Death suddenly overtook John Kline of Milesburg, an employe of McCoy & Linn's iron works, Thursday of last week. While sitting on a wheelbarrow resting himself he fell over a corpse. There are now 450 camps in the State, 98 of which were organized since last September. 327 show a gain of 9,641 members; 89 show a loss of 1,000 members, the balance show neither loss or gain, having a clean gain of 8,641 members.

The Lawn Fete to be given by the ladies of the M. E. church on the grounds surrounding the residence of Mr. M. W. Cowdick, on Linn street, tomorrow (Saturday) evening, promises to be one of the pleasantest of the series yet given. Preparations for the entertainment of a large crowd are being made, and we know that those who fail to attend will miss a rich treat.

Mr. Alexander, Kerr of Centre Hill, now in his 85 year, together with his son, drove over to town on last Tuesday to see the improvements in and around Bellefonte, and to witness the work of the party in convention. Mr. Kerr is a firm believer in the Democratic creed, and thinks the only sure and safe future success for the county, State and Republic is by the return of the people to the good and honest ways laid down by our Democratic forefathers.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

On Tuesday at one o'clock the Democratic county convention was called to order by chairman Heinle. On calling the roll every district was found to be fully represented. Notwithstanding the fact that but a small ticket was to be nominated and that there had been much less than usual political excitement attendant upon the canvass of the county by the different candidates, there was a good representation of earnest Democrats who came to witness the work of the convention and do what they could to press harmony and encourage earnest and active work in behalf of the successful nominees. In looking over the body of delegates one could readily see that they were an intelligent, earnest body of men, who had met for the single purpose of voicing the sentiment of the Democratic voters of the county, as expressed at the primaries on Saturday last. There were no contests, nor was there any work indicating boss rule. The convention was open to all and the unanimity with which the business of the convention was enacted left no grounds for complaint, and consequently no growlers. On calling the roll the following gentlemen answered to their names as delegates:

Reasick, Taylor—Samuel Hoover, Union—Jacob Roof, Walker—Michael Shafer, Fred Bartley, D. A. Dietrick, Samuel Decker, Worth—W. M. Cronister.

J. L. Spangler, Esq., was chosen president of the convention by acclamation, and on taking the chair made a rattling speech in which he showed up the sophistries, the deceptions, the frauds and the general cussedness of the republican administration. Messrs. Gordon Wyche of Rush, Jas. Noll of Spring and J. S. Swab of Harris, were chosen as secretaries.

A motion to select a committee on resolutions was adopted and the chairman named: W. E. Reber, of Bellefonte; S. J. Herring, of Gregg; Geo. E. Parker, of Phillipsburg; Col. Jas. F. Weaver, of Boggs; and J. H. Reifsnnyder, of Millheim, who after a short absence reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

The Democracy of Centre county, in convention assembled:

Resolved, That we heartily congratulate the party upon the splendid record of ex-president Grover Cleveland who in his retirement enjoys not only the proud satisfaction of knowing that every promise made by the Democratic National platform of 1884 has faithfully carried out, but that he has the respect and confidence of the American people who are day after day realizing to a greater and fuller extent the effects of his pure, upright and efficient administration of public affairs.

2nd. That we heartily reaffirm the principles set forth in the platform enunciated by the late Democratic National Convention, and the principles most conducive to the prosperity of the country and especially to promote our agricultural, manufacturing and commercial interests.

3rd. That we condemn the administration of President Harrison for his hypocritical claims to the enforcement of the principles of Civil Service Reform, while honest and capable officials by thousands are dismissed from the public service for no other reason than that they are Democrats; for his open prostitution of the public patronage to promote partisan purposes in the various states to reward benefactors and bosses; for his glaring and shameful distribution of offices among the members of his family, turning the Presidency, the highest earthly honor, into private property, to be bartered and used for his personal convenience and family gain, thereby introducing nepotism contrary to the fundamental principles of our government.

4th. We unalterably oppose to the fostering of monopolies, trusts and combines, tending to enrich the few and oppress the many, and hold up the Republican party to the condemnation of the people for its open alliance with the promoters of these trusts and monopolies both in the state and nation.

