SPRING MEDICINE

Seems more than ever a necessity this season, after the mild, unhealthful winter, and the unexpected prevalence of influenza, pneumonia, typhoid fever, etc., leaving nearly everybody weak, exhausted and tired. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to overcome that tired feeling, to build up your whole system, purify your blood, impart a good appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try it this spring. "I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for four or five years as a spring medicine, and feel perfectly satisfied with its effects. My sister, too, has taken it for rheumatism, and has been much benefited by it." Mrs. E. C. Erickson, 22 Union Avenue, Worcester, Mass.

HEALTH IMPROVED

"For a long time I suffered with palpitation of the heart and chills. I have now taken three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and am almost entirely cured. My general health and appetite are better than they have been for years. I have given Hood's Sarsaparilla to my children for catarrh and scrofula, and the help they have derived from it is wonderful." Mrs. EDWARD MASON, Strouburg, Pa.

BEHIND THE SCENES.

Behind the scenes the player king wears a wretched crown; He casts it by with careless fling And hobbles with the clown, The lover, knave and vixen low, The princess in her teens, Are all one station if you go Behind the scenes. Behind the scenes—two edged thought To prick inflated worth! Mouth well the lines you have been taught Great ones of the earth; Stride grandly in your rich array, Lords, ladies, kings and queens; There's one that watcheth you away Behind the scenes! —George Horton.

His Hair Turned Gray.

A remarkable evidence of how a person's hair will suddenly turn gray as the result of some sudden and terrific mental distress and shock is found in the case of the unfortunate telegrapher, Jim Igoe. When Mrs. Igoe saw her husband two days after the holocaust, she was amazed to find that his hair had turned gray. There was considerable gray hair in the man's head before death, but the terrible mental agony which the poor fellow must have suffered during those dark moments just before he fell to his death had changed nearly every hair to a light gray color. —St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A Word for Mothers.

Mothers, let us bear in mind that what we desire our children to become we must be to them. If we wish them to grow up kind, gentle, affectionate, upright and true, we must habitually exhibit the same qualities as regulating principle in our conduct, because these qualities act as so many stimulants to the respective faculties in the child. If we cannot restrain our own passions, but at one time overindulge the young with kindness and at another surprise and confound them by our caprice and deceit, we may wish as much reason expect to gather grapes from thistles or figs from thorns as to develop moral purity and simplicity of character in them.

How to Make a Good Paste.

A transparent mucilage of great tenacity may be made by mixing rice flour with cold water and letting it stand gently over the fire. Another way is to dissolve a teaspoonful of alum in a quart of water. When cold stir in as much flour as will give it the consistency of thick cream, carefully beating up all the lumps. Stir in half a teaspoonful of powdered resin. Pour on the mixture a teacup of boiling water, stirring it well. When it becomes thick pour in an earthen vessel. Cover and keep in a cool place. When needed for use take a portion and soften it with warm water. It will last at least a year. If you wish to have a pleasant odor stir in a few drops of oil of wintergreen or cloves.

British Capital in Mexico.

The flow of British capital into Mexico is almost as extensive as its influx to this country. Nearly $100,000,000 of English gold was invested there last year; and railroads, lands, mines, manufactures and banks have all participated in this Pactolian stream to such an extent that the maintenance of order in the Republic has become almost impossible to Great Britain as to Mexico herself. The Mexican Railroad, the National, the Inter-oceanic, the Central, the Mexican Southern and the Tehuantepec lines are every one of them strictly English companies. British capitalists have undertaken the stupendous work of draining the Valley of Mexico; and, according to a report recently issued by the London Foreign Office, in two provinces alone several millions of acres of fine land are owned by English subjects engaged in cattle raising.

Showing His Sympathy.

A 14-year-old boy went into his mother's presence with one eye black, his lips swollen, and a ragged scratch across his cheek, the blood from which he had wiped off on his shirt sleeve. "Nicomachus," cried the parent, as he sneaked in, "have you been fighting again?" "Nope," he sullenly grunted. "Then what on earth ails your face?" "Jim Green's ma's dead," he replied. "Well, suppose she is, what's that got to do with your bunged up face?" "I see Jim just now," answered the boy, "an he looked awful sad and solemn." "Well," "I didn't," "I did!" "I know what ter do to make him bright and chipper like, an' feelin' so sorry for him, I jest went up an' let him hit me a few kicks." "Did it help him?" asked the mother. "Help him?" echoed the boy in a surprised tone, "course it did! Don't you think it'd make you feel good to bust a fellow in the way who has kicked you every week for a year?" —Atlanta Constitution.

An Interesting Problem.

Did you ever think how many male and female ancestors were required to bring you into this world? First, it was necessary that you should have a father and a mother—that makes two human beings. Again, each of them must have had a father and a mother—making four more human beings. So on we go back to the time of Jesus Christ's generations. The calculation thus resulting shows that 139,285,017,489,534,976 births must have taken place in order to bring you into this world! Who ever read these lines All this since the birth of Christ. Not since the beginning of time. According to Proctor, if from a single pair, for 5,000 years, each husband and wife had married at 21 years of age, and there had been no deaths the population of the earth would be 2,193,015 followed by 144 ciphers. It would require to hold this population a number of worlds the size of this, equal to 3,156,526 followed by 126 ciphers. The human mind shrinks in the contemplation of such immense numbers. —Metropolitan.

