

Democratic Watchman

Friday Morning, April 18, 1890.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Mr. M. H. GUSE, of Penn Hall, is the duly authorized agent of the WATCHMAN for Gregg ownership.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Rev. J. A. Woodcock moved with his family from this place to Williamsport last Monday.

—The trout season opened last Tuesday, the 15th inst., and will continue until the 15th of July.

—Miss Eva Deschner, one of the handsome lady composers in the WATCHMAN office, is off on a visit to friends in Union county.

—After four years' ministrations, Rev. A. K. Felton, pastor of the Lutheran church at Philipsburg, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday.

—Col. D. S. Dunham, recently connected with the Republican, of this place, announced himself as a Republican candidate for county commissioner.

—Mr. George O. Boal, of this place, has received an appointment in the service bureau at Washington, and has left Bellefonte to attend to the duties of his office.

—Mrs. D. P. McKinney, Howard's fashionable and popular milliner, is now in the east purchasing her spring millinery and novelty goods. She will have her opening on Saturday April, 26th.

—Mr. J. H. Laverty, an old and much respected resident of Lock Haven, died in that place last Tuesday night at the age of 72. He was overseer of the poor at the time of his death.

—The Bald Eagle Valley Railroad track from Curtin Station to Curtin bridge is being raised to a higher grade. A new iron bridge is to be built over the Bald Eagle Creek between Mount Eagle Station and Milesburg.

—Mr. John Uzzle has at his hotel at Snow Shoe one of a pair of bear cubs which he and E. A. Fancher captured in the woods up the river on Thursday last week. Mr. Fancher exhibits the other one at the Fallon house in Lock Haven.

—The body of Alfred Andrews was buried the day after the execution from the undertaking establishment of Solomon Confer, in Milesburg, the interment being made on the ridge back of that place. It is believed to have been resurrected by this time, for the use of the Doctors.

—The Sugar Valley Journal says: A syndicate of eastern capitalists have purchased seven thousand acres of timber land below Woodward, Centre county, and purpose building a branch railroad to Coburn, on which to ship the lumber. They expect to have about fifteen years work cutting and getting out lumber.

—W. A. Johnston, recently appointed supervisor of the Bald Eagle Valley and Tyrone and Lewisburg railroad, in place of John Ridgley, transferred, has been assigned to the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters at Tacony, near Philadelphia. Mr. James Buckalew, of the Southwest division, will take his place here. The change was made on Monday.

—William T. Young, conductor of the Bald Eagle valley local freight, met with a mishap on Saturday at the Bellefonte nail works. A door on a refrigerator car, passing while he was engaged in taking numbers, swung open and struck him, knocking him down and severely cutting him about the face. He was, however, enabled to take his train and return to town where he had the wounds dressed.

—A sad accident occurred on Thursday last week, says the Philipsburg Journal, to the little three-year old girl Emmie, daughter of Ashley Dennis, of Chester Hill. She was playing with her brother Frank, who had a hatchet and was cutting sticks. The little girl was amusing herself by picking up the chips, and while doing so the hatchet came down upon her hand cutting the three last fingers clean off.

—At a meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery at Lewistown last week, commissioners to the next General Assembly, which meets at Saratoga in May next, were elected as follows: Rev. John Gorley, of Lewistown, and Rev. N. H. McDonald, D. D., of Mount Union; Elders, R. Clark, of Tyrone, and E. L. Jamison, of Lost Creek, Juniata county. The next stated meeting of the Presbytery will be held in October next.

—Two young boys by the name of Shultz, with the aid of their dog, succeeded in killing a large opossum out on Derby Hill yesterday afternoon. This is a scarce kind of an animal to be found running at large in this neck o' woods, it being the second ever known to be killed around here. The first was slain by Mr. William Simler a number of years ago. We understand the boys intend placing their prize in the hands of a taxidermist.—Philipsburg Journal.

HALF RATES FOR THE I. O. O. F.

The Independent Order of Old Fellows will celebrate their anniversary at Danville, Pa., on Saturday, April 26th, 1890, with interesting ceremonies. For the benefit of those who desire to be present the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Riverside (opposite Danville), valid for the day of issue only, from Renovo, Wilkesbarre, and intermediate stations, at a single fare for round trip.

SUICIDE NEAR STATE COLLEGE.

