THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Mr. William Thompson, of Pottery Mills, who some three years ago had an attack of paralysis, had recently another visitation of that disease.

—The Millheim Journal has heard it reported that a party in Lemont are going to run a machine to manufacture ice, the capacity of which will be 2,000 pounds a day.

—The old Hale mansion, one of the largest structures on Allegheny street, this place, will be remodeled and modernized by its recent purchaser, J. L. Spangler, Esq.

—Charles Brown, convicted in the Clinton county court of murder in the second degree for killing John Lovett, was sentenced by Judge Mayor to ten years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

—J. H. Odenkirk, John Lawyer, John H. Runkle, A. P. Hosterman and Jacob Wagner have been elected officers of the Potter Township Mutual Live Stock Insurance Company for the ensuing year.

—Mr. Gentzel, of Spring township, who a few weeks since brought a carload of extra horses from Illinois, has disposed of all of them already, and is now west after another lot. He expects to return in ten or twelve days with the finest stock ever brought to the county.

—Mr. William Bard, one of Curwensville's oldest citizens, died in that place some days ago in the 89th year of his age. He came to Curwensville when a young man and was married to Susan Patton, sister of ex-Congressman Patton, fifty-eight years ago.

—Mr. Perry Gentzel, residing near Zion, was recently severely cut in the thigh by the slipping of a knife. He was handling while killing a beef. The cut was a severe one, causing Mr. Gentzel to faint, but the prompt attention of Dr. Fisher prevented any serious consequences.

—Mr. W. H. Youngman, a prominent merchant of Millheim, died last week from meningitis resulting from grip. He came to Millheim from Adamsburg, having bought out the store of J. W. Snook at the former place about two years ago, and was doing an extensive business.

—The annual session of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the M. E. Church will commence in Carlisle on Wednesday, the 19th of March inst. It is an event of great interest to the Methodists of this section of the State, as it determines who will be their pastors for the ensuing year.

—The Lock Haven Democrat speaks thusly of a well preserved old resident of Snow Shoe:—Squire D. H. Yeager, of Snow Shoe, was in the city yesterday. The squire is 72 years old, but hasn't a gray hair among the thick growth of dark locks that covers his head. Like Moses at 120 his eyes is not yet dimmed nor his natural strength abated.

—There is on foot a project on the part of Philipsburg borough and Ruth township to join in the erection of a suitable building for a poor house. Under the act of 1885 permission for this purpose must be obtained from the court, and accordingly the overseers of the borough and the township will present a petition to court to be authorized to erect such a building.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Emery [colored] of this place, celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding on Wednesday, February 26th. They received many handsome, costly and useful presents, among them being a handsome lamp from Mrs. D. H. Hastings, and a very handsome present from the family of Mr. Emery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Emery, of Williamsport.

—The first ball allowed to the Students at the State College by the faculty, will be given on the evening of the 14th inst., as the opening of the magnificent drill apartment in the Armory building, which will afford one of the finest dancing floors in the United States. The musical services of Stopper & Fisk's orchestra, of Williamsport, have been secured. The students will make every effort to render this hop a fitting dedication of so fine a building.

—Thursday morning of last week, John Upton, near Philipsburg, was injured in the Ramey mine by a fall of rock striking him on the head. The right side of the frontal bone was fractured, the depression of the lower part of the bone causing a compound fracture. The stone which caused the accident weighed about 300 pounds. Dr. Edwards was summoned, raised the bone and dressed the wound, and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon he was partly restored to consciousness. The injured man is married and has five children.

HABEAS CORPUS IN THE WEAVER MURDER CASE.

—On the 28th of January ult., Fietta Weaver, Susan Auman and Jonas Auman were lodged in jail at this place on the charge of complicity in the killing of Andrew Weaver, sr., which occurred in Penns Valley, near Coburn, Fietta being held as the principal in the offense. Last Friday morning there were proceedings in the Court House on a writ of habeas corpus to determine the extent of the guilt of the accused, and whether there was sufficient evidence to hold them for trial.