5th. We denounce the Republican legislature of the last session for its notorious corruption as shown in the use of public moneys for a general debauch at the New York Centennial; for their betrayal of the interests of the workmen; for their double dealing with prohibition; for their subservience to bossism, jobbery and boodles, making the legislature of 1888 the most disgraceful of the Commonwealth.

6th. We proudly invite a comparison between the fair returns of capital and just earnings of labor under the administration of Grover Cleveland, and the embarrassment of our industries and the reduction of the wages of the workmen under the administration of President Harrison, and submit whether the promises and pledges made by the Republican party in the last campaign were not a snare and cheat to secure the votes of the working people.

The first business being the nomination of candidates for Associate Judge, the names of Thos. F. Riley of Harris township and John F. Heckman of Gregg, were placed before the convention. The balloting resulted, 59 for Riley and 38 for Heckman. Mr. Riley was declared the nominee and his nomination was made unanimous.

For Prothonotary but two names were announced, L. A. Schaffer of Bellefonte, and M. I. Gardner of Howard. As soon as the balloting was over, which showed that Mr. Schaffer received 80 and Mr. Gardner 15 votes, Mr. Gardner, who was in the convention, arose and asked that the nomination of Mr. Schaffer be made unanimous, and in a few well chosen words, declared his intention to do all he could for his successful competitor and hoped that every Democrat in the county would do his duty by supporting the ticket earnestly and cheerfully. Mr. Gardner was loudly applauded and made for himself hosts of friends by the manly way in which he accepted his defeat.

For District Attorney the present efficient incumbent of the office was re-nominated by acclamation.

The Democratic vote of the county at the last Presidential election having increased the representation of the county to the State convention, Mr. W. F. Reber of Bellefonte was chosen without opposition as the additional delegate to the convention of 1889, and P. Gray Meek, M. I. Gardner, Henry Lehman, Wm. B. Mingle and William Cramer, as delegates to the State convention of 1890.

For County Surveyor Geo. D. Johnson of Howard township and W. M. Grove of Potter were placed in nomination. Mr. Johnson received 65, and Mr. Grove 36 votes. The nomination of Mr. Johnson was made unanimous.

For Coroner Dr. James W. Neff, of Snow-Shoe, who was elected to the same position last fall, but through a mistake in the ticket was refused his commission, was re-nominated by acclamation.

For Chairman of the county committee and member of the State committee for 1890, W. C. Heinle, Esq., was unanimously elected.

With the best of feeling and the determination to elect the entire ticket by an old fashioned majority, the convention adjourned.

Last Friday afternoon Mr. Charles A. McCauley, head book-keeper of the firm of B. B. Wigton & Sons, of Phillipsburg, died suddenly under very sad circumstances. He had been in ill health for some time and was attending the funeral of his little child. After the ceremony was over in the cemetery, an accident occurred just outside the gates of the burial ground causing the horses to kick violently. This so excited the ladies in the carriage that they screamed loudly, and in his eager desire to assist them Mr. McCauley was observed to stumble and fall. Heart affection had overtaken him and death ensued.

In giving fuller particulars of Mr. McCauley's death, the Phillipsburg Journal of Saturday says: The carriage in which Mr. McCauley and wife were seated was Mr. W. H. Wigton's and followed immediately behind the hearse. Next came the carriage of Mr. W. P. Duncan. One of the horses of the team by some means got a leg over the tongue of the carriage, and in trying to extricate itself from the position caused an amount of excitement which reached the carriage occupied by Mr. and Mrs. McCauley. The scream which came from Mrs. McCauley, added to his weak condition and the fright, and possibly an affection of the heart caused by the rheumatism from which he had been suffering for so long, was the cause of the death. He was lifted from the carriage, and medical aid sent for. The funeral ceremony was conducted by Rev. S. A. Cornelius, but Mrs. McCauley's condition was so critical that she did not attend at the grave. Dr. Allport was speedily in attendance, but the stricken one was past all human aid.

Mr. McCauley has resided in this district for many years, but has lived in Phillipsburg for about three years only. He was 42 years of age and leaves a wife and five children to mourn his sad and untimely death. He was a Freemason and a member of the Osceola Lodge, No. 515, of the Clearfield Chapter, and also the Commandery of Knights Templars of Bellefonte. He was also a member of the K. of G. E., of Phillipsburg.

