—In the Gazette of Aug. 15th is the charge that Mr. Schofield is insisting on a 6 mill poor tax, and that Mr. J. I. McClure, the other overseer for the borough, is in favor of a 5 mill tax. Mr. Schofield requests us to say that in the early future he will explain the entire matter to the satisfaction of the taxpayers of the borough, and that it is entirely too early for the Gazette to boost it over so far for re-election next Spring.

—The Veteran Club of Centre County will hold its annual Reunion and Basket Picnic at Phillipsburg, Pa., on Saturday September 6th next. D. F. Fortney, Esq., will deliver the annual address. DIED AT THE AGE OF NINETY.—Mrs. Turner, widow of James Turner, died at her residence on Bishop street, in this place, on Friday morning, in the ninetyeth year of her age. This venerable lady had always been a resident of Centre county. She was the daughter of Thomas McClellan and was born in this place in 1801, her parents at that time residing in a house that was located on the site on Allegheny street that is now occupied by the Parrish drug store in the McAlister stone building; Bellefonte had then been settled but a short time and the surrounding country was but little better than a wilderness. The family afterwards lived in a building that occupied the site of Lyon & Co's store on Allegheny street. Her husband died in 1870, since which time she lived in the house on Bishop street in which she died.

She was the mother of six children, all but one of whom are living. Thomas who is a resident of Chicago, came on to attend the funeral; Mrs. Matilda O. Bryan, who lives in Michigan, was with her mother at the time of her death; William is a resident of St. Louis; Mrs. Debora Thompson resides in Chicago; Mrs. Charles Cooke, who was with her mother when she died, lives in Johnstown, and James died in New Mexico many years ago. It is seldom that a family of children are so widely scattered. Mrs. Turner was a lifelong and devoted Presbyterian, and was the oldest member of the Presbyterian church of this place. The whole of her long life was spent in this immediate vicinity and she was recognized as one of the oldest and most worthy of the residents of Bellefonte. After a long and tranquil existence in this world, in which she acted the part of a true Christian and good neighbor, her many virtues will gain their reward in the next world. Her funeral, at which Rev. Mr. Laurie officiated, took place on Monday afternoon.

Pine Grove Mentions.
Mr. William Mart is convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever.

—Isaac Harper recently purchased the Isaac Merryman property, also an adjoining lot of the Alexander Semple estate.

—W. E. Meek and daughter, W. J., and Henry Meyers and wives will be among the Williams Grove picnicers, next week. We wish them a merry good time.

—Rev. George Elliot is spending his summer vacation in New York City as the guest of his friend Arbuckle. Rev. Alkoms and wife are rusticating among friends at Hanover and Gettysburg.

—Rev. Black delivered his harvest home sermon last Sunday week to a well filled house. The pulpit was tastefully decorated with cereals and flowers, which added much to the illustration of God's handy work.

Silence prevails among the g. o. p. hereabouts since the convention which met at Bellefonte Tuesday week. Some one suggested that it should have been held at Phillipsburg where so much available political timber was supplied.

On Thursday of last week quite a cyclone passed over a section north of this place. Its track was about six rods wide, taking every thing in its way, such as fences, trees, &c.

Fifteen persons of our town are among the picnic goers and sight seers at Williams Grove this week. After their return they seeds will likely be found in their tin locks. However, we wish them a royal good time.

The Geo. Meyer farm was offered at public sale on Saturday last. The highest bid was $50 per acre, when the sale was adjourned. A sale will likely be effected privately. Several bids have since been made to the amount of $4,000 which will likely be accepted.

Mrs. Ella Fryate, of Lockport, Ill., (formerly Ella Shiffer of our town) is now visiting her Centre county friends accompanied by three bright little children.

Mr. William Musser, a veteran of the war and a former Centre countyman, but for the last twenty years an influential and successful farmer of Stephenson county, Illinois, is now visiting his Centre county friends, not looking much older than when he carried a musket in the war, though his locks are sprinkled with gray.

