

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., Sept. 13, 1889.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Mr. M. H. Guse, of Penn Hall, is the duly authorized agent of the WATCHMAN for Gregg township.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—Rapid progress is being made in the erection of the miners' hospital at Phillipsburg.

—The State College opened this week, for the term of the coming year, with an increased number of students.

—Rev. D. S. Monroe is expending his surplus energy in pushing the enterprise of erecting a Methodist church in Bellevue, a suburb of Altoona.

—Col. George Bayard not only went to Gettysburg this week to mingle with his old veteran associates, but he also took Mrs. Bayard with him.

—A Prohibition county convention will meet in the Court House, on Thursday, September 19th, and put a full ticket in the field for Centre county.

—A neat and commodious church building has been completed for the Disciple congregation at Mount Eagle by Capt. H. C. Holt and Mr. J. H. Schenck, of Howard.

—The remarkable Adam Hart, in the 102d year of his age, shows no signs of recovery from his illness caused by a fall lately, but his symptoms do not grow any worse.

—One of the features of the dedication of the Catholic church in this place on the 19th of October will be the splendid church music that is usual in Catholic ceremonies of that kind.

—The second game of baseball played between the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. nine and the Altoona club, came off on the old fair grounds in this place last Thursday afternoon with another victory for the Bellefonte players. It was an easy victory.

—Last Sunday evening a house about half a mile back of the road leading from Curtin to Milesburg, which was occupied by Ellery Harvey as tenant, was destroyed by fire which originated from the explosion of a lamp. The building, we understand, was owned by a Mr. Ryman.

—On account of repairs that are being done to the stone school house on Allegheny street, the opening of the schools in that building, which was to take place on Wednesday of this week, has been postponed to Wednesday of next week, the 18th inst. There has also been a postponement of the opening of the schools in the Bishop street building, except the High School, until the 19th inst.

—Mrs. Ziegler, wife of Geo. Ziegler, esp., of Sunbury, and sister of Mr. S. A. McQuiston, of Bellefonte, died in the former place on Thursday of last week at the age of about 70 years. She had been in ill health for the last year, yet her death was not expected. Her husband is the brother of the late well known Hon. Jacob Ziegler, of Butler. Her brother, Mr. McQuiston, attended the funeral on Monday.

—Bell, the photographer, will have a portable gallery on the Granger picnic ground, at Centre Hall, next week, where he will be prepared to make first class pictures. Don't miss the opportunity, nor wait for a clear day, as pictures can be taken rain or shine. Bring your sisters, brothers, father and mother. Bring the children. Bring everybody. All are welcome. Remember, only $1.50 per dozen for fine cabinet photos.

—The distribution of the relief money to the flood sufferers at Lock Haven commenced last week. The largest payment in the first ward amounted to $112.50, and the smallest $7.50, there being 135 recipients in that ward. As one of the papers of that town remarks, many persons who are expecting a share of the money will be disappointed upon finding that their names are not on the list.

—Of the societies that are being held by the members of some of the churches in this place, none seem to be more pleasant and profitable than those of the Reformed church. The one at the residence of C. M. Bower, esq., on East Linn street, last Friday evening, is spoken of as having been especially enjoyable and noteworthy. These gatherings tend to promote sociability among church members, and, being conducted on practical principles, are the source of considerable revenue.

—Last Saturday Mrs. Ruth Armor, residing with her daughters on East Linn street, this place, reached the unusual age of 90 and received the congratulations of many of her friends on her attaining so great an age in such good condition. A dinner party was given during the day in honor of the event and her house was filled with congratulating callers during the evening. The old lady has the vivacity and activity of a much younger woman, and looks as if she would live for some years yet. Her many friends hope that she may.

DEATH OF HON. SAMUEL H. REYNOLDS.—The people of Bellefonte were surprised on Tuesday morning by the information of the death of Hon. Samuel H. Reynolds at Lancaster. His brother, Maj. Wm. F. Reynolds, of this place, received a telegram on Monday stating that he was seriously ill, which was followed by one on Monday evening saying that his condition had improved. But on Tuesday a third dispatch contained the sad intelligence of his death. The Major immediately started for the scene of affliction. He is now the sole survivor of his family, his brothers Elisha, Thomas and Samuel having died within the last three years, and Charles some years earlier.