The Editor of the Arizona Kicker Shoots at Random.

"NOT A MURDER.—The other morning Hank Poole, a veteran old bum and bluffer of this locality, was found dead in Godfish alley, about ten feet from the door of the Red Jacket saloon. He had received about thirty buckshot and had been dead for some hours when discovered. It was, of course, suspected that he had been killed in a row in the saloon, and the sheriff was waddling around with half a dozen warrants in his hand when we stepped in and threw a light of 250 candle-power on the situation. "At about midnight on our office door, and when we called out to know who was there a rock was hurled through one of the windows. We hid out of bed, grabbed our shot-gun, and fired into the street through the same window, supposing the 'boys' wanted some fun with us. We heard some one run away, and have no doubt that Hank Poole was the target of our buck-shot. Hank had been down on us ever since we sliced off his left ear a year ago in front of the post-office, and within two days he had been heard to declare that he would have our life. "The coroner's jury acquitted us of all blame, but stuck us for the burial expenses, which footed up $6.50. We are not complaining any. Any man is liable to kill one of his fellow-creatures out here any hour in the day, and it is only fair that he should see the body decently laid away. We are sorry that Hank didn't meet us on the street in daylight, and thus have a better show, but as he chose his own way no one is to blame but himself.

A Cat Rescues a Bird.

A wonderful act of bravery which has the peculiar merit of being true, is the following: A woman up-town has a large number of birds which she keeps in an aviary built on to the rear wall of the house. She also has a large Maltese cat who has proved herself so trustworthy and so kindly disposed towards the feathered pets that she has for some time free range of the aviary whether the birds were in their separate cages or not. A few days ago, while all the birds save one were shut in their cages, the owner heard a wild outcry in her aviary. Rushing to the door, she met her trusted cat coming out with this bird in her mouth. On the instant the next room was reached, however, the cat released her hold and the bird flew away frightened but wholly unharmed. On investigating the cause of the sudden confusion the woman found in the aviary a stray cat that had slipped in through a lowered sash. The house cat, seeing the danger, had snatched the bird in her mouth, so carefully not to harm a feather, and carried it out of reach of the intruder. —New York Sun.

A Nice Rectifier of Wrongs.

The specialist who is in charge of the larceny of honor seats in the house is Colonel Blocks-of-Five Dudley. He appears before the committee on elections as counsel for contestants, and storms and raves about honest elections at the same time he is engaged in substituting a dishonest for an honest result. This calls for the World this well-merited tribute to the man who is the organizer of bribery in Indiana against a rectifier of election wrongs at the South. A man who was a fugitive from justice for a year after the presidential election, and until Benjamin Harrison, the chief beneficiary of his crime, gave him the protection of the attorney general's office—though denying him entrance at the front door of the White House for the sake of appearance—is employed as counsel in contests for congressional seats instituted and conducted by the Republican national committee at Washington. If justice had been done, W. W. Dudley would be in the penitentiary. Instead of this, "Colonel Dudley" is employed by the Republican managers to conduct the unseating of Southern Democratic representatives on the simple plan of counting the census of male negroes over twenty-one years of age as Republican voters, and reversing the actual result of elections. The agent for this thievish business is well chosen.

Steel and Iron Boilers.

In 1887 I made about 125 steel and about 125 iron boilers; in 1883 about 270 steel and 25 iron, and this year, out of nearly 300 boilers, I will only turn out 2 of iron. Of 132 boiler plate mills in this country, but two are making iron plates exclusively. If the steel boiler cost more, I suppose the demand for them would increase less rapidly, but the price of steel and iron plate is so nearly equal, and the steel boilers are so far superior in every way that it may be said that iron boilers are out of date. Iron plate lacks what boiler makers call homogeneity—that is to say, evenness of tensile strength or equality in the matter of expansion and contraction. That quality is what makes the steel boiler valuable, and the lack of it makes the iron one unreliable. The wrought iron boilers must go. —Manufacturer in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How to Prevent Dyspepsia.

The stomach digests just as the heart beats, or the lungs leave. It is a powerful organ, and will stand a great amount of abuse. The penalty of its abuse is dyspepsia; consequently the best prevention of dyspepsia lies in the avoidance of its cause. The most common cause is overeating. A physician lately said: "Most persons eat four times as much as they should." The proportion seems pretty large, but an eminent British physician of a former generation said almost the same thing—that one-fourth of what we eat goes to sustain life, while three-fourths go to imperil it. Another physician wittily remarked that most people dig their graves with their teeth.

WE CAUTION ALL AGAINST THEM.

The unprecedented success and merit of Ely's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head—has induced many adventurers to place catarrh medicines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the reputation of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your immediate locality will testify in highest commendation of it. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price 50 cents.
