Friday Morning, August 23, 1889.

To Correspondents.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Mr. M. H. Geise, of Penn Hall, is the duly authorized agent of the WATCHMAN for Gregg township.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Mr. Andrew Maginness, of this place, who made a trip to England this summer, returned on Saturday.

—T. P. Ryder, of Milesburg, is presented as a candidate for Prothonotary by the Centre County Service Pension Association.

—The Board of Trade and citizens of Lock Haven are making favorable progress in inducing the establishment of a knitting mill in that place.

—The Julian Cornet Band will hold a festival at Julian on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening, to which they invite the public, promising them a good time generally.

—The Jersey Shore Herald remarks that a great deal of the corn and potatoes planted after the flood have grown miraculously. If Jack Frost doesn't visit us unusually early, the corn will mature and ripen, and the potatoes will attain full size.

—Rev. D. E. Fisher, who for the last fourteen years has been pastor of the Lutheran church at Centre Hall, has accepted a call to preach at Bloomsburg, and Rev. J. Horner Kerr, Presbyterian pastor of the same place, has also resigned with the intention of accepting a call from Dakota.

—Gregg Post, G. A. R., of this place, will go in a body to Sunbury on the 9th of October to participate in the reunion of the Posts of Central Pennsylvania on Grand Army Day. Arrangements for the excursion will be made by R. C. Irvin, A. B. Smith and Thomas Donachy. Citizens generally are invited to go along.

—There is nothing substantial in the report published in an Altoona paper, in the form of a dispatch from this place, that the Bellefonte glass-works are about going into hands that will put them in operation again. They have been sold to John P. Harris, in part payment of claims against them, but no one has as yet concluded to run them.

—The Undine Hose Company and the Bellefonte Cornet Band, last Saturday evening made an excursion to Spring Mills where they spent a lively evening. On the same afternoon a Bellefonte baseball nine played a game with a Spring Mills nine and scored a victory, the figures standing 27 to 9. We regret to learn that considerable drunkenness prevailed at the picnic in the afternoon. These amusements should be indulged in without such immorality.

—The funeral of the late Judge Irvin, of this place, whose death was announced in last week's issue, took place on Saturday and was largely attended by relatives, friends and citizens of the town and neighborhood. The deceased being a member of the Society of Friends, the ceremonies were of the plain and simple character usual among the Quakers. A prayer was made, the Scriptures read and an impressive address delivered by Miss Mary Snowden Thomas, of Baltimore. The remains were interred in the Union cemetery.

—At a recent birthday party at the residence of Mrs. Catherine Watson of the Walker settlement, in celebration of her 77th year, there were sixty-five of her relatives and neighbors present, including four sons and six daughters, four sons-in-law and four daughters-in-law, twenty-seven grand children and six great-grand-children. She is the mother of sixteen children, twelve of whom are now living. She is also the grandmother of sixty-four grand-children and has twenty-two great grand children.

—Among the camping parties that have resorted to the well known Cherry Run grounds, on the Lemont railroad, this season, was one this week from Bellefonte managed by Miss Minnie Brew who had under her charge Misses Rosie Fox, Jennie Lukenbach, Emma Montgomery, Jennie Strickland, Katie Bullock, Stella Armour, Sadie Malin, of Bellefonte, and Miss Caldwell, of Tyrone, and Messrs. Frank Lukenbach, James Harris, Charley Cruise, Harry Jenkins, Sam Neving and Charley Noll. They are said to have had a delightful time in their camping experience.

—The storm last week was very severe in a portion of the lower end of Clinton county and at Oak Grove, on the Beech Creek railroad, was particularly heavy and destructive. For about five minutes hail fell thickly, the size of the stones being that of hickory nuts. As a result the tobacco crop is ruined, and some farmers who had nothing but tobacco have lost their summer's work. The peaches were also badly damaged, and the corn cut up some but not enough to hurt it much. It was the worst hail storm that had visited that section for many years. The estimated loss is about $10,000.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE FURNACE OF THE BELLEFONTE FURNACE COMPANY.

