

Democratic Watchman

Friday Morning, August 8, 1890.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Mr. M. H. GUSE, of Penn Hall, is the duly authorized agent of the WATCHMAN for Gress township.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—The creeks throughout this section are exceedingly low.

—Judge Metzger, of Williamsport, has been quite ill, but is improving.

—A water famine threatens farmers and others in sections of the county not blessed with running streams.

—The farmers are now at the oats crop and from some quarters it is pronounced better than was expected.

—The Prohibition convention of Clinton county met in Lock Haven last week, but it was very slimly attended.

—Quite a number of Nail Mill operatives of hereabouts have left, to find employment elsewhere, as the strike still continues.

—In the Pennsylvanian regions the barley crop was so much of a failure this season that some of the farmers didn't cut theirs.

—Mr. Edward Stump raised a crop of wheat this season in the neighborhood of Centre Hall that averaged 25 bushels to the acre.

—About 200 fresh air children from Philadelphia, have been spending the past several weeks at Coburn, Millheim and Lehighburg and vicinity.

—Harry Alvan Hall, Esq., of St. Mary's, has announced himself a candidate for State Senator from that district, subject to Democratic rules.

—Phillipsburg has three bands. Each one donates one evening a week in giving a public concert in the park, and some people are still not satisfied.

—It is reported that General Hastings has been offered the Director-Generalship of the World's Fair at Chicago and that he will accept the position.

—A medicine case was found by Mrs. Billet of Coleville on Monday last which the owner can have by making application for it to the lady who picked it up.

—The Tenth Annual Reunion of the "Soldiers' Orphan Sixteeners" will be held at Williamsport, Pa., on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, August 19th, 20th, and 21st.

—The death of Mrs. Kline, wife of M. J. E. Kline, of Tusseyville, occurred last week after an illness of several weeks. Only a few weeks before her death she attended the funeral of her sister Mrs. Bible.

—Complaint comes from Milesburg that gardens in that vicinity are suffering from the long continued drought. This with the scarcity of fruit is reducing bills of fair down there to very narrow limits.

—The ladies society of the Milesburg Baptist church will hold a festival, Friday and Saturday evenings, August 15th and 16th, in the church. The public are cordially invited to extend them a liberal patronage.

—Miss May Campbell, aged 17, daughter of Mr. John Campbell, and sister of Mrs. C. A. Lindsay, formerly of this place, but now of Houtzdale died of brain fever last week. She was a very estimable young lady.

—The Renovo Evening Herald demands the resignation of Chief Power, of that place, for brutally abusing persons whom he arrests. If the Herald is correct in its statement Power is not fit for the position of policeman.

—Two horses belonging to Peter Smith of near Centre Hill, were killed during a thunder storm some days ago while standing in a field. One was killed on the spot and the other was so badly injured that it was found necessary to kill it.

—Sarah, daughter of Frances Fleisher, formerly of Tusseyville, this county, but now of Hinchman, Michigan, recently died from an operation performed for the removal of a tumor. She was nearly 30 years of age and was born near Tusseyville.

—The Centre Baptist Association, comprising the counties of Huntingdon, Centre and Blair will meet with the Tyrone Baptist church on September 2, 3 and 4. There will be in all probability about one hundred and fifty delegates present at this meeting.

—One evening last week, says a Williamsport paper, some detestable scoundrel clipped the hair of John W. Hegen's little daughter. The girl was the possessor of a most luxuriant growth of hair, and the outrage is supposed to have been committed on the street.

—Mr. L. D. Miles one of Milesburg's oldest and most respected citizens is still suffering from the effects of a sun stroke received three weeks ago. Although at first his life was despaired of, his friends will have reason to hope that he may recover in some measure the use of his limbs.

RUNAWAY BOY.—Our son, J. Morris Kimpfort, left home last Friday morning between the hours of one o'clock and daylight, without cause or provocation and without saying a word to parents, (our only child). He is nearly 16 years of age. His leaving has distressed our home. We advertise for his return and hope soon to welcome him back, the doors of which stand open for him. About 5ft 8in high, ruddy complexion, scar on upper lid of left eye; wears glasses, dark brown hair closely trimmed, dark cloth suit, barred hickory shirt, without collar, and wears a straw hat. Any information as to his whereabouts will be gladly received. Exchanges please copy. Address respectfully, John or Emma Kimpfort, Millheim, Centre Co., Penna.

