Be On Hand.

Its Advantages.

If you are going to do something do it promptly.

The longer you think about it, and dream it, the worse it will be.

Be on hand. Life is much pleasanter to the person who promptly does what he is required to do.

Don't keep your friends waiting. You have no right to waste the time of other people. If you are one half hour behind time in fulfilling an engagement, you may cause a dozen other engagements to be broken, and untold perplexities and delays may come out of just that little shortcoming of yours which you look upon as such a trifling thing.

To an active, energetic, wide-awake person there is nothing more trying and more annoying than to be made to wait.

Brace up and make an effort, you shiftless, indolent, always-behind folks and see if you cannot come to time.

If you have agreed to be at a certain place at a certain time, be there, unless you are sick, or dead. In either case you might be excused, but not otherwise.

If you are a man don't keep your wife waiting dinner for you, unless there is some good cause. Generally there is not. Waiting a dinner spoils not only the dinner, but the temper of the woman who is managing it.

If you are a woman, and your husband says he will be round at four o'clock to take you for a drive, be ready for him. Have your bonnet and gloves on. Don't keep him dancing on the side walk for a half hour holding a restless horse, while you leisurely put on your wraps and you look at your back hair in a hand glass and hunt up your gloves and parasol, and wonder whether you had better take an extra shawl along or not. Have all these things attended to and decided on before the time he has fixed.

A little system and a good deal of determination will help you to be prompt. And after you once get in the habit of it, you will like it.

It is refreshing to do business with a party who is always on time. He begets courage and confidence in every body with whom he comes in contact. He is a power in society. He is a blessing to the world. When he dies, he will be missed.

Teach the children early to be prompt. Teach them to respect a promise. Bring them up to tell the truth and stick to it. A broken engagement is a lie. Sometimes it is worse than a lie, and may cause many more unpleasant complications than a lie. Be careful in making an agreement, but when you have once agreed, stick to the terms of agreement.

And if you follow out the prompt, punctual, persevering method of doing everything when it needs to be done, there are ninety-nine chances out of a hundred that you will make a success in life; and if you are not, you have the delightful consciousness of knowing that you have deserved success, and you will not be continually beset by the remorseful thought that if you had only done to time—if you had only been on hand—you would have achieved success instead of failure.—New York Weekly.

The Album Craze.

"The album craze has reached its height. I don't see how it can go much further," said the manager of one of the largest fancy stationary and book houses in the city. "Among the young ladies there is no end of albums, and they are of all sorts imaginable. The confessional album is very popular just now. It has on each page a list of questions to which the young ladies' friends write answers. It is a success in life; and if you are not, you have the delightful consciousness of knowing that you have deserved success, and you will not be continually beset by the remorseful thought that if you had only done to time—if you had only been on hand—you would have achieved success instead of failure.—New York Weekly.

MAKING HIM USEFUL.—There is said to be a young man at West Newton, who, when he goes to see his girl, is compelled to split wood, carry in coal, run errands and work in the garden by the girl's mother, before he is allowed to do any courting. We should think that, when he had all these tasks accomplished, it would be time to go home to breakfast; but perhaps he is permitted to remain until the morning meal is prepared, and is made to help the girl wash the dishes. He says he won't kick so long as the old woman doesn't send the girl to bed and insist on being courted in her place.—Norristown Herald.

COCONUT PIE.—Weigh six ounces of freshly grated coconut. Beat a cream a quarter of a pound of butter and a quarter of a pound of powdered sugar, add gradually a tablespoonful of rose water and a f. spoonful of orange juice. Beat to a stiff froth the whites of six eggs, then stir the grated coconut and the whites of the eggs alternately into the butter and sugar, mixing thoroughly. Line a pie dish with very light paste, fill it with this mixture, dust thickly with powdered sugar, and bake in a moderately quick oven thirty minutes.

The Williamsport police made quit a haul on Saturday night, having raided a poker room in the Bender block where seven young men were captured. The officers who made the raid were Hartman, Connor, Bordinger, O'Connell and Marley. They broke open the door and surprised the players engaged in gambling. They were taken before Alderman Miller, where they all gave fictitious names, and were held for court in the sum of $100 each. They waived a hearing. The young men are known to have practiced the art for some time and have been closely watched. The Gazette withholds their correct names for the present.