—It is now a little more than a year and a half since the furnace of the Bellefonte Furnace Company, more popularly known as Collins's, was started as an experiment in making iron from the hematite ore of Centre county with coke, charcoal having previously been used exclusively as fuel in smelting this ore. The experiment has proved a splendid success, every expectation of favorable results having been fully realized. More than 40,000 tons of pig metal have been made, which has been recognized as a standard brand in the market and for which there is a demand in all parts of the country, some of the customers of the company being in the New England states. Of the great amount of metal turned out there remain to-day less than 500 tons on hand, with 4000 tons sold ahead, all of which will be delivered before the first of October.

We, having already given a detailed description of these works, would now speak of the extensive and important improvements that have been made during the present summer for the purpose of facilitating their operations and increasing their capacity. The pumping station along Spring Creek has been entirely removed, the pumps having been placed near the furnace where they are worked by steam taken directly from the boilers that supply the steam for the furnace engines. The water is now pumped from a basin which holds 400,000 gallons and is located within a hundred yards of the furnace, the pumps being placed right at its margin. They throw the water from this to the reservoir on the hill and from there it comes down by its own gravity to supply the wants of the furnace. After serving this purpose, the object of its use being to keep the tuyeres cool, it flows back into the basin from which it was originally taken, to be pumped up again into the reservoir with a wastage of about 10 per cent. This wastage is supplied from a receiving basin into which water from Buffalo Run flows through a four inch pipe, the receiver being located some distance from the main basin. In it the water is purified by passing through a fine wire sieve and by settling before it flows into the main basin by its own gravity at a fall of one foot in the hundred. By this arrangement the wastage is restored with entirely clean and pure water. In case Buffalo Run should be muddy communication can be entirely shut off, there being amply sufficient water in the main basin to supply the works for twenty-four hours. The amount of water used in the operations of a first-class modern furnace is really astonishing. Between 350,000 and 375,000 gallons are required daily by the furnace, of which we are speaking, it being used to supply a stream through the tuyeres to keep them cool, otherwise the heat of the hot-blast, which is 1200 degrees, would burn them out, and it is also used in cooling the valves in the hot-blast.

In addition to these improvements in the water supply, a new battery of boilers, of two hundred horse power, is being added to the old one. The object of these new boilers is to furnish steam for the pumps and for the working of an English compressor which is intended to work by compressed air the limestone crusher at the quarry some 1500 feet from the furnace. This new appliance will crush about 600 tons of limestone a day. Besides crushing the stone this air power will do the drilling in the quarry which has heretofore been done by hand. In addition to supplying the furnace with limestone by this means, some 8 to 10 cars of bastard limestone per day are crushed for the Pennsylvania railroad company to be used as ballast.

Another great improvement has been made by excavating the hill back of the furnace and erecting trestles by which iron has been provided for storing 5000 tons of ore and 1500 tons of coke. The ore will be stored there in the summer time in order to enable the operations at the ore banks to be discontinued during the winter when it is unprofitable to work them. The material taken from this excavation has been dumped in front of the casting house and leveled off, thereby largely increasing the yard room. The iron is now taken from the pig beds and broken at the door of the casting house where it is graded and loaded directly into the cars, or piled there if immediate shipment is not desired. This arrangement saves much handling and considerable expense.

From this account it will be seen that the Bellefonte Furnace Company is availing itself of every improvement and taking advantage of every approved means of facilitating its work. This progressive disposition, together with intelligent and energetic management, has secured for it the splendid success that has attended its operations.

—There will be a parade and picnic of the patriotic Order of Sons of America of Centre and Clinton counties at Eagleville on Thursday, the 5th of September. The picnic will be in Herling's grove in the afternoon when speeches will be made. Music and various amusements will diversify the programme.

—The commissioners of Millin county want to borrow $60,000 for twenty years at 4 per cent. interest.

—Miss Puella Dornblazer, a young lady of Mackeyville, Clinton county, known for her intellectual gifts, is seriously ill.

—The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Unionville, will hold a lawn festival Saturday evening August 31st. All are cordially invited to attend.