Our baseball team accepted an invitation to Pleasant Gap where they went last Saturday week. After receiving the hospitality of the clever people of the Gap a base ball game was played which resulted in a draw in favor of our players, who returned home in the small hours of next morning in a better mood than when they returned from Greenwood some time since.

County Superintendent Eiters was greeted by a large class for examination at this place. Everything passed off smoothly, though the class was an unusually large one. So the entire day was taken up with the exercises which were witnessed by a large number of visitors. Certificates were granted with but a few exceptions. The School Board convened in the evening and elected the following teachers for the schools of this district: Pine Grove grammar school, Prof. Jacob Roan; P. G. Primary, Miss Sue Darnley Branch; Miss Annie McWilliams; Krumpholtz, J. B. Krebs; Oak Grove, A. Archey; White Hall, Miss Mattie Ewing; Centre, Miss Hannah Meek; Tadpole, Miss Carrie Miller; Penna. Furnace, Miss Osman Maringo, J. A. Miller; Gatesburg, Jacob Harper; Baileyville, W. H. Roush; Glade, Miss Clara Walker; Kipper, Cooper Miller. Some changes may be made in the above named districts and teachers.

On the sixth day of last February it was our pleasant duty to pen the marriage of one of our most estimable young ladies, in the person of Esther Ewing. The event was a most brilliant one at the home of her father, Hezekiah Ewing and wife. It is now our sad duty to chronicle the death of the husband of the estimable young lady, Mr. John H. Gripp, who suddenly and unexpectedly died at his home in Tyrone on an early hour last Friday morning, of congestion of the brain, after a short illness of but one day and night. May God comfort his young widow and aged mother, whom he left on the old homestead in Odenort, Germany, about five years ago, full of youthful vigor, in search of employment at better wages, which he found at Tyrone Forge as a puddler. A twin brother and two sisters also survive him. He was a quiet, reserved, young man whom all learned to honor and respect more and more as they had opportunity to know him better, he having the friendship and confidence of his fellow workmen with whom he was daily engaged. His age was 32 years, 10 months and 26 days. Religiously he was a Lutheran, but since his marriage attended with his wife at the Presbyterian church which he was about to join. The a. m. train on the Tyrone and Lewisburg Branch brought his remains to the Pennsylvania Furnace on the morning of the 29th, where a large concourse of people awaited to accompany the remains to Graysville cemetery where almost the entire community bore testimony of their feelings in the large attendance and expression of real sorrow manifested at the services conducted by Rev. J. C. Kelley. Mr. Gripp was a member of Tyrone Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which the pallbearers were members. We can but say in the language of another, plant the resurrection flower on his grave and say farewell, husband and brother.

Corner Stone Laying.

Ma. Enton:—The Corner Stone of the new Presbyterian church of Milesburg Pa. will be laid on next Sabbath afternoon, Aug. 31, 1890. Rev. Dr. Laurie will preach the sermon in the Baptist church at half past 2 o'clock, after which the stone will be laid. We cordially invite our Bellefonte friends and all others to be present. Respectfully yours,
Milesburg, Aug. 25, 1890. W. O. WRIGHT.

Found After Forty Years.

A Charley Ross Romance That Ended in a Happy Reunion.

MOLINE, Ill., Aug. 30.—Over forty years ago there occurred at Elmira, N. Y., an abduction that in matter of local interest fairly rivaled the famous case of Charley Ross. The victim of this outrage was Hiram, the eight-year old son of Mr. Robert Gregg.

An old gypsy-like hag named Debby Blood met some men in the road near where the little boy was standing one day, and for some trivial reason gave them a round cursing. The child reproved her for her wickedness, whereupon she turned upon him and told him that she would either kill him or break his heart. Soon after this she stole him and, with a vicious character named Lockery, fled to Hudson, Wis. Thence they went to Catfish Bay, and afterward to Richmond, in the same State. Part of the time they led a shiftless, nomadic life, and part of it they farmed on a miserable little clearing.

