

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

We are requested to notice that Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Shaffer of the Presbyterian church will give a dinner and supper for the benefit of the church on Thursday of next week, 30th inst.

E. M. Spear, son of W. F. Spear, of this place, who some five years ago located in Graham county, Kansas, has been appointed Deputy Register of Deeds of that county, a responsible and profitable position.

J. B. Gantzel and J. W. Bezel, who we noticed week before last as having gone to Illinois for horses, writes us under date of the 15th from Morrison Point, that they will start for home on the 20th with the finest car load of horses ever brought to Bellefonte.

Rev. J. Cal. Leinbach, of Sunbury, will preach on Saturday afternoon next at two and a half o'clock, preparatory to celebrating the Holy Communion at the morning service on Sunday. Services on Sunday evening at the usual hour. As a preacher Rev. Leinbach ranks very high and the people will be delighted to hear him.

John Wagner, janitor of the Centre county bank, of this place, who takes some interest in the propagation of game birds, last week received some fifteen pairs of quail from New York State which he distributed among farmers in the neighborhood so that they may be kept safely over the winter and let go in the Spring to replenish the stock of quail in this part of the country.

The Bellefonte glass works under the general management of Mr. L. T. Munson, will resume operations next Tuesday morning with at least one furnace and about fifty hands. Mr. Frank Westcott left Bellefonte on Tuesday to get the workmen required by the works. Frank C. Westcott, of Glassboro, N. J., will be foreman of the cutting department and with his wife has taken up his abode at the Bush House.

Careful preparations are being made by both sides for the trial of Alfred Andrews for the murder of Clara Price, which will be begun in our court next week. The defense has received $100 from the Commissioners, under the direction of the court, on the ground that the prisoner is to be presumed innocent until he is proved guilty, and therefore should be supplied with the means of making a defense. S. D. Ray, of this place, has prepared a chart of the locality where the murder was committed, which will figure prominently in the proceedings of the trial and will throw much light on the questions connected with the movements of Andrews on the eventful day of the murder.

AN APPEAL TAKEN.—The papers in the appeal to the Supreme Court on behalf of Charles Cleary from the judgment and sentence of the Court of the County of Clinton, were filed this morning, and the case will now go to the Supreme Court of the Eastern District. Deputy Prothonotary J. A. Wensel visited Cleary in his cell for the purpose of taking his affidavit, and found him lying upon his cot apparently very comfortable. He inquired gruffly of Mr. Wensel what he wanted, and when informed that the nature of his visit was to sprang to his feet and at once became interested in the matter. The case will not be likely to reach the Supreme Court at its next session.—Lock Haven Express.

Notes from the College.—Things about here are thriving, even in six inches of mud.

Mine host Greib, the genial proprietor of the State College Hotel, has cut down the old sweet cherry trees that stood guard over the house for many years.

Mr. Hud. Love is erecting a neat frame dwelling house on the hill above Main street. The wind of Monday and Monday night was so strong as to blow down one of the prettiest maple trees on the College campus, and it also had the presumption to try and upset jolly Abe Markle's meat wagon.

The new central steam plant of the College is about ready to be used for the manufacture of heat.

We are sorry indeed to record the death of Fertha Long, the infant grand-daughter of Mrs. Robinson of this place. The little one had been sick for some time, but nothing serious was anticipated until Saturday last when she became rapidly worse and continued so until her death on the night of the same day. This makes the fifth death in the family within thirteen months. The father, Rev. Mr. Long and Mrs. Robinson's family have the sympathy of the entire community in the bereavement that has fallen upon them so suddenly.

Deaths from Philipsburg.

Mr. James Morrison is lying seriously ill at his residence in South Philipsburg from a severe attack of influenza. Dr. S. F. Lytle is in attendance.

Mrs. Fred. Morris, a resident of Sixth street, died of heart disease, on Thursday afternoon, January 16th. The remains were taken to Snow Shoe for interment on the Saturday following. Deceased was a sister of Maj. Jno. A. Wolf, was about 50 years of age, and leaves a husband, two children and a large number of friends to mourn her loss.

The coal output has been very large for the past two weeks and freight trains are pushed to a accommodate all sending coal to market. However a correspondent from this point who is well posted on such matters, predicts that the trade will be supplied very soon and a consequent depression follow.

The Odd Fellow's building on Front street, is rapidly nearing completion. It will be one of the most imposing structures in town, and beside it the adjacent buildings seem almost dwarfed into insignificance.

The business and professional men of our town are actively engaged in organizing a Board of Trade. At the preliminary meeting, a number of gentlemen representing considerable capital freely pledged their cash for the establishment of manufacturing in our midst. The "get up" and go-ahead-ness of our Philipsburg business men is a strong guarantee that this Board of Trade will accomplish a great deal in encouraging new industries to locate here.

Church goes had a treat in the eloquent discourses of Rev. Edward Gray, D. D., of Dickinson Seminary, at the M. E. church, last Sunday morning and evening.

