A GOOD MAN GONE.—Mr. James Sayer, the subject of this brief notice, who at the age of eighty-five recently passed the boundary of his life, in this place, was a native of Chemung county, N. Y., where he owned property of considerable value. He was a truly worthy man, in whose long life not a blemish could be found to mar its symmetry. In his former home at Hresheads he became in early life a worthy and active member of the Presbyterian Church, in which he was elected to and filled the offices of Deacon and Elder to the benefit of the church and great credit to himself, performing his duties with sterling integrity, dignity and becoming modesty. He was one of the noblest creations of God, a strictly honest man. Few men have lived to his age and died leaving as spotless a record as did Mr. Sayer, generous to a fault, active in every good cause, kind to the poor, a father to the orphan, a friend to the needy, dispensing benevolence wherever he saw a necessity for it. In all of his misfortunes by loss of property and homes, and consequent deprivations, he was submissive and uncomplaining to the last. Thus passed from Earth the last of a reputable family of nine children. He leaves a feeble widow who was a true and faithful wife and a devoted nurse during several years in which he was physically weak, rendering at all times the needed attentions without a murmur or hesitation. He also leaves a daughter and two sons, children worthy their parentage, to mourn his demise. The funeral will take place to-day (Friday) at 3 P. M., from the late residence of the deceased, 46 Water street.

Philipsburg Pickings.

A Batch of Interesting News Collected and Written By Our Own Special Correspondent. The Opera House is now heated by steam. A good thing. If you want to get a good square meal patronize the Baptist Thanksgiving dinner. Chas. A. McAteer, of Johnston, has leased the Peter House, and is expected to take charge of same in a few days. The concert to be given in the Opera House to-morrow (Saturday) evening, promises to be a grand affair, and if we are to judge by the great number of tickets already sold the house will be packed. It is for the benefit of the Baptist church. There will be one hundred and thirty-three adults and children who will take part in the entertainment. Early Files and Miss Cora Gill, daughter of John D. Gill, both of this place, were united in marriage on last Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. McGarrah, and the M. E. church, where the marriage took place, was well filled with the bride and groom's warm friends. The happy couple leave the writer's best wishes for their future well-fare. They will reside at Oseola. In last week's WATCHMAN we stated that there was quite a number of tenement houses lying vacant for want of occupants, and that the reason so many of them are not rented was on account of the rent being so outrageously high. They are still vacant and more are added to the list. A man who gets ordinary wages cannot afford to pay from twelve to fifteen dollars a month rent for a dwelling of five to six rooms, with no outside conveniences worth mentioning. Rents are bound to take a drop and it is our belief that one year from now those people who ask fifteen dollars for a house will be glad to get two-thirds that amount.

A Colossal System of Forgery.

CLEVELAND, November 19.—The developments in the case of B. Barrett, the missing piano dealer, indicate that he conducted the most colossal system of forgery in the history of the state. Notes were made by the wholesale—by the cord almost—and disposed of in all directions. Barrett duped his clerk, played on the confidence of his church associates, unloaded the worthless specimens of his penmanship on his personal friends, swindled banks and defrauded manufacturers out of thousands of dollars. His operations were conducted with consummate skill, the outgrowth of long practice, and for many years he met with the greatest success. The notes have been duplicated any where from one to ten times, and he found a ready market for every set he made. He seemed to have allowed an exceedingly liberal discount and stated his case so smoothly that he met with no difficulty in having all his forgeries "shaved." The latest estimate of Barrett's indebtedness places it at $100,000. A deed of assignment was filed by his attorney this afternoon, but the assets and liabilities are not stated. Barrett is still missing.

FILLING TURKISH HAREMS.

The New Review. The polygamous Turkish boys and agas, whose hitherto regular supply of Circassian girls from the Caucasus has been cut off from them since the annexation of the province by Russia, have recourse now to a bold system of rape. They swoop down upon an Armenian village with their armed cohorts, and carry off to their harems by main force as many good looking girls and women as they can lay their hands on. This is permitted to them, and the modus operandi by which the abduction of Armenian girls is rendered legal by the Moslem judges may be summed up as follows: "When the relatives present themselves in court to claim the abducted victim, the ravers are ready with a brace of Moslem witnesses (100 could be produced if wanted), who declare on oath that the kidnapped women pronounced in their presence the regular formula of the Moslem faith: "There is no God but God, and Mohammed is his prophet." The judge thereupon dismisses the case on the ground that the stolen and ravished girl by that profession abjured her former faith and embraced Mohammedanism. And the verdict of these upright judges is not to be set aside.

An Empire Changed into a Republic.

