Farm Notes

Watering troughs by the roadside at convenient distances, are highly appreciated by travelers, and are sure indications of kind and hospitable farmers.

There is no plant that enjoys plenty of good manure more than the rose, and a lack of this will always result in scraggy plants and miserable blooms.

There is one or two advantages in properly sorting fruits and vegetables. It aids to protect the sound fruit from decay and adds very materially to the appearance and quality of the fruit.

Select as good a variety as possible of such crops as your soil seems best adapted to, get the best quality of seed, and wood, caring for furnaces and put the ground in a good condition and stoves, beating carpets, and so on. But give the necessary attention to the degive the necessary attention to the details.

Time intelligently given to bees will pay equally well with that given to any other kind of farm work, and where too many are not kept it may be done at such times as not to interfere with other important work.

The belief that a hog will thrive on any kind ot feed, if he has an abundance of it, and the shiftless, reckless way of feeding practiced by many is the immediate and sole cause of much of the disease that prevails among the swine.

Somebody has made the statement that butter made from cream churned at a low temperature will stan | up better in hot weather than when churned at the ordinary temperature of about sixty degrees. It may be this is so, but who knows?

Professor Thorne, director of the Ohio Experiment Station, is another who has found raw corn meal to produce better results in pig feeding than cooked meal. This has now been proved in so many cases that it is be-ing accepted as an established fact.

Good Housekeeping. A mother carefully taught her sons many details of work usually considered the sole province of girls and concerning which boys generally grow up in ignor-ance. They washed and wiped dishes, learned to prepare plain meals, had prac-tice in sweeping and dusting and putting to rights and were taught to patch and darn neatly and to sew on buttons. Some of them learned somethings of the "higher branches." When they went out into the world they had frequent occasion to bless the mother for these useful accomplishments; and when they be-came heads of households, they had an intelligent practical knowledge of the

A woman whose husband is in the habit of "taking hold" when needed in housework has been heard to say that she would rather have him to depend on in case of indispositiou or other emergency than any girl that could be hired. He does not interfere when there is no cause for it, but he saves labor for his wife and expense for himself, and he is not ashamed of doing it nor afraid to undertake it. No man need be; rather than that any man should be ashamed of unwillingness and should regret inability to perform any ordinary household task on occasion

Many So Called "Weak Hearts" Are Due Merely to Dyspepsia, Tight Lacing' Etc.

A weak heart insists upon putting it-self in evidence at all sorts of inconvenient and convenient times. If its possessor finds himself rather late for the morning train and makes a "spurt" to recover lost time, the exertion is usually follow-ed by such a bad quarter of an hour that he resolves rather to lose a
