Bellefonte, Pa., October 25, 1889.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Mr. M. H. Guss, of Penn Hall, is the duly authorized agent of the WATCHMAN for Gregg township.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—Andy Lytle, of College township, on Monday last husked 108 bushels of corn in 6 hours.

—Mrs. and Mr. J. Riden and daughter Ida, of Pleasant Gap, have just returned from Lewisburg where they had a delightful time visiting friends.

—Rev. Mr. McClelland, of Allegheny, may receive a call to fill the place made vacant in the Phillipsburg Presbyterian church by the resignation of Rev. S. A. Cornelius.

—Mrs. Sarah Strohecker, wife of Mr. Samuel Strohecker, living near Rebersburg, last week displayed her skill with the shot gun by shooting a hawk, two crows and seven sparrows.

—Editor Furey of the Lock Haven Democrat has been suffering from an attack of ague. This comes from leaving the pure mountain air of Centre county and settling in a malarious district along the river.

—Charles McGirk, son of Dr. McGirk, of Phillipsburg, was brought home on Monday with a broken ankle received while engaged in playing football at Carlisle college with a team from Swatara, Saturday morning last.

—Mr. E. D. Satterfield, well known in this county, died at West Middlesex, Pa., last Sunday, at the age of 77 years. His wife was a Miss Hamilton, sister of Mrs. S. H. Williams, Mrs. John Noll, Mrs. Dawson and Mr. A. V. Hamilton, all residents of this place.

—While several men were crossing the stone bridge over Fisher Creek at Mill Hall one day last week the structure fell. One man named Stringfeller was considerably injured. The bridge was damaged by the flood, and is now being torn down preparatory to rebuilding.

—In the Presbyterian synod of Pennsylvania, just closed at Altoona, Dr. Laurie, of this place, strongly advocated a division of the synod. On Monday the proposition was voted down by a large majority. The Doctor, however, assured the synod that the question would not remain quiet, but would be brought up again.

—Cyrus Cronister, a venerable citizen residing at Centre Line, died on the 23rd inst., at the age of 81 years. While postmaster for many years at Centre Line he carried the mail from Warriors Mark to his own post office. He was a staunch Democrat and a consistent member of the Lutheran church. A wife, a son, Jacob, and a daughter, Mrs. Henry Huff, mourn his death.

—The Union County Mutual Live Stock Insurance company has been called to give an account of itself. It is said to be entirely without assets, and the Attorney General has issued an order requiring its officers to show cause why its business should not be wound up. Companies of this kind are frequently run on wild cat principles, and farmers who confide in them often find their confidence misplaced.

—Last Saturday a corn husking machine was operated on the farm of T. K. Wetzel near Lock Haven and did satisfactory work. The corn stalks were fed through the machine butts first as fast as one man could handle them. The stalks were cut and crushed by the machine and the corn delivered into a wagon. A large crowd of farmers and others were present to witness the test of the machine, and the impression left upon them was that the old slow process of husking corn by hand is about drawing to a close.

—R. C. Richards, of Phillipsburg, engaged as brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad between Altoona and Pittsburg, was instantly killed by the cars near Johnstown on Saturday. It is reported he fell off a freight car while the train was in motion. He was very much mutilated. His body was brought to Phillipsburg the same evening and conveyed to his home on Tenth street, his wife not having previously learned of the sad affair. He was aged about 32 years and leaves a wife and three children and many warm friends to mourn his death.

—Charles Bowers, of Julian Furnace, aged about seventeen years, working on Forge Run as a woodsman, died Thursday evening of last week from injuries he had sustained the day before. A tree was being cut down and just about the time it began falling the usual signal was given to get out of danger. Young Bowers hastily got out of the way, but he evidently became bewildered, as he turned around and ran under the tree. It struck him on the head, producing a severe fracture of the skull, throwing him into an unconscious state, in which he remained until death ensued.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE EX-SENATOR HALL.—The remains of the late Hon. John G. Hall were brought from Liverpool where his death occurred some weeks ago, and were buried at Ridgeway, Elk county, the funeral taking place last Tuesday. The attendance was very large, there being a special train from Williamsport and Lock Haven, and also from Bradford, McKean county, carrying persons who attended the funeral.