J. THOMAS SANKEY.—In the recent death of Mr. Thomas Sankey near Centre Hall, the community has lost a bright and promising young man. Some years since, at the time of the death of his father, Ex-Commissioner John Sankey, Tommy, the only son, was a boy in his teens. The mother and family having been bereft of their protector and counsellor, Tommy, with true manly courage stayed with his mother and endeavored to fill the desolation of her heart with the comfort of a devoted son, largely taking the place of his father as the head of the family in the management of the homestead farm and he soon ranked among the best farmers of the community.

In the social circle he will also be greatly missed, as he was ever pleasant and agreeable to those around him, respected and beloved by old and young for his noble and manly qualities, always foremost in every good enterprise in the community. The earnest desire to enter upon a useful career early in life induced him to become a member of Progress Grange at Centre Hall and he proved to be a most devoted and active member, always filling with marked ability every position to which he was called.

While our hearts are desolate and the family bereft of him they loved so well, with none to fill his place where he was so much needed, yet we do not mourn as those without hope, for a life so good and useful here must enter upon a career of happiness in that new and better world.

Sweet eyelids closed to sight of sin,
And ears grown deaf to curse or praise;
No hand shall lead thy feet within
Life's gilded paths or hell's by-ways,
Many hearts are broken o'er thee;
Could tears to life restore thee,
Remorse give back thy breath,
Unlose the hands of death,
Would we dare to lift the coffin lid
And bid
The heart to beat again?
"Ah no!"
Sleep on and rest, sweet one."

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD COMMISSION.—The final report of the Commissioners that took charge of and distributed the funds contributed for the relief of the sufferers from the flood of 1889, is an interesting document. The loss of life at Johnstown and vicinity, as near as it could be ascertained, was 2,142. Nine families numbering from 2 to 10 were washed away in the State outside of the Conemaugh valley 78 persons, 4 of whom were in Centre county, and 30 in the Clinton county. The 4 persons drowned in this county were Miss Eva Poust, aged 29 years, Ellen Mary Poust, 6 years; Charles Monroe Poust, 5 years and Bruce M. Poust, one year.

The losses in property in the Conemaugh valley are put down at $11,871,105. The commission fails to state the losses in other parts of the State, which, in our opinion, would foot up to nearly the amount of that of Johnstown. The total contributions in cash to the flood sufferers were 4,116,301,148, of this amount $2,912,348,30 were placed in the hands of the commission, the balance being distributed by other charitable associations and local committees. Besides the cash contributions there was contributed and distributed, outside of the commission $1,200,000 in supplies. Making the total contributions, $5,316,801,48.

Forty-seven states and territories sent in contributions in cash $1,188,403,84; N. Y. $811,761,05; Massachusetts $255,646,12; Ill., $206,988,85; and Ohio $200,243,02.

Bellefonte contributed $1,864; Tyrone $242,06 Philadelphia $486,698,99; Pittsburg $255,569,90 and the employees of the Pennsylvania R. R. $3,930,00.

The State of North Carolina contributed the smallest amount of any state its contribution being only $1,541,31, Mississippi $2,494,70 being the next lowest.

Sixteen foreign countries contributed to the flood commission a total of $141,300.98; England leading with $42,900; Germany $37,085.35, and France $25,052.33. The smallest contribution, coming from Italy, being only nine dollars whilst far-off Russia sent fifty dollars.

Of the money distributed by the commission Centre county, received fifty dollars, Lock Haven $47,803.14, the Conemaugh valley $2,592,982.68, the balance being distributed in other parts of the state.

—The new M. E. church at Coleville will be dedicated to the service of God on Sunday, August 10th.

—The following in the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin is a most startling bit of information from Centre county, which will greatly surprise the people hereabouts, as they heard nothing about it previous to its appearing in that paper: "Centre county has furnished a number of tragical scenes within the past eighteen months. Another was added to the list last Friday evening when a farmer named Albert Parmenter, who lived eight miles east of Bellefonte, shot his wife and then himself, dying almost instantly. His wife lived only four hours. They left two children who are being cared for by neighbors. Parmenter was in failing health, and the fear of a long and expensive illness ending in death, and that thereby his wife and children would be left to struggle and suffer alone, unbalanced his mind."

—To-morrow night the ladies of the Methodist church at Fillmore will hold an open air festival in the church yard at that place. These Fillmore festivals have always heretofore been a source of much pleasure to Bellefonters, and arrangements have been made with the Bellefonte and Buffalo Run R. R. Co. for a special train which will leave the depot to-morrow evening at seven o'clock. The regular excursion rates will be charged and the train will return just whenever the people get their fill of the good things which will be served.

