Medical.

IN THE SPRING

Nearly everybody needs a good medicine. The impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the cold months must be expelled, or when the mild days come, and the effect of bracing air is lost, the body is liable to be overcome by debility or some serious disease. The remarkable success of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the universal praise it has received, make it worthy your confidence. It is the "ideal Spring Medicine." Try it this season.

THAT TIRED FEELING.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good, for which I cannot be too thankful. Before using, I was in a somewhat debilitated state in the summer; but, after using, the debility left me and has not returned since. I very highly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to the use of everyone who suffers from debility." (Prof.) F. L. REID, School for the Deaf, Omaha, Neb. "Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. There is nothing like it. R. C. BEGGS, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

LIKE A NEW MAN.

"I was very much run down in health, had no strength and no inclination to do anything. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and that tired feeling has left me, my appetite has returned, I am like a new man." CHAUNCEY LATHAM, North Columbus, Ohio.

Modern Incomes and Extravagance.

There was an interesting scene in a New York court last week. A young man holding a confidential position was arrested for embezzling the funds of his employers. The latter testified that the young man had always been competent and well paid, and they were surprised at his action. The prisoner said he neither drank, smoked, gambled nor spent money for any immoral purpose. His salary was $2,500 a year, and he could not support himself and wife on it. The judge expressed surprise at this statement, and wanted to know why two young persons could not live on this income, but the young man was silent.

The prisoner's father was in the court room to enter bail if necessary for his son. He said his average income for thirty years had not exceeded $1,200, and on this he had lived comfortably, raised seven children and had some laid away for a rainy day. His son had all the money he knew, and had no bad habits so far as he knew. Before he married he had saved several thousand dollars, which he had lost in an unfortunate speculation, but none of the embezzled funds had been lost in that manner.

At this point the prisoner's wife asked permission to make a statement. She said that the whole trouble was her own extravagance. She was the daughter of a clergyman and had not been used to high living, but when she got married she desired to branch out. They furnished a home more luxuriously than they should have afforded, and it cost money to keep it up, and to entertain their friends. She kept a servant and dressed beyond her means. She admitted with tears in her eyes that she spent more for bonnets a year than her mother did for ten, but that she wanted to dress as her friends who had more money. She had been extravagant and had led her husband into extravagances, and without her knowledge he had embezzled the funds of the firm.

The judge asked the prosecuting employers whether they were satisfied with this explanation. They said they were and that they would withdraw the suit and take the young man back into their employ, believing that the lesson would last him for life, whereupon the judge discharged the prisoner with the admonition to him and his wife to go back to living in the style of their parents and lead virtuous and happy lives without all the accessories that the wealthy alone can enjoy.

Extravagance is one of the crying sins of the age. Young people are not to be blamed for their sins. Money was scarce with them, and service was paid for in produce. Governor B., according to the New York Ledger, used to illustrate these incidents of frontier life by the following anecdote: One day when he was justice of the peace there came to his office a young man, accompanied by a young woman. "Be you the squire?" asked the man. "Yes, sir." "Can you tie the knot for us right away?" "Yes, sir." "How much do you charge?" "One dollar is the legal fee, sir." "Will you take your fee in bees-wax?" "Yes, if you can't pay cash." "Well, go ahead and tie the knot, and I'll fetch in the wax." "No," said the squire, thinking there was a good chance for a little fun; "bring in the wax first, and then I'll marry you." Reluctantly the youth went out to where was hitched the horse upon which, Darby and Joan fashion, the pair had ridden, and brought the wax in a sack. On being weighed its value was found to be only about half a dollar. "Wax!" said the anxious squire, "tie the knot and I'll fetch more wax next week." "No, sir; I don't trust; that's against the rules of this office." Slowly the disappointed youth turned to go out, saying: "Come, Sal, let's go." "I say, Mister," answered Sal, with a woman's wit, "when you marry us, as far as the wax will go?" "Yes! I can, and will," replied the squire, laughing, and he did.

Size of the United States Army.

The army of the United States consists of 2,167 commissioned officers and a sufficient number of enlisted men to keep them in practice. This number is fixed by a general law at 30,000; for several years congress has been in the habit of appropriating for only 25,000. The adjutant general of the army reports the actual strength of the army as 20,155. So there are not ten real private soldiers for every officer.

The Little Seed.

A little seed lay in the carter's path; A little shrub grew, by its roots held fast; Then a stout tree braved all the winter's blast

A little cough started—'twas only light; A little chill shivered the hours of night; A little cough came and began to grow; Then consumption laid all his brave strength low.

Be wise in time. Check the little cough, cure the little chill, dispell the pain, ere the little ailment becomes the strong, unconquerable giant of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, taken in time, is a remedy for these ills.

JUST FOR FUN.—Pater familias—My boy must have amusement. Friend—What are you going to do for him? Pater familias—Send him to college. —Chicago Times.

A SPRING MEDICINE.—The druggists claim that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far west for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It is called at 50 cents a package and is sold Lane's Family Medicine.

WHERE THE COLD CAME FROM.—Mrs. Brown—Dear me, how cold this room is! I wonder where it all comes from; the fire seems to be burning all right. Mr. Brown—It is very easy accounted for. You have been speaking in a freezing tone of voice since I refused you that sealskin sacque —Wasp.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.—In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or syringes because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

IT SUPPORTED HIM.—"You have no right to send me up as a vagrant," said a lame beggar to a magistrate. "You have no visible means of support," replied the judge. "What's the matter with this crutch?" —Judge.

HOLD IT TO THE LIGHT.—The man who tells you confidentially just what will cure your cold is prescribing Kemp's Balsam this year. In the preparation of this remarkable medicine for coughs and cold no expense is spared to combine only the best and purest ingredients. Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balsam to the light and look through it; notice the bright, clear look; then compare with other remedies. Large bottles at all druggists 50c. and $1. Sample bottle free.

HORTICULTURE.—Fiossy (in the greenhouse)—Now show us your rum tree, Mr. Rubypip. Mr. R. (surprised)—My rum tree? What do you mean, child? Fiossy—Why, ma said you were raising an elegant rum blossom, so I thought.—Lawrence American.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy, and medical merit.

SELF-PRESERVATION.—Foreign Powers—Who owns Behring Sea? Both Jonathan—Well, we own it, but if you'll help kill off the seals so as to save the seal-skin sacque question out of some one's life, you're more'n welcome. —New York Weekly.

DIFFICULT FIGURING.—Census Taker—How many male members are there in this family? Arkansas Housewife—Wall, there was six this mornin'; but pap and th' boys went out arter breakfast for a scrap with th' Mugginses, and I don't know how many there is now.—New York Weekly.

LOOK HERE, FRIEND, ARE YOU SICK? Do you suffer from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, Lost Appetite, Biliousness, Tired Feeling, Pains in the Chest, Night Sweats, Loss of Power, or any form of Consumption? If so, go to your Druggist and purchase a bottle of Floroplexion, which will quickly restore you to sound physical health. Floroplexion is a highly concentrated fluid extract of the most valuable medicinal roots and herbs known to science, and cures where all other remedies fail.