Among the distinguished persons present were Solicitor General Geo. A. Jenks, of Brookville, and their honors, Judges Krebs, of Clearfield, Bucher, of Lewisburg and Mayer, of Lock Haven. Senators Emery and Lee, who were in the Senate at the same time Mr. Hall was, were likewise present. Among the noted railway representatives at the funeral were Superintendent of Maintenance of Way, A. C. Hippey, of Williamsport, Superintendent of Middle Division Roberts, of Renovo and Superintendent Westfall, of the Lewisburg and Lemont railway.

On Monday a bar meeting was held at Ridgeway, which was presided over by Judge Mayer, and at which the deceased was eulogized for his high qualities, as a lawyer and citizen. The remains were interred in Pine Grove cemetery with the rites of the Episcopal church. The pall bearers were Messrs. Dixon and Rathbun, attorneys of Ridgeway; Congressman McCornick, of Williamsport; Hon. George A. Jenks, of Brookville; Ex-Senator Lee; Messrs. Green and Johnson, of Cameron county, and T. C. Hipple, Esq., of Lock Haven.

Hon. Wm. A. Wallace, who is now in England, wrote to the Philadelphia Times the following account of Senator Hall's death.

Hall had left for London on a business trip connected with his profession and his stay was to have been brief. He was fairly well when he sailed, accompanied by his wife and business associate.

On the voyage and near its close while sitting on deck, he had a seizure which the doctors now think was paralysis. Dr. Crawford of Maybrick case, who was called to consult is clearly of opinion that it was brain disease of some form. After that seizure he rallied and to all but his wife seemed entirely rational. She says he was not so, except upon matters occurring prior to his attack. He had two additional convulsions or attacks on the ship, but was able to sit up when he reached here on Friday 3rd. His brother was telegraphed to at Berlin and reached here Monday morning last. He seemed to improve under the care of the new physicians here, but on Monday night was again stricken and in an hour was dead. His disease undoubtedly was "braining" in some form.

What a lesson this is to all of us. He was bright, genial, logical, in apparently good health and yet the machine had run down, his mental faculties had been overtaxed and the penalty was death.

In him the law has lost an able and upright gentleman, the State a far-seeing and wise statesman, with a grasp equal to that of any, and I have lost a pupil, a partner, a colleague and a friend. His wife and his brother sail in the Umbra (which carries this letter) in the morning with his body. Return to London to-morrow.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Frank Gallagher, a resident of Woodland and employe of the Pennsylvania railroad, while doing duty with the work gang on the Tyrone and Clearfield branch, fell off a hand car on which he and a number of other employes were returning from work Sunday afternoon last. The accident occurred a short distance above Steiner's station. It is thought the handle which Gallagher was working struck him on the head, causing him to fall off. He was dragged a distance of almost two hundred yards before the car was stopped. One leg was almost completely cut in two, his head and face were badly cut and he received internal injuries. He was brought to Phillipsburg, taken to the supervisor's office and the company surgeon, Dr. Allport, summoned. Every possible care and attention was given the young man but his injuries proved fatal within a few hours after the accident.

BADLY CUT UP.—A day or two ago, says the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, George Weaver, of Cogan House, met with a serious accident while working on one of Daniel Kavanaugh's job on Smith's Run. He struck his axe into a tree that was bent down by other timber, and he was thrown some thirty feet down the embankment among rocks. A portion of the left side of his nose was entirely cut off, and he was also cut from the top of lower lip to the lower part of the chin, the lip hanging down clear of the chin. Dr. Reitter dressed the wounds in a most satisfactory manner, and the unfortunate man, who is about sixty years of age, bore up under the operation most heroically.

QUICK WORK.—The Lock Haven Democrat speaks of the quick manner in which the new iron railroad bridge was put over the creek at Mill Hall last week. After the Bald Eagle Valley train had passed down on its way to Lock Haven which it reaches at 11 a. m., the work of placing the new bridge was begun, and in an hour and a-half the structure was firmly fixed and a train passed over it. This was very expeditious work, but it is only another instance of the wonderful power and facilities of the great railroad company, the name of which has become celebrated throughout the world. The Beech Creek bridge at the same place and over the same stream will soon be ready to put in position and a large force of men are being worked for this purpose.