—A number of other bands will attend the festival of the Fillmore Cornet Band to-morrow (Saturday) evening. Ice cream, cake and other refreshments will be served in abundance.

—The postponed Lutheran picnic came off on Wednesday and those in attendance had a delightful time in the grove up the Buffalo Run railroad that is popularly used for that purpose.

—The Phillipsburg Journal says that another new industry is knocking for admission into the industrial circles of that place. Without mentioning what kind it is, that paper says, will give employment to over 150 hands and will increase the population at least 500, with an expenditure of not less than $1,500 per week to be distributed among the merchants, in addition to other benefits which necessarily accrue from its introduction.

—The Prohibitionists of Centre county held a convention at Unionville on Tuesday to elect delegates to a State convention soon to be held. The following gentlemen were elected to serve in that capacity: F. Potts Green and A. J. Cook of Bellefonte; Rev. J. A. Zeigler, of Snow Shoe; Rev. Bouse, of Milesburg; Clevan Dinges, of Centre Hall; A. K. Felton and J. B. Kern, of Phillipsburg.

—Edward K. Rhoads, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in to days paper and who has for years been in the employ of Lawrence L. Brown, as book-keeper has purchased the interests of Mr. Brown in the Coal and Grain trade and will hereafter conduct the business himself at the old stand. Mr. Rhoads is a young man of good business habits, always found at his post, and hopes by fair dealing and prompt delivery to receive a full share of the public patronage. He pays the highest market price in cash for all kind of grain and baled hay.

—Numberless sad particulars of the Johnstown flood have been written and related, but it is only now that some of the ludicrous incidents are coming to the surface. Here is a good one: A saloon-keeper, who, with his colored bartender, had taken refuge on the roof of his building, was so impressed with the awfulness of the situation that he appealed to his bartender to pray for both, as he (the saloon keeper) did not know how to pray. The bartender prayed, "Oh Lord, if you ever saved a nigger and a Dutchman, save us now." They were saved.

—Three young girls of Huntingdon narrowly escaped meeting an awful death last Sunday. They were the Misses Kline, Stine, and a young lady visitor, all being at the house of the former. About 7:30 o'clock fearful screams were heard issuing from the neighborhood of a sink on Mr. Kline's premises, on Millin street, and those who first reached the scene found that the young girls had fallen through the floor of the sink and were then almost suffocated. It was with great difficulty that they were finally rescued.

—A series of entertainments are in contemplation for the coming season by the ladies of the Presbyterian church of this place. First will be a chicken and waffle supper in September managed by Mrs. John Rankin and Mrs. John T. Johnson; a concert in October under the management of Mrs. L. L. Brown; an entertainment in November of which Mrs. James Potter and Mrs. Geo. Potter will be the presiding spirits; December will have a fair collected by Misses Mary Thomas and Nellie Boal, and entertainments will be managed in January by Mrs. J. C. Weaver and Mrs. J. A. Aikens, in February by Mrs. J. W. Gephart and Miss Jane McAlmont, and in March by Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Shaeffer. This is said to be the programme at present, and it is to be hoped that it will be carried through with success.

—One day last week Jas. Knowles died very suddenly at his home at Point Lookout, near Phillipsburg, at the age of 39, from the effects of alcoholic poisoning. He had worked all day at Gowland's machine shop, says the Ledger, where he was employed as head moulder. During the evening he indulged very freely in intoxicants, and about eleven o'clock was taken with severe cramps. A physician was sent for, and everything that medical skill could do was done for his welfare, but without avail. He lingered in terrible agony until 6 o'clock next morning, when death relieved him of his sufferings. He was a first-class moulder, and his death is greatly lamented by his employers. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his sudden death.