—The beautiful glass wagon belonging to the Abram Cox Stove company, while passing through Flemington Tuesday morning, accidentally ran into a buggy driven by a drummer, which was overset by the collision and the drummer thrown out, but not much hurt. The buggy was considerably damaged and one leg of the horse a trifle skinned up. The men in the glass wagon were busily engaged in throwing out stove circulars at the time, and possibly did not see or hear the drummer.

—A big woodsman, whom the chief of police, of Renovo, had placed under arrest, knocked the officer down with the handle of his axe which was on his wrists. The Renovo News says the woodsman stood over the prostrate form of the officer and told him if the handcuffs were not removed immediately he would descend upon him again with greater force and perhaps fatal effect. The chief deliberated, took off the cuffs and the woodsman after cursing him wildly moved on.

—Mr. Joseph R. Muffly, well known to many of our readers, and who has been enjoying the summer in Montana, in a private note to the editor, writes: "I have been up in the 'Coeur d'Alene' in Idaho for some time. This is a beautiful country, well timbered, good soil, good water, and delightful climate. While you poor fellows were sweltering at night all over the Eastern and Middle States, we were snoring comfortably under a pair of blankets."

—The Penna. R. R. base ball club of Phila., which played with our team last season, will be here on the 25th of this month to give us another trial. The Philadelphia boys were very much disappointed over the result of their last game here and want to come back to try and redeem themselves. At present they stand at the head of the strongest amateur league in Philadelphia.

—After spending a week at Bellefonte, his former home and the scenes of his earlier days, Mr. W. J. Beezer, of this city, left this morning for Chicago, Ill., where he represents local union, No. 487, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, at their sixth general convention, which will be held in that city August 4 to 9. We wish him a pleasant journey and a safe return.—Altoona Times.

—Last week the barn of Jacob Snyder, about four miles west of Middleburg, Snyder county, caught fire from the sparks from a locomotive and was burned with its contents, including about 700 bushels of untreshed wheat, 400 bushel of oats, 46 loads of hay and nearly all his farming implements including a harvester and threshing machine. The live stock was gotten out.

—The Renovo Herald is not satisfied with the census report for that borough which puts the figures at 4,335, and thinks that they show that the town is going backward, if they are correct, for in July, 1888, a gentleman connected with one of the papers of the town went from house to house and made a thorough count which showed a population of 4486.

—Logan Grange 100 will give a festival in their new hall near Pleasant Gap station on Saturday evening, Aug. 9th, beginning at 6 o'clock. Refreshments of all kinds will be served. Every body is invited and a good time is anticipated.

—Renovo's population, as based on the official figures of the enumeration, is estimated by Captain Bricker at 4,200, with 135 for South Renovo, making a sum total of 4,335.

DEATH OF MISS CLARA HARTSWICK.—That God's ways are not our ways was instanced in our midst last week when He took into himself Miss Clara Hartswick, an estimable woman endowed with the ability and strength of purpose to make herself a very helpful member of the human race in whatever line she may have attempted. We oftentimes wonder why so many of us of such interior endowments are allowed to live while God gathers his jewels so surely. "Shall I have naught that is fair?" said He, and he transplants them from this world to a fairer and brighter one where their "talent," lightened by the glory of His countenance, shall shine with the greater lustre because of the care taken to increase its value in this world. For several years Miss Hartswick had toiled patiently and conscientiously through her college course, never shirking her duty as daughter, student or friend, ever ready to lend a helping hand and give a sympathizing smile, and now, with her foot upon the last round of her college course, in the full bloom of a womanhood giving promise of such rich fruit, she has begun her work "where there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain."

REM. PEALE SUES HIS FATHER-IN-LAW FOR $40,000.—The Philadelphia Press reports that Rembrandt R. Peale, originally of Lock Haven, but residing in Philadelphia as Secretary of the Bloomington Mining Company, has brought suit for $40,000 against his father-in-law, A. C. Hopkins, of Lock Haven. Mr. Peale claims that Mr. Hopkins has retained control of that much of his daughter's estate, which had been left to her by W. D. Irwin.