—The marriage of Mr. Horace Mann and Miss Annie Speer, both of Bellefonte, is announced for the 30th inst.

—Miss Helen Loveland, of Lock Haven, started for Japan, the other day, to serve as a missionary under the Presbyterian Board of Missions.

—The Woman's Relief Corps, of Bellefonte, intend to give an oyster supper on the 29th inst. to raise funds for the better furnishing and ornamentation of the head quarters of Gregg Post.

—Rev. T. B. Cross, of Chandon, Ohio, has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist congregations of Miesburg, Unionville and Bellefonte. He is married and intends to reside in Bellefonte.

—The force of laborers at work in Sugar valley on the Bellefonte and East-Central Railroad was increased last week. The principal work that will be done this fall is on deep cuts. There seems to be good reason to look for a speedy completion of the road.

—Bruce Hamilton, son of William L. Hamilton, of Lock Haven, aged about 17 years, was killed Thursday last week in a collision that occurred on the railroad near Emporium. He had been working as assistant to the telegraph linemen and was coming home to Lock Haven on the train when the wreck occurred.

—At the marriage of Mr. John Monahan, of Philadelphia, and Miss Mollie Curry in the Catholic church at this place on the 17th inst., of which brief notice was given in last week's WATCHMAN, the groom's brother acted as best man and the bride's sister as first bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. McArdle at 8.30 a. m., and the happy couple, taking with them the warmest wishes of their many friends, left on the 5 p. m. train to spend their honeymoon in the eastern cities.

Among those present at the wedding from a distance were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monahan, of Philadelphia, and Henry Reading and sister, of Snow Shoe.

—Thomas Vail, an old citizen and well known contractor, died at Vail, near Tyrone, last Saturday, aged 82 years. He was born in Duncarvin, Waterford county, Ireland, in the year 1807. He came to America in 1837 and followed contracting, employing a great many men at times. He was one of the contractors on the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad, and built the road from Vail to Vancocoy. Mr. Vail was also manager of the building of the Holy Oak dam in Massachusetts. A democrat all his life, he cast his first vote for President for James K. Polk. Mr. Vail has been confined to his home for seven years, having been blind for over five years. He leaves a wife and three sons to mourn their loss. The latter are Martin, assistant supervisor B. C. C. & S. W. R. R.; Patrick of Phillipsburg, and John of the Illinois Central railroad. Mr. Vail was a consistent member of St. Matthe's Catholic church, Tyrone.

—Speaking of the fair of the Reliance Fire Company at Phillipsburg and the relics displayed to add interest to it, the Ledger says: The collection of Hardmon Phillips' relics is extremely interesting to Phillipsburg people. His old piano, table, chairs, dishes and books are all fraught with the history of the everyday life of the queer old English 'Squire who founded our town. The pictures of him and his wife hang on the wall, loaned by Mrs. Sophia Hale. The collection of battle relics loaned by the veterans of the late war are plentiful and well arranged. A curious weapon is the sword of Prince Charles Trezinylny (pronounced Tre-zun-ly) a Polish patriot who was banished from Poland and came to America during the Revolution. He fought in the Continental army and at the close of the war settled in Centre Co. where some of his descendants now live. The sword he brought from Poland. It is now owned by Mr. Charles Campbell.

—Last Saturday was the fiftieth anniversary of the formation of Clinton county. The Lock Haven Democrat, speaking of this circumstance, remarked: In the year 1839 George Leidy represented Clinton county in the Legislature. Thomas Burnside was President Judge; John Fleming and George Crawford were Associate Judges, their commissions having been granted on the 19th of October of that year, and were sworn in at Williamsport October 26th by J. L. Mussina, Deputy Prothonotary of Lycoming county; Philip Krebs Prothonotary, his commission being issued on the 19th and he was sworn on the 26th by Judge George Crawford; Hugh White, Robert Bridges and Anthony Kleckner were elected Commissioners in October, 1839; John Miller's commission as Sheriff was issued November 5, 1839, and he was sworn in November 5, by Philip Krebs. Commission of Philip Krebs as Register and Recorder granted October 19, 1839, and sworn in by Judge Crawford. Robert Irwin was appointed Treasurer in 1839, and Joseph T. Quay, Cephas Bateheler and John H. Chatham were elected Auditors and James Carskaddon, Coroner.