The boy was made to believe that Debby Blood was his mother and Lockery his stepfather, and that his own name was Gage. Gradually his recollection of the old home and his family faded away and he accepted the tales told him as the truth. He was cruelly worked, and several times the virago who stole him tried to poison him, but he lived through it all, and finally, about fifteen years ago, he was married to an estimable young woman and made his home at Richardson, Oak county, Wis. Upon this Debby Blood disappeared, vowing she would never be seen or heard from any more, and so far has kept her word.

After years of fruitless search for the lost child the Greggs moved to the West, settling near this place. No tidings came from the lost one, and all hope of seeing him again was abandoned. A short time ago, however, accident led persons living here to believe that Hiram Gregg was still alive. Investigation led to certainty, and to-day the lost boy, now a man with gray hair, was restored to the mother who has mourned for him till the grave had almost opened at her feet. It was an affecting union.

For Ladies with Bald Heads.
Baldness is a rare infirmity among ladies. Doubtless one reason is because the hair falls out from severe fevers, as typhoid, but it is usually restored without treatment. Some ladies seem to have inherited a tendency to baldness. Thinning out of the hair also occasionally occurs in consequence of the usual proportions are two drachms to a pint of water. Common water may be used. The mixture will be made up by a druggist, who will need to add a little diluted sulphuric acid, and a few drops of some perfume oil will render it more agreeable. It would be well, also, to add to each pint of the mixture two or three ounces of glycerine. Apply this tonic once or twice a day. A rapid gain must never be expected from the use of any hair restorative. Even the best of them are not likely to have any noticeable effect until after they have been persisted in for several months.—Boston Herald.

Essay—By a Husband.
I hate door-mats. Always stumbling over them. Had a glorious rain last night and when I came out this morning with the five dogs at my heels, Jane called out, "wipe your feet, Joseph, Ann has just wiped the floor." What do we keep a girl for? Does Jane think for an instant I would care to track up a dirty floor? Goodness no. Give me the floor just mopped and I will print my coat of arms from one end of it to the other, and let the dogs fill up the cracks. Bless dogs, anyway, for their playful little diggigs and scratchings and frisky howlows. Such company for a man. Jane hates dogs.

Trading With Labor.
Philadelphia Times.
Of course Quay will trade with the organizations of the State to elect Delaware. He has always traded with them; he has sustained labor newspapers; paid labor leaders, and always had a commercial labor contingent ready for every emergency, and he won't be without it this year, only it will probably have more leaders and fewer followers than usual.

The rumor of an attempted deal with the Knights of Labor by giving them the whole nine Factory Inspectors authorized by the last Legislature won't wash. The law was a transparent fraud practiced upon the labor organizations. The party leaders, fearing the workingmen, passed the bill creating Factory Inspectors; then, fearing the factory owners, and knowing that labor could be more easily cheated than employers, they made the law nugatory by refusing to make appropriations for the salaries of the Inspectors.

William H. Martin, of Chester, was one of the square men in the movement and he was finally appointed Chief Factory Inspector (agreeing to serve without pay until the next Legislature meets), to quiet the labor eruption that surged against the party leaders when the cheat was discovered; and it is supposed to retire Martin as a special County House officer and trade the whole nine Factory Inspectors to the Knights of Labor as the price of the labor vote for Delaware.

There are several serious if not insuperable obstacles to this proposed deal. First, the Knights of Labor are not likely to trade with leaders who so basely cheated them once; second, the workingmen of the State are not in the political market for boodle or promises this year; and third, nobody nor any combination of people could transfer the labor vote of the State to any candidate or party.

There will be plenty of labor trading, and a number of off-color labor traders will get their boodle, but the great mass of the industry voters of the State, in field, in shop, in mine and in forest, will vote to smite the taxbreeders who are now cringing labor to pay the contract price of monopoly greed.
