SUICIDE NEAR JERSEY SHORE .- J. H. Freer, of near Jersey Shore Junction. is supposed to have committed suicide by taking poison, and was found dead in bed at his home on Tuesday morning. The cause of the terrible act was a passionate attachment for his house-keeper, Mrs. Maneval, who was formerly Miss Lizzie Burger, but who refused to marry him. A postmorten examination was made by Coroner Bell, assisted by Dr. Nevins, but was so unsatisfactory that the coroner took the stomach with him and will have its contents analyzed.

A PLEASANT BIRTHDAY PARTY .-On the 9th inst., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Confer, there occurred a complete and pleasant surprise in the arrival of their large connection of friends, and children and grandchildren it being Mrs. Confer's 57th birthday. The hostess is an estimable lady, a kind mother and good neighbor, and she bids fair to see many more birthdays. The host is aged 63, a great deer hunter who can amuse you with his adventures in the Alleghanies. Mr. and Mrs. Confer's family consists of eight sons and five daughters, all living. Eight of the children are married, which adds twenty three grand children.

A sumptuous dinner satisfied the appetites of all. Miss Ida was chief cook, and Taylor Walker was carver and the champion cake eater of the day. The presents were numerous and desirable, as five dollar gold pieces are very appreciable.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE B. WEAVER -Mrs Mary A. Weaver was one of the victims recently claimed by death in this town, she having died last Tuesday morning from an attack of pleurisy after an illness of several years, at the age of 66 years, 5 months and 11 days. She was the beloved wife of Mr. Geo. B. Weaver, one of our well known citizens, and daughter of George and Isabella Rothrock. Besides her husband, six daughters and a son remain to mourn the death of a kind and affectionate wife and mother. Of her daughters, one is Mrs. George W. Given, of Philadelphia, the remains of whose husband were only last week brought to this place for interment; another is the wife of Register and Recorder James C. Smith, of Lock man of Clearfield county. Two daughyears ago. Her only son is Mr. George J. Weaver, of this place. ANDREWS' BAD CHARACTER -The Philipsburg Journal, in speaking of the natural bad character of the murderer of Clara Price, gives the following:

The deviltry and treacherous character of the murderer Andrews has been confirmed by a letter received this morning from England, and if all is true that is said about him it is wonderful that there has been no record against him since he has been in this country. Probably he has been wanted for some crime, but by some means has, up to this awful case, managed to escape the justice due to him.

The general expression of those who know him appears to be, "served him right." He received a letter from the kind woman who is his foster-mother, public subscription, in which services have been exceedingly successful and that he will consequently largely increase his private fortune.