—The social of Pleasant Gap Lutheran church on last Thursday evening, under the direction of the ladies of the congregation, was quite a pleasant and enjoyable occasion. The Pleasant Gap Cornet Band was present and has the thanks of the Society for the music furnished and the manner in which they made themselves useful generally.

Five or six boys, who think they are men and make a practice of carrying a jug with them, were intruders. This is the second time that they have thrust themselves, uninvited and unwelcome as they are, into this Society. They are all known and if they come again, in this manner, they will be punished to the full extent of the law.

—For some time past a half dozen or more of Lock Haven's prominent business men have engaged quietly in perfecting arrangements for putting down a test well in the hope of striking either natural gas or oil. The prospects are favorable for an early commencement of the work, and some day in the near future the machinery will arrive and a practical man who has had a large experience in putting down gas wells will be here to superintend the work. There are several places within a few miles of the city where gas is found escaping from the ground and at one of those places the test well will be put down.—Lock Haven Express.

—In speaking of the Bellefonte men who were in Phillipsburg last week the Ledger of that place says: Ex-Sheriff Tom Dunkle was tearing around town for two or three days and from the look of things Tom was getting in some good political work. He had on his campaign gait, the kind he used to wear when he used to hump himself around the South precinct of Rush about two days before election. That gait carried Thomas into the sheriff's office all the same, and is a hard step to beat.

—Snow Shoe Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., have installed the following officers for the half year following Oct. 1st: J. J. Yarnell, N. G.; Frank Brown, V. G.; Asst. Secretary, D. R. Thomas; Treasurer J. S. Smith (Mr. Smith has filled that position since the institution of the Lodge); O. S. G., R. O. Heverly; I. S. G., H. Barger; Warden, Thomas Duly; Chaplain, W. B. Masters; R. S. S., O. P. King; R. S. to N. G., Samuel Holt; R. S. to V. G., J. Uzale.

—One of the largest bears shot in this county in recent years, was killed in Covington township last Thursday by some hunters who struck its track. The animal was killed shortly after being routed and weighed 470 pounds. The head was brought to taxidermist Harder in this place to be mounted, and from the size of the head we would infer the animal to have been a monster.—Clearfield Republican.

—The Beech Creek railroad will soon enter Williamsport over its own tracks and its extension to Pittsburg is only a matter of time. This the Vanderbilts have determined on and they will not rest until they have a connecting line between New York and the iron city entirely owned by themselves.

—A recent death in Clearfield county was that of Mrs. Catharine Cron, who died at her home near Three Runs, in her 93rd year. She resided in Clearfield county for eighty-five years. Over two hundred descendants mourn her departure.

—General Green B. Ramm, the new Commissioner of Pensions is a relative of Capt. Bayard and Miss Celia Armor, of our town, and also of the assistant editor of the WATCHMAN. They ought to go on the pension list on the strength of the relationship, and then be rerated a la Tannar.

—Dr. Laurie, who attended the Synod of Pennsylvania, in session at Altoona last week, vigorously advocated the division of the Synod. He preached in Dr. Monroe's Methodist church last Sunday. James Harris represented the Bellefonte Presbyterian church in the Synod as a ruling elder.

—George Nolan, son of John Nolan, of Chatham's Run, was badly hurt in the woods at Snow Shoe on Tuesday by a tree falling on him. His injuries were on the head and were supposed to be of a serious nature.

—Mr. Robert J. Haynes and wife and their son, W. R. Haynes, of Snow-Shoe, started on Tuesday morning to visit friends in Missouri and Kansas, and to do some hunting in the western wilds.

