HER PARTY.

She was going to a party—
Our little three-year-old—
Her first party—and she chattered
Of the things she would behold,
And in her childish fancy
All the guests were dressed in gold.

She was going to a party.

When there passed a breath so chill,
And a cold hand touched our darling,
And she lay so wan and fil;
But in all her pain her party
Was thought of , talked of still.

Then the hand upon our darling Grew sa heavy and so cold, And we knew that we should lose her-Our little three-year.old; And we saw the Shephard waiting To take her to the Fold.

And as we stood, heart-broken, And as we stood, near-token,
Beside the little bed,
"Mother, mother, I am going,
To my party now," she said:
And she smiled and looked so happy—
Then the little spirit fled.

She had set forth to her party, She had climbed the golden stair, And the guests were clad so brightly, And everything was fair: or her party was in heaven, And God had bid her there

The Bouquet Game. One of the players is asked to name her favorite flower. This she does, mentioning three or four—as the lily, the rose, the violet, etc. She is then invited to leave the room. When she has done so, the other players designate by the names of the chosen flowers several friends or playmates (absent or present) of the one who has withdrawn. She is now called back and asked what will you do with the lily?

To which she replies in any manner cinal merit. For the countless pains and aches, soreness or weaknesses, no matter how caused or how severe, which attack the human body, no remedy in the world is so prompt and thorough in reliaving and thorough in reliaving and the second in the second fancy, she is told whom they represent; then, it may be, she finds she has cast away her dearest friend; has given the ple, and the constantly increasing sale of these | place of honor to one whom she regards with indifference, and so on. If she gives droll or incongruous answers, the game is rendered more lively and amusing.

This of Course, Made a Difference.

The board of trade man was lying on a sofa and had given orders to his clerks that he must not be disturbed. Not to put too fine a point upon it, the board of trade man was full to the chin

"You can't see him, sir!" said one of the clerks to an excited man at the door of the office. "I've got to see him! It's a matter of the greatest importance!" said the caller, brushing the great man's subordinate aside and hurrying into the room. "Say, old man," he exclaimed, as he went to the sofa and shook its occupant

"Don't you know better, sir," shouted the board of trade man, sitting up in a towering rage, "than to bother me about business when I'm drunk?" "And don't you know," yelled the excited caller, "that you have no busi ness to be drunk in business bours?" "That's true," hiccoughed the great man, collapsing at once. "Boys," he continued, turning to the clerks, "let him have all the money he wants, dang him!"-Chicago Tribune.

NICE BREAKFAST DISHES .- Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in the fry-ing pan, add one tablespoonful of flour and stir till smooth. Then add a cup of water or stock and season with salt and pepper. When it boils add a quart of coarsely chopped meat.

Cut lean beef in pieces and put in a close covered pail. Put in one layer, then a little salt and pepper and a sprinkling of clove and cinnamon; so on until the pail is full. Pour over all a cup of vinegar and water for every three pounds of meat. Cover the pail closely set into another partly filled with boiling water, and let simmer for hours. When warmed up thicken the gravy a Leave hope behind, All ye who enter here! So ran the dire warning which Dante read on the portals of the Inferno. So runs the cruel verdict of your friends if you are overtaken by the first symptoms of that terrible disease, consumption. "Leave hope behind! Your days are numbered"!! And the struggle against death is given up in despair. But while there is life, there is hope! Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured bundled of sees were then yours; and hundreds of cases worse than yours; and it will cure you, if taken in time. But delay is dangerous. No power can re-store a wasted lung; the "Golden Medical Dicovery," however, can and will arrest the disease.

COLD CATCHUP THAT IS SURE TO KEEP.—One-half peck of ripe tomatoes, peeled, two red peppers, two onions, one half cupful of salt, one cupful of brown white mustard seed, one cupful grated horse-radish, two tablespoonfuls of black pepper, one quart of cider vinegar. Chop tomatoes fine, then drain; chop onions and peppers fine, then mix to onions and peppers fine, then mix to-gether and rub through a colander.

-What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, &c. The impor-tant point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose, which when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or roughly by the shoulder, "they're pinching me like blazes in that deal, and I've got to have some collateral right now or becomes seated and ends in obstinate