All the parties are highly connected in the circles of wealth and fashion in the valley of the West Branch. Mr. Peale is a son of ex-State Senator S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven. A. C. Hopkins is the head of one of the largest lumber firms along the Susquehanna river, and is largely interested in the banking business. W. D. Irwin was, before his death, a partner with Mr. Hopkins. With him Jennie Lydia Hopkins, the daughter of his partner who subsequently married Mr. Peale, was a prime favorite. From him she inherited a large estate, the exact amount of which her husband does not know, because it was all placed in her father's hands before her marriage. He has not yet been able to discover its full extent, owing to the death of his wife in 1886 and the strained relations which have existed between him and Mr. Hopkins. Young Peale sues to recover the property willed to her by W. D. Irwin which is retained by her father.

SINGULAR CONDITION OF WILLIAM BURNSIDE.—The following relating to an old time citizen of Bellefonte, which appeared in the Philadelphia Press of Tuesday, may be of interest to some of our readers:

William Burnside, who had been mysteriously missing since Thursday, was found wandering on the streets last night in the neighborhood of Spruce and Fifteenth Streets. He was in a dazed and almost helpless condition and gave every indication of having passed through an ordeal as marked as the full explanation of it is now impossible.

About 8:30 last night William Wallace, an old friend of the Burnside family, was on his way toward home when he noticed Burnside walking aimlessly along the street. He accosted him at once, but was not recognized by Burnside.

The latter, however, did not object to Wallace's proposition to take him home and the latter put the old man on a street car and took him to his house at 2130 Christian street. A physician was at once summoned and, after an examination, he said that Burnside was evidently suffering from the after effects of drugs and that there were no indications of his having been under the influence of liquor. There were less than $2.00 found in his pockets out of about sevenity that he had when he left the Custom House last Thursday, although his watch was in his vest pocket. His clothing was not disarranged and his linen was in good condition, showing that he at least had had sufficient sleeping accommodation during his absence from home.

Mr. Burnside was not in a condition to give any account of his wanderings. In an incoherent way he repeatedly said that he had been robbed, but when and how could not be ascertained. At one time he said he had been in Lancaster, but the members of the family do not believe he has been there, as he had no reason to visit that town, and could not give a statement in any way of the connection that Lancaster had with his absence. The theory was advanced by one of the family that he had been led off by a gang of sharpers said to frequent the neighborhood of the Custom House on pay day, and that he was induced to believe he was in Lancaster in order to throw searchers after him off the track, when he should finally tell the story regarding his absence.

THE FIRE AT CLARENCE.—Thursday afternoon of last week alarming dispatches were sent to neighboring towns announcing that a destructive fire was prevailing in the neighborhood of Clarence, near Snow Shoe, threatening the saw-mill and lumber piles of Hopkins & Weymouth, and asking for assistance. A steamer was sent from Lock Haven, and when the firemen arrived on the ground they found that the fire extended from Clarence to Gillingtown, about three miles, the ground over which it was burning a section that had been cut over long and abounding in rotten stumps, logs, bushes, &c., all of which were as dry as tinder. The area covered by the conflagration was quite wide in extent, and a high wind was blowing it directly toward the mill and lumber piles of Hopkins & Weymouth, the latter comprising about 5,000,000 feet. Men had been fighting the fire most all day, among whom was the indomitable John Uzzle, but it had continued to gain on them and they were about exhausted when the rescuers emerged upon the scene. In giving an account of the threatening advance of the devouring element, the Lock Haven Democrat says: Several times when about to abandon the work discouraged, the bucket brigade would be cheered by the clarion tones of Uzzle saying, "Now boys, we've got it; another effort and we'll have it out," and then they would go to work with renewed energy and vigor. But still it continued to gain on them, and was but slightly checked until the firemen began to throw two heavy streams upon it. The water poured upon the fire on the side on which the lumber piles were endangered, extinguished it for a good distance, thoroughly wetting and saturating the ground and everything between the fire and lumber piles. By this means the spread of the fire was restrained and the saw-mill and lumber piles saved.

THE COUNTY TAXES.—The tax duplicates for 1890 have been made out and are now in the hands of the following collectors:—Bellefonte, S. D. Ray; Centre Hall, George W. Ocker; Howard Borough, N. P. Riddle; Milesburg, Z. L. Harshberger; Millheim, W. E. Keen; Phillipsburg, C. A. Faulkner; Unionville; J. W. Hoover; Benner, R. F. Hunter; Boggs, H. L. Barnhart; Burnside, William Zimmerman; College, Harrison Knarr; Curtin, N. J. McCloskey; Ferguson, Jacob Crumrine; Gregg, H. M. Cain; Haines, M. F. Hess; Half Moon, George W. Fisher; Harris, O. W. Stover; Howard—to be supplied; Huston, I. F. Davis; Liberty, N. H. Johnson; Marion, David Harter; Miles, Cornelius Stover; Patton, L. H. Musser; Penn, H. M. Swartz; Potter, John H. Runkle; Rush, J. D. Gill; Snow Shoe, R. J. Hayes, Jr.; Spring, J. B. Miller; Taylor, Pias Richards; Union, J. H. Stover; Walker, Perry Beck; Worth, G. W. Woodring.