The deceased Samuel H. Reynolds, so well known in this place, was one of the leading citizens of the city of Lancaster and among the ablest members of the Lancaster county bar until his recent retirement. Upon the occasion of his retirement from the practice of his profession within the present year we gave an extended notice of his public career. Born in Columbia county in 1831, he came to Bellefonte before reaching manhood and fitted himself for college in the Bellefonte Academy, subsequently graduating at Dickinson college. After reading law with Hon. James T. Hale, of this place, he located temporarily in St. Louis, but afterwards settled in Lancaster, where he soon took a leading position at the bar and became one of the most influential citizens of that city.

He was an ardent Democrat, but on account of his party being in the minority in that county he did not reach the high official position which the Democrats of his county would have been pleased to give him and for which his great abilities so well qualified him. Having acquired a large fortune by his profession, he retired from the bar last April, with the intention of devoting himself exclusively to the banking business, he being President of the People's National Bank of Lancaster.

The deceased left a widow and five children, the latter being W. Fred Reynolds, a resident of Bellefonte who is now traveling in Europe, Samuel H. Reynolds, Mrs. Frank Harris, and Misses Mary and Maud Reynolds. We have not learned the character of the disease that so suddenly terminated his life, but from the little we have heard in regard to it we should judge that it was some heart affection or an attack of a paralytic nature.

NEXT WEEK'S EXHIBITION.—Tuesday morning of next week, September 17, begins the Sixteenth Annual Grangers' Picnic-Exhibition of Central Pennsylvania, in Colonel Taylor's Fort Woods, at Centre Hall. The arrangements for a very successful week's meeting are all complete.

Besides the large list of eminent speakers, lecturers and instructors, the amusement programme is complete as well. One of the attractive features will be the cyclorama of Gettysburg, which alone will be worth many miles travel to see. C. K. Sober, the champion wing shot of America, will give exhibitions at stated intervals during the week.

The railroad and excursion ticket arrangement will suit everybody. Seven trains each day between Montandon and Centre Hall, as well as from the latter place to Bellefonte. The last train for Bellefonte in the evening will run through to Milesburg.

The applications for tickets and exhibition privileges are far greater than were anticipated, but everybody will be properly cared for. It will be the largest gathering of farmer and their friends that was ever known in Central Pennsylvania.

A REMARKABLY LONGLIVED FAMILY.—In the town of Rebersburg, this county, there reside three sisters whose maiden names were Susan, Mary and Christina Ghasts, and who since their marriage are respectively Mrs. Paul Wolf, aged 82 years, Mrs. Jacob Wolf, aged 87 years, and Mrs. John Reynolds, aged 90 years. Within the past few years they buried their husbands and are now passing their last days in the place of their nativity. Each raised a family of boys and girls who have done them honor. They have two brothers who reside in Lewisburg and are honored by all who know them. They two have attained the advanced age of over 80 years. It is a rare occurrence to see or hear of an entire family reaching four score years.

—In saying that the people of Bellefonte went wild over the recent performance of Uncle Tom's Cabin in this place, the Lock Haven Democrat was only joking. It is when Uncle Tom strikes a rural settlement like Lock Haven that the population turns out in a body to enjoy the novelty of the performance.

—William Hoy, of Benner township, owned a cow which was so unfortunate as to choke on an apple. But the cow didn't die. Doctor Tibbets was sent for but he was unsuccessful in removing the apple. Doctor William Dale next attempted it and was quite successful. The cow is now ready to begin another attack on the apple crop.

—Seven barns were destroyed by fire at Wrightsville, Huntingdon county, on Sunday morning. The aggregate loss is $8,000. The fires were caused by an incendiary.

—There will be a grand exhibition at Port Royal, Juniata county, on the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th instants. There will be races, wild west shows, grand parades, etc.

—Entire new ceilings have been put in two of the rooms on the first floor of the public school house on Allegheny street, and all the rooms have been freshly kalsomined preparatory to beginning the fall term of school.

