Pattison, Black, and Barclay!

GRAND MASS MEETING AT BELLEFONTE, Tuesday Evening, October 7.

Special Trains and Excursion Tickets.

Governor Pattison, accompanied by Chauncey Black, Capt. Barclay, Hon. Robt. E. Wright, Maj. Veal, R. Jones Monahan, W. U. Hensel, and other distinguished speakers will be here. A mass meeting will be held in the EVENING at the COURT HOUSE, and the above named gentlemen will address the meeting.

Excursion tickets will be sold at all stations on the Lewisburg & Tyrone, and on the Buffalo Run railroads, for Tuesday, October 7th. Special return trains will leave about 10 o'clock, that evening, running as far as Coburn, and to the College, but will not run over the Mattern branch.

Let there be a general outpouring of the Democracy of Centre County on this occasion. Let us give Gov. Pattison a hearty welcome to our home. Let the laboring men, farmers, mechanics and all others turn out and hear a fair and honest presentation of the great issues before them.

Let all turn out on this occasion. The Bald Eagle Express will be held until 9:30, thus according the people in lower end of B. E. Valley an opportunity to see and hear Gov. Pattison.

We see it announced by telegraph that GEORGE F. KRIBBS, Esq., of Clarion county, was nominated for congress in this, the 28th, district, by the conference which met on Wednesday of last week; but as we have received no official notification of his nomination we delay putting up his name as the Democratic nominee for congress in this district until we shall receive authentic intelligence as to the action of the conference.

That Proof Still Unfurnished.

Curious newspaper readers in this county have been waiting to see FRIENDLIN produce his proof in support of the $900 charge against candidate ISHLER. He has been challenged to do so. He has had presented to him the alternative of either furnishing proof of the truth of his charge, or being considered a liar and slanderer. This should put him on his mettle. It should stimulate him to an effort to vindicate his veracity.

Instead of proof that would be even a semblance of support to the Gazette's libelous charge against Mr. ISHLER, it had nothing more forcible to say last week against him than that it should be elected Sheriff if he would be too big for the office. Does this convey the idea that a farmer would be so puffing up by being elected to that office that he wouldn't know how to behave himself? This evidently is the impression of the ringsters who believe that kid-glove politicians, who haven't been soiled by hard work, are best suited to fill the county offices.

Favoritism in County Management.

Favoritism seems to be the rule in Republican management. In State administrations the agents of the machine and the servants of the Boss are the ones that receive the favors. In congressional action the favorites are the rich manufacturers who furnish the campaign fat and get their reward in high tariff duties that protect their monopolies.

In county matters, under Republican rule there is also favoritism. HENDERSON and DECKER had their pets who were allowed to dip in with a big spoon. No doubt the percentage they got for these favors was in proportion to the size of the spoon. Thus, when bridges were to be built, bids for the contracts were not invited by open, fair and widely-published notice. This would not have done at all, for it would have caused competition, and competition would have interfered with favoritism. It suited HENDERSON and DECKER to give such work in an underhanded way to some one preferred by the ring—to some machine favorite—such as GALLIGER. It simplified matters very much, and made the "divvy" easier to manage.

The result of this kind of management has been that the rebuilding of the bridges carried away by the flood has been much more expensive than if there had been fair and free competition for the work. The Milesburg bridge, for instance, is a perfect monument of unnecessary cost. Money was squandered upon it with reckless disregard for the interest of those whose hard labor furnished the taxes. But what difference did that make if it benefited the pets of the ringsters who are manipulating the county funds?

The cost of those improvements will be known only when the next Auditors' report is published. The "ring" organs have claimed, for the credit of the present Republican commissioners, and as an evidence of their great financial ability, that they have expended "thousands of dollars for bridges and murder trials." When the Report shall be published it will be found that, for an exhibit of good and honest management, too many thousands were spent on bridges. Much of the excess will have to be charged to favoritism.

The only way to stop this abominable imposition is to restore the Commissioners' office to honest Democratic management by the election of GOODHART and ADAMS.

A Foolish Misrepresentation.

"Ex-chairman HENSEL says Mr. DELAMATER is an officer of a national bank and therefore ineligible for Governor."

After making this foolishly false statement, the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin says that Governor PATTISON is also the President of a national bank, its object being to apply to PATTISON the objection which it represents HENSEL as having made to DELAMATER.