FIRE ORGANIZATION.—Last Tuesday evening representatives of the fire companies of this borough met in the council room in the Logan house to elect a Fire Marshal and assistants for the ensuing year. The following were the delegates from the different companies: Logans—Wm. Hillbish, George Fasig and James Seibert. Undines—M. McCafferty, James Noon and M. Johnson. Coronet Hook and Ladder Company—Wilbur Harris, George Bush and Ed. Garman.

On motion, Ed. Garman was made chairman of the convention and William Hillbish secretary. The Logans placed in nomination H. D. Yerger, the Undines named Col. Mullen and the Coronets named L. T. Munson. On the second ballot Mr. Munson was chosen and his election made unanimous.

For first assistant the names proposed were H. D. Yerger of the Logans and Al. Garman of the Undines. The former was elected and his election made unanimous. John M. Cunningham was elected second assistant by acclamation.

There was an immense crowd at the Pine camp meeting last Sunday, it being estimated that no less than three thousand persons were on the ground.

At a meeting of the Centre County Bar at the Court House on the 13th inst., appropriate resolutions were passed in reference of the death of ex-Judge Cummin, of Williamsport.

William Quigley, of Lock Haven, celebrated the 85th anniversary of his birth on Saturday. For a man of his great age the Democrat says he is still vigorous and comparatively active.

A. M. Hoover and Jno. C. Miller have leased the Snow Shoe coal yard, in Bellefonte, and will occupy the same on September 1st with a large stock of best quality of hard and soft coal. They respectfully ask a share of patronage. 3t.

The Beech Creek Railroad Company will sell round trip tickets at reduced rates to Bigler campmeeting grounds from all stations, August 16 to 26, good for return trip at any time until August 28. Special Sunday trains will be run from Phillipsburg, Clearfield and Gazzam, August 18 and 25.

Hon. W. K. Alexander, wife and daughter of Millheim, left for Denver, Colorado, on Tuesday last. The trip is made in the hope that it will improve the health of Miss Alexander who is threatened with lung trouble, and may result in making that city their future home. The best wishes of their many friends go with them.

The Buffalo Run R. R. is getting to be the great picnic route. Scarcely a day goes by that does not have its crowd of pleasure seekers hunting the pleasant spots, for a few days outing, up along that road. The courteous treatment accorded every body by the officers and employes of this company, make it doubly pleasant.

Mr. L. A. Straub and family of Altoona have been visiting friends in Bellefonte during the past week. Mr. Straub is some years older, but is no less a Democrat than when a resident of our town. He recognizes the fact that "protection don't protect" those who need protection the most, and is strongly in favor of general, not State, prohibition.

In the opinion of the Attorney General only soldiers who participated in the battle of Gettysburg are entitled to transportation to that field on the occasion of the dedication of the Pennsylvania soldiers' monuments. Even soldiers who were honorably discharged before the battle are not entitled to transportation. And this opinion has been adopted by the Adjutant General.

There is a story of a lad named John Devan who while picking huckleberries near Uniontown some days ago was treed by a rattlesnake that coiled itself at the foot of the tree and waited for the boy to come down. The cries of the latter attracted the attention of parties in the neighborhood who came and killed the serpent. The snake editors in various parts of the country seem to be very busy.

The remains of Mr. Phillip Elbelt, formerly of this place, but for years a resident of Harrisburg, who died on Saturday last, were brought home on Monday and interred in the Catholic Cemetery on Tuesday. Mr. Elbelt had been a sufferer from consumption for some time, and lately had gone to Baltimore in the hope that a change would benefit him. He was a man of many good qualities, true to his friends and open and honest in all his transactions. He leaves a wife, the oldest daughter of Mrs. Haas at Roopersburg, and several children to mourn his loss.

We hope that Mr. Sourbeck may find it a good investment.

In the matter of the Government vs. the publishers of the Williamsport Critic, U. S. Commissioner McDevitt has decided not to hold the defendants for court on the charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. The District Attorney concurred with him in holding that the offense, if any, was not covered by the United States statute.

The sawyer on Graham & Co's new mill at Hecla—an advertisement of which appears in to-day's WATCHMAN—is a Mr. Enright, formerly of Clearfield county. He is said to be one of the most practical and skillful mechanics in the country—having built the mill, done the wheel-wright work and is now turning out some of the finest lumber ever put upon the market.