THE GRANGERS' PICNIC.—The Grangers are preparing for an immense crowd of visitors. They are negotiating with the Railroad company and expect to secure at least two special trains from Bellefonte in the forenoon to leave here about 10:00 a. m. and 12 m., in addition to the regular, leaving at 6 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., also a special from Coburn and return to run in like manner, and one through from Lewisburg. The specials returning, to leave the grounds about 6 and 9 p. m. By this arrangement those living along the railroad can spend on the ground that portion of the day that is most desirable to them, and return home in the evening. Those who care to spend the week in camp life should secure tents. They will not be able to find a more delightful place, and the time can be made both pleasant and profitable with very little expense. Good water and substantial boarding will be in abundance.

A great variety of farming implements and all kinds of machinery will be on exhibition, besides a half dozen of the leading Philadelphia houses will have complete sample stores on the ground. Applications are daily being received for exhibition rooms and tents. The cost of the latter is $2 and $3, according to size.

Gen'l Fisher, of Chester county, Col. Brigham, Grand Mogul of the Order, Mortimer Whitehead, of N. J., and Hon. Mr. Brown, of York county, all eloquent lecturers, will be there and assist in giving interest to the occasion. These picnics are of great benefit to our agriculturists, for at these gatherings they compare notes and get new ideas as to seeds, implements, fertilizers, etc., and talk over the different methods of farming; also, the best and most profitable stock to raise. Thus by the exchange of views they become better acquainted with the various methods each one applies to his or her daily work on the farm and in the house.

A HEARTLESS ROBBERY.—Last Tuesday evening a most cruel robbery was committed near Collins' furnace whereby an Austr'ian named Kohlar, a hard working employee of the furnace company, was despoiled of the earnings of years of toil by some sneaking thieves. He lived with his wife in one of the company houses and kept his money in a trunk in his sleeping room. It contained two checks for $2 and $18, and $700 in money when on Tuesday evening it was taken from the room, carried to a neighboring field and rifled. Kohlar was at work at the time and his wife was asleep in bed. Upon awakening during the night she found that the trunk was gone. It was found the next morning in the field where it had been broken open and the contents taken. Thirty dollars of the money was found near by at a place where it appeared to have been secreted, but the rest was gone. The clothing that was in the trunk was thrown into Buffalo Run where they were found and recovered. There is no clue to the parties who committed this dastardly robbery. From the size of the trunk it must have taken more than one person to carry it from the room, and the perpetrators must have been acquainted with the premises.

—It was not so very long ago that the people of Bellefonte were growing at the Pennsylvania railroad company for putting up a depot building which, while it was in course of erection, didn't suit their idea of what a town of Bellefonte's importance should have. The condemnation of the structure was general. It was entirely too insignificant, they said. But as it grew toward completion they began to change their opinion of it, and now, with its handsome flower beds, it is an object of admiration.

Why it was only the other day that we heard residents on High Street growling because the big building that is being constructed on the race will obstruct their view of the pretty depot building and its charming flower beds. Thus, it is shown, how public opinion is liable to change.

—At a meeting of the borough council on Monday Mr. George Potter reported that two bridges were completed—the one spanning Buffalo Run and the foot bridge spanning Spring Cre k. Streets have been repaired at many places and a quarry has been opened on W. C. Heine's property on Bishop street and the stone will be used in improving that thoroughfare. The unsafe condition of the inside of the Conrad House has been reported to the fire marshal. The rate of tax for the present year was made the same as it was last year, viz., 2 mills for borough, 3 mills for state, and 10 mills for interest. A light is needed on the street leading to the car works. There is also a washout which threatens to become worse near the road where the white row used to be. It was caused by heavy rains which washed the wall away.

—There are a number of cellars in Lock Haven that have not yet been cleaned out since the flood, which emit very disagreeable and in fact nauseating smells, and are a constant menace to the public health.

—Judge Orvis is suffering from a serious illness.

—A gruesome story comes from Lewisburg to the effect that while undertaker W. C. Ginter, some days ago, was embalming the remains of Mrs. William Searles, he was startled by three or four rappings on the floor directly underneath him, the knocks being immediately followed by loud screams. What made these knockings so peculiar was the fact that there is no cellar under the house. Notwithstanding his fright, Mr. Ginter made a thorough exploration of the premises, but found nothing that seemed to offer any solution of the mystery. The knockings and screamings have since been repeated and mothers and children are said to be so overcome with nervousness and fright that they cannot be induced to leave their own houses.