Ex-chairman HENSEL did not say that QUAY's candidate was ineligible to the office of Governor because he was the President of a national or any other kind of bank. It is idiotic ignoring of the truth to say that he said so. What he did say was that DELAMATER, as State Senator, violated the constitution by making use of State money in his business as a banker, the constitution providing that such a use of State money by any member of the General Assembly shall be held to be a misdemeanor, one of the penalties of which shall be ineligibility to any office for five years. Therefore, DELAMATER is not now eligible to the office of Governor.

The Williamsport organ knows that Mr. HENSEL said this, and it cannot be excused for a misrepresentation that is as foolish as it is false. There is a reason why the Republican organs, in their support of BOSS QUAY and his man, must be abjectly servile, and they may find it necessary to be untruthful, but there is no reason why they should be thoroughly idiotic.

A "Ring" Scribbler.

When the Republican county papers begin to publish communications which purport to come from Democrats representing themselves as opposed to the Democratic county ticket, it is a sure sign that they are beginning to find it necessary to resort to desperate means. Thus the Republican prints a screed from a counterfeit "Pennsylvania Democrat," who is represented as being quite sure that pretty much the whole of the Democratic ticket will be defeated. What a dunce of a Democrat he would be if he were really a Democrat and not the invention of some "ring" scribbler.

In this foolish communication this bogus Democratic correspondent, speaking of Mr. ISHLER, says that "he is all right as a farmer, but Centre county has no use for him in the Sheriff's office." So it appears to be the Republican impression, fraudulently presented as the expression of a Democrat, that a candidate may be good enough for a farmer, but not fit for a Sheriff, thus insulting a class which in intelligence and probity, and in other points of fitness, especially sobriety, can furnish as good official material as can be found in any other class.

Persons of "sportive" dispositions don't compare with them in stability and reliability. The pretended "Democrat of Penns Valley" pictures Dr. HARTER as going to wipe out the Democratic majority in that old strong hold—in fact wipe up the ground with it. What a nice time he will have in doing it; but the Democracy of that region will have something to say about it. They will see the Doctor later on that subject.

The bogus correspondent also has a fling at GRAMLEY, "the farmer who the Democrats have taken up for Treasurer." It appears that the "ring" scribbler doesn't like the "farmers" on the Democratic ticket. But there is good reason why ringsters shouldn't fancy the steady habits and sterling qualities of the class of people to which those "farmer" candidates belong and whom they represent in this contest.

The reasons why GAYLOR MORRISON should be elected to the office of Recorder are making a good impression upon the voters. Democrats recognize the justice of his claim to their support. He has been a faithful member of their party; he has faithfully performed his political duties, which did not meet with the treatment three years ago that faithful service merited. Democrats, as a body, are just, and they will do justice to their candidate for Recorder, who is as worthy as he is competent.

Harter's Alleged Claim to Democratic Votes.

Really we can't see the validity of the mortgage which Dr. HARTER claims to have on Democratic voters, and there is not the least question that when he comes to foreclose it at the election he will find it a delusion.

As a ground for this mortgage he claims to have voted for Democrats in his time. This may be so, and it ought not to make the Republicans think any the more of him as a candidate asking their support. But if he did vote for Democrats, didn't Democrats return the favor, and more than repay him, when they elected him Recorder three years ago? He knows very well that without their votes at that time he could not have made it. Does he want the debt paid twice? We would advise him not to push it any further.

His official situation has been very comfortable. A profitable professional practice has not been neglected since he has been in office, as it is well known that he has divided his time between his professional and his official duties. The teeth of Millheim and neighborhood have been attended to at least once a week by the thrifty Recorder. His office didn't stand in the way of his jerking out an aching molar, or putting in a set of "store teeth," at schedule prices.

We don't blame him for this if it didn't interfere with his official duties. It was by such thrifty management, and attention to a lucrative profession, that he became so "well heeled" and comfortably situated that he can well afford to step out of the Recorder's office and give poor, lame GAYLOR MORRISON a chance. He is just as worthy, and equally, if not more competent.

It is doubtful whether any Democrats will recognize Dr. HARTER's alleged mortgage on their votes.

Passage of the Monopoly Tariff Bill.