—Mr. Isaac Haupt, of our town, was not lucky with apples this year on his fruit farm, as he got but 125 bushels from 500 trees, but their quality was good.

—John Garis, son of chief of police Wm. Garis, of this place, sustained quite a severe injury in Pittsburg some days ago, the character of which we have not ascertained.

—To-morrow (Saturday) Zeller & Son will present to each lady calling at their drug store, a neat little souvenir of their removal to their new location.

—The first snow of the season was seen Wednesday morning on the hills surrounding Bellefonte.

—Rev. Mr. Black, of Boalsburg, will preach in the Reformed church, this place, next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours.

—Chicken and waffles as well as oysters will constitute the bill of fare of the Women's Relief Corps next Saturday evening.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Quiggle, of Beech Creek, who is probably the oldest woman in Clinton county, will be ninety-two years old January 1st.

—The Presbyterian synod, holding its session at Altoona, closed its labors Tuesday evening and adjourned to meet next year on the third Thursday of October at Wheeling, West Virginia. This synod represents the ancient home of Presbyterianism in this land, and embraces about one-sixth of its churches, ministry and membership.

—Newton S. Bailey, for some time editor of the Daily News, of this place, announced on Monday that he had assumed the editorial and business management of that paper and of the Republican, over whose course and destiny he will hereafter preside. Mr. Bailey is an industrious, highly respectable and conscientious young man, although a little off in his political ethics. We hope that he may be abundantly successful in the new duties he has assumed.

—All the New Woollens, for the coming season now being received. Liberal Discount for early orders during the dull season. Our Fall stock will be the finest we have ever shown. Prices and a good fit guaranteed. MONTGOMERY & Co. Tailors.

—A new marble and granite yard, for the manufacture of cemetery work, will be established at Unionville in a few months by Marey Bowman, formerly of near Philadelphia, and J. T. Yarnell of Pinegrove. Mr. Bowman is well acquainted with the business in all its departments, having worked thirteen years in some of the large cities and three years in this county, where he has made many fine memorials. Mr. Yarnell is favorably known as a sober, reliable young man well qualified to represent the firm abroad. It

WALL PAPER.—Large stock—must be sold. Prices astonishing, write for samples to JOHN M. DEAN & Co., Williamsport, Pa.

—Last Friday evening the following officers of the Y. M. C. A. of this place, were elected for the ensuing year: President—James R. Hughes; Vice President—W. S. Zeller; Recording Secretary—Frank P. Bassett; Treasurer—J. C. Weaver; Librarian—G. W. Rees. Board of Directors—A. Lukenbach and D. S. Keller, of the Reformed church; Ed. Garman, of the Episcopal church; D. M. Lieb, of the Methodist church; J. W. Gephart, of the Presbyterian church; Prof. Johnstonbaugh, of the Lutheran church; A. B. Lucas, of the Disciple church; F. P. Green, of the Baptist church.

—Appelbutter, Jellies, Jams, Honey Pickles, Olives, Table Oil, and Ketchup at Sechler & Co's.

—On Friday last a young man named King, aged about 17 years, while out hunting on Jack's mountain, near Bellefonte, was shot through the right lung by a young man named Beck, and dangerously wounded. King had been out hunting the day before and shot two turkeys with one shot, and started out on Friday morning before daybreak to resume the search for the turkeys, which he had scattered the day before. He was walking along the roadside, when he was struck in the breast by a bullet from Beck's rifle. He was taken to the residence of a relative at Bellefonte, where he and his mother, who resides in Ohio, have been visiting for several weeks. An examination of the wound was made by a physician, who was unable to find the ball, but he believes that the patient will recover.

A HANDSOME DRUG STORE.—Messrs. J. Zeller & Son have at last got their drug store located in their new room in the Crider building and they are to be congratulated on the handsome and commodious quarters they have secured. In all its arrangements, appointments and divisions it is a beauty, leading any of the establishments of the kind in this part of the country. The front apartment of the store is 46 feet deep, divided from the back part by a handsome glass partition. The shelves with their array of bottles and the various cases are arranged with an eye to a handsome effect as well as to convenience and are very systematic in their design. Their ornamentation is greatly lightened by an ornamental railing. The rear part is 32 feet in depth, with prescription room 16x20, the whole terminating with a laboratory 20 feet square. Handsome paper on the ceiling and wall adds greatly to the beauty of these apartments which are supplied with steam heat, electric light and other improvements demanded by the advanced requirements of this period of progress. The firm may be considered as fully absent of the age.