W. I. Swoope and W. I. Singer, Esqrs., appeared for the defendants, and the Commonwealth was represented by District Attorney Meyer, who has become quite an expert in murder trials and had in attendance an array of witnesses whose testimony was intended to establish ground for another trial of that kind.

The first witness was John Mullen, a boy of about 13, who is a son of the accused Fietta Weaver. His testimony was in Pennsylvania German and was interpreted by Recorder Harter, which amounted to nothing more than that he had been in the house when the difficulty which led to the killing of old man Weaver began, and saw three butcher knives, which he described. Before school he had taken bags to the mill and when he returned he saw Andrew Weaver, sr., lying on the porch. He came back about 10 o'clock.

Jonas Auman testified that he lived with Susan Auman, his mother, and Fietta Weaver was his sister. He lived in the mountains in Penn township about a mile from the railroad. On the morning when the old man was killed he saw him last between 7 and 8 o'clock. When he was carrying his horse about 10 o'clock he heard that the old man was killed, and when he ran down to Fietta's he found the old man lying dead on the porch. Fietta was in the house and told him that the old man had killed himself. He felt his pulse and found he was dead. Fietta was the only one near. He then went for Squire Gart-hoff.

The testimony of Noah Lingle was to the effect that on the morning of the death of Andrew Weaver he went to John Confer's for lime and on his way home about 11 o'clock he went past Weaver's and saw Fietta and the old man throw stones at each other. She commenced it and then he also threw them. She went into the house and upon coming out again threatened that she would kill him. Susan and Jonas Auman then went into their house and Fietta and the old man went into Fietta's house. He heard some one call or shout in the house; could not tell who it was, but said it sounded like Fietta's voice.

Mrs. Jacob Shaffer testified that she lived with Jonas Auman; was there about a week before the killing of the old man; old mother Auman told me that Andrew was killed; said he was bleeding to death; went down to Fietta's and saw him lying on the right side of the porch; more than once she had heard Fietta say that she would cripple the old man.

Elmer Hoover swore that he found Andrew Weaver's hat under the bridge; it was a black hat and there was blood on it.

J. C. Stover, who lives along Penn's creek, in Penn township, testified that he learned of the killing about 9.35 a. m., and went over at once. When he got there Jonas was outside the house and Susan inside sweeping the floor. Andrew was lying on his face on the porch. Upon asking Fietta what the difficulty was, she said "He came to the door and threatened to kill me and then fell down dead, and that is all I know about it, so help me." There were marks of blood in a circle on the door, mostly above the latch, and looked as if it had been spattered on the door when it was open, as it was on the boxing around the door. When Fietta was asked how the blood came there she said it was caused by her cut finger. A knife which witness identified in court, was lying inside his open vest; it was not touching the wound which could not have been made by it.

J. F. Garthoff, justice of the peace at Coburn, sworn—He said that Weaver lay on his face with one foot on the porch; there was a cut through his clothing under his left arm. The first hearing was before him and at that time Susan and Jonas testified that the old man came to Fietta's house and demanded some of his property which she had, saying that he would have it if he had to fight for it. Soon afterwards the stone throwing began; the old man got hold of Fietta and threw her down. Fietta's statement was that the old man fell and she did not know he was dead until she was arrested.

The testimony of Dr. E. S. Frank was that he assisted Dr. C. S. Musser in the post mortem examination and found the wound about an inch in width, between the 5th and 6th ribs under the arm and penetrating the heart; it was made by a large knife and would produce instant death.

Several other witnesses whose testimony was unimportant, were examined. Upon hearing the evidence produced, the Court discharged Susan Auman; held Jonas in $500 recognizance to appear at next term of court to testify in the case, and remanded Fietta to jail in default of her giving $3000 bail for her appearance at Court for trial.

—The mental condition of Jacob Scholl, of Wolf's store, necessitated his being sent to the Danville Insane Asylum last week.

—Mr. Dave Crotty has been installed as bar tender under the new administration at the Bush House. Dave has talent for that line of business.