—Pheasants are quite obliging in Tyrone. On Monday one darted against an upper window in C. H. Traynor's house, broke the glass, flew on a bed and allowed Mrs. Traynor to pick it up. On Tuesday it made an excellent pot pie.

—E. R. Chambers, Esq., of this place, has been appointed Deputy U. S. Collector for the 12th District of Pennsylvania, to succeed W. C. Heinle, Esq. Thus the spoils are being handed out to the faithful and the cause of civil service reform is being vindicated in the Republican style.

—The forge and rolling mill at Howard have been purchased by Messrs. John Jenkins, of Milton, and William Jenkins, of Bellefonte, who after making necessary repairs will put them in full operation. If business experience and energy can make a success of those works, the two Jenkins brothers are the gentlemen to bring about such a desirable consummation.

—The dance that was to take place on the platform near the toll gate on the Lewistown pike, on Saturday evening of last week, was postponed on account of the rain. There will be a dance and cake walk at that place on to-morrow evening to which all are invited, proceeds to be for the benefit of the wage-earner. After the dance they will sell to the highest bidder about 1500 feet of hemlock lumber.

—Washington Camp, No. 447, P. O. S. of A., will hold a festival and dance near Valentine's old works on the last Friday and Saturday evenings of September, 27th and 28th inst., the proceeds to be used in furnishing a hall. Good music will enliven the occasion and everything will be gotten up in good style. Other camps will be in attendance and there will be a parade sometime on Saturday. Public patronage should be liberally given to so good an object.

—Mr. James Schofield, the saddler will be at the Granger Picnic with a large and well made stock of harness of every variety, whips, robes, blankets, and everything required to furnish a well supplied stable, to which he calls the special attention of the farmer. They will all be for sale, and will be fully guaranteed. As Mr. Schofield makes and keeps on sale none but first class articles, this will afford all an opportunity to supply their wants at a small outlay.

—Miss Harriet DeHaas, who died last week at the residence of the Misses Benner in this place, at the age of 90 years, was of distinguished revolutionary descent, she having been the granddaughter of Col. Philip DeHaas, commander of one of the regiments of the Pennsylvania line during the Revolution. Her sister Eliza, also an inmate of the Benner household, survives her at an almost equally advanced age. On account of a turn in the wheel of fortune the lives of these ladies, descended from a distinguished ancestry, were passed in dependent obscurity.

—Another fatal accident caused by the careless handling of a pistol occurred last Saturday morning near Salona, Clinton county, resulting in the death of Mrs. Jennie Mauch, wife of George Mauch. It appears that the weapon was lying on a stand or table up stairs and the lady, not knowing it was loaded, picked it up to wipe the dust off it, when in some manner it was discharged, the ball entering the region near the heart. After being shot, Mrs. Mauch ran down stairs and was about to sit down in a chair when death overtook her and she sank to the floor a corpse. She formerly lived in Tyrone and had been married about a year.

—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. of this place, last Tuesday evening in the hall of the association, a supper was served by Mrs. Rees, wife of Secretary Rees, the entertainment having been prepared in honor of J. W. Gephart, Esq., it being his first attendance at a meeting since his return from Europe. In the business meeting which followed, the subject discussed was the proposed gymnasium. There is on hand a fund of $175 to start with, but it will require a large sum to build and equip a suitable building, as the one now on the grounds of the association will not answer the purpose. A committee consisting of Mr. W. S. Zeller, Prof. James R. Hughes and D. M. Lieb was appointed to prepare plans and estimate the cost of the required structure.

—In the death of John Kreamer, which occurred last week, Miles township lost one of its oldest and most respected residents, his life having been prolonged beyond the usual limit, as it extended by three months beyond the extreme age of 86 years. When he was a boy eleven years old his father, Jacob Kreamer, moved into Brush Valley, from Berks county, and consequently he had been a resident of Centre county for about seventy-five years. His wife, whose maiden name was Sarah Weaver and with whom he lived over sixty-two years, was the daughter of John Weaver, who came to Brush valley from York county in 1801, and she survives him in her 87th year. In addition to being an honest and worthy citizen, who had the confidence of all his neighbors, he was a steadfast member of the Lutheran church. His brother, David Kreamer, is still living in Rebersburg; one of his surviving sisters is the widow of George Harper, residing at Centre Hall, she being the mother of Jonathan, William and Jared Harper merchants of Bellefonte. The children of the deceased now living are Jonathan of Valley Falls, Kansas, Reuben of Rebersburg, William who resides on the old homestead, Jared, of Rebersburg, and a daughter Mary. The remains of this venerable and worthy old citizen were interred in the Union cemetery at Rebersburg, followed to the grave by a large number of relatives and friends.