On Saturday morning Mr. W. Weiland, of near State College, aged about 60 years, took his rifle, fastened it in a vise, and then taking a position in front of it, pulled the trigger and shot himself dead. The cause of the suicide is supposed to have been family troubles. Mr. Weiland was a farmer and had a family of five children—two of whom, a son and daughter, are school teachers. He was a brother of Daniel Weiland of Linden Hall.

DEATH OF A BUCKTAIL.—George W. McDonald, of Pennville, died suddenly on Wednesday, April 2, aged 47 years. He enlisted in the Bucktails, Co. K, in May, 1861, serving in that regiment until May 31, 1864, when he was transferred to the 199th P. V. He was only eighteen years of age when he enlisted. Since the war he has resided in Grampian Hills. He took an active part in the Bucktail reunion held in Philipsburg last year, but the bugle has sounded its last call to him.—Carwensville Review.

DULL TIMBER TRADE.—There are now upwards of one hundred rats landed along the Lockport shore of the river and what is something unusual, there are no buyers for the timber. The poor quality of the timber and the high figures at which it is held is given as the reason for the dullness that prevails in the timber market. There are but few rats back yet, all that was gotten in last winter having been rafted in and to this place. The crew of men worked all Tuesday night at the boom sorting out the logs and sending those intended for Williamsport on below. The river is running full of logs and a number of the drives will come in on this flood.—Lock Haven Express.

SUICIDE BY A SICK MAN.—Last Sunday evening Joseph S. Raudenbush, Jr., of Laurelton, Union county, while delirious from the effect of fever, shot and killed himself with a revolver. His wife went out of the sick room to get a glass of water when Raudenbush got out of bed, went to the bureau and got his revolver, and just as his wife entered the room he placed the muzzle back of his ear and fired. This was about 5 o'clock and in two hours he was dead. Mr. Raudenbush was one of the leading citizens of Laurelton, he having just a couple of years ago erected a handsome residence and large hotel and store-house. He was a lumberman, merchant and landlord and was conceded to be well off. He was aged about 34 years, was married and had one child. He was a good business man and his sudden taking off is cause for deep regret.

MINERS BANDING FOR SELF PROTECTION.—The 3,000 miners in the Houtzdale district met in mass meeting at Houtzdale last week and agreed to join the United Mine Workers' Association in a body, and assessed themselves 2 cents a ton per month per man, for the purpose of creating a national defence fund, maintaining one national organization, to keep up their local check-weighman association, and 1 cent a ton to be used in aid of the Punxsutawney miners. At Philipsburg Tuesday afternoon the 2,500 miners of the Ocoala, Philipsburg and Beech Creek Association met in a mass meeting and took the same action, except that meetings are to be held at each mine before final action is taken. Meetings are to be held at Ocoala, Coalport and Snow Shoe.—This per capita tax and defence fund levy collected from the 6,000 miners will amount to $124,000 annually. The first thing the new organization will have to handle will be the introduction of a uniform scale of dead work prices.

STOLEN SILVERWARE DISCOVERED.—One day last week while several parties were engaged in hauling wood in the gap between this place and Milesburg, in coming down the mountain side they displaced a large stone thereby uncovering a cavity in the ground in which was discovered a lot of silverware consisting of spoons, cake dish, water pitcher, cream jug, sugar bowl, spoon-holder, castor and other articles. From the marks upon them it appeared that they were silverware that was stolen from the residence of the late D. G. Bush some twelve years ago. When the robbery was committed there was 'no trace' of the thieves. Afterwards a man named Ringgold charged with another crime, acknowledged after his sentence that he had assisted in robbing Mr. Bush's residence and that the silverware stolen was secreted along the mountain in the gap where it was so singularly discovered. With the exception of some of the larger pieces being somewhat battered by the rolling away of the stone, the recovered articles were in as good condition as ever.

ARBOR DAY WAS WELL OBSERVED LAST

Friday by the scholars of the public schools in this place, the planting of trees having been preceded by literary exercises. Of the primaries Miss Shortlidge's school planted an elm in honor of the late Dr. E. E. Higbee; Miss Rankin's a magnolia in honor of Mr. E. C. Humes; Miss Powers' a maple in honor of General Hastings; Miss Levy's two shrubs in honor of President and Mrs. Harrison; Miss Bottorf's complimented Prof. Lieb and Wolf with two vines, and Katie H. Fortney was commemorated by the planting of a weeping elm by her brother Paul. The High School planted a Class Tree on the campus of the school house, dedicated to Prof. D. O. Eppers. At the stone building Prof. Lieb was honored with a sycamore planted by Miss McCaffrey's school; a maple planted by Miss Hewes' in front of the Lutheran church was named Martin Luther; an elm planted at the same place by J. F. Harrison's school was given the name of Melancthon; David Fortney was honored with a mountain ash planted by Miss Strickland's school; two Japan ivies by Miss Wright's school were named Mr. and Mrs. John P. Harris; Mr. W. B. Rankin received the compliment of a maple from Miss Fox's school, and Miss Weaver's school complimented Prof. Wolf also with a maple.