—Seventy-two thousand young brook trout from the State hatchery at Cory were recently placed in Hoagland's Run in Clinton county.

—Mrs. Edward Elmer of Half Moon had the misfortune, a few days since, to fall and break her arm, from which she is suffering severely.

—The hens of G. R. Miess, of Tusseyville, are to be commended for their industry, 70 of them having laid 61 dozens of eggs in 30 days, this winter.

—It is estimated that, with all the preliminary expenses, it will have cost Centre county fully $5000 to hang Hopkins and Andrews after both jobs shall have been completed.

—John Dewitt Miller will deliver his lecture on "The Uses of Ugliness" in the Court House, this (Friday) evening. It is said to be humorous, brilliant and instructive.

—Mr. Will Keller, son of Col. Keller, of Bellefonte, has been the recipient of a gold medal for being the best debater in a contest at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster.

—The Morris lime quarries on the Armor property may soon be expected to be in operation as the branch railroad connecting them with the Bald Eagle Valley railroad is about completed.

—Jonathan Wolfe, one of the oldest and most wealthy residents of Lewisburg, died in that place last week, aged about 78 years. He was connected with many of the business enterprises of the neighborhood.

—Andrews, the murderer, is said to spend much of his time in prayer. In addition to his other crimes he is a great liar, as is shown by his confession, and in every respect his case requires a great deal of praying.

—A big religious revival in the M. E. church at Millifield, which lasted thirteen weeks, resulted in 108 conversions. The backsliders will be next in order, of which that number of conversions will furnish a large percentage.

—An oyster supper and festival will be held at Zion on to-morrow (Saturday) evening, to which all who enjoy a good supper or want to have a good time are cordially invited. Proceeds for benefit of Zion Reformed church.

—We are pleased to hear that the United Brethren congregation of this place did so well with their fair and festival, the net proceeds of which amounted to about $244, which will be a nice help towards building their new church.

—The bed room suit chanced off for the benefit of the Milesburg Band was drawn by a Mr. Baumgardner, of Eagleville, by ticket No. 969. Nine-hundred tickets were sold and the band realized over a hundred dollars from the drawing.

—It may be of interest to our readers to know what pay the census enumerators will receive for their service. For enumerating living persons two cents each; for every death two cents; for every factory, thirty cents; for each veteran or veteran's widow five cents. In special cases an enumerator may be paid by the day, not to exceed $5. The cost of taking the census of 1880 was $2,000,000, and the next one is estimated at fifteen million larger than in 1880. The work of enumerating will be done during the month of June next.

A Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen was instituted at Philipsburg on Friday evening of last week with the following officers: P. M. W.—J. R. VanDaniker; M. W.—Dr. J. A. Hatch; Foreman—W. M. Heimback; Overseer—W. C. Lingle; Guide—James P. Hale; Financier—Joseph C. Harding; Receiver—H. O. Hoffer; Recorder—C. R. Fryberger; Medical Examiner—Dr. L. C. Harman; Trustees—Daniel Paul, J. A. Mulson, and L. C. Jones.

The lodge will meet every Wednesday evening in the Reliance Hall.

—An elopement of a highly sensational character is reported, from the town of Muncy, Lycoming county. A young girl of that town became enamored of a married man much to the disgust of her relatives. The two lovers made up their minds to run away some days ago, but the girl's relatives became aware of the proposed elopement and attempted to put a stop to it. The girl was chased through the town and her clothing badly torn, but she managed to escape and is now with her lover. The chase was an exciting one and those who witnessed it say that it was amusing.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE.

—After a trial that lasted most of the week, the jury in the trial of Charles Brown for the murder of William Lovett, at Lock Haven, brought in a verdict of murder in the second degree last Saturday evening. The homicide occurred in a fight between the Browns and the Lovetts in which whisky was the impelling influence, with enough criminality in it to take Charles, the chief offender, to the penitentiary.