—A correspondent of the Connequeness Valley News, writing from Bellefonte, makes the following mention of a noted farm in this neighborhood: On Sunday evening we were driven by our host, Mr. W. H. Taylor, to the farm of Mr. S. C. Burnside, of whom we made personal mention in our last letter. Here we spent a most delightful hour, and while sitting on the verandah of the elegant home had a grand view of the beautiful valley spread out before us like a magnificent picture. The 410 acres owned by Mr. Burnside is divided into two farms of about equal proportions, with barns and residence on each. We do not think we have ever seen a more beautiful spot, and we are not surprised that General Simon Cameron, who bought it for his grandson, thought it the prettiest farm in the State. It is highly productive and yields a large income annually from its many products. The ore taken from one part of the farm pays the owner $10 a day. In looking over this beautiful tract of land and to think that it was bought for the small sum (comparatively) of $28,000, we are surprised that a greater figure was not demanded for it. We do not think that twice that sum would buy it now. We found that Mr. and Mrs. Burnside were far advanced in all the social amenities, and the time we spent in their company was really most delightful, and we left them with many regrets.

—A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writing about the exhibit made by the Pennsylvania State College at the Williams Grove picnic exhibition, spoke in high terms of it, saying: It consists of the work of the scholars of the first, second and third year classes on wood-turning and inlaying, veneering, masonry-work in wood, and iron and steel forgings, with advanced work in chipping, filing and machine work. It shows the ability of the Pennsylvania College to turn out men whose hands are educated as well as their brains. As creditable as this work is, however, it can be surpassed by the boys of the Baltimore Manual Training School.

—Is our young friend Baily, of the Daily News, correct in using the word "reportorial" as the adjective of "reporter"? He would be if the latter word had an o in its last syllable, but it hasn't. "Wouldn't 'reportorial,' look more like the correct thing, on the same principle that we write and say 'ministerial.' Webster says that 'reportorial' is 'an ill-formed word,' and newspaper men, who are responsible for the monstrosity and use it so much, should try to put it in better form.

—The great popularity of the Oxygen treatment (in its various combinations) with all classes is due to the wonderful success in the treatment of all chronic diseases. Do not miss a very rare opportunity of seeing Dr. Clemens, the Specialist, at the Brockerhoff, Bellefonte, Sept. 25, one day only. Send for testimonials to the Sanitarium, Allentown, Pa. Consultation free.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church were very much encouraged by the success of their chicken and waffle supper Thursday evening of last week. It was the first of a series of entertainments they propose to give for the raising of a fund to purchase, as we understand, a pipe organ for their church. There can be no doubt that the entertainments yet to come will be equally successful.

—An old colored woman named Eliza Stanton, living in the neighborhood of Buffalo Run, is said to be 105 years old, and she is vigorous enough to go out on the mountains to pick berries. There is no doubt an exaggeration in regard to her age, but there can be no question that she is very old.

—It is to be regretted that circumstances prevented the military tournament that was to come in this place last Saturday from being the success that was expected. The Lock Haven company did not put in an appearance, and the exercises by the Bellefonte company were interfered with by the rain. A portion of the drum corps of the 5th regiment, from Altoona, came here on Friday, intending to participate in Saturday's exercises, but the bad weather put a dampener on their martial music. For the same reason the festival at the Court House under the auspices of the band on Friday evening, was in a great measure a failure. It appears that the weather has no respect for even the military.

—Wanted.—50,000 pounds of wool. Lyon & Co., Bellefonte, Pa.

—Col. George A. Bayard, of this place, has been appointed as special aide-camp on the staff of the chief marshal of Pennsylvania in the demonstration at Gettysburg on the 11th and 12th inst. The chief marshal will be General Gregg.