Two gentlemen came to town on last Monday morning in hot pursuit of horse thieves who had stolen a horse from each of them and were traveling in this direction. The gentlemen were from Huntingdon county and had followed on horseback as far as Alexandria, when finding their horses were jaded, they came on by rail. All assistance possible was given them in sending out telegrams and descriptions, but our latest information is that they have not, as yet, overtaken the thieves.

Amongst the candidates for the County Superintendent are two gentlemen who have been engaged in educational work in this region. Prof. R. M. Wilson, the present efficient Principal of the Borough High school, and Prof. R. E. Cambridge, well known to many of the Warrens readers, and for several years a teacher in the schools of Rush township, is the other. The latter is now teaching the higher grade at Unionville, but is kindly remembered by a host of friends here.

The difficulty between Council and the Bellanca Fire Company is to be referred to our County Court for settlement, steps to that end being taken by Attorney Bryson representing Council. The right of possession of certain fire apparatus will be tested by action brought by Council to recover possession, &c.

The McGinty jokers grinned when they saw the notice of Mrs. McGinty in the Daily Journal a few days since not to harbor her son Willie who absents himself from school without her permission. Boys, this is no joke, the lady is in earnest and all good citizens should aid her by "passing along," as it were, young McGinty when he loiters on their premises.

Our enterprising daily, the Daily Journal, will have a reporter at Bellefonte next week and each day will publish full reports of the Andrews trial.

To relieve monotony on Tuesday afternoon two large dogs clinched near the Passmore House and fought desperately for the distance of one square. Spectators were not wanting, and the fight was aided and abetted by several men and a crowd of boys. When the canines got near the residence of the owner of one of them the lady came out and read the "riot act" to the crowd, after which the men dispersed looking rather sheepish, and the canines after growling eternal hatred to each other, separated.

A Great Yield of Corn.

Farmer Drake, of South Carolina, Produces 255 Bushels on One Acre.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The most phenomenal yield of corn ever produced in America has been awarded the prize of $500 offered by the American Agriculturist for the largest crop of shelled corn grown on one acre in 1889. The crop was within a fraction of 255 bushels, green weight, which shrunk to 239 bushels when kiln dried, and when chemically dried contained 217 bushels. The South Carolina State Board of Agriculture doubled the prize, making the award $1000 in all. This crop was grown by Z. J. Drake, of Marlboro county, S. C. It is nearly twice as large as the greatest authenticated crop ever before reported. The $500 awarded for the largest yield of wheat last year goes to Henry F. Burton, of Salt Lake City, Utah, for a yield of eighty bushels on one acre.

The Perils of Natural Gas.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 21.—By an explosion of natural gas at Sewickly last night Mrs. George Gibbs was probably fatally burned and her daughter seriously injured. The ladies were carrying a lantern to light their way home, and the gas which was escaping from a break in the line ignited, and in an instant both were enveloped in flames. Mrs. Gibbs' clothing was entirely burned off, and her right side and face were terribly burned.

An Unhappy Infant.

Probably the unhappiest of all the tariff infants whom Hail Columbia has nursed upon her ample bosom, are the quinine weanlings. On account of "la grippe" the people, sick and well, are taking free quinine by the ton. How such wholesale consumption would have swelled the profits of monopoly if the tax on quinine had been retained! The thought is a saddening one.

DURING the entire four years of President Cleveland's administration General Black retained in the pension office half a dozen Republican chiefs of divisions, and 16 out of 24 assistant chiefs. An entirely different policy has been pursued by this administration. Tanter swept out most of the few Democrats who had been appointed, and Commissioner Raum has continued the sweep until at the present time not a Democratic chief or assistant chief remains in the office.

The Iowa Deadlock.

DES MOINES, Jan. 25.—The deadlock in the legislature continues and the election of a United States senator and the inauguration of the democratic governor seem further than ever. How the two parties stand was sharply defined in the lower house this afternoon. Mr. Richman, of Muscatine, in a speech said that the democrats rightly demand the speakership, because a majority of the voters demand it. Mr. Chase, republican, spoke in reply saying that the republicans had a majority on many questions, and especially prohibition, and they propose to stand together. Four fruitless ballots were taken and the house adjourned until to-morrow. The senate adopted a resolution, 29 to 7, stopping the introduction of bills until the legislature is fully organized.

5,000,000 Bogus Dollars.

The Counterfeit Coin Put in Circulation on the Mexican Border.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A story to the effect that at least 5,000,000 counterfeit silver dollars have been put in circulation near the Mexican border by the Mexican counterfeiters appears in today's Evening Sun. The statement is made that the counterfeiters have been at work for two years. They shipped the bogus dollars across the border, and disposed of them at a profit of 28 cents on each dollar.

Rumors concerning the matter have been afloat in Wall street for several days, and it is alleged. Bankers in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona recently had their attention drawn to the fact that there was an unusually large number of United States silver dollars in circulation in that section. They began to wonder where they came from, and attempted to trace back payments made with this coin.

It was found that many of these coins could be traced to Mexican living across the border, who had given them in exchange for commodities purchased in this country. A thorough investigation followed, and the conclusion reached was that a band of Mexicans have been coining the dollars and uttering them to Mexican merchants, who gave them in return for goods purchased on this side of the border.