Brazil Discharges Its Imperial Rule and Adopts a Republican Form of Government. New York, Nov. 19.—A special from Rio de Janeiro, dated the 17th, says: The United States of Brazil, constituting a federal republic of the different provinces of the empire over which Dom Pedro had ruled so long, is an established government. The new republic is to-day acknowledged by every province except Bahia in the north. Dom Pedro is on his way to Portugal, having accepted the situation without attempt at forcible resistance. The flag of the new republic has been adopted, and Brazil is as peaceful to-day as if no revolution had ever aroused the feeling of her people. The overthrow of the empire has been accomplished without the sacrifice of a single life, and the new provisional government is proceeding with its work as methodically and peacefully as though it had been in existence for years instead of hours. Dom Pedro submitted to the terms imposed on him by the new government and agreed to leave the country within twenty-four hours after he received the notice at his summer palace at Petropolis. He was offered $2,500,000 in cash and provision for the rest of his life in the form of an annual pension of $450,000, which is to be provided for in the civil list of the new republic. He promptly accepted the offer and came to Rio de Janeiro with his family last night to embark for Lisbon. The imperial family, at 3 o'clock in the morning, boarded the Brazilian gunboat Paranyba, which was still flying the imperial flag in the harbor. The Paranyba transferred the imperial party to the Alagoas, which steamed out of the harbor in the forenoon, conveyed by the cruiser Riachuelo and the gunboat Paranyba, bound for Lisbon. Dom Pedro and his family go into perpetual exile, their absence from the country being regarded by the leaders of the republic as essential to the peace and welfare of the new government.

Northern Money Going South.

Largest Investments in Iron Plants and Factories Below Mason's Line. BALTIMORE, Nov. 15.—The past week has been one of activity in the organization of enterprises in the South. Florence Alabama, has had with investments by Philadelphia and New England capitalists, including a $500,000 cotton mill, a furnace to cost $200,000, to be built by Philadelphia parties and to be known as the Philadelphia Furnace, and a $300,000 loan and banking company, while $1,000,000 in cash has been invested in the stock and land of two local improvement companies in Florence by these Northern capitalists. In Florida a contract has been made for constructing a 300 mile canal to furnish a water way nearly the full length of the State. At Bessemer, Ala., two new furnaces to cost $400,000 are to be built. At Briarfield, Ala., iron works are to be reorganized with $500,000 of bonds and $700,000 of preferred stock. At Home, Ga., a $125,000 furnace is to be built. In West Virginia, a $200,000 clothing factory in Baltimore and extensive fertilizer works at Norfolk, Va.

LATE PUBLICATION.

The November Cosmopolitan contains the first of two arguments on the question of location of the World's fair of 1892. In this number the side of Chicago is, presented by U. S. Senator Charles B. Fawcett. It will be followed by the New York side of the question, written by William Waldorf Astor, who, in addition to his wealth and extensive ownership of real estate in New York, is the author of several works which have caused him to be favorably known in literary circles. The MS. of Mr. Ethan Allen Reynolds, which was lost in the whirl pools of the Grand Canyon of Colorado, at the time that three of his companions perished, has been rewritten and appears in this number. This dangerous expedition, in which it was probable that many if not all of the men would be drowned, which undertaken in the interests of science, was conducted exclusively for the Cosmopolitan, so far as its literary aspect was concerned. The College series for this month is Professor Rogers' article on Cornell, with many illustrations. "The Tenement House Life of New York," taking in all sides of this life, from the most splendid flat to the squalid tenement, is the result of a careful study of several years by Miss Elizabeth Disland. Another article which will be appreciated by lovers of horses and which has never been done for any other periodical, is the work of Mr. Pelham-Clinton who obtained special permission from the Queen of England to photograph her stables and horses, obtaining from the head groom such information as would be of interest concerning "The Queen's Stables."

—Joseph Jefferson in the December Catalogue, tells a curious story of a moonlight performance of "The Lady of Lyons" and "The Spectre Bridegroom" in a Mississippi barn. One old lady in the audience audibly insisted that the lovers in "The Lady of Lyons" should be "allowed their own way" and a stalwart young farmer warned the villain not to interfere again, "if he knew what was best for him."

—The New England Magazine for November is emphatically a New England number. Its frontispiece is a beautiful old Wayside Inn at Sudbury, which Longfellow's verse made so famous; and among the beautiful pictures which so generously fill the pages we are almost from first to last in the New England atmosphere. "An Old Connecticut Town" is a charming article on Milford, Conn., a similar memorial article is devoted to the old Cape Cod towns of Sandwich and Yarmouth. The recent celebration of the old church at Quincy is remembered. There is much about Clark University, including a bright notice in Mr. Hale's "Tarry at Home Travels." A strong and sensible article by Rev. Julius H. Ward, on "The Revival of our Country Towns." An article by Edwin A. Start, on "The Country Newspaper," has special value in the same connection. Washington's visit to New England, in October, 1789, is noticed. Professor Hosmer's "Haunted Bell" is continued, and there are other stories and essays, and a short poem by H. Bernard Carpenter. The three articles, however, which will chiefly interest a great body of readers are those on "Francis Parkman," by George Ellis Cooke, beautifully illustrated, on "Edwin Arnold at Harvard," and on "The Boston Symphony Orchestra," by Louis C. Benson.

American Money in Europe.

Philadelphia Bulletin. About 120,000 Americans were among the visitors to the Paris Exhibition. They must have spent, on an average, $100 in Paris, or about $12,000,000. The cost of the voyage to and from Europe and of their traveling and purchases while there must have been at least $500 apiece, making $60,000,000, the total being thus about $72,000,000. If we add Mr. C. H. Huntington's contribution to Prince Hatzfeldt and those of other exceptional millionaires not to be classed among the mass, it is safe to say that at least $100,000,000 of American money were spent in Europe last summer. —We are reliably informed that Lock Haven has averaged a funeral each day for the past two weeks.