—Fine cheese, Hams, Bacon, Dried Beef, and Canned Meats at Sechler & Co.'s.

—In some parts of Nittany valley the wheat yield is reported to be short. The threshing machine men say it takes an average of twenty-four sheaves now to make a bushel of grain against an average of sixteen in former years.

—All the New Woolens, for the coming season now being received. Liberal Discount for early orders during the dull season. Our Fall stock will be the first we have ever shown. Prices and a good fit guaranteed. MONTGOMERY & Co., Tailors.

—While a party of men were working at the road near Newbury, Clearfield county, the other day, they unearthed the skeleton of a man. Two bullet holes were in the back part of the skull. The remains are supposed to be those of a peddler who mysteriously disappeared thirty-five years ago.

WALL PAPER.—Large stock—must be sold. Prices astonishing, write for samples to JOHN M. DEAN & Co., Williamsport, Pa.

—Some of the farmers are complaining of having trouble with their newly dug potatoes on account of the rot. This defect has broken out among them after they have been stored away in the cellars.

—Foreign and Domestic dried fruit and canned goods at Sechler & Co.'s.

—Some days ago, James Boyle, a young man employed in the Victor mines, near Phillipsburg, had one of his legs broken by a fall of coal while engaged in knocking out props.

—Apple butter, Jellies, Jams, Honey Pickles, Olives, Table Oil, and Ketchup at Sechler & Co.'s.

Pine Grove Pickings.—In the evening a pleasant gathering was held in the grove under the auspices of the band boys, who furnished the music for the occasion.

The annual harvest home picnic, in which the different Sabbath schools are to participate, is slated for Saturday the 14th inst. in the Academy grove. Everybody is invited.

The division of our township is again becoming the topic of discussion, the court having submitted it to the suffrage of the people and it will be voted on at our next election.

Last Saturday our base ball club crossed bats with the Baileyville nine. After combatting an unusual amount of contention the game was decided by the umpire, nine for our town boys, 9 for the visiting club.

Our enterprising friend, C. H. Struble, is erecting at his own expense a hundred horse engine. Most of the material is on the ground and the washer will be completed as rapidly as possible. In this enterprise we wish our friend success and hope that he may find an inexhaustible amount of the hidden metallic treasure.

The reunion of Company E. 4th Reg. P. V., held in the Baileyville grove on the 27th inst., was a pleasant social gathering of civilians and veterans, many comrades of other regiments being present. Gen. J. C. Curtin, Col. Amos Mullen and Regimental Surgeon Dr. Theo. S. Christ were present of the 4th Regt., besides many others whose names our memory fails to recall. The stand was beautifully decorated with festoons and flags. The tables groined with good things, for which the generous hearted people of that section are noted.

Of some hundred and ninety members of Co. E. but twenty responded to roll call. Some are scattered in different states, following the different vocations of life, but the great majority have crossed over the river and are resting under the shade of the trees in the southern clime, and the few survivors are passing away with a rapidity that is saddening beyond measure.

The meeting was organized by electing Robert Gardner chairman, and Gen. J. C. Curtin, Robert Glenn, A. E. Clemson, J. J. Goheen, W. B. McWilliams, G. W. Reynolds, vice presidents. Rev. J. C. Young made the opening prayer, when Rev. J. C. Kelley delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to in behalf of Co. E. by Comrade W. H. Musser. The exercises were interspersed with vocal and instrumental music. Pine Grove, Washington and Penna. Furnace Bands were present. Letters of regret were read from Gov. Beaver, Col. Curtin and Major Benner. By the kindness of Lieut. Armstrong Baily, a marker flag, carried all through the war, with the different engagements printed on it, was suspended from the stand, viz: James Island, Fort Pulaski, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredricksburg, Vicksburg, Jackson, Cumberland, Blue Springs, Campbell's Station, Knoxville, Wilderness, North Ann, Petersburg, Richmond, Cold Harbor, and Lee's surrender at Appomattox. Addresses were also made by Gen. Curtin and Clem Dale. Comrade Musser favored the audience with a song called "The Old Camp Kettle," which was followed by the historical address by D. F. Fortney who vividly rehearsed the engagements and hardships of the Company from the time of its enlistment, September 24, 1861, to Appomattox. Comrade Henry Laird also made a rattling good speech which closed the day's exercises. Thus ended the 28th anniversary of Co. E. 4th Reg. P. V. The following survivors were present and responded to roll call: Lieut. Armstrong Baily, Capt. A. W. Harper, Wm. Ellenburger, J. R. Phessant, W. H. Musser, J. G. Rader, J. W. Rider, W. H. Poorman, Jerry Ewing, Jacob Beck, G. W. Lonar, W. A. Jackson, Jacob Barlow, J. G. Heberling, D. B. Allen, J. E. Way, Harry Krider, W. A. Fry, and David Love. In the closing exercises a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to the citizens for their kind entertainment and generous hospitality. The drum corps that furnished the martial music for company E. 23 years ago, while on home drill, consisting of A. E. Clemson as fife, J. H. Lever, tenor drummer, and J. J. Goheen, bass drummer, entertained the audience royally with their old time music. It was quite late in the evening when the veterans took their leave, and some their last look, at the familiar spot where they, 23 years ago, left relatives, friends and dear ones to engage in the strife and carnage of war.

