BURDEN BEARERS.

In the gay, shifting markets of the East,

In the gay, shifting markets of the East, Gaunt and grotesque, the patient camels stand, Calm amid busy tumult, ugly, grand, With rough-ridged form and meek, uplifted face, Ready to bear afar, in conscious strength, That which is laid upon them. Day by day To fast, and thirst, and labor, till at length, The desert crossed, and won the resting place, A master's hand shall lift the load away. Oh, still, strong human nature whom we meet Day after day, in adverse circumstance Serene and faithful! Have we learned, per-chance, chance, From these dumb heroes of the Eastern mart The untold secret, wonderful as sweet, Of all that grandly simple strength of heart? In meekness lieth might. Such souls as these Accept their burden upon bended knees!

Who Owns the United States ?

In spite of the rapid increase in the number of millionaires in the United States in recent years, the popular no-tion is that wealth is yet very much more evenly distributed in this country than in England. Mr. Thomas G. Shearman, the well-known New York statistician, has been engaged for sometime in collecting facts to show as precisely as possible the proportions of the wealth of the country held by a few rich men and families; and he finds a greater concentration of wealth here than in any other country. The results of his investigation will appear in the Forum of November, from advance sheets of which the following facts have been taken. Mr. Shearman makes the following enumeration of owners of more than $20,000,000 each.

$150,000,000: J. J. Astor; Trinity Church.

$100,000,000 : C. Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jay Gould, Leland Stanford, J. D. Rockefeller.

Each of them has tried both plans. Which is the plan that has done the a mile away. It was known that the water rose rapidly in the mine, and with the machinery blocked there was work— whipping or not whipping? I don't believe it is either one. If they promised to punish, they punished; and if this is done, the kind of punishment is not the the depths, and no sound could be head from below. Night came on, but there was no prospect of rescue. At last the presi-dent of the coal mine company got some men to work, and throughout the most important matter. I have seen children turn out well under severity, long hours, while they tried to loosen and I have seen them turn out well unthe machinery, mothers walked up and der mildness; but I never saw them down weeping with babies in their turn out well under a weak and vacillatarms

Soon ropes were let down, and one by one they were pulled out. All were alive, but had the resping. I think children are more obe-dient to-day, in spite of the wails of the older generation, than they were when there was ten times as much whipping. I know from my own experience that it is harder to carry out a severe system uniformly than a mild system. But I have seen many kinds of children, and I have come to believe that what Mrs children. "Perhaps," suggested one of his lis-teners, "you were like the man of whom teners, "you were like the man of whom the country newspaper man wrote: 'The ball entered his left side, inflicting a mortal wound. With good care he will be able to pull through all right.''' "That's just where the ball did enter," replied the grizzled veteran cheerfull: replied the grizzled veteran cheerfully. "I was in the Shenandoah Valley with each ; and he says that a list of ten persons can be made whose wealth averages $25,000,000. No such a list can be made up in any other country. "The richest Dukes of England," he says, "fall below the average wealth of a dozen American citizens; while the greatest bankers, merchants, and railway magnates of England cannot compare in wealth with many Americans."

The average annual income of the richest hundred Englishmen is about $450,000, but the average annual income of the richest hundred Americans cannot be less than $1,000,000, and probably exceeds $1,500,000. The richest of the Rothschilds, and the world re-nowned banker, Baron Overstone, each left about $17,000,000. Earl Dudley, the owner of the richest iron mines, left $20,000,000. The Duke of Euccleuch (and the Duke carries half of Scotland in his pocket) left about $30,000,000. The Marquis of Bute was worth, in 1872, about $28,000,000, in land; and may now be worth $40,000,000, and the Duke of Westminister perhaps $50,000,-000.

Mr. Shearman's conclusion is that 25,000 persons own one half the wealth of the United States; and that the whole wealth of the country is practically owned by 250,000 persons, or 1 in 60 of the adult male population; and he predicts, from the rapid recent concentration of wealth, that under present conditions 50,000 persons will practically own all the wealth of the country in thirty years-or less than one in 500 of the adult r pulation.

I said that if a whipping was ever needed, it was the parents who needed it, for it was cer-tainly the fault of the child's training in some shape. But I've got over that he was three years old, never laying a dient every day. Then I began by spanking him whenever I was certain that he intentionally and wilfully disbest boys I know. I managed to get to a log, that wounded men were looking out for and sat down on it to wait until should die. The pain was so fearful that I could barely move my limbs. It seemed to paralyze my nerves and muscular force. As I sat there watching the men scampering along, one of my old comrades passed me.' "What's the matter, Abe?" he cried.

'Hit ?'' "They've done me this time," I anwered.

"Hope not," he turned to yell back as he ran." One doesn't expect delicate attention at such times.' "Well, I waited to die until I said to myself, 'if this is dying, it isn't so bad after all. "I unbuckled my belt to ease the pain and thought I would like to see what a deadly wound looked like. I took a look and there was no wound there. I could feel where the ball came out in my back. I put my hand around there to touch the hole and could not find it. There was no sign of a wound in my side, nor a mark on the skin. It took me not more than thrity seconds to company. I caught it in twenty minutes

"How's this," two or three of the boys panted. "We thought you were killed

"Well, you see I'm not," I said, falling into the ranks. I had been hit by a spent ball, and that night when I examined my side I found a black and blue spot as big as my cap. I didn't mind it in the least. A man who suddenly recovers from a "Well," said Mrs. Ashton-(the sort mortal wound feels pretty cheerful.

A very old fashion, now being revived, is that of cording each seam of the bodice, and also the closely gored skirt. A heavy cord, usually covered with silk is carried around the bottom of the skirt and up each seam. Bustles and cushions are not in style just at present, and are not supposed to be worn, yet in some recently made walking costumes a flounce of stiff muslin or crinoline has been introduced at the back of the dress skirt to give it a fuller appearance. Tea and evening dresses, however, must not have a suspicion of a bustle.

Wife Shooting at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 28 .- A court case, which was to have come off next week, has been suddenly and tragically closed. John F. Braden, of this place, lately had his wife arrested on the charge of being unfaithful to him with one Boucher, a member of the Johnsbuckle my belt and make a run for my town police force. The case had a tracted considerable interest on account of the man being so well knowr. This morning Braden, who lives in the Twelfth ward, met his wife and instantly shot her dead. The man was at once arrested, and is now in jail. He refuses to give any explanation as to his later outbreak against the woman, nor why he was not willing to have the affair settled in court rather than to take the law of vengeance in his own hands. The two were alone at the time the shooting occurred, and it is not known what passed between them before the fatal shot was fired.