Making Nickels and Pennies.

The copper used in the manufacture of pennies is of the very best quality, and is from the Calumet and Hecla Spring Company on Lake Superior. The metal is shipped in bulk from the mines to the factories of Merchant & Co., in Connecticut.

There it is rolled and stamped out in circles of the requisite size. These circles are perfectly plain, with the exception of the raised or milled edge. At this stage the pieces intended for pennies are as bright as a gold piece, while those intended for nickels resemble highly-polished silver. In this condition they are delivered to the mint. Of course, it is absolutely necessary that all the pieces should be of uniform size and weight.

When these pieces reach the mint they are subjected to the finishing process, which consists in stamping them with the denomination, lettering and characters seen on the coins when they reach the public. To accomplish this great pressure is needed, as the pieces are not heated again after leaving the factory.

The amount of pressure required is simply enormous, considering the size of the pieces. The copper pennies require a pressure of ten tons, while those with the nickel pieces it is necessary to put a pressure of from twelve to fifteen tons.

Care of the Feet.

Associated with manuring naturally is the care of the feet—pedicuring, as it is called. Alas, alas! for the sufferer from corns or bunions! Who can pronounce a cure? Alleviations there may well be, but a cure! This baffles the skill of the wisest chiropodist, but the "ounce of prevention" can be looked to in this regard with excellent effect.

Above all things keep the feet thoroughly clean and well rubbed and manipulated. This will prevent lane joints, and nearly always prevent corns. Once or twice a week they should be soaked in warm water, the toes being gently rubbed all the time. After this warm bath, rub the toes with a weak solution of uric acid, and where there is a tendency to bunions paint with iodine.

A bandage wet with alum water and put on when retiring is excellent for strengthening tender feet, while sand or emery paper should be used to remove any rough skin or cuticle. Over-pru-fuse perspiration can be checked by using a powder of chalk and starch, or by bathing in hartshorn and water. Keep the toes as straight as possible. Where there is a tendency to crook or overlap each other it is well to place a thin splint under them at night, tied closely, against which they can be held in place.—Lucy Little in Herald.

A Letter From Cleveland.

He Writes to the Bandana Club of Louisville. Good, Wholesome Advice.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 18.—Last week John H. Page, Secretary of the Bandana Club, a Democratic organization of the Twelfth ward, forwarded to ex-President Cleveland a letter concerning the action of the club with reference to that distinguished gentleman and this evening received the following in acknowledgment.

"I am very much flattered by the note, which I have just received from you, conveying a report of the Bandana Democratic Club of Louisville, and I accept with thanks the honor conferred by my election as an honorary member of that organization. The best compensation for the discharge of public duty is the approval of good people. If I have gained that, and in addition have succeeded in giving to the principles of Democracy increased life and activity, I am content.

"I hope that I shall not appear unappreciative if I remind the club that the work now in hand consists in still further presenting to the people the wisdom and beneficence of the principles rather than the advancement of the claims of an individual. I am glad, however, to see that the club shows such warm appreciation of the gallant fight made in Ohio by our governor-elect, and his services to the cause of Democracy. GROVER CLEVELAND.

A Wise Saying.

Here is a wise thing said by some one: "It is an excellent thing for any person to realize the fact that the world is not all contained within the limits of his own horizon. An amusing instance of this kind of mistake that is made by people who are ignorant or forgetful of this simple fact is given in the recent experience of a lady traveler in Asia. One of the Malay rajahs confided to her his willingness to learn English. 'But,' he said 'there is this objection to English, that it is only spoken by a dozen people in the world, even counting the governor of Singapore and his followers, while where ever you go—to the north, south, east or west, or beyond the wind—you find Malay spoken.' That Malay was right so far as his own horizon was concerned; but what infinite horizons of truth lie behind many a prim Anglo-Saxon, who mistakes his own little horizon of personal knowledge for the boundaries of God's everlasting universe!"—St. Louis Republic.

Bagley—How's that pretty little widow in Harlem that you have been raving about lately? Bailey—Oh, she's married. Bagley—You don't seem to have very good luck in your matrimonial ventures, do you, Bailey. Bailey—Oh, I don't know. You see I'm the one she married.