FRESH AIR CHILDREN.—A crowd of at least six hundred people had gathered at Coburn station on last Friday afternoon, says the Millheim Journal, to receive the fresh air children. One hundred and eighty-four conveyances passed the Coburn toll gate and some thirty came from above. It remained one of camp meeting. The Millheim band entertained the crowd with some music until the arrival of the eastern train which was an hour late. The children were taken into the depot for distribution and it was six o'clock before all was done. The boys and girls, as a rule, are clean, bright and intelligent, and are enjoying their week's vacation to its fullest extent, and many people think of keeping them a week longer. A good many of the girls will go home with a well replenished wardrobe.

PLAYING WITH A RATTLESNAKE.—A little child of Charles Hamacker, of Renovo, about two years old, was rescued from a rattlesnake a few days ago by its mother, just in time to save it from the serpent's fangs. The snake had somehow got into the yard of the residence and the little one was discovered deliberately punching it with a stick. The snake was just ready to spring apparently, when the mother appeared upon the scene and snatched the child up. The father then blew the snake's head off with his gun.

LYCOMING JUDICIAL CONTEST.—The opinion in the judgeship contest is being written by Judge Rockerfeller, of Sunbury, and not by Judge Bucher, as believed by some. It is understood that His Honor is getting along well. When completed the document will be a ponderous one, and may go on record as the largest legal opinion in the state. The statement has been made that the opinion may be handed down this month, and general interest in the matter is on the ascendancy.

—Having perfected arrangements for handling grain, we are prepared to buy at our Bishop street warehouse all kinds of grain at market prices and exchange flour for wheat 31-3t BROOKERHOFF & Co.

—A car loaded with large stone, consigned to the Union Roofing Co., and to be used at the Brockerhoff House, broke down near the depot on Tuesday.

—Friday morning a 4 months old baby of Mr. G. Alexander, of Fleming, was found dead in bed. When the family retired in the evening the baby was all right. It was put in the bed with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander and when they awoke in the morning they were horrified to find the child dead.

—Miss Caroline Orvis entertained a large party of young ladies and gentlemen at her home on East Linn st. on Monday evening last. The party was given in honor of Miss Anna Dicky, of Lancaster, and Miss Harvey, of Lock Haven, both of whom have been visiting Miss Orvis. The cards were issued for dancing and notwithstanding the great heat of the evening every number was danced with life and enjoyment.

—Thomas Neary, a brakeman or flagman on the Bald Eagle Valley road, was taken with severe cramp on Friday afternoon while on the train. He was left off at Howard, and at night was brought down to his home at Lock Haven, but the family not being at home he was taken to the residence of his brother-in-law, Philip Zindel's house where he suffered a great deal of pain. He was carried on a stretcher from the depot to the house where a physician attended him.

POPULATION OF CENTRE.—Last week's WATCHMAN called attention to the discrepancy in the reports of the total population of the county as shown by the census just taken. Referring to that notice, Capt. Bricker, supervisor of the census for this district, writes us: "I never gave out the 51,000 as a total. If I did it was a mistake. The population of Centre county will be about 44,000 or less. After revising one borough and one township will send you the total. Also No. of farms, deaths, soldiers, &c., as reported to me."

CAMP MEETING AT PENN CAVE.—A camp meeting under the auspices of the Spring Mills, Centre and other charges of the Evangelical Association, will be held in Wm. Lucas' woods at Penn Cave Station, on the Lewisburg and Tyrone R. R. Rev. I. M. Pines will be in charge of the camp and will be aided by a number of able ministers. The camp will begin Thursday, Aug. 14th, continuing one week. The boarding tent will be in charge of an experienced caterer who will supply the physical wants of the many who will attend. The price of boarding for the week has been fixed at $3.00. Single meals can be had at reasonable rates. The proceeds of the boarding tent will be appropriated to benevolent purposes. The R. R. company will sell tickets at reduced rates from Montandon, Bellefonte and intermediate points, good on all regular trains, from Aug. 13th, to 21st inclusive. They will also carry all camp equipment to and from Penn Cave free of charge.