Mr. Randall Joins Church.

The Ex-Speaker and His Wife Unite With a Washington Presbyterian Congregation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20.—At the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. Chester, the pastor, announced that Hon. Samuel J. Randall had been admitted to membership of the church and that Mrs. Randall had been admitted by letter. On Tuesday last Mr. Chester went to Mr. Randall's home, baptised him and admitted him to membership.

No one who has talked with Randall this winter was surprised at his uniting with the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, which he has attended and in which his wife and daughter have done so much good work. The conversion of Randall's character was made apparent by his making peace with all his enemies. So bitter were some of his political contests in the past that there were a number of public men with whom he was no longer on speaking terms. He has made friends with them all again while lying on his back this winter. His whole disposition seems to have changed. He is so kindly and charitable, so cheery and encouraging, that he seems a different man. He has made his wife very happy by uniting with the church. She was delighted to bring her letter from her home church in Philadelphia, and formally unite with the Metropolitan Church with him.

Randall told his friends to-day that he felt better than he did last summer, and would go out, but that his physician thought he had better not.

The Fatal Influenza.

The influenza is said to be on the decline in New York city, but this does not seem to be the case in Philadelphia, where the number of deaths for the week ending on Saturday last was 777, an increase of 29 over the previous week and of 395 over the corresponding week of last year. The Times says that this is twice the normal death rate at this season of the year and as "no other epidemic is raging, the increased mortality must be laid at the door of the prevailing influenza." There is one peculiarity about this disease, called the gripe, that has been widely remarked, and that is if a person has any other complaint or chronic affection, it seems to fasten to it and aggravate it until the patient who might live with either one of them often dies from the double attack. Thus in Philadelphia consumption is credited with 100 deaths, twice the usual number; disease of the heart with 26; inflammation of the lungs with 142; or nearly four times the normal rate; old age with 41, more than twice the usual number, while 56 deaths are charged solely to influenza.

Around the World in Seventy-five Days.

The race of Nellie Bly and Miss Bland around the world in opposite directions, is drawing to a close. Sunday, the 26th, is the day set for the contestants to arrive in New York. Miss Bland is now on the Atlantic steaming for New York. Nellie Bly has not yet reached San Francisco and when she does the snow blockade on the Union Pacific will hinder a direct passage homeward, and if she comes by the Southern Pacific it will be a long trip and she will come without the escort sent out to meet her. At this stage of the race such delays become mighty annoying.

In the county of Bucks there is a fierce rivalry between the respective adherents of Senator Delamater and General Hastings for Governor. The lieutenant of Senator Quay, Second Controller Gilkeson leads the Delamater forces, while General Hastings has an equally stout champion in the editor of the Bucks County Intelligencer. What ever advantage the editor may have in the argument is overcome by the fact that the Bucks county delegation to the next Republican State Convention has already been chosen in the interest of Senator Quay and his candidate.—Record.

Slaughter in the Streets of Rio Janeiro.

A Fight in Which a Hundred of the Supporters of the Empire Were Killed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A thrilling story of the revolt in Rio Janeiro on December 18, in which nearly 200 men were killed, is told by Chief Officer J. Rangdale, of the English steamer Hally, which has arrived at Brooklyn. The officer says:

"From what I understand the trouble had been brewing for some time. When the new Government took charge it promised to raise the pay of the soldiers, but this was put off until the regiments became exasperated. Among the artillery officers were a number of sympathizers with Don Pedro who never lost an opportunity to malign the new Government and incite the privates to open rebellion. A number of small revolts resulted. Even the newspapers, although printing glowing accounts of the enthusiastic reception of the new flag in the various provinces, had begun fault finding with the Government.

"This sort of thing continued up to December 18, when the Second Artillery Regiment, with whom Don Pedro had been very popular, broke out in open revolt. At about 7 o'clock in the evening they halted down the republican flag and hoisted the Imperial standard, at the same time firing artillery salutes. Hastily summoning his Cabinet, Fonseca inquired the meaning of the cannonading, and on being informed ordered his officers to suppress it.

"Two brigades of infantry were ordered out, and the barracks in which the rebellious troops were lodged was surrounded on all sides. The streets leading to the scene of the trouble were blocked with soldiers. The doors of the barracks had been barricaded, but were smashed down by the Republican soldiers, and several volleys were poured into the ranks of the insurgents with terrible results. The artillerymen made some show of fighting, and ten of the Republican soldiers were killed. It took nearly two hours to subdue the revolt. When the fighting stopped 114 men and two officers were found to be killed. All of the officers and ringleaders, together with a number of citizens who had joined them, were arrested, and the remainder of the regiment were put under guard. Those arrested were tried by court-martial two days later, and fifty men and seven officers were executed. There were eight citizens who joined in the uprising. They were placed on the German steamer Lisbon and sent to Hamburg with instructions not to return. Since this took place everything has been quiet, but I think more trouble will break out at the first chance the soldiers get. Everything is ruled by the army, and the people are getting tired of it."