—Foreign and Domestic dried fruit and canned goods at Sechler & Co.'s.

—St. Mary's church people of Snow Shoe will give a picnic at Snow Shoe to-morrow (Saturday) where a platform and good music will set the dance a going. Dinner and supper will be supplied to help the people on their way. All for benefit of the church.

—Go to McQuiston & Co., for your carriage repairs, the only manufacturers in the place who ever learned the business. Best of stock used in all branches. Shops adjoining the freight depot.

—The citizens of Marsh Creek will hold a festival in Mr. Henry Heaton's meadow, to-morrow (Saturday). Ice cream, cakes, etc., will be served. Proceeds for benefit of Baptist Mission church.

—Fine cheese, Hams, Bacon, Dried Beef, and Canned Meats at Sechler & Co.'s.

—The reunion of Co. E. 45th P. V. Regt., will be held in the Baileyville Grove, Sept. 3rd, at 10 o'clock a. m., at which time and place all surviving members are requested to attend. A cordial invitation is also extended to all surviving soldiers of other commandments a hearty welcome is extended to all by order of committee.

—Applebutter, Jellies, Jams, Honey Pickles, Olives, Table Oil, and Ketchup at Sechler & Co.'s.

—A charter has been granted to the Osceola Water Supply Company with a capital of $20,000.

—All the New Woollens for the coming season now being received. Liberal Discount for early orders during the fall season. Our Fall stock will be the finest we have ever shown. Prices and a good fit guaranteed. MONTGOMERY & Co., Tailors.

—At a regimental election last Saturday, Major James B. Coryell, of Williamsport, Inspector of the 3rd Brigade, was elected Colonel of the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. P., to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Colonel Lloyd.

—Wanted.—50,000 pounds of wool. Lyon & Co., Bellefonte, Pa.

—Joel Morris, a prominent resident of Wolf's store, this county, died last Sunday morning at an age somewhere in the sixties and was buried on Wednesday in the cemetery at Rebersburg.

WALL PAPER.—Large stock—must be sold. Prices astonishing, write for samples to JOHN M. DEAN & Co., Williamsport, Pa.

—The Hon. Leonard Rhone, who had been on a bed of sickness for some time, came over to town on Monday. He is looking quite well, though his step is still a little weak.

—McQuiston & Co. sell handmade springs, wagons, cheaper than the factory work is sold in this place. Shops along side of the freight depot.

—McQuiston & Co. are selling top buggies bought, ironed, and with the exception of the wheels and shafts, finished by ourselves, for the low price of eighty dollars. We don't misrepresent them and sell them for our own make. Give us a call. Shops adjoining the freight depot.

Phillipsburg Pickings. A Batch of Interesting News Collected and Written By Our Own Special Correspondent.

W. P. Duncan and family, who have been rusticated at Bedford Springs during the past couple of weeks, have returned home.

The employees of the Beech Creek railroad will hold a basket picnic at Peale on next Monday, and as usual will have a delightful time. John Todd expects to occupy his new house, which he is erecting at Point Lookout, in the near future. It is one of the prettiest residences in that town.

A banquet in connection with the Order of Tontu was held at their lodge room on Thursday night of last week. About one hundred and fifty were present, and a delightful time was had.

Rev. C. Schure, who has just arrived from India, addressed a medium sized audience in the Lutheran church on Thursday evening of last week, his subject being "A Plain Talk on India."

Mr. Chas. King, of this place who is superintendent of Hoover, Hughes & Co's mill at Curwensville, will shortly remove his family to that place. We will be sorry to lose Mr. K. and his family from our midst, as they are one of our best families. We understand the mill will begin operation by the middle of next month.

A cantelope and water melon festival was one of the unique attractions of last Friday and Saturday evenings, which was held at the residence of Dr. W. S. Bigelow, on corner of Fifth and Presquise streets. The proceeds therefore benefit of the Presbyterian church, and quite a snug little sum was realized.

