussions and exonerations are a fravagint in the great economists eye blues bus streets an element of functional now receiving two salaries, one as Lieu | chough, in order to place the balance of the ecount beyond carll or dispute. Yet after steering his fragile little craft against this Scylla evidently not understanding anything dioutit be veers round and encounters a Cuarybelts, and with his philosophical vision discerns that, because Martin Brumgart, collector of Walker township, for 1869, states to him that he wronged him (Brumgart) by publishing him as a defaulter - that the balance of his dividents would be due little as commis sion and exonerations—ergo the whole balance of outstan ling taxes will be consumed in this

Proof-"multiply 169 by 63 " (*) Now Brown, if you have any regard for truth ook for a moment at the account of Martin Brumgart, and then turn back hundred thousand nine hundred and your sensibilities are not too blunted, and ask pardon for assailing the characters of men-like Martin Brumgart, "the latchet of whose those you are not worthy to unloose."

61,00 -$160 94 Cash Here it is in a nutshell, and there are scores of other similar accounts. Are you not asham ed to call such men defaulting collectors? Forsooth! defaulting collectors, Let us see, who are the defaulters. It is a fact to which very collector of this Borough will toxify that Brown has'nt paid his taxes for hye years and it is just on account of such drones as Brown, that collectors have trouble to collect and pay in their balances, and in some cases collect them. And yet he has the audacity and brazen impunity, to assault the character of the best men in the county, and is mean mough to class them as "defaulters"

I deem it unnecessary to say anything more upon this subject, and therefore dismiss it for nobody but a silly dupe would believe Brown's ridiculous assertion that the collectors' accounts stand to-day as they did nine months ago, and yet this is the whole theme of his malicious attack. If he were in the habit of paying his taxes, he would vent some of his spleen against the borough authorities for assessing thirty six mills of taxes upon property, instead of the commissioners, lovy but six mills, but in the great economist's view, six mills is "exhorbitant," while he is

ARE YOU REGISTERED?

That is the question for Democrats to answer now. There is nothing more important in a political campaign than to see that every Democrat is registered. First see that your name is upon the registery. If it is not there have it put there AT ONCE Do not but this off until you forget it. AT-TEND TO IT NOW. After you are certain your own name is upon the list, see then that your Democratic neighbor's name is there too. If there is a Democrat in the township whose moment to engulf his weak and timid name is not upon the list sec to it that craft, and the county finances are the it is placed there. It makes the same promises now. And yet in the face of these we have the statement of the hundreds of thousands of dollars stolen by its agent Evans, and no effort made to bring him to justice; but every delay is used as a means to permit the thiel and scoundrel to escape, because he is a Republican, and connected with a ring whose chief business it is to rob the Treasury of the State. No man was thus permitted to escape under Democratic rule. He was speedily brought to justice, and the most condign punishment inflicted. The whole issue is briefly summed up in one son-It is corruption and public plunder against honesty and the rights of the people. The Republican party have destroyed the rights of the people, the freedom of the ballot; it has burdened you with debt and taxation. It has annually robbed the Treasury of the nation of millions of dollars; hundied- of thousands have been stolen from the Treasury of the State by a corrupt and loathsome ring with which Stanton and Beath, the Republican done under the cry of retrenchment and reform. In General William McCandless we have at once the gen-tleman, soldier, patriot and statesman. Pew men have made so brilliant, hon orable and lasting a record in the annals of their country, so early in life. He comes from among the people; he is one of them; their interests are his. 'lle is a son of toil, and whether in the machine shop earning his bread in the ament of his face; or grasping the throttle of his engine, to guide it with its precious weight of living, trusting freight, in safety through its incident danger; or plending a client's cause with eloquence and minute precision; or leading the brave boys of the Pennsylvania Reserve into the hottest of the battle of Spottsylvania, or down the slope of the 'Round Top' at Gettys-burg, fearless and undaunted; or rais ing the voice of warning or advice in the Legislative Halls of the State, it has all been for the safety, prosperity ters, and preserve the dignity and hon-

and welfure of the people.
In 1866, General McCandless was the Democratic nominee of the first senatorial district. Notwithstanding the district usually gave over 1600 Re publican majority, so popular is he among his immediate fellow citizens, that he carried the district by over 17(K) majority, and for three years 17(6) majority, and for three years served the party and people most faith fully in the State Senate. Thus we have both Demo crate and Republicans testifying to the worth of Captain Cooper as a man and a Democrat. He is a special favorite in the western part of the State, and his ticket. It remains for us in the central and eastern part of the State, to up roll for him such a majority as will scatter the broken and shattered ranks of Republicanism, rotten as it is in its own corruption.

His whole legislative career is before us, as one who was carnest, honey, and labored continually for the webere of his constituents. The character of legislation introduced and passed by him, was such as to benfit and protect the laborary chases, and of his good in laboring classes, and of his second in standing by the toiling tax-payers of the county, he, as well as the party that he represents, may well be proud. In every contest where the interests of the Democratic party were at stake, Mr. Meek was never found wanting, always at his post, ready to do battle

GRANT'S MILITARY USURPATION. From a Speech at Loveland, Ohio, on Aug. 21, by George H. Pendleton.

The present Congress passed a Ku Klux bill. Do you remember its provisions? Whenever the Presidentshall believe that in any State a combination ot persons shall seek to deprive may man of his rights, the President may take jurisdiction of the subject, and if in his opinion the State authorities shall be unwilling to redress the wrong, he may suspend the writ of haheus corpus, declare martial law, oust the authorities of all their powers and functions, shut up the courts, diemiss the juries, unseat the judges, and take redress and punishment into his own hands.

Gentlemen, do you appreciate this law? A month ago a mob entered a jail in Illinois and hung one of the prisoners. The President might under this law suspend the writ of habas corpus in the State and establish there a martial government. In the city of New York a riot occurred and lives were lost. The President might under this law suspend the present govern ment of that State, and govern it by the army and his generals. Gen. Grant will never use these powers wrongfully, say his sycophants. Gentlemen, this is the insanity of folly. He will apply it wherever passion is to be gratified or elections are to be carried. He has never refused to exercise power. When Georgia voted agriest him for President, he asked authority to suspend the Siste government. When Congress delayed, or in the end refused it, he sent Gen