—In speaking of Henry Dunkle, an old and model Democrat of Lock Haven, now nearly 73 years old, the Democrat of that place says that he has never missed an election since he was 21 years old, either primary, county, state or national, and never voted anything but the Democratic ticket except once, when he voted for Judge James T. Hall as the independent candidate for congress during the war of the rebellion, Mr. Hall being elected and serving through the 36th and 37th Congresses. When a citizen of Walker township, Centre county, Mr. Runkle could tell to a man just how the township was going to vote and how much of a majority the Democrats were going to have, so that he became good authority, and the Democratic politicians always knew just what to depend on in Walker. Mr. Dunkle is still a hale and hearty man and takes an active interest in politics. He has not lost his reverence for the Democratic party and clings to it as the final hope for the permanent continuation of the Government handed down to us by the fathers of the Republic.

—Dr. Neving, of Karthaus, in a conversation with a newspaper man the other day, said that he was not at all satisfied that Andrews went straight to Heaven after the hanging. The Doctor was a great friend of the young lady whom Andrews murdered, and was the physician who made the examination after she was discovered murdered. He says that knowing what he does he is satisfied that Andrews died with a lie on his lips, and he is not willing to accept his statement that he was going straight to Heaven. The people of Karthaus and many other points take the Doctor's view of things.

—During the thunder storm on Tuesday night of last week the barn of J. M. Fishburn, near Shilo church, was struck by lightning three times, or by a current that divided into three parts, each one taking its own direction to the ground. One of these passed straight down through a mow of straw, without doing any more damage than splintering the shingles where it entered and leaving its mark on everything it touched; another knocked part of the foundation down, scattering the stones in all directions; the other stunned a horse so badly that he was unable to get up until the next day noon.

—Mr. John Fortney, of Mackeyville, was in Lock Haven on Monday and related the following: On Easter Sunday one of his children was about to eat a hard boiled egg, and had broken the shell for that purpose. Imbedded in the white part of the egg was found a whole grain of corn. The kernel had sprouted, and an embryo stock of corn an inch long protruded from the grain. How the grain of corn got into the egg is puzzling Mr. Fortney's brain at present. Who can explain it?

—The following is reported to be the record of trout caught in Spring creek and near this borough on the 15th, the opening day of the season: W. F. Reeder 20, W. C. Heinle 20, W. F. Reber 14, Will Garman 10, George and Fred Jackson 11, M. Cunningham 13, Linn Harris 27, Charlie Heisler 23, Harry Ryan 18, Harry Switzer 24, two colored boys 55, young Walker 20, Gari 32, Frank Nagney 22, Clayton Brown 12, Lanny DeWitt 34, John Harris, jr., 20, register Rupp and deputy recorder Harter 20, J. G. Love, Esq., 3, and Charles Kurtz 35.

—A strictly private meeting of the stock holders of the Cambria Coal and Iron Company was held last Monday afternoon at the office of their President, Mr. Thomas Shoemaker, in this place.

A BIG BASS.—Mrs. Bob Washington, of near Mill Hall, assisted by her mother Mrs. Rice, who is nearly a hundred years old, caught a big bass weighing about four pounds and a-half a few days ago. It is said they had to catch it with a pair of ice tongs in order to prevent its escape and then dragged it across the railroad into the woods in order to make sure of the capture.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—Mr. Charles Richardson, of Renovo, left that place a few days since to go to Canandaigua, New York. The train in which he was traveling was passing Friday night, the Renovo News says, over the Northern Central railway when a tree fell, which crashed into the car in which Mr. Richardson was sitting. The tree struck him on the head and injured him severely. Mrs. Richardson received a telegram Saturday morning advising her to go to the place where Mr. Richardson was.