Walker Items.—The youngest child of Frank Creps, of near Hecla, died suddenly of cholera infantum on the 8th instant.

The people generally are making preparations to attend the great annual Granger Picnic at Centre Hall.

Henry Brown, the prominent merchant of Hagersburg, is converting the old Teat's pottery establishment into a magnificent mansion.

Mr. Harrison Robinson, who has been in from the west on business, and made some short calls with old acquaintances, has returned to Iowa again.

The farmers all seem to carry a smile on their countenances since the refreshing rains, expecting now to finish their seeding in good style. Thankful, too, we should all be to Providence for such blessings in time of need.

The hog cholera is seeming to gain footing and is making havoc among the hogs of Walkersburg and township. We were informed that four hogs and a number of pigs have fallen into the grasp of this death monster, owned by ex-Commissioner Dunick; also a number belonging to Henry Dietrich and others.

The wedding which took place at Hagersburg on the 5th instant, was quite a nobly affair. Mr. L. H. Youm and Miss Julia Swartz, both of the above place, were the happy party, and were also the recipients of quite a number of valuable presents given them by the relatives and friends present on the occasion: Rev. D. O. Shoemaker, of Walker, officiated. May long life, prosperity and happiness be theirs to enjoy, is the wish of the writer.

Mr. Dale's log job in Greensville is still alive and slowly on the move. A looker on prices it moves a little too slow to Mr. Graham's mill, which, with Mr. Erneigh at the lever, is very fond of lumber. Your correspondent has been informed that his charter hands have all been given their nine cents, for some cause unknown, with the exception of one or two, who are presumably retained as news boys, or perhaps to render the air musical with the reverberation of "get up Pete."

Married.

YOCUM-SWARTZ.—On the 5th inst., by the Rev. D. O. Shoemaker, Lewis H. Yocum and Julia E. Swartz, both of Hagersburg, Pa.

WILSON-GINGHER.—September 3d, by S. F. Foster, Thomas Wilson, of Bellefonte, and Ella A. Gingham, of Berwick, Columbia county, Pa.

Died.

KREAMER.—At Rebersburg, on Sunday, 1st inst., John Kreamer, aged 86 years, 3 months and 2 days.

HOLT.—Lee Tomson, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holt, of Moshannon, Centre county, Pa., of cholera infantum, Friday, August 23d, age six months and seven days.

Lovely babe, how brief thy stay,
Short and hasty was thy day;
Ending soon thy journey here,
Pain and grief no more to bear.

Hard it is for thee to part
For it renders the aching heart;
But an heir of glory's gone,
Let the will of God be done.

Pillowed on a Saviour's breast,
Sweetly sleep and softly rest;
Soon the morning shall restore
The buried babe we now deplore.

DIED.—On Sunday afternoon Sept. 8th, 1889, Mr. Jesse Moore, of Boalsburg, Pa., aged 78 years, 7 months and 27 days.

Mr. Moore was buried on Tuesday morning in the Boalsburg Cemetery. He was a consistent member of the Reformed church, a good man and most excellent citizen.