We regret very much to notify the family of Mr. O. B. Jones, accompanied by Lewis Hess, Esq., will shortly sever their connection as residents of our community and locate at Banion, a little village above Fontdale. Mr. Jones will superintend the mining mill of Beyer & Kirk at that place, at the same time will also find light employment in the mill.

A large shoe manufacturing firm of Philadelphia have written to the Board of Trade in this place, wanting to bring their plant to Phillipsburg. We have a Board of Trade, but a couple of individuals have written to the firm asking for what proposition they desire to make. The factory will give employment to about one hundred and fifty men. The matter rests entirely with our citizens, and if they make an effort and offer the firm inducements, it is quite likely the factory will be located in Phillipsburg. Wake up! Wake up! cannot be induced to leave their own houses.

The Bigler camp-meeting this year was a grand success. One of the largest crowds that has ever been in attendance at one of the present on last Sunday. The meetings are still in progress and will be continued over next Sunday. Special trains run on both the Beech Creek and Pennsylvania railroads, and the cars were literally jammed with all ages, classes and colors. To gain admission to the grounds you must pay twenty cents, and if you don't take your lunch with you, you stand one chance out of ten going hungry all day. To get a good fresh drink of water on the grounds is also a difficult thing to do. Special trains will also be run on the B. C. and P. railroads next Sunday at the same hour that they run last Sunday.

Phillipsburg was again thrown into a state of excitement by two more sudden deaths last week. Joseph Krametz, a Monday at the Gowland Manufacturing Works, died very suddenly and mysteriously on last Wednesday morning. He worked the day before as usual and didn't make any complaint, whatever, about feeling unwell. He took ill during the night, and notwithstanding several physicians were called in he died in terrible agony. Mrs. McCann, who keeps a restaurant and eating saloon on corner of Second and Spruce streets, while on a visit to the seashore, became suddenly ill, and taking the train for Philadelphia, she stopped at the Brunswick Hotel, when a telegram was sent to her daughter Annie at this place acquainting her of her mother's illness, but before she could reach Philadelphia her mother was a corpse. Her remains were brought to Phillipsburg on Friday morning, and taken to Houtzdale Sunday afternoon at two o'clock for interment.

Tribute of Respect.

SNOW SHOE, Aug. 21st, 1889. At a regular meeting of Snow Shoe City Council, No. 247, O. U. A. M., held on Saturday evening, Aug. 17th, 1889, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas it has pleased God in his infinite wisdom to remove by death after a short illness, our much esteemed brother, Mitchell Lucas, who was a member of our Council, therefore,

Resolved, That while we mourn his loss in our Council, we hope our loss will be his eternal gain. We extend to the friends our heartfelt sympathy for the loss they have sustained. As a testimonial to his noble character he be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days and these resolutions be placed on the minutes and published in the county papers, and a copy presented to the family.

JOHN GUNSALE, Committee.
JOHN THOMAS,
JOSEPH THOMAS.

Died.

ROBINSON.—At the home of her mother in Pine Grove Mills, a long and lingering illness, which proved very desolating. Miss Alice Robinson departed this life, on Aug. 15th, 1889, aged 15 years, 8 months.

Her bereaved mother and family, and her many friends have a happy consolation in the positive evidence she left them of her being at peace with her Saviour.

Of ages glorie away the some of men. The youth in life's green spring and he who goes in the full strength of years, motion and maid, And the sweet babe, and the gray-headed man, Shall one by one be gathered to thy side, By those who in their turn shall stand in them.

GATES.—Gatesburg on July 23rd, 1889, Mr. Martin Gates, aged 68 years.

KRIDER.—At his home in Gatesburg, on Aug. 9, 1889, Mr. John Krider aged 88 years, 1 month, 29 days.

The deceased was a consistent member of the Lutheran church from childhood, and was loved by all who knew him. His death is mourned not only by his relatives, but also, by his many friends whom he won by a life of prightness and by his noble christian character.

He was an earnest student of the Bible, and had finished reading it through for the 70th time shortly before his death.