A BRAKEMAN DROWNED.—On Monday G. A. Garver, a brakeman on a Harrisburg freight train, met with a singular death by drowning in the Juniata river at the Granville bridge, a few miles west of Lewistown. He had alighted from his train at the front end and was awaiting to get on the cabin, when in running he struck the end of the bridge and was knocked into the water below. He must have been injured in the fall, as he sank almost instantly and was not seen to rise to the surface. Up to a late hour Monday evening his body had not been recovered.

AN OLD SOLDIER HURT.—Gideon Ganoce, living at Warriorsmark, an aged soldier and a member of U. V. Legion of Tyrone, was thrown from a wagon near Dry Hollow ore mines Saturday morning and severely injured. Three ribs were broken and he was also badly cut about the head and shoulders. He was unconscious when picked up and required stimulants to revive him. Mr. Ganoce was assisting the delivery clerk of Mr. J. Mattern of Warriorsmark to deliver goods and on the return trip the horse took fright at some object and ran off. The driver being unable to control it the occupants were thrown out. The driver sustained but slight injuries.

A PAIR OF ACCIDENTS.—Last Sunday evening a Hungarian working at the Centre Iron Company's furnace at this place was frightfully injured by being caught by the descending cage of the hoisting machine used to elevate material to the tunnel head. The flesh was stripped off his back and the calf of one of his legs was torn off. It was thought at the time that he could not recover from the effects of the injury. On Monday another Hungarian working at the same place was knocked off the dump by a backing train, falling from a height of twenty feet and alighting on his head on an ore pile. His skull was fractured and it was thought that his injury would also prove fatal.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PEDDLERS AND FARMERS.—In a case taken from Schuylkill county to the Supreme Court of the State in relation to a fine imposed for peddling in that county, Justice Green defined the difference between peddlers and farmers, stating that farmers selling their products from house to house are not to be brought under the restrictions of the law that affects peddlers. He made the following distinction, which is of interest to our farmer readers:

"The peddler is a transient with no fixed place of business, who seeks customers by invading their homes and makes sales by persuading people to buy what they do not need, and who, by the time he is wanted to answer for his representations and engagements, is out of sight. It is this matter of tracking a laboring man or woman into the house and laying siege to him or her by an unscrupulous and self-possessed stranger who is after money, and has no delicate scruples about the manner in which he gets it, that has made the peddler a dread in the country and in the villages.

"I do not regard the sale of the natural products of the soil by the farmer or gardener by whom they are raised as affected by the laws relating to peddlers. Farmers are not within the mischief which these laws were intended to remedy, except as they are the victims of that mischief. The carriage of the surplus products of the farm or garden to a market town or from house to house is not peddling, but is incidental to their business as farmers. Peddlers are forbidden to sell 'goods, wares and merchandise.' These words were never intended to include farm products in the hands of the farmer; nor is the transportation of such products to a market for sale, or to regular customers who are supplied by the grower, the sort of business at which the laws relating to peddling are directed.

—Mr. Jehu Lucas, who had been suffering from bad health for years, died at his home on Marsh Creek, Curtin township, last Tuesday night, at the age of about 88 years. He was a brother of Mr. A. B. Lucas, of this place, and was a soldier of the late war. He left a wife but no children.

—Mr. E. Tyson, of Philipsburg, an-

—Mr. E. Tyson, of Philipsburg, announces himself as a Republican candidate for county treasurer.

—Forepaugh's advance agent was in town on Wednesday and put up the pictures for the big show that is to be here in May.

—Workmen are engaged in repairing and remodeling the rooms in the Logan Hose House, and handsome apartments will no doubt be the result.

—Last Saturday Mrs. David Bohn, residing near Boalsburg, died from the effects of blood poisoning, at the age of about 40 years, leaving a husband and five small children to mourn their bereavement.

—The class of '90 in the High School of this place has determined to give our citizens a rare treat and have secured Belva Lockwood for a lecturer on Tuesday evening, April 29th, in the Court House. Her subject will be, "Is Marriage a Failure," and every body in town who knows anything of the distinguished lecturer will be present to find out how much of a failure it is.

—In the early part of last week while a young son of Sim Batchler, of Philipsburg, was tending the cows in his father's barn, one of the animals viciously hooked at the one he was handling. She threw back her head and run one horn in the boy's mouth, and out under the jaw in front of the right ear, tearing a gash several inches long, making a most painful and ugly looking wound. With care, however, it can be healed without doing material injury.