The McKinley tariff bill was finally passed on Tuesday, both Houses concurring in the report of the conference committee, and it will no doubt promptly receive the signature of the President. This measure, designed to make the many contribute to the profit of the few, is the most prominent product of an unusually long session. It is represented to be a fulfillment of the promise which the party made to the people. But in fact it only fulfills an agreement of the Republican leaders with the protected interests which furnished the campaign boodle in 1888. That was the consideration which chiefly influenced the action of the tariff statesmen.

This measure of monopoly will increase the cost of living for every workingman without increasing his wages in the least. For the farmers it will make the cost of their necessities greater, while they have the authority of JAMES G. BLAINE that it will not furnish a market for an additional bushel of wheat or barrel of pork.

The vote for JOHN RIPP at the coming election will be immense. The voters of the county know a good officer when they see him, and can't be kept from voting for him.

A National Disgrace.

Our navy, and through it our government, was disgraced by the craven manner in which General BARRERIA, of Guatemala, who sought refuge on a United States man-of-war, was delivered over to his enemies, who barbarously shot him to death. When on board of that ship he was on United States territory and under the protection of the United States flag. The Guatemalan authorities had no more right to have him delivered from that refuge than if he had been on American soil.

The United States consul, who proved himself unfit for his place, was used by the Guatemalans as the medium through which the demand for BARRERIA's surrender was made, and the officer in command of the ship basely obeyed the summons to hand over to his merciless enemies a refugee who had a right to protection and safety on an American national vessel.

This act, evincing a base and cowardly spirit on the part of both the consul and the naval officer, is done while a Republican administration is at the head of the government; and there appears to be no notice taken of it. The honor of the government will remain disgraced until that consul is removed and that naval officer reprimanded. The Guatemalans can't be held responsible for the indignity, as they did not invade the domain of the United States as represented by the vessel, but employed our own officers as agents in the perpetration of the outrage.

Amusing Assurance.

EDWARD A. GREEN & Co., manufacturers of Philadelphia, indignantly deny the truth of a report that they had contributed money to assist in re-electing tariff McKinley, who is up again for congress in his district in Ohio. They say that this charge "comes with bad grace from a party which endeavored to gerrymander Major McKinley out of his district." The complacent assurance with which Republicans speak of the sin of gerrymandering is really amusing. They condemn the recent Democratic apportionment in Ohio as it was not merely a reversal of one of the most complete pieces of gerrymandering ever devised and perpetrated by the ingenuity of Republican politicians who have never missed an opportunity to do a job of that kind.

When the farmers and workingmen of this county vote for Messrs. HOLT and MCCORMICK they can be sure that they are voting for representatives who will be on their side in favor of the equalization of taxation, and in the support of legislation that will protect labor against the robbery of pluck-meisters and the brutality of Pinkerton's ruffians. Republican Legislatures have betrayed the farmers and the laborers on these vital questions, and they can look only to a Democratic Legislature and Governor for relief.

Is He Dead—or Drunk?

A Milton Man Disappeared After Threatening to Commit Suicide. Milton Standard. Mansel F. Seaman is, or was, an iron worker employed by the Milton Iron company. He lived on South Front street with his wife and daughter. When he is not drinking he is rather an agreeable person. But when he gets on a spree which has been quite frequent of late, he has been very abusive to his family. He has been drinking for some days past, and has threatened several times to put himself out of the way. He told his wife not long ago that he would be found at the bottom of the river one of these days and that his hat would be found with his name on it. Thursday morning Seaman left the house at an early hour. He came up to the Broadway house bar and took a drink and started down town. He ran by the railroad bridge and when the switch engine crossed some time afterward he was noticed standing on the bridge. That was the last seen of him. His hat was subsequently found on the bridge, and the general impression is that he jumped into the river and was drowned, but some believe that he will turn up when he gets sober.

One of Its Beautiful Results.

Secretary Wind-mill's decision subjecting to duty lead ore in imports of silver ore is to be enforced in the new Tariff bill. As a result of this policy the great smelting works in Kansas are about to be transferred to Mexico, where their owners have made the necessary purchases of land in the neighborhood of San Luis Potosi. The lead-rings of Colorado and Montana have completely triumphed. The prices of pig-lead has already risen thirty-five per cent. in the market, and thousands of American workmen are threatened with loss of employment and with starvation of their families.—Philadelphia Record.

It is charged that six United States Senators and fifteen members of the House made $1,000,000 by the raise in silver following the passage of the silver bill. The basis of this charge rests upon publications made in the St. Louis Globe Democrat, one of the staunchest Republican journals in the country. This is a matter that should be ventilated through the Criminal Courts.

