WEAK AND WEARY.

In early summer the warmer weather is especially weakening and enerva-ting, and that tired feeling prevails everywhere. JUST THE MEDICINE.

"For nine years I was in a state of constant suffering, scarcely able at any time to walk about the house, and part of the time unable to be out of bed. The physicians said I had a fibroid tumor. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and its good effect was soon apparent. I began to improve in health, and continued taking the medicine till now I feel perfectly well and can walk six or seven miles a day without feeling tired. I think [Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine for women and anyone who has bad blood." JENNIE E. SMITH, East Broad Top, Pennsylvania.

HIS MOTHER'S PIES.

I've toiled and tired and worried,
I've gone the cook-books through,
Till my brain is tired and flurried,
And my hands and patience, too.

I've had the best instruction From the ablest cooks in town, And my pies are crisp and dainty And delicately brown.

But apples, mince or pumpkin, Of any form or shade, Are nothing to my husband Like the pies his mother made.

So I'll give the struggle over, And throw my pride away, But as sure as I'm a mother I'll be avenged some day.

My bonnie lads are growing, And they'll not be afraid To tell their future spouses What pies their mother made. —Cicily Corwin.

To REMOVE SUPERFLUOUS HAIR .-According to the British and Colonial Druggist, a good depilatory is made by mixing together in fine powder, 50 parts of barium sulphydrate, 25 parts of starch, 25 parts of oxide of zinc, and making into paste with sufficient water. This is spread on the surface which is to be freed from hair, about an eighth of an inch thick, and allowed to dry. When this is effected (it generally takes about ten minutes) the mass is removed, leav ing a perfectly hairless surface. The history of the efforts to treat catarri during the past obliges us to admit that only one remedy has met these conditions, and that is Elv's Cream Balm. This pleasant remedy has mastered ca tarrh as nothing else has ever done, and cede this fact. The more distressing symptoms yield to it.

> EAT NOTHING WITH FISH .-- I think it is a wise plan that an English friend of mine tells me Sir Morrell Mackenzie adopts in his own family, and has caused to be followed by many of his patients and friends-that of never allowing bread on the table when he has fish there. Under no circumstances will he eat, or permit to be eaten, fish and bread at the same time. He holds that the presence of bread in the mouth prevents the detection of the presence of a bone, which is lodged in the throat before it is discovered, and strangulation follows The wisest way is certainly to eat fish alone, never with bread or similar substances, for there is much danger in fish

> A "GRIPPE" COINCIDENCE.—A rather singular coincidence is noted by Congressman Morgan, of Mississippi, in reference to the appearance of the "grippe" during Harrison's term. "I remember very well." he said, "in my boyhood that after the election of Harrison and Tyler, and after the death of Harrison, when Tyler had become President and was overturning things in a political way, that an epidemic o influenza swept over the country, just as it is doing now. It had the same name, too, 'the grippe,' and I remem-ber that everywhere it was spoken of as the Tyler grippe.' It was the same sort of thing as we have now, and it is a little odd that it should come back again during the term to which another Harrison was elected in it."
