The "Evans Fraud."

The Deputy Attorney, General J. M. McClure, who had the courage to expose the 'Evans fraud,' and who was removed on Wednesday last for so doing, has published the following letter, which will go far to confirm the 'perfect harmony' of our Radical friends in this State:

HARRISBURG, August 30, 1871.—Hon. F. Carroll Brewster, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, Sir: Up until the time when I discovered your letter to my messenger, Mr. Geary, of F. Rose, I expected that my removal from the office of Deputy Attorney General would be made in a gentlemanly manner, but those letters led me to expect just such treatment at your hands as I have received.

I fully expected to be removed. First—because at our interview, at my house, on Tuesday night, the 15th instant, you informed me that Governor Geary fervently demanded my removal. Second—because I believed such would be the result that would follow my exposure of the notorious transactions of Governor Geary and his miserable special agent. You will remember that I so stated when I submitted the papers to you at Atlantic City, on Friday, the 11th instant.

At our interview on Tuesday night above mentioned, you informed me that Governor Geary demanded my removal because I had used my official or semi-official position to procure official papers from the Treasury of the United States and from the departments of this State. True it is I did not state, when I asked for those papers, that they were for my private use, simply because such statement would have been false. Nor did I purposely conceal the fact that I intended to publish them, as Governor Geary would testify, if he could in any way be induced to speak the truth.

Governor Geary himself informed me, at our conference on Tuesday evening, the 8th instant, that he had heard from persons in the Auditor General's and State Treasurer's Departments that I was preparing a statement for publication in relation to the collection of State Claims against the United States. The very first use I made of the original papers in my possession was an official or public one. Immediately upon receiving them (on the 9th or 10th instant) I exhibited them to the Auditor General, and suggested to him that immediate steps be taken to investigate the matter and secure the money clearly owing to the State.

I also submitted the papers to the cashier of the State Treasury, Mr. Nicholson, in the absence of Mr. Mackey. Almost before the ink was dry upon the certificate of the State Treasurer and upon that of Mr. Weakley, Deputy Secretary of State, to the copies of the commission and bond of Mr. Special Agent Evans, I took the care for Philadelphia for the purpose of submitting the documents to you, as I felt in duty bound. You were not in Philadelphia, and I at once, on ascertaining this fact by going to your office, telegraphed to you at Atlantic City, asking where I could meet you. Your reply reached me too late for the train that evening (Thursday evening, August 10th). I then telegraphed you that I would be with you next morning. I exhibited the papers to you before twelve o'clock noon on Friday, the 11th instant.

I then deemed my official duty done in that regard, but I conscientiously believed that I had yet a duty to perform as a simple citizen. So thick was the air with rumors and reports of fraud and corruption in the collection of the war claims of almost every State—more particularly Kentucky—that I regarded the publication—for the information of the people at large—of the facts in my possession as a duty I could not shirk. I have performed that duty fearlessly, against your protest and despite the whining pleadings of Governor Geary that I would not expose his special agent. Query: Was Governor Geary only concerned about the exposure of his agent?

Why is Governor Geary so much incensed at the publication of these mere transcripts of the public records? Why did he almost or altogether curse the Auditor General and State Treasurer for giving me their certificates, which simply certified what was part of their records, and in addition thereto, that no demand had been made for commission or per centage on the amounts paid by Governor Geary into the State Treasury, and that no commission or per centage had been paid? Why did Governor Geary complain so vehemently of the form of those certificates? They contained nothing but naked facts.

Does it become the Governor of a State to complain when the people are permitted to see a portion or all of their public record? The fact is that Governor Geary has shown much more zeal in the endeavor to suppress the knowledge of this defalcation of his agent than in the investigation of it; he has been more incensed at the publication of the facts than at the frauds of George O. Evans, his special agent, the immediate cause of the publication.

Governor Geary has never alluded to this matter of the collection of the State claims in any of his annual messages to the Legislature. Was it for the reason seriously suggested by you, at our interview on Tuesday night, the 15th instant, as a reason why it was best that a semi-annual report had not been made, by the special agent, according to the condition of the agreement mentioned in his bond, viz: because such report might have prevented the collection of the remaining claims? Why was the employment of any peculiar means necessary to the collection of these claims? Was concealment of facts necessary? And does chief law officer of the State approve of the employment of any but proper means, even to obtain what is rightly due the State?

I trust not, and I am sure the people of Pennsylvania do not want from the General Government money to which they are not justly entitled. The State of Pennsylvania is not in a needy condition. By the publication of the above-mentioned papers I have done simply what Governor Geary neglected or purposely avoided doing, to wit: I have given to the people the information they were justly entitled to have had years ago.

Why did not Governor Geary bring his special agent to account long ago? If not before, he certainly knew two months ago that this agent had in his hands money belonging to the State. I knew that certain individuals called upon him in June last—securing Governor Geary's presence at Harrisburg after repeated efforts—and demanded a share of the spoils gathered from that State agency. I knew he came away from that interview perfectly satisfied with the arrangement made by or between himself and Governor Geary. I know further that the individual aforesaid received about $5000 as the result of that interview; whether from Governor Geary or George O. Evans, his very special agent, is not material.

At our interview above mentioned, on Tuesday night, the 15th instant, you pressed me to resign, informing me, at the same time, Governor Geary demanded my removal. I expected to receive, the next day, a gentlemanly note from you, informing me that I was removed. I expected this courtesy because I believed you to be what you professed to be—a courteous gentleman. I also expected it, because you had expressed yourself—both at that interview and at our interview at Atlantic City—as entirely satisfied with the manner in which I had performed my official duties, saving and excepting, perhaps, the semi-official duty of exposing Governor Geary and Special Agent Evans.

At our interview this morning you affected the opinion that, by my charges against Governor Geary, I had virtually removed myself from the office of Deputy Attorney General, and you denied me the common courtesy of a written notice of my removal. I then charged you with ungentlemanly conduct in writing letters to your messenger, in which you questioned my integrity by insinuation, and assumed therein what was not the fact in regard to the preparations, &c., of reports on applications for pardons. Whereupon you ordered me to leave your office, which order after telling you some plain truths I saw proper to obey. We will now let the people of Pennsylvania judge between us.

For my successor, permit me to suggest your son, F. Carroll Brewster, Jr. While I was your deputy you carefully appropriated to yourself the $3 attorney's fees—which former Attorney General gave to their deputies—all of the five per cent. commissions collected since April 6th, 1871, and all fees for approval of charters. Having your son in my stead, you could swell your limited income, by adding his salary to the before-mentioned perquisites, and thus, in a measure, relieve your straightened circumstances.

Another benefit would result from this arrangement. The name of your son being the same as your own, the two might be conveniently confounded as occasion requires, and you could thus devote all your time to your private business, instead of seven eighths of it, as when the writer hereof was your deputy.

This communication is already too long. It only remains to thank you for your very flattering expressions of regard for myself personally, and for your high commendations of the manner in which I discharged my official duties while occupying the office of Deputy Attorney General, uttered at Atlantic City on the 11th instant, and at my house on the night of the 15th instant. I am, dear sir,

Yours, most respectfully,
J. M. McCLURE