Oil Men For Pattison.

Prominent Republicans Will Vote the Democratic Ticket.

BRADFORD, Sept. 29.—A thorough poll of this district discloses the fact that a large number of men heretofore prominently identified with the Republican party in this section will openly support Pattison for governor.

A complete poll has been made of Foster Brook township. The district comprises the villages of Red Rock, Bell's Camp, Gilmore, Derrick City and Babcock's Mills. The poll shows 123 Republican voters in the district, of whom exactly thirteen, the unlucky number, will support Delamater. The rest declare an intention not only to vote that way, but to work at the polls all day.

The daily Record made its first appearance Saturday morning, containing Senator Emery's speech in full. It will be published as an independent Republican paper, supporting Pattison. A number of prominent gentlemen have been interviewed, with the following result: Mr. Alex. Urquhart, oil producer—Have always been a Republican. People here are very bitter against Delamater. He will get little more than 25 votes in this city. In the Foster Brook valley I know only six Delamater men, though the voters in that district are nearly all Republicans.

Mr. McCray—I'm for Pattison. I signed the paper published a few days ago. That list does not contain half the names of Pattison Republicans in the city. My brother is for Pattison. C. J. Baylester—I have always voted the Republican ticket. I am for Pattison this year. We nearly all are in this exchange who are for Delamater, and their connections account for their sentiments. My name was not in the published list.

Mr. J. E. Haskell—Yes, we are all for Pattison. I'm glad to see you here. I signed the list. Am a Republican of course. Ex Mayor James E. Broder—I am a Democrat, and consequently don't want to say much. Wallace was my choice, but there is no reason why any Democrat should not vote for Pattison. His record is unexceptionable. He is honest and clean. He didn't do all he might have done for his party, but he did his best by the commonwealth. I am pretty well posted on the sentiments of our voters. There are only two Democrats in the county who declare for Delamater.

L. A. Brenneman—I have been a Republican but will vote for Pattison. I think Emery's proofs are all right. Our spines are stiff enough against Delamater.

The Whipping Post in Delaware.

Sheriff Allen Pines the Lash Vigorously on a Negro Prisoner.

WILMINGTON, Sept. 28.—At New Castle jail yesterday Edward Demby, colored, received the severest whipping given a prisoner for several years. He in addition stood one hour in the pillory. The first blow made the great welts on his back, and by the time that the last blow had been struck Demby's back was in a raw condition. Although there was no blood great welts rose like ridges and seemed ready to burst, but the victim never flinched. The sheriff held the handle of the whip at the end and struck heavier blows than he was ever known to strike. The exhibition was Sheriff Allen's last, and there was an unusual crowd of spectators. The blows of the leather thongs as they fell on the man's back were heard, it is said, a block distant from the jail yard.

He will also pay a fine of $500 and be imprisoned 45 years. Demby was convicted of an attempt to feloniously assault Mrs. George E. Huskell, a white woman, into whose wagon he had climbed while she was driving along the road near Middletown. He bore his punishment without flinching. This is the last whipping administered by Sheriff Allen, as his term will expire before more are sentenced.

Pure and Unfurnished.

No clouds of political scandal have gathered around the name of Robert E. Pattison. In the presence of his pure official record as Controller of Philadelphia and Governor of Pennsylvania, the shafts of partisan malignity fall harmless at his feet. His own political opponents when free from personal fear of his candidacy have rendered voluntary tribute to his worth and his fitness for the office of Governor of Pennsylvania.

Thou mayest be sure that he that will in private tell thee of thy faults is thy friend, for he adventures thy dislike, and doth hazard thy hatred; for there are men that can endure it, and every man for the most part delighting in self-praise which is one of the most universal follies that bewitcheth mankind.

While the due preparation for and organization of labor deserve all the careful and wise adjustment that can be given, the intervals of life should never be suffered to be filled up with idleness. They too should be provided for and the necessity of emptying their aright should be impressed on all.

Add three fourths if the dough is too thin.

RAISIN CAKE.—Two cups sugar, two cups bread dough, three fourths cup butter, one cup raisins, one egg, half-pint of milk, one cup of citron, one cup of nutmeg, one cup of cinnamon. Add three fourths if the dough is too thin.

October Weather.

