Medical.

IN THE SPRING

Nearly everybody needs a good medicine. The impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the cold months must be expelled, or when the mild days come, and the effect of tracing air is lost, the body is liable to be overcome by debility or some serious disease. The remarkable success of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the universal praise it has received, make it worthy your confidence. It is the "ideal Spring Medicine." Try it this season.

THAT TIRED FEELING.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me much good, for which I cannot be too thankful. Before using, I was in a somewhat debilitated state in the summer; but, after using, the debility left me and has not returned since. I very highly recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to those of everyone who suffers from debility." (Prof.) F. L. REID, School for the Deaf, Omaha, Neb. "Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. There is nothing like it. R. C. BROWN, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

LIKE A NEW MAN.

"I was very much run down in health, had no strength and no inclination to do anything. I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and that tired feeling has left me, my appetite has returned, I am like a new man." CHAS. LATHAM, North Columbus, Ohio.

WAYSIDE GATES.

The gates along the green highway, Ah me! How thick and white they stand, Shrouding slanting day by day. Dear heart, as slowly, hand in hand, With plodding steps we journey aye To you fair goal the silent land. And these small wickets, low and white, Some token and memorial bear; Here some sweet dream has toiled, Some budding project finished there. Ah! this one, lifting to the light Its cross, is a perpetual prayer. Here broods a Faith with folded wings, And yonder Hope, with outstretched hands, Unbars the golden gate that swings Wide open on the morning lands, And draws the veil from hidden things, For some bruised heart that understands.

O, wayside gates, all in a row, Forever shut, in rain or sun, Whose silent thresholds lie so low, With summer grasses overgrown, Through these the feet, grown weary go, When life's unequal tasks are done.

Into the hush of utter rest They pass, and all their troubles cease; The shadows of our lives are cast; While, with the rolling years increase, God lays upon each quiet breast His blessing of a perpetual rest.

Important Census Question.

Lock Haven Democrat. Among the census questions is one that requires from every person a statement of what he owes and to whom he owes it, and there is fine for every one who refuses to answer. It can be said to-day that all the information the census taker gets as the result of questions of this character will be of little value, fine or no fine. Few persons will be able to recollect what they owe or to whom. "Don't recollect" will be the reply generally. In a vast majority of instances it will be a truthful one. Better not undertake any such impertinence, Mr. Porter.

Cut Off Her Nose.

The Diabolical Revenge of a Man on a Woman Who Left Him. CHEYENNE, WY., May 27.—Lee May, known as "Dogie," the keeper of a dance hall at Casper, Wyo., quarrelled with his mistress, a fine looking girl, who had come to her mother's home in Douglas, Wyo. May followed her and under pretense of business negotiations induced her to go horseback riding, taking her outside the city limits. At the point of the pistol he abducted her. For several days May and the captive wandered about the mountains, living only on the raw meat shot by his revolver. The man was warmly dressed, while the woman was thinly clad and suffered terribly from cold and hunger. May declared he would not kill the woman, but would spoil her beauty. After a struggle he felled the woman and cut her nose close to the face. He intended to cut out her eyes also, but a party of cow men appeared and May fled. The woman reached Douglas yesterday and is in a critical condition. She was young and handsome. A posse is scouring the country for the man, and he will be strung up if captured.

Alive in Her Coffin.

A Supposed Dead Woman Creates a Sensation Among Mourners. NEWPORT, Ky., May 27.—The wife of John Karb, 40 years of age, living on the River road near here, was to all appearances dead last Monday after a long spell of sickness. The body was prepared for burial, and, on Wednesday, while the pall-bearers were carrying the casket from the church, they heard a noise inside the coffin, and upon removing the lid the woman was found to be alive, but too weak to speak. The greatest consternation among relatives and others in attendance ensued when the woman opened her eyes. Women screamed and ran about as if demented, and others fainted. Many of the men lost their presence of mind, and it was only when the woman sat up that aid was extended. She could not speak, and was evidently terribly frightened. She was taken into the church and made comfortable while a physician was sent for. Before he arrived the lady named, started to an upright position and fell back dead. The physician on arrival pronounced her a corpse, and she was buried at once. There is much excitement in the neighborhood, and many believe she should not have been buried.

A Republican View of the McKinley Bill.

Philadelphia Republican (Rep.) The simple fact is, the same sophistry, the same misleading figures, the same mistaken pleading, the same errors of conclusion, are so glaring all through Mr. McKinley's defense of this indefensible bill that the wayfaring workman, agriculturist, and voter of every kind, can see them for himself. And yet what a commentary up on the intelligence of the membership of the majority of the House that this remarkable speech was greeted with subservient cries of "vote! vote!" Either knowing nothing of the matter themselves or being under such abject domination of "mail-order" leadership that they dare not express their feeble ideas, these penny-dip statesmen sat in their seats and shouted for the privilege of writing themselves down under the Pangloss degree almost in a body. It is a most humiliating spectacle. But it does not seem worth while to make any protest about it at this time. There will be a protest, however, by-and-by, and one which will be heard and felt from rock-ribbed New Hampshire to the sandy plains of Southern California.

The most obstinate cases of catarrh are cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm, the only agreed-upon remedy. It is not a liquid or snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. For cold in the head it is magical. It gives relief at once. Price 50 cents.

Pure Malt Whisky.

"I find the doctors and the sages Have differed in all times and ages." But I have found no difference of opinion among the female sages who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a remedy for the weaknesses and ailments peculiar to their sex. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of prolapsus, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration, pain and tenderness. The only remedy for such maladies sold under a guarantee. Particulars on bottle-wrapper. All druggists.

TWO SUFFICIENT REASONS.—There are two good and sufficient reasons why a great many people don't mind their own business. 1st, they haven't any business. 2nd, they have't any business. Now these are just the facts in the case, and when you find a person always meddling with other people's affairs it is evident that the above strikes him exactly.

—Don't you know that you cannot afford to neglect that catarrh? Don't you know that it may lead to consumption, to insanity, to death? Don't you know that it can be easily cured? Don't you know that while the thousand and one nostrums you have tried have utterly failed that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is a certain cure? It has stood the test of years, and there are hundreds of thousands of grateful men and women in all parts of the country who can testify to its efficacy. All druggists.

RHUBARB PIE.—Line a pie-plate with a good crust, cut the rhubarb into half-inch pieces, strew generously with sugar, and dot with tiny bits of butter; put on the upper crust, and bake three-quarters of an hour.

A CURE FOR CONSTIPATION AND SICK-HEADACHE.—Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents a package.

—Mr. E. Dickinson, of Saybrook, caught a shad in his pond on Wednesday morning that weighed when caught eleven pounds and four ounces, and was probably the largest shad ever caught in the Connecticut River.—Hartford Courant.

—Distress after eating, heartburn, sick-headache and indigestion are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It also creates a good appetite.

TRIALS OF A GROCER'S LIFE.—Stranger—Do you keep cheese here? Grocer—Yes, sir; can I put you up a few pounds? Stranger—Is it rich and strong? Grocer—Yes, sir; will twenty pounds be sufficient? Stranger—That's rather too much. Grocer—About ten pounds then? Stranger—Well, no; I just want enough to bait a mouse-trap with.