—A dead female infant, about ten days or two weeks old, was found on the river bank at Williamsport, Tuesday forenoon, in the vicinity of the foot of Academy street. The child was entirely naked and had the appearance of having been drowned or suffocated and then thrown into the river. All appearance indicated that a ruthless murder had been committed. The action of the water had partially buried the body, which was lying on its side, face downward, with one arm completely covered by the sand. An inquest was held, but nothing definite was discovered concerning the circumstances.

—Camp 59, of the Union Veteran Legion, was organized in Gregg Post last Wednesday evening. It was chiefly through the exertions of comrade G. B. Brandon that this organization was effected. The application for a charter was signed by sixteen veterans whose average term of service was 3 years and 29 days. There were 35 charter members mustered in by D. E. Beighel, of Camp No. 17, Altoona. The purpose is to have but one camp in the county in order to give it a vigorous organization, all veterans in the county having the privilege of joining it. The following are the qualifications necessary in any one who applies for membership: He must be a soldier who has seen two consecutive years of faithful service; must have enlisted prior to the 1st day of July 1863; must have an honorable discharge from the United States army, and a soldier against whom there never was a question in point of honor or the faithful discharge of duty raised.

PRESBYTERY OF NORTHUMBERLAND.—On next Monday, the 21st instant, the Presbytery of Northumberland will convene at Emporium, Cameron county. This Presbytery comprises 43 ministers, 47 churches, 178 elders, 16 deacons, 6,112 communicant members and 6,406 Sunday school scholars. At the last report these churches gave $5,237 to home missions, $5,581 to foreign missions; $739 to education, and $59,584 to congregational purposes. The Presbytery covers the counties of Lycoming, Clinton, Columbia, Union, Cameron, Northumberland, Montour and Snyder.

The business before Presbytery is in part the question of revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith, action upon which has been general among all the Presbyteries. Commissioners will be elected to the General Assembly which meets May 16th next at Saratoga, New York. The retiring Moderator is Rev. Dr. Stuart Mitchell, of Mt. Carmel who preaches the occasional sermon, and the State Clerk is Rev. Robert Laird Stewart, of the Mahoning church, Danville.

The Presbytery church has a form of church government modeled after the government of the United States. Each of the States of the Union has a church synod, and the Presbyteries elected two delegates to the General Assembly, which will meet in Saratoga the present year. The Presbytery church of the United States is said to embrace 900,000 members and 225 Presbyteries. Its grand college and theological seminary in this country is at Princeton, but it has also flourishing theological seminaries in New York City, in Auburn, Chicago, Allegheny City, in Washington and Jefferson College, and in San Francisco.

—Col. D. S. Dundam left this week on a visit to Marcus Hook, a fishing point on the Delaware, where he will be the guest of the Polo Fishing Club.

It is with deep regret and profound sorrow that we announce to our readers the death of Mrs. Fred Olds, of State College, on Monday April 10th, after a long and painful illness. To her friends is lost not only a beautiful woman, but a kindly and gracious one, ever ready to give of her winning cheer, whether a bright smile or a sympathetic word, with a capacity always to touch the right chord. To her husband and children her loss is unspeakably great, but we trust that the peace of God may rest upon this home, and by faith and resignation from this one, we may all think,

"I hold it true what'er befall;
I feel it when I sorrow most;
'Tis better to have loved and lost—
Than never to have loved at all."

A TYRONE BURGLAR CAUGHT.—Some days ago a man giving the name of Charles Howard was arrested in Philadelphia for committing a theft. On his person were found a number of watches and rings. An account of the arrest and finding of the articles was published in the Philadelphia papers, and J. A. C. Stewart, whose jewelry store was burglarized in Tyrone a short time ago, went down to Philadelphia and identified the goods as a portion of those stolen from his store. A warrant was issued by Squire W. F. Taylor for the man, and on Sunday Constable Snyder, of Tyrone, left for Philadelphia and Tuesday he was taken to Hollidaysburg for trial.

"GOOD ENOUGH."—We are pleased to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the "Good Enough" Family Oil Can, which appears in another column. These cans come to us very highly recommended and seem to meet a long felt want with every family using Oil or Gasoline. Readers of the WATCHMAN should call upon our local dealers whose names appear in the advertisement and ask for the "Good Enough" Oil Can—it will pay you.

Died.

DIED.—At Renovo, Pa., on April 4th, 1890, Walter Ryan, son of John G. and Anna Park, aged 9 months. Interment at Bellefonte, April 6th.

A precious one from us has gone,
The one we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in his Wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had given;
And though the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