Rev. Ira B. Hicks, who is considered first class authority, in the World and Works gives the following weather forecasts for October.

October should open with cool, bright weather prevailing in most parts of the country. Heavy frosts, with some sharp freezing, will be a most natural result during the night, tiding us from September into October. On the 2d and 3d a sharp and sudden rise in temperature, followed by storminess, may be looked for, and by the time the high- or temperature and storm touch the east another blast from the north and west will have advanced past the middle of the continent.

About the 7th it will begin to turn quite warm, with soft skies and south- orly currents, which condition will grow until storms of marked energy show themselves on danger days—8th, 9th, and 10th. Meteorological laws will compel a period of three to four days of sharp freezing and frost after these storms, which condition will break down progressively from west to east on and next to the 14th and 15th. Warm southerly winds, with reactionary storms, will be the result—followed again by the regular cold wave.

As we approach the 20th, eyes trained to meteorological changes will note the gathering elements of approaching storms. Higher temperature, falling barometer, easterly to southerly winds—storms! The 20th, 21st, and 22d are the days in the period against which we would especially warn our readers. There is a noticeable tendency to storminess in the regions of the northern lakes about this time, and the approaching perturbation of Venus, together with other causes, will likely aggravate this tendency at this time into violent movements. The days following up the reactionary movements about the 26th and 27th ought to be crisp and cold, with freezing generally northward.

A storm prior in which Vulcan, Mercury, and Venus are directly concerned, begins about the last day of October. The month will go out with rising temperature and threatening indications, if not active storms, to the west. There is a longer and harder winter before us than last. Let us see. Measure time, what harm can come from careful preparation for a colder winter and for a drier, hotter summer to follow? "The prudent man foreseeth the evil and is punished, but the simple pass on and are himself."

What Are the People Going to Do About It? Philadelphia Record. On Friday, April 4, ex-Senator Emery in a public speech at Bradford charged Senator Delamater with bribery, perjury and forgery, and promised to make good his charges, if necessary, in a Court of law.

The Press, on April 14, insisted that Mr. Delamater as a leading candidate for Governor should meet Mr. Emery's challenge and fully and completely vindicate himself. At Chambersburg, on August 14, Mr. Delamater, after four months silence made a general denial of Mr. Emery's charges.

At Bradford, September 29, Mr. Emery renewed, reiterated and re-confirmed his original implication, adding details and specifications supported by affidavits. Instead of "meeting these charges fully and completely, and so strangling them that there should never again be a chance for anybody either inside or outside the party to use them," as he was besought to do by The Press, Mr. Delamater, at Bristol, September 29, contented himself with another general denial.

The charges are, therefore, no longer a mere question of veracity between two men. A prima facie case has been made out against Mr. Delamater; but he appears to think he may be elected Governor of Pennsylvania while wearing the shameful stigma that Mr. Emery has fastened upon him.

"Scratch Delamater's Name." The Marietta Register, a republican paper, this week has at the head of its editorial columns, "Scratch Delamater's name from the ticket." In other parts of the paper are these paragraphs: "Don't forget that by indorsing Delamater you indorse a worse 'boss,' political methods and candidate than were the cause of the revolt of 1882. If it were right to bolt in 1882, how much more so is it to scratch Delamater's name from the ticket in 1890? Have you thought of that?"

"Have you any recollection of the riot bill writers who were pardoned in 1880, and who was one of the members of this Board which so flagrantly outraged justice and set at large men who had well-earned a term in the penitentiary? That men has since, through machine politics, placed on the republican ticket his candidate for Gov. Will you walk up to the trough, through your fealty to party mismanagement, and vote for a representative of such practices? You may be a republican, but one owes a higher duty than to party alone—that is, to the good of all, and only then does he prove that his good quality of his citizenship and party affiliations (the latter when right) are synonymous. Scratch Delamater's name from the ticket."

The exhibit of Indiana corn, and of the various uses to which it can be put, which formed a feature of the recent exposition at Edinburgh, Scotland, seems to have borne fruit, and there is said to be good prospect of its introduction as an article of diet for the use of the British public. Mr. Charles J. Murphy, of Nebraska, who represented that State at Paris and Edinburgh, is visiting this and exhibiting in many cities through out that country, and his description of the cornfields of America, coupled with his practical illustrations of the many ways in which the cereal may be prepared, has aroused a very keen interest.