OFF FOR THE PACIFIC SLOPE.—Last Tuesday a party of Bellefonters, consisting of Theodore Deshner, Jesse Stewart, Harry Bush and Paul Sternberg, started on a trip to the new state of Washington, via the Northern Pacific railroad. Mr. Deshner has long been engaged in gunsmithing in this place, and Mr. Stewart was prominent among our stone masons and contractors. The other two are young men seeking their fortunes. Their purpose is to locate in that new country and grow up with it. We hope that their venture will be attended with abundant success.

A VOTE OF THANKS.—At the last regular meeting of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., held Monday evening March 3d, a vote of thanks was unanimously extended to the ladies of the Relief Corps of the Post for the work performed and the interest they took in the annual entertainment and restaurant held Feb. 22, to raise money for the relief fund of the Post; also to the citizens of Bellefonte and vicinity for their very liberal contributions and patronage to the restaurant. At the same time a special vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Sarah Young and Miss Anna Green for two very handsome table covers presented to the Post, suitably worked by hand with the different emblems of the G. A. R.

THE CHANGE AT THE BUSH HOUSE.—After a proprietorship of the Bush House extending through a period of about eight years, Col. W. R. TELLER retired from that celebrated public house at 10 o'clock last Saturday night, handing it over to the new proprietors, Messrs. Daggett & Elliott. Many friends dropped in during the course of the evening to give the Colonel "good-by" in his capacity of landlord, and to welcome him back to the ranks of private life; and also to give the new landlords a greeting in their new position.

The Bush House under the Teller administration entered upon a career of prosperity with which it had been unacquainted previous to the Colonel taking charge of it. Before his advent it had many landlords, who followed each other in quick succession without much profit to any particular one of them. It was a good stand and had about it the possibilities of a paying house, but the frequency with which it changed hands was evidence that it had not proved a bonanza to any of them. It was under such circumstances that Col. Teller took hold of it some eight years ago, coming to it from the Brookerhoff House, and that he was right man in the right place was indicated by the success he met with from the start.

The Bush House had a varied reputation before he took it, but under him it secured an established reputation attended with profitable receipts. This success was not attained without close attention to business, under which the Colonel's health failed, rendering it advisable for him to retire. The many friends he has made rejoice that he is able to leave the house he has put on such good footing with ample pecuniary reward for his years of efficient service to the public. He has moved with his family into the large stone residence on High street, formerly occupied by the late ex-Judge Irvin. It is to the advantage of Bellefonte that Col. Teller and his estimable wife, who came here originally from Richmond, Va., have determined to remain as residents of our town, he having connected himself with one of the ore mining companies of this neighborhood. Having retired from the business in which he was so conspicuously successful, he requests the tender of his thanks to the public which so liberally patronized his house, and to the citizens of Bellefonte from whom he received so many evidences of good will and friendly regard. In this connection it is proper to speak of the clerk of the Bush House Mr. Harry Fenton, who retires with his late proprietor. In every requisite qualification for the position he is so acceptably filled, he had few equals and no superiors, and much of the popularity of the house was due to his affable manners and gentlemanly treatment of its guests.

The new proprietors of the Bush House, Messrs. Daggett & Elliott, come to our town from Tioga county well recommended as possessing the qualifications that are required to make successful landlords. It is the general opinion of those who have become acquainted with them, that they will maintain the reputation of the house which Col. Teller has made famous.

—The Methodists are holding a series of meetings at their church in Milesburg.

A MONUMENT TO CLARA PRICE.

The suggestion to erect a monument to Clara Price, the victim of Andrews' murderous lust, has already been made in these columns, as a proper tribute to her undimmed memory. The people of the neighborhood in which she resided, and where she was stricken down in defense of her virtue, are taking steps for this purpose, which may almost be considered hallowed, and to which the good people of this county will consider it a privilege to contribute. On this subject a resident of Karthaus writes as follows to the Clearfield Republican:

We have undertaken to raise money to erect a monument over the grave of Clara Price (the young girl murdered by Alfred Andrews) to commemorate her heroic defence of her virtue. We still lack sufficient funds to carry out this project properly. Should the good people of Clearfield county not contribute something to this worthy cause? Judge Furst said, before sentencing Andrews: "Alone and unprotected in a lonely place, you made your assault upon her. She sacrificed her young life to save her virtue. Her noble effort to protect her honor and purity ought to be written in granite above her grave." She died, not because she had to, but because she chose to. Had she yielded to his bellicose purpose she might yet live. But, had as her fate was, Clara chose the better part. No nobler act can be commemorated by us than the heroic martyrdom of this young girl for her honor. A dollar given for this purpose will be to a holy and just cause and one that we can never regret. While human and Divine justice has swiftly overtaken this wicked wretch, who now only awaits the execution of the law, let us finish this bloody drama, by erecting a suitable monument to her honor. Will not some one take a little time going around and collect what they can and transmit it to any one of the following committee: E. I. Gilliland, Pottersdale, Pa., or J. A. Heckendorn or Wm. B. Potter, Karthaus, Pa., who will duly acknowledge the same.

[Any contributions for this purpose sent to the WATCHMAN will be promptly acknowledged and duly sent to the above parties.]

THE OLD AND THE NEW BOROUGH COUNCILS.—Last Monday morning was an important one to the borough council, for it marked the termination of the old council and ushered in the official life of the new one. At 9 o'clock order was called by President Frank Stover, every member being present except Edward Brown, jr. The first business in order was the swearing in of the new members elected at the last election, they being Isaac Longacre, North Ward; W. H. Chrisman, West Ward; Wm. Jamison, South Ward. The retiring members were Frank B. Stover, Robert Cole and Ed Brown, jr., of the same wards respectively. At the request of J. W. Gephart, Esq., taxes were exonerated on the building occupied by the Y. M. C. A. Several other exonerations were granted. Bills amounting to $3,504.81 were approved.

In the election of President of the new council Geo. L. Potter was put in nomination by the Republicans, and Samuel Gault, who is a Republican member, was nominated by the Democrats. The result was the election of Gault. Isaac Mitchell was elected clerk without opposition; Clement Dale, esq., was elected borough solicitor, R. Hamill Boal civil engineer, and Samuel Rine superintendent of the borough water department. For street commissioner John Klingner was nominated by the Republicans, and James Dolan by the Democrats. The vote stood four to four, the President not voting, and the balloting was adjourned to be concluded in the evening. Upon reassembling at 7 p. m. the name of Charles Gehrett was substituted for that of James Dolan as the Democrat nominee for street commissioner, and after several ineffectual ballots Gehrett was elected by the casting vote of the President. The council then decided to pay the street commissioner by the day, at the rate of $1.50 per day from the 1st of April to the 1st of October, and $1.25 per day for the balance of the year.

The following committees were appointed: Finance—Potter, Bauer and Gross; Street—Howley, Crissman and Jamison; Water—Hillbush, Gross and Bauer; Fire and Police—Gross, Hillbush and Longacre; Nuisance—Longacre, Crissman and Jamison; Market—Jamison, Potter and Howley.

The request of Mr. Daniel Garman was presented for release for ten days, the borough license fee for entertainments to be held in the new opera house he intends to erect, and the Finance Committee were directed to draw an ordinance, to be reported at the next meeting, which will comply with this request.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Daniel Garman has given out the contract for the building of an opera house to be located on the vacant ground in the rear of the new part of his hotel. It will be the largest and most completely equipped theatrical building in this part of the state, and is intended to be completed by the 1st of next August.

MATCH FACTORY BURNED.—Thursday

night of last week, between eleven and twelve o'clock, fire was discovered in the Grant Match factory at Philipsburg, and although the fire companies were speedily on the ground and every effort was made to extinguish the flames, yet on account of the inflammable character of the material, the efforts were unavailing, and the building was consumed. The fire originated in the engine room. The night watchman, named Eheart, was asleep in the building at the time and barely managed to escape when the building was about half consumed. The total loss will foot up $40,000 on which there was no insurance. Members of the firm who had their all invested in this enterprise are heavy losers. The factory gave employment to about fifty persons—most of them boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20 years. It is hardly likely that the factory will be rebuilt.