DEATH OF HON. JOHN IRVIN, JR.—In the death of this gentleman, which occurred at his residence on High street, Bellefonte, August 14, inst., at 1.30 p. m., our community loses one of its oldest members and the rank of business men one of its brightest ornaments.

Judge Irvin was born March 13, 1808, on the farm of his grand-father, William Fisher, in Spring township then, now Boggs, near Snow Shoe Intersection. His grand-father, William Fisher, belonged to the Friends Society, and removed from Chester county to Bald Eagle Valley in 1800, and in 1812 built the stone mansion, a well known landmark still standing near the Intersection. His daughter, Mary Fisher, was married to John Irvin, Sr., at Muncy meeting-house, Lycoming county. John Irvin, Sr., removed to Bellefonte in 1811, and in 1859 died in his seat while attending worship at the Friends meeting house in Bellefonte. His wife survived him many years and died in the 91st year of her age, at her residence in Bellefonte, and the fragrance of her beautiful life still lingers in the home she left for the brighter one above.

John Irvin, Jr., commenced business as a clerk for Valentines and Thomas, the iron manufacturers of Spring township, and was promoted manager. After learning the iron business thoroughly, while still a young man he went with Mordecai Miller to Kentucky and in connection with him started a furnace there. He was married, October 19, 1837, to Anna H. Linn, daughter of the late Rev. James Linn, D. D., and took her to his new home home in Kentucky where several of their children were born.

From Kentucky Mr. Irvin returned to Bellefonte and in 1841 became associated in the mercantile business with the late Henry Brockerhoff. The firm of Brockerhoff and Irvin was dissolved by limitation in 1846. Mrs. Anna H. Irvin died March 27, 1847, and in 1884 Mr. Irvin removed to Howard Iron Works as Superintendent and part owner, carrying on the works under the firm name of Irvin, Thomas and Co. In 1895 the works were sold to Griscom, Bright and Co., and Mr. Irvin returned to Bellefonte, having purchased the residence of the late Hon. James Burnside which remained his home ever afterward.

He then associated in the hardware business with the late Col. P. Benner Wilson, under the firm name of Irvin & Wilson. This firm soon established a large trade and built a handsome hardware store building on Allegheny street. Mr. Irvin retired from the firm in 1872, and on the 17th of August 1876 he was commissioned by Gov. Hartranft Associate Judge of the several Courts of Centre county, vice W. W. Love, deceased. Since the expiration of his commission he has been actively employed in managing his private business and the important trusts committed to him under the will of the late W. A. Thomas, deceased.

During his life Judge Irvin managed a very large amount of business with skill and success. Having excellent business habits, good memory, sound judgment and great knowledge of men, he made few if any mistakes, and he retained his remarkable business ability up to within a few days of his death, surviving all of his business associates.

Judge Irvin was a life-long member of the Society of Friends. He was affable and cordial to those who sought him; kind and engaging in his manners; and with good tastes and many acquirements he became a model business man. By strong self control he kept a constitution not of the most rugged character in healthful condition, and lived in apparent freedom from the ordinary weakness and sufferings of old age, and after a short illness passed away quietly and peacefully.

Even at his advanced age it is sad for his children and friends to part with him; but their loss is his gain, and their comfort rests in pleasant recollections of his kindness and gentleness; and that he is now united with her whom he lost so early in life and his kindred dead who have gone before him.

Of his brothers and sisters who survive him are Ellis Irvin, of Lick Run Mills, Clearfield county; Mrs. Malissa J. Hagerman, of Bellefonte; Mrs. James C. Williams, of Phillipsburg; Dr. James Irvin, of Wyoming Territory; and Mrs. M. J. Hyman of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. His surviving children are Miss M. F. Blanchard, widow of Edmund Blanchard, Esq., and Mrs. Jennie L. Bright, wife of Joseph C. Bright, of Pottsville. His funeral will take place on Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m., from his late residence on High street.

Too Late.—We have a letter from a member of the 45th Regt. relative to the manner in which transportation to Gettysburg is being doled out, which we will give a place in next week's WATCHMAN. It reached us too late for this week's issue.