—Mrs. D. P. McKinney, of Howard, has just returned from the eastern cities and on next Tuesday will have her fall opening of fine millinery and fancy goods. The ladies in that section of the county are awaiting this event with no little interest, and we are certain they will not be disappointed in their expectation of securing the very latest and prettiest things that are to be had in the line of millinery.

Pine Grove Pickings. Applebutter bollings are not in question this season. Squirrels are getting scarce but hunters are plenty. Our hunters returned from the mountain last week but the distribution of venison was postponed later.

—On special young friend, C. S. Danley, of Ohio is at present visiting his friends and old time acquaintance here. He is accompanied by his accomplished wife.

The corn crop is above the average; this season and while some are about through cribbing, others have scarcely commenced, hoping for continuous good weather.

The school building in our town has been furnished with new patent desks that were so much needed. It is hoped the boys will leave their pocket knives at home and not otherwise deface the new furniture.

Capt. J. M. Kepler, Editor of the Forest Democrat, has been spending a busy week, on his large plantation, superintending the erection of a six thousand bushel lime pit. Jake is an old timer and knows all about scientific agriculture and means to make it go, and under his direction the old farm is much improved.

W. B. Gardner, oldest son of Wilson Gardner, and Maggie, third daughter of W. B. McWilliams, were married by Rev. J. C. Kelley at the home of the bride's parents at seven o'clock p. m., on the 22nd inst., in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The nuptial sumptuous wedding supper was served. The presents were numerous, beautiful and useful. The newly married couple took their departure the following day for Harrisburg amid a shower of rice and old shoes for good luck of which the writer wishes them abundance, and has but one rejoinder to make, which is that through their life companionship they so treat each other that the survivor of the train may not be harassed by bitter memories of unkind deeds or words spoken in anger or ill temper.

The death of Christian Musser occurred at Danville on the 16th inst. of heart failure at the age of 63 years, 9 months and 9 days. His remains were brought home by Mr. Goss, on Saturday. The funeral took place on Sunday from the residence of his brother-in-law George Ard, attended by a large number of relations and neighbors by whom the deceased was held in high esteem. For some years his mind was weak and about a year ago it was thought best to take him to Danville for special treatment. For time he improved, but the Johnston tragedy in which he lost a son and other portions of his family was more than his shattered mind could bear. Some weeks ago his attending physician wrote to his wife that his recovery was impossible; so the message was not unexpected. He died suddenly in a fit of grief from the above stated cause. His spirit has gone to the realms of bliss where grief is no known, friends never part and grave never dug. He leaves a wife and a number of grown children, residents of Johnston, some of them being prostrated with typhoid fever. Sad to think that not one of that once happy family could be present to take a last look and drop a tear over the remains of a kind husband and indulgent father.

Tribute of Respect. Whereas it has pleased an all wise Providence to remove from our midst, by the swift messenger of Death, our worthy Brother, D. Wingate, late of Carbonade, Pa., one of the oldest and most honored members of Lodge No. 153, I. O. O. F., of Bellefonte, Pa.

Resolved, That we sincerely regret the loss of one whose counsel was always worthy of consideration and respect, and whose example as an Old Fellow was worthy of imitation.

Resolved, That whilst we submit with bow to the will of Him who doeth all things well, we will ever cherish our deceased Brother's memory and virtue by practicing more faithfully the teachings of our order.

Resolved, That in the death of our late Brother, his family have been deprived of a kind and affectionate husband and father, and that we hereby tender to them in their bereavement our sincere and heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, That our Lodge room be draped the usual length of time in memory of our deceased Brother, and that a copy of these resolutions be delivered to the family.

Respectfully Submitted,
H. Y. STEINER,
B. GALBRAITH, Committee.
